RECORD OF NON-PURCHASERS OF THRIFT STAMPS TO BE KEPT.

For Ohio people who "do not own and who refuse to purchase United States War Savings Stamps," the Ohio War Savings Committee has prepared a "yellow card," on which will be preserved a record of the reasons for refusal to buy these governmental securities. These cards are in the hands of every county war savings chairman and will be used in the state-wide canvass to be made during War Savings Pledge Week, June 24 to June 28.

"Purchase of Liberty Bonds, donations to Red Cross, War Chests, etc. do not excuse anyone from obligation to invest in War Savings Stamps," is a note attached to the "yellow card." This quotation from President Wilson's call to the civilian army to enlist on National War Savings Pledge Day, June 28, also is quoted: "I earnestly appeal to every man woman and child to pledge themselves on or before June 28, 1918 to save constantly and to buy War Savings Stamps as regularly as possible. May there be none unlisted on that day."

On the face of the "yellow card" are places to record the name, address, occupation, name of employer, parentage and citienship of the person refusing to buy War Savings Stamps. There are lines also where reasons for refusal to buy can be given. After the canvass, the "yellow cards" will be turned over to the local county chairmen for recording and preservation. These cards will be open to public inspection.

The American brand of courage has a strong infusion of gayety. Witness our boys who advanced to battle at Veuilly with their helmets bedecked with poppies.

Between the requirements of more wheat for the allies and more money to support the army, Uncle Sam must continue to tighten his belt and loosen the straps of his pocketbook.

WATER IN WILLOUGHBY RECEIVES MUCH PRAISE

Visitors to Willoughby are almost unanimous in their praise of the excellent quality of Willoughby's drinking water. It is said that there has been but one case of typhoid in Willoughby during the past five years. This record is largely attributable, it is believed, to the purity of the water gained through the filtration system.

DR. LOWE HOME SOLD

Furnishings and Drugs Offered For Sale

Over thirty years of business at one stand, together with that which comes with time, seems to call for a change to other quarters, and a sale of the greater part of these many years' accumulation of desirable articles at greatly reduced prices.

Dr. and Mrs J. W. Lowe of Mentor, Ohio, who were induced to go South eight years ago to spend the winter season for rest and recuperation, found Eustis, Florida, so beneficial, congenial and attractive generally, that they continued going each winter. They invested and soon had a home at each place. This reduced the business in the North to the summer months, with holdings too great to warrant continuance for so short a period. A sale of the property and drug stock was decided upon, also the greater part of the furnishings. The lot and buildings were sold last week. The sale of furnishings and drugs will commence next week, July 9th, and continue from day to day till sold. This Mentor home has nine rooms, all furnished for general housekeeping purposes. The contents of the doctor's office and drug department will also be offered for sale, or disposed of in some way at a bargain price This department will be especially interesting to some, as it opens the way for another to fill an important need in the community. There has been no other place in Mentor for thirty years where the public could obtain drugs, chemicals and sick room supplies. The absence of a local drug store during all this time made it necessary that Dr. Lowe carry his own stock. In doing this and giving attention to growing needs, caused an accumulation of essentials, until traveling men for drug houses declared that the doctor's outfit contained a larger variety of drugs, perhaps, than could be found anywhere in the county, or nearer than Cleveland. The doctor and Mrs. Lowe were called to East Orange, New Jersey, last summer to give attention to a patient and again this season. They will now come to Mentor and personally conduct the sale of household goods and drug stock from day to day till the place is cleared out and arrangements made for a summer's work in Mentor only. Those interested who wish to purchase any part of the above at prices to suit would do well to call early after July 8.—Adv.

SOLDIER BOY TELLS JUST WHAT THE RED CROSS DOES FOR THE SOLDIERS IN A LETTER TO LAKE COUNTY CHAPTER

On Active Service with the American Expeditionary Force.
May 28, 1918.

The Red Cross Society,
Lake Co. Chapter.

Ladies—I thought that it may interest you to know how the Red Cross has treated us since we left our training camp in America.

From the very first day that we left Camp Sherman members of the Red Cross society have looked out for our comfort. We were met at all the large cities en route to our embarkation point and given coffee, cigarets, fruit and chocolate.

The very last minute before going on board our transport the Red Cross gave us buns and coffee and also supplied us with postal cards.

When we started on our journey through France toward the front the Red Cross was again on the job. Up near the front lines we found them still looking after our comfort. It is extremely trying to travel in troop trains for any length of time and it was the Red Cross society that helped make things pleasant.

Every soldier in France feels that the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. are his salvation.

Our prayers and our well wishes go out for your work at home and in the field and may it continue to prosper.

Yours sincerely,
WILLIAM C. MUNDS,
"A Painesville Boy in France."
Co. A, 319th Field Signal Battalion,
American Expeditionary Forces,
Care Chief Signal Officer.

THE WISCONSIN WAY OF MAKING RYE BREAD

Contributed to The Republican.

Start sponge as for white bread, but use half rye flour. Stir as stiff as possible with a spoon. Then mix with hands so it can be taken out on mixing board and given a good kneading. Put back in pan, and when very light, knead and make into loaves. And it needs more mixing than white sponge. Let get light and bake in a slow oven one hour. If one likes caraway seeds take a loaf and add seeds and mix well.

NO "MADE IN GERMANY"

The Democratic policy of free trade, before the war, encouraged the importation of "Made in Germany." Is Democratic free trade after the war to encourage the importation of "Made in Germany?" LAKE COUNTY 'Y' HAVE BEEN DOING SOME GOOD HOME WORK

The county committee of the Lake County Young Men's Christian Association have issued a few of the many facts concerning their work which shows splendid progress. The boy at home has an opportunity to get in on some real work. Eleven groups are active in the county and others will be organized at the call of the boys or community. Two hundred and sixty-six members belong to these groups. Sixty-eight boys serving on various committees are working to help the other fellow. Seventeen men gave their services free, leading the groups the past year. Twelve older boys helped out as assistant leaders. Ten Bible classes were conducted with an enrollment of [illegible] boys. Such courses as "Men who Dared," "Jesus the Head Coach," "The Travels of Paul," "Men of Steel," etc., are studied. Sixteen boys attended the state boys' conference at Mansfield last December. All of the boys took forward steps and two accepted Christ. One hundred and six delegates attended the County Boys' Conference at Mentor, Feb 22, 1918. The boys have paid in $30 for county Y. M. C. A. work in India. Twelve socials with an attendance of 442 boys have been held. Eleven hikes were taken. Two hundred and three boys went on these hikes under adult supervision. Twenty-one practical talks were given by business and professional men. Such topics as "Our Navy," "Thrift," "Camp Sherman," "Birds," "First Aid," "Why Boys Should Stay in School," etc., were presented. Ninety-two men attended the annual convention last October.

Special co-operative work has been carried on in the Y. M. C. A. war work, the Boys' Working Reserve, the County Ministerial Association in connection with the selective service men, the county schools, granges, churches, Sunday schools and other helpful organizations.

Each June for the past several years the county committee has carried on their campaign for funds. This covers the next year's work. Five hundred and seventeen men and women of Lake county made the work possible this past year by their gifts. The County Y. M. C. A. work, owing to the fact that it is not strictly war work could not be included in the recent War Chest. Results as given above are worthy of support. The committee closed the past year, paying all bills promptly with a balance of $72 on hand. They need the usual amount of $2800 for the coming year. A contribution of $100, volunteered, has already reached the treasurer, W. E. Salkheld of Perry. Remember the Red Triangle at home, helping our boys in the towns and open country of Lake county. June 11th and 12th are the official campaign days.

EAT POTATOES—CARLOADS

Not freight car, necessarily, but motor car. When you drive into the country you who live in potato sections bring back a sack or two in your car. Then eat them, many ways, every day, several times a day. Not an idea that will save the country, but it will help save the big food reserve that will soon begin to sprout if it isn't eaten.

Let this fact sink in deep: Unless we increase our consumption of potatoes markedly within the next few weeks, says the Department of Agriculture, there will be a loss of much wheat-replacing food. If that happens, farmers may think we don't want so many potatoes and not grow enough this year. Americans ought not allow that sort of food disaster to occur.

DON'T WAIT TO BE TOLD

If every citizen will every day use good common sense, practice reasonable economy and self-restraint, the winning of the war will be advanced every day. It is not necessary to be told about everything. Let each individual have initiative of his own.

WE NEED THE MONEY HERE, SAYS GIBSON AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY THE FREIGHT. READ ON:

Say, which do you figure is cheaper: 1 pair head lamps at $6.00, 2 front fenders at $7.50, 1 radiator $25.00, or a nice classy bumper for about $5.50 or $6.00? Think that over and then come in and talk bumper with me. I am agoing to sell them whether I make a cent or not. Tires and Tubes are agoing up every day and you know you will need one or more soon; and I have the best money can buy at the price I ask. AN OLD TRUTH REVIVED

Every day now the line is being more sharply drawn between the real, self-sacrificing patriot, and the profiteer hiding under a cloak of blatant loyalty.

Nineteen hundred years ago the Man of Gallilee quietly remarked to a company of friends and followers that "it is more blessed to give than to receive." At the time it made little impression upon his hearers, and in the centuries since that day men have grasped it merely as a theoretical truth, with no real thought of making it a life principle.

But, the present world cataclism has put people to thinking seriously of this statement of the great Teacher. People with no claims to religious convictions are waking up to the fact that underlying the statement is found the true secret of life. We are coming to see more clearly every day that the selfish life is the miserable life, stunting and dwarfing all the finer qualities of our nature that have elevated us as a race so immeasurably above the human brutes with whom we now do battle.

When the final victory of this war is written, those whose names will go down at the head of the honor list will not be the profiteers who grasped millions from a suffering world; but those who gave, and gave, and gave, till they could give no more—who stripped themselves of earthly posssessions to gain a crown that all the earth can never deprive them of

The proud consciousness that they have "done what they could" for humanity and the right.

"IN THE PERFORMANCE OF DUTY."

How many homes in this country have already become sadly familiar with this phrase. It seems to be hurled at them in a cold and unfeeling manner by the military authorities. It is the set phrase used in announcing the death, on the field of battle, of a brave American boy who has sailed three thousand miles at the call of "duty."

"Your son died in the performance of his duty."

Mothers, fathers, do you get only sorrow from the message? Do you not rather gather the sadly sweet conviction that all is well with the brave soul who saw his duty and went bravely to meet it—played the MAN to the end of the glorious, if brief chapter?

And what shall we say of ourselves, we who were not called to go "over there," yet were called to an equally honored task here at home? Have we not "died" but LIVED "in the performance of duty?" The boy gave all he had his life. He gave it like the hero that he was. Are we giving LIFE?

Thinking soberly for a moment. What does it mean to give life for country? It doesn't mean a dollar or two to the Red Cross and an auto for daughter. It doesn't mean five dollars to Y. M. C. A. and a sealskin coat or a diamond for mother. It doesn't mean a fifty dollar Liberty Bond, while we buy another farm. What DOES it mean; Think!

"He DIED in the performance of duty."

PEOPLE WHO READ THE NEWSPAPERS ARE NOT CAUGHT NAPPING WHEN GOSSIP DISPARAGING AMERICA IS HEARD.

County Commissioner Frank T. Andrews is in receipt of the following letter from C. O. Hunter, chairman of the Wood Division of the United States Fuel Administration of Ohio. It is a most timely communication to the citizens of Cuyahoga County as respects their fuel supply for the coming winter. Commissioner Andrews said Wednesday at the county building that he hopes the warning will be heeded. Below is the letter in full:

Gather Wood And Conserve Coal.

Columbus, Ohio, June 25, 1918.

To the Citizenry of Ohio:

An appeal to the patriotism and thrift of farmers and villagers thruout the United States and particularly in Ohio is made by the U. S. Fuel Administration.

"Burn wood and save coal," is the war cry along with the "Cut a Cord" and "Order Your Coal Now" slogans.

Ohio has more than 4,500,000 acres of standing timber, and a large quantity of down stuff of which a goodly percent has no present or futurevalue except for fuel—ONE MILLION CORDS OF WHICH GOES TO WASTE EVERY YEAR IN OHIO.

One of the great bulwarks of our liberties in this war is coal, and unless we can deliver with celerity, sufficient to keep the bunkers of the ships and munition factories supplied, we endanger them.

These Are War Times and Our Country Is Short of Coal.

Saw Wood, with silent determination, and look a serious situation in the face. We mined fifty millions extra tons of coal last year, but it was used in manufacturing munitions and war supplies, and by the railroads and ships in transporting our soldiers and what they required "Over There."

It is estimated that there will be a shortage of from seventy-five to one hundred millions tons of coal, the present year. The railroads can not possibly haul as much as we need and it may be we are facing a serious fuel shortage next winter. Part of this shortage must be made up by the use of wood, instead of coal.

There is plenty of wood in this state, and it is practicable for the countrysides, villages, churches, schools, and a great number of city folk to use it, so the home fires may be kept burning and we should anticipate our wants.

Munition and most other factories can not burn wood; railways and war ships can not burn it, nor because of transportation problems, can people in the city, where it would have to be carried to them by the railways.

You who live in the rural communities should gather wood for your next winter's fuel. This is your patriotic duty. You can save great quantities of coal if you will burn wood fuel. Its use will not require but little, if any, change in your heating system, to burn it, so make it your business to see that your community is awake and doing its bit.

The farmer who drives a wagon to town and takes it back with a load of coal, is driving in the wrong direction; he is a slacker; we do not need that kind.

The men who would like to burn coal because it is easier and handier, but who think enough of their country and the boys "over there," so that with their axes and saws, cut wood, in order to save coal, are helping to fight the war.

Rural schools and churches, as well as homes, should restore the old wood pile, and make themselves sure of warmth next winter. There are lots of no account trees and logs and limbs and other timber that have no value except for fuel, which should be gathered at odd times, and with a buzz saw, driven by steam, gasoline or horse power, converted into wood.

Start a movement; tell other people, influence them to help. Every progressive patriotic person in each community, must stir things up and through united efforts, of all, in gathering every piece of wood, no suffering for warmth, should come to any home.

This is not a time to think of profits, yet wood can be handled at a profit from producer to consumer and middlemen, to the consumer.

You know your own local conditions better than any one else.

There shall be formed through the homes, neighborhoods, communities, schools, churches, townships, counties and the state one gigantic in "union there is strength," insuperable organization, for gathering and using fire wood to conserve coal.

In patriotic praise of the power that gave us our liberties, a nation, we shall stand ready to make whatever sacrifices that may be necessary to help our soldiers and sailors, "out there," to preserve them.

Standard Theater

"Social Ambition" has direct bearing on the life of the American. We all have ambitions of some kind, that is what makes our country so wonderful and prosperous, and also makes this photoplay one of the most interesting as well as entertaining, shown in many a day. It starts in the east with a man climbing higher in wealth daily, until in a single day all is swept away in a bad speculation. His money gone, his wife divorces him, not having faith in his ever recuperating. He becomes a derelict, and drifts to Alaska and it's dance halls, a drunkard, till finally through the efforts of a good woman there, is again put on his feet. They strike a rich gold vein and he again becomes rich. On a business trip to the east he meets his former wife, but shuns her, having already given his heart and love to the girl in Alaska with whom he spends the rest of his life happily. Altogether "Social Ambition" is a picture not to be forgotten and will be shown at the Standard Theater the week of July 7th, together with one of the funniest Fatty Arbuckle comedies, entitled "The Pugilist."

BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS IN AKRON ON JULY EIGHTH

Once again the glad tidings are being spread broadcast telling of the coming of Barnum & Bailey's circus. The greatest show on earth, it is announced, will positively be exhibited within easy traveling distance this season and, as usual, a large percentage of the population will declare a holiday to visit the show.

The big circus will exhibit in Akron on July 8. It is promised that nothing to compare with the present Barnum & Bailey performance has ever before seen under canvas New and novel features have been reported from abroad and a program of events, thrilling, education and screemingly funny, will occupy every instant in three rings, four stages, the riggings above and the hippodrome surrounding for more than three hours.

There is a new and goreous pageant entitled, "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," in which nearly 1400 persons and one thousand animals appear in magnificent costumes rivaling the dress of the people of the famous "Arabian Nights" story. This will be followed by a host of acts in all parts of the great enclosure There will be sixty clowns, a greatly increased menagrie of wild and untamed animals, four great herds of elephants, several caravans of camels and many recently born baby animals.

The free street parade, which will start from the circus lot at 10 o'clock on the morning of circus day, is entirely different from anything of the kind ever shown before. It will be three miles in length and there will be bands on foot, on horseback, and riding on top of wagons of red and gold. There will be six bands in all and they will be assisted by three steam calliopes and an electric piano.

With the largest tent in the history of all circuses, the Barnum and Bailey circus promises this season to make good again its boast that it is the Greatest Show on Earth. Five railroad trains comprising 89 railroad cars, will be required to transport its paraphernalia, and more than 750 horses will be used to transfer its wagons from the railroad yards to the show lot.

THE BEST THING A NATION EVER DID

These words may be a bit extravagant when applied to War Savings Stamps, but if we were to omit from consideration the guarantee of life and liberty in the constitution we might make the statement absolute in every way without thought of qualification.

Even including the declarations of the bill of rights, we may say War Savings Stamps are the best, since the political philosophers tell us that constitutions only assert or declare natural rights and do not create them. "We hold these truths to be self-evident," said the philosophical genius of the Revolution, "that men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

In no captious sense War Savings Stamps have come to complete the prophetic words. Our life, our nation's life, liberty's life depends on them. Life, the means whereby we live, depend upon them. While the menace of autocracy hangs like a pall over the world doubly precious is liberty. If men can die smilingly for it; if men can laugh through deadly poison fumes, through liquid fire, through hunger, and pain and hardship that our liberty may be saved, surely too much cannot be given.

Yes, and there is a pursuit of happiness in sticking stamps on a folder. We have seen more genuine satisfaction among all divisions of society than can be found anywhere else.

It is not an extravagant notion that War Savings Stamps make a new America. The transformation in a few months has been marvelous. May the nation never abandon the wonderful opportunity that it has afforded our people. We do not mean to deprecate the strides in so-called social legislation nor in improvement of educational facilites, and yet we actually doubt whether the net value of all these together will exceed the reforming power of the stroke of the pen whereby the stamps were brought into existence.

As they adhere physically to the card, so they literally, if only spiritually, bind men, women and children together in their republic, the people's own affair. Patriotism, service, thrift, competence, good business, safety, availibility to all, a national partnership—what offers so much.

IS IT YOU

There is a man in this town who always acts as a brake on the wheels of progress. Every project that is broached for the betterment of community conditions elicits from him no more than a grunt of dissent, if not active opposition. He regards every man as a rascal until proven honest. He can see no sincerity in the most unselfish actions, and can detect cupidity at the bottom of the greatest sacrifices. He is a community wet blanket. IS IT YOU?

There is also in this town a man the opposite of this one. He has a keen eye for any chance to forward the interests of his community. Every proposition for community betterment, provided it has merit and feasibility not only has his approval but he at once pulls off his coat and becomes one of its most active rooters. It takes a heavy jolt to convince him of the insincerity or dishonesty of his neighbors, and even then he has more pity than blame for them. He is as grateful as fire on a raw day, and restores our confidence as the spring sunshine after a dreary winter. IS IT YOU?

Elderly Man held Up In His Home—Liberty Bonds Purchased, Saves Loss of Funds

Mr. Arthur Phelps, an elderly man living alone was robbed Friday evening when two men entered his house, pointed a gun at him, tied a handkerchief over his face and bound him and took all the money they could find—ten dollars—then went off with a third man waiting in an auto. Evidently the robbers were disappointed in not getting a bigger haul as Mr. Phelps had recently sold a piece of property. Fortunately he had invested most of it in Liberty bonds. Mr. Phelps was somewhat bruised up but not seriously injured. His nephew, Jay Phelps, of Mentor, came the next day and took him home with him for a day or two.

LITTLE FOLKS RECEIVE LETTER IN RHYME AND PROSE FROM CAMP GORDON

Fifth Co., 2nd B'n, 1st Replt. Reg.
Camp Gordon, Georgia.

Miss Ruth and Papa Gibson:
Uncle Abb's away down South,
With his sword and pistol.
You ought to see him step about
Whene'r the captain whistles.

He gets up in the morning
At five sharp by the clock,
To hear that reveille calling;
It is one awful shock.

We wash our hands and faces;
Our harnesses we adjust,
And stand attention with stiff necks,
Just like our joints were rust.

We go to breakfast early.
And have good things to eat.
But to make so many moves at once,
I tell you its a feat.

When we think we have our fill,
We wash our dishes clean.
Then travel to the field to drill;
Oh! we are not so green.

Squad 'em right,
And then we right about
We forward march

And backward march,
And not a one drops out;
And if you don't keep step, by gosh,
The captain bawls you out.

But we're in the U. S. army,
And we're goin' t' fight it out.
Well soon be regular soldiers
And we're goin' t' fight for fair.
We're going to lick that kaiser's bunch,
When we get "over there."

And when we lick that kaiser's bunch
The kaiser, too, we'll get;
We will hand him to the gallows,
And we'll take Berlin, you bet.
We'll put Wm. Bryan in the Kaiser's oaken chair,
And we'll never have another war
As long as he is there.

But before I close my poem
There's this, I'd like to say:
We'll never have a better place
Than our "Good Old U. S. A."

Well, Woof, I guess by this you can see that your Uncle Abb is getting along all right. Feel pretty good. Plenty to eat plenty to wear and plenty of work. So he has nothing to worry about. Only that they are working us so hard and so long that I don't get much chance to write letters.

We work ten hours per day now and don't have any more holidays like we used to, so the only time I get to write is about on hour each night and on Sundays we have all day.

When we get through working we have our suppers, clean our guns, shave and take a bath so you can readily see that we don't have much time as we go to bed at nine thirty.

By the way, tell Papa that I'm tickled to pieces with my little watch. It keeps good time and when I am sleeping, I ask myself, "What time is it in the middle of the night," and then I tell me, and I know how long I got to sleep yet.

Anyway, it's getting late and Uncle must go to bed.

But when I come back from Berlin you will be presented with a nice, smelly present. What do you suppose it's going to be? I'll tell you. "A nice, imported, genuine, limburger cheese sandwich

With lots of schmuddles and love to all, I am your PRIVATE UNCLE ABB.

P. S.—And see that when Papa and you address me from now on see that you say PRIVATE UNCLE ABB.

WHO WANTS TO BE A DRUNKARD?

Every "down and out" in the world was once a moderate drinker. The poorest old, tottering slobbering inebriate never imagined that drink would finally "get" him. But that's the way with alcohol. It "gets" the best of them.

"There's just one safe thing to do when appetite is demanding more drink. Stop! The way to effectually get rid of the craving desire which is responsible for the drink habit, is to take the Neal Treatment.

It is the poison of the alcohol found in the system of every drinker which causes craving for more drink. To get rid of the craving, you must get rid of the poison. This is what the Neal Treatment does. It neutralizes and eliminates all alcoholic poison and in three days changes desire for liquor into intense dislike for everything alcoholic.

The Neal Treatment is a harmless vegetable remedy, taken internally and with no dangerous hypodermic injections. There is no publicity. Address The Neal Institute, 3920 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio. Telephone Rosedale 3490.

LEGAL NOTICE

Louis C. Shiperd, who resides at No. 9 Park Lane, Evansville, Indiana, and the unknown heirs of John J. Shipherd, deceased, all of whose names and places of residence are unknown, will take notice that E. H. Everett, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is seized in fee simple and is in possession of the following described real estate, to wit:

Situate in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being sublots Numbers 203 and 205 to 222, both inclusive, in Crosby's Allotment of part of original Euclid Township tract number 16. as shown by the recorded plat in Vol. 9 of Maps, page 25 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges that the defendants claim some interest in said premises adverse to the title of plaintiff, the nature and kind of which is entirely unknown to plaintiff; that he derived his title to an undivided one-half interest of the premises above described by deed from Henry W. Putnam, and that on January 21st, 1890, he purchased tax title to all of said lots and that he paid the taxes and assessments on said lots, and has been in possession of them adversely to the widow and heirs of John J. Shipherd, for more than twenty-eight years.

The prayer of said petition is that the plaintiff may be adjudged the owner of all of said lots, freed from all claims of any estate or interest therein of the said defendants and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164054 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 26th day of July, 1918.

A Home, Or An "Abode"
Which Will You Have a Few Years Hence?

Will you have a house and lot of your own, a home where no man can deny you, where no landlord can raise your rent or order you to move, where every improvement made benefits you and adds to the convenience and happiness of your family, a "home of your own," which gives that indescribable but satisfying sense of satisfaction, security and contentment which is the portion only of happy home owners? Will you be living in a home of your own, a monument to your industry, thrift and foresight, and a haven of security and comfort for yourself and family?

Or, will you still "exist" in an "abode," a borrowed (rented) house and have to show for your money, only a bundle of rent receipts "souvenirs of improvidence?"

These are practical, vital questions. Whether a few years hence finds us happy home owners or regretful rent payers depends only on us. One thing is sure, we never will have a home of our own till we make a start toward it. And the first requisite is a lot, a homesite.

Willoughby-Euclid Avenue Subdivision
60x200, $500 up. 80x200, $660 up.

Terms very easy, a little down, a little a month, with liberal cash discount.

Protected by conservative restrictions, of one house, for one family to the lot, with complete improvements (including sewer, water, sidewalks, shade trees, parks, tennis courts and paving) now being installed, this property offers an exceptional opportunity to secure a beautiful homesite in the choicest residence district of Willoughby.

Now is the time to act. Don't put it off. Delay will mean second choice and a higher price. Take advantage of present high wages and get started toward that "home of your own" you have dreamed of and longed for. We will be glad to show you how you can have it, with very little money. You can pay for it the same as rent while you use and enjoy your home.

Representatives on the property Saturday afternoons and Sundays.

Meat Must Be Sold

Fresh meat is perishable. It must be sold within about two weeks for whatever it will bring.

A certain amount of beef is frozen for foreign shipment, but domestic markets demand fresh, chilled, unfrozen beef.

Swift & Company cannot increase prices by withholding meat, because it will not keep fresh and salable for more than a few days after it reaches the market.

Swift & Company cannot tell at the time of purchasing cattle, what price fresh meat will bring when put on sale. If between purchase and sale, market conditions change, the price of meat must also change.

The Food Administration limits our profit to 9 per cent on capital invested in the meat departments. This is about 2 cents per dollar of sales. No profit is guaranteed, and the risk of loss is not eliminated.

As a matter of fact, meat is often sold at a loss because of the need of selling it before it spoils.

E., 112th Reg., United States Infantry, American Expeditionary Forces en route France via New York, will take notice that on June 24th, 1918, John F. Jacobs and Edith Jacobs filed their petition in the Court of Common Pleas, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, being case No. 164489, making them parties defendant, and alleging that they, said plaintiffs, are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession and occupancy of the following described real estate and premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland County of Cuyahoga, and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. 14 in P. Morganstern's Subdivision of a part of original One Hundred Acre Lot No. 345, as shown by the recorded plat in Volume 10 of Maps, Page 16 of Cuyahoga County Records, and being 30 feet front on the southerly side of Star Avenue, 139 feet 1 1-2 inches deep on the Easterly line, 137 feet 5 1-4 inches deep on the westerly line and is 45 feet 2 inches in the rear, as appears by said plat.

That all of said defendants respectively claim some interest or title in said premises adverse and hostile to the rights of said plaintiffs therein by reason of their being no lawful conveyance upon record of said premises from them respectively; that, although said persons have of record an apparent interest in said premises, they have in fact no real or beneficial interest therein and are estopped from asserting any interest therein by reason of the fact that their predecessors in title received a lawful and valuable consideration for the conveyance by them of said interest and agreed to and attempted to convey such interest, but that by reason of the lack of a valid conveyance of record from said defendants a cloud exists upon the title of said plaintiffs in and to said premises.

Said plaintiffs pray that their said right, title and interest in said premises may be quieted and that they may be adjudged to be the absolute owners in fee simple thereof and that all of said defendants and all persons claiming through or under them may be forever enjoined from having or claiming to have any right, title or interest in said premises, and for such other and further relief as they may be entitled to in the premises. You are required to answer herein on or before the 17th day of August, 1918, or judgment and decree will be taken against you.

The petition further alleges that the defendants first above named claim some interest or lien in the above described premises, but the plaintiff says that its lien is the first and best lien against said premises.

The prayer of said petition is that the defendants be required to set up their respective claims, if any they have in said premises, or be forever barred from asserting the same; for judgment against William W. Drake and Mary E. Drake, as principals, and William H. Millikan, as surety, for the sum of $2500.00 with interest at 6 per cent per annum from March 15th, 1915, payable quarterly, on the 15th days of March, June, September and December, with interest on all over-due interest at the same rate and for the sum of $155.64 with interest at 6 per cent per annum from the 4th day of February, 1916, computed in the same manner; that its mortgage be found to be the first and best lien against said premises; that said mortgage be foreclosed, the premises sold and the proceeds thereof applied, first, to the payment of its claims and for relief.

Said petition is No. 150101 and the defendants first above named are required to answer the same on or before the 20th day of July, 1918.

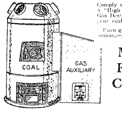
RULING
Administrative Order No. 34
Public Utilities Commission of Ohio

"If, after disconnecting all industrial consumers, there is not a sufficient supply of gas for the domestic consumers, then, all boilers and furnaces not provided with gas fixtures and appliances primarily designed for burning natural gas as a fuel, shall be discontinued."

THIS MEANS

If you now use gas burners in a coal hot air furnace, you must remove or disconnect them each time gas is short.

Why suffer such an inconvenience?



Comply with the ruling. Attach a "High Efficiency" Auxiliary Gas Designed Furnace beside your coal furnace.

Burn gas or coal, as you wish, economically.

TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR—NO. 18 WILLOUGHBY, O., JULY 12, 1918 ONE DOLLAR AND TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

WILLOUGHBY NOW HAS CITY MAIL DELIVERY

Once upon a time, about eighty years ago, the event of the day in Wiloughby was the arrival of the stage coach which brought the mail. The coach had four to six horses, and arrived at 12 noon and 2 a. m. The bringing of the mail in this manner is still remembered by some Willoughby residents, among whom is Mrs. Clinton Waite of Second street, who well recalls the pleasing excitement caused by the daily and flourishing arrival of the stage coach. The post office was then located in the neighborhood of the Wilson store. The stage coach brought the mail until the Lake Shore railroad, first a single track road, was put through. This was also a stirring event in the annals of Willoughby. Monday, Willoughby passed into the city delivery class with two mail carriers, A. L. Wilson, carrying in the north section, and G. M. Cady of Madison, former carrier on route No. 2 Kirtland carrying from the post office south.

The picture of the Cleveland Trust block shown here, present home of the postoffice, is a center of activity familiar to many for miles around.

in the county. Capt. J. S. Ellen was postmaster here for many years. In Kirtland it is recalled, considerable effort was made in times past by the residents in order to secure their mail. It is recorded by Miss Virginia Billings that the following sechedule was followed by the neighborhood folks in bringing home the mail:

During the Civil War the neighbors took turns going to Wil-

MENTOR PLANT TRIES NEW LOCALITY FOR GAS.

The Lake Shore Chemical Co. having been unsuccessful with the wells drilled, are now drilling a well on the property of Francis Cleveland, hoping to find gas in paying quantities in the southeasterly direction from the mill. The wells already drilled extend from what was the Holden farm on the west around to the north and east on the W. P. Murray, J. C. Campbell farm and others. They have found plenty of gas from these drillings, but the wells have been destroyed by salt water. It is hoped in the southeasterly section to be able to drill some wells that will be free from salt water, and produce gas for a good length of time.

REV. L. P. McCULLOCH TO LEAVE WILLOUGHBY.

The Rev. L. P. McCulloch has advised his church officials of his intention of leaving Willoughby early in September. He will locate in Danville, Virginia, and engage in an outdoor life in an effort to correct a throat trouble he has been having. He will act as superintendent of a farm covering 560 acres, being associated in this capacity with M. R. Berry, who left here about the first of June. Mr. McCulloch has been in Willoughby just six years Saturday. He has many warm friends and will be greatly missed. During his pastorate the membership of his church and Sunday school has increased materially, and many improvements to the building have been made.

LOCAL BOYS MEET WITH SERIOUS MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

Dominick Menn and Fred Dennis met with a serious motorcycle accident near the Country Club on the Shore line Saturday night. They were riding to Cleveland and colliding with an auto driven by Mr. Chapple, it is reported, of Cleveland, ran into the stone wall at the club grounds. Dominick Menn, the driver, was most seriously injured, having a fractured leg and other injuries. He was taken to the Eddy Road hospital.

Fred Dennis sustained a broken arm, and it was also necessary to take a few stitches in his head. He was taken to the Wright hospital.

At the Eddy road hospital Thursday it was stated that young Menn is in very bad shape, with a day and night nurse in attendance.

S. S. WILSON TO PRESIDE OVER AD CLUB ANOTHER TERM.

"BOARD CONFIRMS ELECTION
S. S. Wilson Is Again Chosen to Lead Us.

At the last annual election, Wednesday, June 12 the members, in addition to selecting a new board of directors, were asked to designate their choice for the man who should fill the office of president. In doing this they displayed a great deal of wisdom and accordingly expressed their preference for Sidney S. Wilson.

On Tuesday, July 2, the new board of directors met and it was called upon to perform one of its first duties—the election of a president. Acknowledging the wisdom of the members' choice, the board officially chose Sidney S. Wilson to serve as president of the Cleveland Advertising Club for the second term.

No wiser choice could have been made, but still it required no great deliberation, for Mr. Wilson is the one man in the entire club membership who is best qualified to serve in this important capacity. Despite the fact that his private affairs consume a great deal of his time, Mr. Wilson has constantly exerted his best efforts for the welfare of this club. He is responsible to no small degree for the success of the club during the past year, and he is assured of the united co-opeartion of the members for his next term of office."

DISCUSSION PRO AND CON RESULTS WHEN MEETING IS CALLED OFF IN PAINESVILLE

The drafted boys of deferred classification were called to attend a meeting at the Utopia theatre in Painesville Sunday night. Mr. Carmichael, as county chairman of the Thrift Stamp campaign, had made the arrangements to have the boys come in and pledge or sell $200.00 worth of Thrift Stamps each. The cards, however, did not state the occasion for calling the boys in. Learning of the contemplated gathering, an advisory board, consisting of Judge Reynolds, George W. Alvord and Judge Shepherd, conferred with F. J. Fuller of the Draft Board, and the meeting was called off. Considerable confusion resulted, as the boys had arrived, some from points some distance away. The Advisory Board claimed error in sending out the cards in issuing as an apparent military command and other technicalities. F. J. Fuller dismissed the gathering without any meeting being held. Mr. Carmichael's announcement to the newspapers, concerning the affair, will be found in another column.

MEMORIAL DAY IN FRANCE AVIATORS DROP FLOWERS ON GRAVES OF FELLOW WORKERS

The Republican Is Indebted to Miss Susie T. Austin, of Glenn Avenue, for These Letters of Unusual Interest from France. They Are Written to the Firm of the Young Men Writing, and Are Passed On To All the Associates, a Custom Followed By Many of the Large Establishments Now.

France, May 30th.
A. M. Simms & Co.
Dear Sirs:

Today is Memorial day. As Old Glory is unfurled on our barracks and is waving so magnificently in the breeze, we "fall in" to begin on a program to commemorate those who have fallen in the service of their country. We have a beautiful day and as we march to the strains of the martial music to the little cemetery on the outskirts of the town comes the self evident fact that honor is the byword of the day to those who must sleep many leagues from their native soil.

As this is a national holiday for all Americans over here, news of the memorial services had reached the ears of the townspeople and already many of them were flocking to the cemetery carrying flowers. The countryside is beautiful, everything so fresh and green with the robes of spring. As we reached the little cemetery, in this quiet spot it seemed as though it were set off from the rest of the world, as it will be over here, though it will forever have the stamp of the U. S. A. upon it.

The graves were marked with large wooden crosses giving the name, rank and company of the deceased. Many were fresh, dating to but a few days' ago and all were [illegible] banked with flowers. The town folk circled the outskirts of the cemetery. In the center was a small grand stand in which the band and speakers sat. Addresses were given by high American, English and French officers in both languages. The president's proclamation was read. A solo was given by an American Y. W. C. A. girl, which seemed to hold the entire crowd by its solemnity.

Among others, some of the deceased were aviators, and as the band was playing a funeral dirge, and some of the Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross girls were laying more flowers on the graves moving slowly down the aisle, far up in the white clouds, three aviators planes hove in sight, flying in sigle column formation. It had been so arranged that they were to appear precisely at this time. It's a sight that will always remain vivid in my memory, as they softly played that funeral dirge, for they made a wonderful picture; they passed us at quite a height, went far out, then made a grand curve and the next minute came sweeping down over the graves, at a height of scarcely 200 feet, dropping bundles of flowers that broke in a great spray over their deceased brother aviators. One chap who took me up last Sunday leaned far out of his machine in order to drop his bundle at the exact spot.

The way he picked up and soared aloft showed that he was already a master in his art. This I can personally vouch for, when I was with him, it seemed as though we were standing still and the earth looked like a real estate map of your future home in the suburbs after you pay the customary $200.00 down back in the U. S. A. He also told me the above procedure was carried out at almost every funeral of an aviator.

Aviation is the greatest game of all, and any one with red blood in his veins will be fascinated by it after he has taken a flight. Just now it is hard to be transferred into it as there are many on the waiting list. While wonders have been accomplished in the air, many revelations will be forthcoming in the future.

Just as a splash of water on dry ground will scatter in a dozen different directions, so the Americans are filling the nooks and corners of a strange country. In a certain sense never had there been a better opportunity for the French to see America as she is. It is obvious that the Yankee spirit and stamp will be left in many a spot. Here the native may observe them as a people, talk and mix with them, exchange ideas, etc., and by rubbing elbows, after we are gone the U. S. A. stamp on an article will bring back memories.

As for the mixing it is needless to said that the American will take the initiative in this respect, in this way picking up the language and becoming acquainted with things in general, as heretofore, only tourists, the wealthy class as a rule, were viewed as American types, never reaching the small towns or inner country where the average reside.

Even while things are going at high tension, we will try and relax and leave pleasant memories.

W. C. SMITH

Still send mail through Ordnance Dept., U. S. A. P. O. No. 717, A. E. F., France.

Will try and advise you on the day I change. "BILL."

Say, which do you figure is cheaper: 1 pair head lamps at $6.00, 2 front fenders at $7.50, 1 radiator $25.00, or a nice classy bumper for about $5.50 or $6.00? Think that over and then come in and talk bumper with me. I am agoing to sell them whether I make a cent or not. Tires and Tubes are agoing up every day and you know you will need one or more soon; and I have the best money can buy at the price I ask. "TRUST IN GOD AND HAVE YOUR GAS MASK READY", IS THE RULE OF THE SOLDIERS, WHO DO NOT KNOW WHAT MAY HAPPEN NEXT.

Another Splendid Letter From Dan Flickinger in France.

Sunday, June 9th, 1918.

Dear Family:

The only reason I headed my letter "Sunday" is because I just found it out by accident. As a matter of fact the day of the week is now unimportant in the big game we are now in.

You may have worried a good deal about my not writing for so long but you have no idea how rushed and busy and tired and confused these last ten days have been for me. Because yours truly is at last in action.

Gee, it would take a week actually to tell you what I've seen done and experienced in the same period of time; but I'll try to give you a little idea in these few moments.

Well, we left that comfortable little village that was the battalion's home during May, on the day after Decoration Day. First an 8 kilo. hike to our entraining point, then a tiresome training hike or journey on up farther. We traveled like a freight train, but it was sure better than hiking with heavy packs. Our orders were changed a few times en route as to which part of the front we were headed for, but we at last reached a point in reserve after two more days hard hiking, going by trucks, waiting and bivouacking. From the first of June till about the fifth we were still in reserve, although moving and advancing from place to place each day or two. Now, however, we are in support; and the next step will be the front line.

Just by way of explanation, I might say that roughly the three states of being in battle are best described as follows: First, reserve, just uncomfortable and restless and hearing the guns. Second, support more so of the above and exposed to the dangrs of shell fire. Otherwise O. K., if they hold all right in your front. Third, Front line, I dont' know! Imagine its the real stuff of which we have all heard General Sherman speak. The only thing that counts there is whether you get hit or not. But they can't get us all.

Our second battalion has already been in the actual scrap and of course suffered the inevitable casualties.

When we left on this big adventure last week, I thought at first I would not write at all until we got back in rest billets again. But I've changed my mind, because I guess you would worry just as much not knowing anything as you would if you knew the facts. Be brave and don't worry. I'll write when I can scratch up the opportunity; half the trouble is in getting a place to mail a letter.

Gee, if I ever get out of this place alive I'll have some wild old tales. Its just like you read about; shells bursting near you and everything. One of the first things you learn is the big difference between going out over your head and those coming in, apparently all right toward you. The former tickle us of course and we hope they stir up the Boche lots; but the latter put the fear of God into our hearts and we hunt any shelter, or lie down.

Move? Good heavens, you can't imagine it! I used to think when I never had my shaving kit over two weeks in the same place that I was moving, but not now. That's a sedentary life compared with what we've had of late. Into a village or wood at night, stay there a day and then pull out the next evening at dusk. But that's not bad when a fellow can sleep every other night. One thing, I've learned to sleep any old time, any old place and with any old thing going on over me. But I always have to get up at 6 a. m. even on quiet days, in order to get in my daily report by 8 a. m.

Say, but I wish I could tell you what part of France we are in. Sure is an historic section! Beautiful country, too, doggone it, and too pretty to fight and kill each other in; but that's the game. It's funny how we knock around, one night we sleep in an old chateau almost like a hotel, next night lie down under a tree; next night either roll up in a blanket or else put it off until an opportunity the following day.

It is pitiful to see the evacuated villages; everyone gone except the old people. Lots of rabbits and chickens are left sometimes. Yum, yum.

Well, no telling what's next on the program, but the rule is: Trust in God and have your gas mask and tin hat handy.

DAN

VACATION TIME IS HERE.

Schools have closed for the summer and now the small boy can pursue, without restraint, his quest for pleasure. But it is not he alone who has been eagerly awaiting the summer season, for we grown-ups are also planning on relaxing from our every day labors.

The summer vacation should also provide a change from the every day scenes, and already thousands of vacationists have wended their way to the Great Lakes, and particularly, to Lake Erie, where are to be found the finest and largest steamers plying the inland waters of the world.

The largest and most magnificent of these steamers, the great ship "Seeandbee," is now running daily between Cleveland and Buffalo, and her immense popularity is attested by the large volume of passenger traffic carried.

This trip not only appeals to the vacationist but also to the weary commercial traveler who, by boarding the steamer at Cleveland or Buffalo at 8:30 p. m., may break the monotony of his all rail journey, enjoy a refreshing night's sleep and reach destination at 7:30 the following morning, in plenty of time and with the inclination to start the day's struggles early.

Standard Theater

"The Legion of Death," which will be shown at the Standard theater for the week of July 14 is the most magnificent production ever shown, and tells the most dramatic moment in Russia's history and perhaps the history of the world. When the men at the front despaired of victory and laid down their arms, a noble band of women, "The Battalion of Death," took their places in the trenches and fought the Huns. It also shows the scenes of rejoicing when Russia threw off the yoke of the czar. Edith Story, the "Bernhardt of the screen," plays the part of Marya, who leads the women warriors into battle, together with a very good and fit for the part cast of players. "Legion of Death" should be seen by everyone as it will be part of the world's history forever. "A Bedroom Blunder," a Mack Sennett comedy, will also be shown.

PASSING TRIBUTE TO SAMUEL C. BILLINGS

In the death of Samuel C. Billings, we have lost out of the world, one whose character was an influence, which his friends always felt was given to the right. His nature from boyhood to the maturity of manhood, was always frank and open; like a book we read and find therein only good. He was honest, sincere, upright, scorning anything which lowered his ideals. He had a true sincere reverence for the serious things of life.

It seems sad that in the last few days of life he was unable to speak; so much remained unuttered, which would have comforted his friends, and so he passed into the silent unknown world. But we know that it is well with him, for life to him was a treasure, given for use, not for self, and that his greatest happiness was in passing the same on to others lest he "might not come that way again."

He was a member of the United Presbyterian church of Belleve, Pa., not alone in name, but in spirit.

His memory will always be an inspiration to his friends because of his life and character.

W. J. CARMICHAEL ISSUES LETTER DEFENDING AND EXPLAINING SUNDAY NIGHT MEETING AT UTOPIA THEATRE

The following letter has been issued to the Lake county newspapers by Mr. Carmichael, relative to the gathering called in Painesville Sunday evening last:

To Deferred Registrants and to Every Citizen in Lake County:

The request to deferred registrants to appear at the Utopia theater on Sunday evening was ordered by Chairman F. J. Fuller on my request as chairman of Lake County War Savings Committee. My authority comes from the Ohio War Savings Committee who in turn receive their authority direct from the National War Savings Committee appointed by Hon. W. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, Washington, D. C.

Acting upon the suggestion of the State Board and fully appreciating what great patriotic results had been obtained by other counties throughout the state in meetings of this kind, I personally and by letter requested Chairman Fuller to arrange the call in the same manner as had been done most successfully and without personal prejudices in other counties.

In fairness to Mr. von Beseler, I wish to say he had absolutely nothing to do with the making of the call, except to supervise the girls who addressed the cards and to arrange with Mr. Nockel for the theater. These thing he did at my urgent request. Mr. von Beseler was not scheduled to speak. On the other hand, State Headquarters, who urged and suggested the meeting, sent Col. John Y. Bassell, first assistant director of war savings for the state of Ohio to Painesville to address the meeting.

The first notice of any criticism whatsoever came to me by phone from Mr. Alvord late Sunday evening, who insisted that the meeting be called off, and intimated that the same had been called for political purposes rather than for patriotic reasons. Upon a request from Mr. Fuller I went direct to Painesville, where I met Col. Bassell and Chairman Fuller. Mr. Fuller and I then called at the home of Mr. Alvord, who in turn said he "represented a majority of the Advisory Board of Lake County," and that he had notified Mr. Fuller to call the meeting off. When the decision was made, I took Col. Bassell to a public meeting at Mentor where those present heard one of the greatest and most inspiring patriotic addresses ever given in the state of Ohio.

The public announcement of Mr. John Ward that Mr. von Beseler had called the meeting in order to make a political address was absolutely false and apparently malicious. Mr. von Beseler has been of inestimable service to me in my work, putting his whole soul into the task without any hope of remuneration and he deserves the respect and commendation of every loyal American citizen. Mr. von Beseler, besides giving his time and money to the cause, has purchased his limit of War Savings Stamps, and to my personal knowledge, has backed the government in every conceivable way with his time, talent and money. Again, Mr. von Beseler had nothing to do with calling the meeting and in like manner, he had nothing to do with not holding the meeting. Mr. Fuller had been advised that the call was illegal and called off the meeting accordingly.

The form of the card used is the exact wording furnished me by the Ohio War Savings Committee and is the same as used in other counties.

The following letters to Mr. Fuller are self-explanatory:

Willoughby, O., June 26, 1918

Mr. Francis J. Fuller, Chairman,
Local Draft Board,
Painesville, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Fuller:

As per my conversation with you yesterday, and in accordance with what has been done throughout practically all counties in the country, please advise if you will arrange to call all of your deferred classification registrants for a meeting some evening at the Court House in Painesville.

The usual notification card, which provides a check on those who will be in attendance, is as follows:

Order No.....

Dear Sir:

You are requested to be present at a meeting to be held at the Court House, Painesville, Ohio, on .... 1918 at .... o'clock p m

All registrants within the jurisdiction of the Lake County Board who have received deferred classification are expected to be present.

Be sure and bring this card and hand it to the usher when you enter the Court House, as this method is being used to check up your attendance.

DO NOT FORGET TO BRING THIS CARD.

LOCAL SELECTIVE BOARD,
Lake County, Ohio.

Township..............

If there is any expense connected with the printing of cards, our County Committee will gladly take care of this.

I trust you can do this for me, and I will arrange to have two or three good speakers, and think we can make an excellent sale of War Savings Stamps at the meeting, although the general notice to the registrants will not state the purpose of the meeting.

Very sincerely yours,
W. J. CARMICHAEL,
Chairman,
LAKE COUNTY WAR SAVINGS COMMITTEE.

Willoughby, O., June 29, 1918.

Mr. Francis J. Fuller, Chairman,
Local Registration Board,
Painesville, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Fuller:

Please do not overlook my letter of the other day, calling attention to the wonderful results obtained by having a call made to the registrants who have a deferred classification.

Practically all of the counties in the state have done this, and it has been the means of arousing patriotism in the boys, and at the same time getting them all out working to sell War Savings Stamps.

I hope you can arrange a satisfactory date for the call, which should be some day during the coming week. We will arrange to have one or two speakers; and as you have a copy of the notice usually sent out by the boards, I hope that you are prepared to have these printed cards made at our expense, and mailed to the registrants.

Am depending upon you, so please advise me when you can have the meeting, and if the cards have been mailed out.

With kindest regards, I remain,
Very sincerely yours,
W. J. CARMICHAEL,
Chairman Lake County War Savings Committee.

Mr. Fuller in good faith personally to me consented to the meetings and in my presence instructed Mr. von Beseler to have the girls in the office of the Local Draft Board provide every aid and every facility requested.

In conclusion: A great harm has been done the war savings movement in Lake county, and I am convinced that if some of our good people would throw aside personal prejudices, and all political jealousy and get back of every patriotic movement with the true American spirit of work to win the war, and back all of our loyal boys who have gone over the top and those who are waiting their turn to follow the flag wherever it may lead them, there will be no friction and criticism such as has been made.

(Signed) W. J. CARMICHAEL,
Chairman Lake County War Savings Committee.

FORD ANDRUS WILL ISSUES LICENSES TO HANDLE EXPLOSIVES

Under the recent explosives act, all persons selling, handling, or using explosives or their ingredients must have a federal license, and this license will be issued only to those who have legitimate use for same, and who are known to be loyal American citizens, or citizens of countries friendly to the U. S. These licenses may be secured by applying in person to F. W. Andrus, clerk of courts, Painesville.

Persons who dynamite streams in catching fish not only transgress a state law, but also a federal regulation, for which latter violation they subject themselves to a fine of $5000 and one year's imprisonment, or both. The government intends to prosecute anyone having explosives or their ingredients unlawfully in their possession."

NOTICE

Owing to the great demand on the tire manufacturers for tire and war materials, a great shortage is anticipated, and this is not far off.

Some factories have already cut their output one-quarter.

The Government takes 70% of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. output. Even now we have but a few of their sizes left in stock, and cannot obtain others to take their places.

A Home, Or An "Abode".
Which Will You Have a Few Years Hence?

Will you have a house and lot of your own, a home where no man can deny you, where no landlord can raise your rent or order you to move, where every improvement made benefits you and adds to the convenience and happiness of your family, a "home of your own," which gives that indescribable but satisfying sense of satisfaction, security and contentment which is the portion only of happy home owners? Will you be [illegible] a home of your own, a monument to your industry, thrift and foresight, and a haven of security and comfort for yourself and family?

Or, will you still "rent" an "abode," a borrowed (rented) house and have to show for your money, only a bundle of rent receipts "souvenirs of improvidence?"

These are practical, vital questions. Whether a few years hence finds us happy home owners or regretful rent payers depends only on us. One thing is sure, we never will have a home of our own till we make a start toward it. And the first requisite is a lot, a homesite.

Willoughby-Euclid Avenue Subdivision

60x200, $500 up. 80x200, $660 up.

Terms very easy, a little down, a little a month, with liberal cash discount.

Protected by conservative restrictions, of one house, for one family to the lot, with complete improvements (including sewer, water, sidewalks, shade trees, parks, tennis courts and paving) now being installed, this property offers an exceptional opportunity to secure a beautiful homesite in the choicest residence district of Willoughby.

Now is the time to act. Don't put it off. Delay will mean second choice and a higher price. Take advantage of present high wages and get started toward that "home of your own" you have dreamed of and longed for. We will be glad to show you how you can have it, with very little money. You can pay for it the same as rent while you use and enjoy your home.

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga, and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. 14 in P. Morganstern's Subdivision of a part of original One Hundred Acre Lot No. 345, as shown by the recorded plat in Volume 10 of Maps, Page 16 of Cuyahoga County Records, and being 30 feet front on the southerly side of Star Avenue, 139 feet 1 1-2 inches deep on the Easterly line, 137 feet 5 1-4 inches deep on the westerly line and is 45 feet 4 inches in the rear, as appears by said plat.

That all of said defendants respectively claim some interest or title in said premises adverse and hostile to the rights of said plaintiffs therein by reason of their being no lawful conveyance upon record of said premises from them respectively; that, although said persons have of record an apparent interest in said premises, they have in fact no real or beneficial interest therein and are estopped from asserting any interest therein, by reason of the fact that their predecessors in title received a lawful and valuable consideration for the conveyance by them of said interest and agreed to and attempted to convey such interest, but that by reason of the lack of a valid conveyance of record from said defendants a cloud exists upon the title of said plaintiffs in and to said premises.

Said plaintiffs pray that their said right, title and interest in said premises may be quieted and that they may be adjudged to be the absolute owners in fee simple thereof and that all of said defendants and all persons claiming through or under them may be forever enjoined from having or claiming to have any right, title or interest in said premises, and for such other and further relief as they may be entitled to in the premises. You are required to answer herein on or before the 17th day of August, 1918, or judgment and decree will be taken against you.

Are The Packers Profiteers?
Plain Facts About The Meat Business

The Federal Trade Commission in its recent report on war profits, stated that the five large meat packers have been profiteering and that they have a monopoly of the market.

These conclusions, if fair and just, are matters of serious concern not only to those engaged in the meat packing business but to every other citizen of our country.

The figures given on profits are misleading and the statement that the packers have a monopoly is unsupported by the facts.

The meat business is one of the largest American industries. Any citizen who would familiarize himself with its details must be prepared for large totals.

The report states that the aggregate profits of four large packers were $140,000,000 for the three war years.

This sum is compared with $19,000,000 as the average annual profit for the three years before the war, making it appear that the war profit was $121,000,000 greater than the pre-war profit.

This compares a three-year profit with a one-year profit a manifestly unfair method of comparison. It is not only misleading, but the Federal Trade Commission apparently has made a mistake in the figures themselves.

The aggregate three-year profit of $140,000,000 was earned on sales of over four and a half billion dollars. It means about three cents on each dollar of sales or a mere fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Packers' profits are a negligible factor in prices of live stock and meats. No other large business is conducted upon such small margins of profit.

Furthermore—and this is very important—only a small portion of this profit has been paid in dividends. The balance has been put back into the businesses. It had to be, as you realize when you consider the problems the packers have had to solve—and solve quickly—during these war years.

To conduct this business in war times, with higher costs and the necessity of paying two or three times the former prices for live stock, has required the use of two or three times the ordinary amount of working capital. The additional profit makes only a fair return on this, and as has been stated, the larger portion of the profits earned has been used to finance huge stocks of goods and to provide additions and improvements made necessary by the enormous demands of our army and navy and the Allies.

If you are a business man you will appreciate the significance of these facts. If you are unacquainted with business, talk this matter over with some business acquaintance—with your banker, say and ask him to compare profits of the packing industry with those of any other large industry at the present time.

No evidence is offered by the Federal Trade Commission in support of the statement that the large packers have a monopoly. The Commission's own report shows the large number and importance of other packers.

The packers mentioned in the statement stand ready to prove to any fair minded person that they are in keen competition with each other and that they have no power to manipulate prices.

If this were not true they would not dare to make this statement.

Furthermore, government figures show that the five large packers mentioned in the report account for only about one-third of the meat business of the country.

They wish it were possible to interest you in the details of their business. Of how, for instance, they can sell dressed beef for less than the cost of the live animal, owing to unilization of by-products, and of the wonderful story of the methods of distributin throughout this broad land, as well as in other countries.

The five packers mentioned feel justified in co-operating with each other to the extent of together presenting this public statement.

They have been able to do a big job for your government in its time of need; they have met all war time demands promptly and completely and they are willing to trust their case to the fairmindedness of the American people with the facts before them.

RURAL COUNTIES MAY NOT HAVE ANY COAL

From the federal fuel administration for Ohio comes the warning today that delivery of both bituminous (soft) and anthracite (hard) coal may be prohibited in many counties during the coming fall where wood supply is available. While this information is not final, the probability is sufficently strong to cause the federal administration for the state to issue a warning on the matter so that the people of the state may have ample time to prepare themselves. The stoppage naturally will apply principally to rural counties. An explanation is promised later.

Comparative Values

Dollar for dollar, telephone service gives greater value received than any other commodity. A real appreciation of telephone service can only be secured by comparison of values.

A taxicab, costing $3.00, enables you to call upon six business men in an hour. The telephone for 25c in calls, enables you to visit six business men and not leave your own office.

You may travel four miles in thirty minutes by street car; by telephone you can travel the same distance in thirty seconds.

An errand boy at $40.00 per month, plus car fare, may run twenty errands a day. A business telephone literally runs a hundred errands more efficiently, with greater dispatch, at one-fourth the cost.

Measured by comparative value, telephone charges would be very much higher than any proposed rates.

C. P. & E. FARE RAISE TAKEN UP AT GENERAL COUNTY MEETING

"Reasonable" Rate of Fare Might Vary Considerably As Viewed From Standpoint of Car Rider and Stockholder, Says Homer Harper.

Councilmen, trustees, commissioners and various other representatives from different points in the county gathered at the court room in the court house at Painesville Wednesday afternoon and discussed the C. P. & E. fare raising proposition.

J. C. Philipps presided. Harry Hammar, C. P. & E. attorney and Mr. Von Beseler were present. Mr. Ward of the C. P. & E., Painesville, presented the C. P. & E. side of the question. E. F. Blakely and Homer Harper were also present.

Mr. Ward stated that the company desired a reasonable rate of fare plan, and fixed schedule schemes abandoned. He stated that many local cars could be eliminated in his judgment, and more limiteds substituted. Mr. Ward dwelt at length upon the condition of the C. P. & A. and the C. P. & E. roads, all of which has been gone over in previous Willoughby meetings. Some discussion ensued as to what was meant by a "reasonable" rate of fare. Homer Harper said he thought the word "reasonable" should be most clearly defined before its admission was permitted in any clause or amendment, made. The meaning of the word might vary considerably, he explained, as it was viewed by a stockholder, the company, municipalities, or the economical car rider of today.

The concensus of the opinion as presented by the various representatives was, that they wanted to be "shown." None were in favor of relinquishing or spoiling the perfectly good franchises which the villages now hold, as expressed in the words of Mr. Arnold, of Madison village. Everybody wanted to be fair to the company and the car riders. C. C. Robbins of Wickliffe suggested electing a member from each municipality to form an advisory board, to consider a possible franchise for the county.

It was finally decided to form a committee to be made up of one member selected from each municipality; that committee to meet again at the court house next Monday at the same time.

Mr. Ward is to bring a statement of the affairs of the company for the past ten years, and further details will then be considered. It is not understood that any final action will be taken at that meeting.

NOT THE GERMAN FLAG; JUST THE BELGIUM THAT HAD ALMOST FADED INTO THE GERMAN COLORS.

The Hiawatha theater has been displaying some of the flags of our allies with that of the Stars and Stripes recently and among them was the Belgium flag. Recently some of the Andrews school girls and others have been phoning the Hiawatha anxiously inquiring if the theater was displaying a German flag. These queries naturally caused that sterling and patriotic citizen, James McMahon, considerable concern. Investigating, he found that the Belgium colors of orange, black and red, had faded into the white, black and red of the German. Mr. McMahon said he felt that it was almost symbolic of the pitiful condition of the Belgians, that even the colors of their flag should fade into those of their oppressors.

ANDREWS SCHOOL INTERESTS IN STEAM COMPANY MAY BE SOLD TO THE FORESTERS.

With the exception of Governor Cox all members of the board of trustees of the Andrews Institute for Girls were present at the adjourned meeting held in the directors' room of the Cleveland Trust Company at Cleveland, Monday.

The committee consisting of Messrs. Van Gorder, Hammar and Wilson, appointed by the board has been negotiating with a like committee of the Independent Order of Foresters for some permanent plan of refinancing their joint holdings in the New York Steam and Ice Companies. A several days' session was held by these gentlemen last week in New York resulting in a tentative agreement which if carried out, would mean the sale of the school's interest to the Foresters.

Mr. Freiberger, vice president of the Cleveland Trust Company, assisted the committee in the negotiations of last week. He also met with the board Monday afternoon when the plan was submitted for consideration. The committee was authorized to complete the work as outlined, provided of course that a similar action was taken by the trustees of the Foresters in Toronto. In brief this plan is to allow the underlying mortgages to remain as they are. The refunding mortgage bonds which have been held by the school for several years and of doubtful value producing no income for about a year and a half, are to be exchanged for second mortgage bonds upon the new station built by the Foresters. These securities are further guaranteed as to principal and income by the Foresters, bearing interest at 5 per cent during the war and 6 per cent after peace has been declared, with certain annual payments. Part of the money advanced to support the enterprise during the last year is included in this trade. Another part amounting to about $87,000.00 is to be paid by the Foresters direct and another amount of $100,000 remains under the collateral of the ice and steam bonds, while an amount of a little over $100,000.00 will be refunded in income bonds of the steam properties.

The five year contract which was held by the Burns Brothers Ice Corporation with the New York Ice Company to produce ice at a figure which now means a great loss under the war time conditions, was finally cancelled through negotiations of the committee. Nothing was done, however, towards a permanent arrangement of the ice properties, pending the outcome of the steam company situation.

ADS IN REPUBLICAN BRING IN BUSINESS, SAYS DR. LOWE.

Mentor, Ohio, July 16th, 1918.
Dear Editor of Willoughby Republican:

The inclosed is copy for this week's issue of your newspaper, to be set up solid, same as before, and next to reading matter. The position you gave my first ad certainly brought business. I do not expect as choice a position this time. It would not be fair to others. Appreciating your favor, I am,

Yours very respectfully,

WELL KNOWN LAKE COUNTY MAN PASSES WITH DEATH OF J. C. CAMPBELL.

A man well known throughout the county, passed away with the death of J. C. Campbell at his Plains home last week. Mr. Campbell served as county commissioner for six years. He was born and raised within a mile of the home where he died, having been a resident of Mentor practically all his life.

He had extensive real estate holdings in Mentor, Youngstown and Columbus. Mrs. Campbell has been dead for many years. Three sons and one daughter, Mrs. John Flickinger, of Clyde, are the immediate family surviving.

An account of the funeral will be found in our Plains correspondence, this issue.

WORLD FEDERATION OF AD CLUBS CHOOSES WILLOUGHBY MAN FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

At the fourteenth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World held in San Francisco the second week in July Mr. Sidney S. Wilson was elected vice president, an exceedingly high compliment to the Cleveland Club. This convention had the personal endorsement of the President of the United States and his cabinet as a special acknowledgment of the work done by the associated clubs in bringing the power of publicity towards the selling of Liberty Bonds and extending patriotic propaganda.

The national administration sent several special representatives to the convention to secure even closer affiliation with war activities on the part of advertising men. A "war message to American business" which pledged the advertising forces of the nation to get squarely behind the war leaders and use extreme endeavors to further the successful prosecution of the strife, was adopted.

Forces of advertising and publicity in America and Europe were pledged to suppress all hostile newspapers and other publications.

Mr. Wilson's duties will involve considerable traveling and public speaking.

Friends and credit pursue the man who does not need them.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM THE SOLDIER BOYS IN FRANCE WILL BE FOUND ON VARIOUS INSIDE PAGES OF THIS ISSUE.

LAKE COUNTY RECEIVES CONGRATULATIONS FROM THE STATE DIRECTOR

Willoughby, Ohio, July 11, 1918.

The Willoughby Republican, Willoughby, Ohio.

Gentlemen:

Appreciation of our patriotic citizenship is noted in the following telegram received from the State Director of the Ohio War Savings Committee, Mr. H. P. Wolfe.

The flood of War Savings money from your county and this great old state of Ohio that is pouring into the Treasury is the answer of our people to the call of our government for support of our ideals of world liberty work. CONGRATULATIONS."

Lake county will go over the top because of the patriotic work of our Lake county people.

Yours for Victory,

LAST MONDAY IN JULY OCCASION OF NEXT WAR MOTHERS' MEETING IN WILLOUGHBY

The Willoughby War Mothers met at the library the last Saturday in June, and had a pleasant meeting. Letters from the boys were read and each mother had something pleasant to tell of her boy. Twenty more stars are to be placed on the service flag, making 102. It was unanimously voted to have the flag raised every fair day. A discussion took place as to those who have the right to display the service flag. The following clipping was brought in and read:

"Attention has been called to the fact that service flags have been flown where the persons represented are not in fact serving with colors at all, but in various civilian capacities. However patriotic the motives of these persons may be, they are not entitled to be represented by the service flag and such us is an abuse of it."

The next meeting will be held at the library the last Monday evening in July at 7:30. All war mothers are requested to try and be present.

CLEVELAND HEIGHTS HAS A RED CROSS WORK SONG

This is our work song. You see it is just a sort of parody on the Smile song.

Pull out your needles from your old knit bag and knit, knit, knit, Patriotic fingers must not shirk nor lag, knit girls, do your bit.
Weary feet are marching on. They need good sox that fit.
So pull out your needles from your old knit bag and knit, knit, knit.

Pull out your needle and your thimble too and sew, sew, sew,
There is work for all of us that we must do, sew girls, don't be slow.
Shirts and sheets, pajamas, too, our boys must have, you know,
So pull out your needle and your thimble, too, and sew, sew, sew.

Put on your apron and your caps so white and fold, fold, fold,
Sanitary bandages and roll them tight, fold girls as you're told.
Careful now and do it right, so doc' and nurse won't scold.
So, put on your apron and your cap
so white and fold, fold.

Herbert Hoover has said there will be enough sugar for everybody if all will join in helping to conserve the supply. If we are wasteful and do not follow the program of conservation we may expect to go on short rations later.

Our Flag Is Still There

The flag is flying over the wheat bin. Intelligence and patriotism saved the colors. Now let's plant "Old Glory" on the sugar bin. So firmly that 1919 will see our flag still there.

LARGE CROWD ENJOYS LIVING PATRIOTIC PICTURES AT ANDREWS

A large crowd assembled at the Andrews School Tuesday night to see the Patriotic Living Pictures. All the seats were taken and much of the available sidewalk space. The setting for the pictures was ideal. Framed in a natural holly hock bower, it would have been difficult to have painted a scene more effective and artistic. The presentations were excellently given and called forth much applause. Following is the program:

Joan of Arc—Margaret Millard.
Betsy Ross—Thelma Wheaton, Jeannette Runyan, Aldora Hall, Inez Whitehead.
The Red Cross of Yesterday—Gladys Mummery.
The Red Cross of Today—Mary Such.
The Statue of Liberty—Ada Pritchard.

The Hand of Mercy—Grace Pinch, Sarah Skinner.

RESERVED ARTICLES AT DR. LOWE HOME NOW OFFERED FOR QUICK SALE.

As previously announced, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Lowe of Mentor are reducing their holdings in the north, and preparing for a dividing of business. Winter seasons are to be spent at Eustis, Florida, and the summer months at Mentor, Ohio. Instead of maintaining a home with nine furnished rooms at Mentor, they decided to sell off about two-thirds of their household furnishings, and reduce to a summer home in the north with only three or four rooms. They announced through the public press that they would be open on Tuesday, July 9th, and continue from day to day, for this reduction sale of thirty years accumulation. The number of people who came the first two or three days were more than they could handle. Arriving only the evening before the sale, they had no time in which to agree upon values, consequently some articles were reserved. The first rush being over, they are now ready to sell those articles held for the second week's sale. Among them is one four burner natural gas range with elevated oven and burner, nearly new. One large cupboard case with four glass doors above, four drawers, and six closed doors below. One seven shelf bookcase three feet wide. One six-shelf bookcase three feet wide. One solid oak bedstead with springs. One old time walnut bedstead with springs. One set of household Buffalo scales, weighing up to two hundred pounds. One natural gas burner for a furnace, also gas regulator. One ten-foot heavy solid oak dining room table, a few pictures and other small articles. Special attention to the sale of the drug store department with all its fixtures will follow. A further announcement will be made concerning this stock.—Adv.

BARLEY DROP BISCUIT

Not many years ago barley was used more extensively than wheat for bread making in many European countries. Now it is coming into American favor as a wheat substitute.

Barley flour is very satisfactory for hot breads. Try this recipe, tested by government specialists, for barley drop biscuits.

Two cups barley flour, 1 1-2 teaspoons salt, 1 cup milk, 4 tablespoons fat, 6 teaspoons baking powder.

SCHOOL SAMMIES IN W. S. STAMP EFFORT

Pave Way to Lair of Hun by Sale of Baby Bonds.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—"Every War Savings Stamp sold is a step toward victory. It paves the way for the soldiers on the road to Berlin."

With this suggestion to the boys and girls of Ohio, the educational division of the Ohio War Savings committee has designated the week of July 22 to 27 as School Sammy Victory Week. During this period a great rally of the boys and girls is called, when three definite aims are laid before them "for a great effort to aid Uncle Sam in making safe their lives and their happiness."

These objectives are:

"The enlistment of every patriotic boy and girl in the School Sammy Army of Ohio.

"The effort of every member, new or old, to win a general's rank by the sale of War Savings Stamps.

"A real test of the efficiency of this army of volunteer workers against the Hun."

Rank of general in the School Sammy Army comes with the sale of 1,000 War Savings Stamps. On attaining this rank, the Sammy will be given a bronze pin designating the title.

"Opportunity is now offered boys and girls, too young to fight, chance to earn the undying gratitude of the great republic by doing what they can, in their own way, to back up the line of heroes who are fighting their country's battles," the state committee declares. "Their task is just as honorable, their work as fruitful, for if the supply of money fails the line in France will fail, too."

Do not cry out against the terrors of thrift as long as the men in the trenches do not cry out against their hardships. Consider yourself lucky to be able to save and to by War Savings Stamps.

VILLAGE HAS 4 W. S. S. GENERALS

School Sammy Army of Ohio Making Great Sales Records.

Columbus, O. (Special.)—For a village of 1,500 inhabitants, Cardington, Morrow county, justifiably claims a state record in furnishing four "generals" in the School Sammy Army of Ohio. In that community Marjorie Nichols and her sister, Earnestine Nichols, each have been ranked as "generals," following achievement in selling $5,000 of War Savings Stamps. Other Cardington "generals" are Doris Axthelm and Helen Farrington.

Latest additions to the list of boys and girls with this rank in the School Sammy Army are: Carolyn Straus, Avondale school, Cincinnati; Louise Rouse, St. Xavier school, Cincinnati; Frances Barbour, Maynard; Clara Stantner, Lynchburg; Mary M. Lippincott, Cadiz; Josephine Gilmore, Cadiz; John Brough, Miamisburg; Emily Crame, Geneva; Mary Dixon, Bellaire; Kenneth Fetton, Bellaire; John Beetham, Bellaire.

$2,000 PRIZE FOR W. S. S. SALES

Rural Carrier to Be Given Heifer of Great Value.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—On July 20, Walnut Crest Rag Apple Sadie, the $2000 daughter of King Champion Rag Apple, will be presented to some Ohio rural mail carrier. The presentation will be made to the carrier who, since May 20, has sold the most War Savings Stamps.

A. W. Green, proprietor of Walnut Crest Farms, Middlefield, O., has given the $2,000 heifer to the Ohio War Savings committee for a prize in the War Savings Stamp sales contest for rural carriers. Mr. Green is the owner of King Champion Rag Apple, the $20,000 bull. The prize will be given the winner in a public manner by S. A. Kinnear, Columbus postmaster, and chairman of the postoffice division of the Ohio War Savings committee.

Fulton County Makes Record.

Wauseon, O.—(Special.)—C. D. Perry, War Savings chairman for Fulton county, has been advised by the Ohio War Savings committee, Columbus, that this county made the greatest relative record in cash sales of War Savings Stamps for the week ended July 4. With a weekly quota of 39,520, sales in cash for this week reached $101,800, or 10.6 times the weekly quota. The nearest approach to this record was made by Morrow county, where cash sales of $67,357 were made against a quota of $6,460, or 10.4 times the quota.

COUNTY FAIRS TO PUSH W. S. S.

Organizations Plan to Give Part of Premiums in Stamps.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—Working with the Ohio Fair Boys, the Ohio War Savings committee is preparing its plans for the sale of War Savings Stamps at each county fair to be held during the next three months. Practically every fair board in the state has agreed to pay a large portion of premiums in War Savings Stamps and to set aside one day to be designated as "Patriotic day."

More than 2,000,000 people will be reached through the plan of selling War Savings Stamps at the county fairs. A similar program on more extensive scale is being arranged for the state fair to be held in Columbus.

WE NEED THE MONEY HERE, SAYS GIBSON AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY THE FREIGHT. READ ON:
Say, which do you figure is cheaper: 1 pair head lamps at $6.00, 2 front fenders at $7.50, 1 radiator $25.00, or a nice classy bumper for about $5.50 or $6.00? Think that over and then come in and talk bumper with me. I am agoing to sell them whether I make a cent or not. Tires and Tubes are agoing up every day and you know you will need one or more soon; and I have the best money can buy at the price I ask. My present stock of oils and grease are nearly exhausted and the next shipment will be a considerable higher. So get busy now, as it is a necessity for your car. Just compare my prices with the catalogue houses, freight added, and see how far you are ahead by sending your money out of town; and right here is where we need it. I may not be here long, so get what you want of what I've got and if I have not got it I can get it or it isn't made.
Respectfully,
W. J. GIBSON.

"Y" MAN COMES 'ROUND WITH A FORD TRUCK FILLED WITH THE "JOYS OF LIFE."

Other Day and Night Happenings on the Front Line. A Letter From Dan Flickinger in France.

June 12.

Dear Family:

Well, believe me, the 11th of June will always go down as one of the large days of my life. Because so many good things happened to me then that I am hardly able to tell them all.

To begin with, you remember when I wrote you the other day our battalion was in support; and that I told you in all probability we would next take over a front line sector; and that (my mistake). But, God bless us all, no such thing occurred. Instead a battalion of the Fourth Infantry of our division was sent up to relieve us—they having never been up before. Well, you can imagine how mad that made us. Words fail me, even in a little thing like that, because it came so unexpectedly; and as a matter of fact we were not entitled to it, either, then.

The new officers came up in the afternoon to reconnoiter theg round. I showed the new scout officer all about my work; the observation posts and everything. You can imagine how obliging I was to explain things to him about the sub-sector. That's the way it always goes. Of course the actual relief never takes place until night; and in this case it was very late. But I did not kick about that. I would not have cared if I'd been the last one relieved. You see whenever the battalion moves, your truly always leads the column with his 28 men, together with all the other battalion headquarters enlisted men, i. e., signalmen, orderlies, hospital men, etc. The adjutant of course has to accompany the major and that leaves me more or less in charge of the headquarters bunch.

So night before last I was relieved about midnight, after a long cold, sleepless wait, and started on through the woods for that main road leading south. And my guide took me right to it and then we lit out. I guess everyone was too tired and slepy to know whether they felt happy or not as the trip was very quiet. First we would pass the lighter artillery on our way back and then as we kept on, we passed the final batteries of those terrible 205s and 220s. There are sure noisy that near.

It was a long march for empty stomachs and that time of night being about 10 kilometers. We reached the town where regimental headquarters is located about 3:30 a. m. Then the last lap was about one-half kilometer. otu here in these woods to our camp. I did not attempt to pitch shelter tents then, but just let everyone trow off his packs, get out blankets and flop. I don't know whether I was "tireder" than I was cold or vice versa. But I was pretty much of both. The wagons had not arrived yet, of course, and so I had no blankets until they came. (You know an officer carries just the light pack with no blankets as a rule.) HoweverI had my little air pillow and trench coat and was dead to the world until the first companies of the battalion began to trickle in about 7 a. m. Gee, they were a sorry looking lot.

My orderly managed to scrape up a cup of coffee and some hard-tack for me from one of the first rolling kitchens to pull in. I was so hungry I couldn't eat. Good joke, there wasn't anything to eat until about 10 o'clock. However my little orderly and I pitched my shelter tent and got the old bedding roll spread out in it and then nothing more to do but sleep until he woke me up with a mess kit full of dinner. After that I began to feel like a man again and ever since have been picking up fine.

Now I want to tell you a few more nice things that happened to me yesterday; it's the same old story of all good things coming at once. A big bag of mail came out from regimental headquarters and what a great thing it was for all officers and men. And I drew one.

You'll never know how much I love to get letters from you over here. This was letter No. 14, think, dated the 18th, with that sweet little rose "and everything" in it. (By the way, I don't know what number this letter of mine is—I can't keep track.)

Now for the next pleasant thing in the course of that 11th of June. Good old Mr. Apply, the Y. M. C. A. man, was here on the job with a little Ford truck full of such joys of life as: Chocolate, cigarettes, canned peaches and apricots, letter paper, figs, dates and little cakes. Ye Gods, how good a little civilized food did taste after living for about 10 days on canned beef, kidney beans, hardtack, coffee, French bread and other components of the field ration. Of course the supply was so limited that we could only buy a little, but you've heard the old saying about what "every little bit" does.

Gee, the morale of the men is wonderful now. Just think, they are singing and whistling and laughing and lying around in a way that just warms your heart clear through. They are all well rested now and more or less well fed and nice and far back from the front. What more does a fellow want? Some of the men in my bunch are very funny—especially two or three southerners who make no bones about wishing the kaiser was in hell, and a few little things like that. It's killing to hear them talk sometimes and it's great to hear them kid each other and cheer up the whole bunch on some long gruelling hike.

So it goes. A little relaxation sure seems good. To forget for a moment the war and take it easy here as reserve is just about the most pleasant thing I can imagine now.

You see our whole division has been split up temporarily and each regiment operating right in with a French division—that's the way we were doing last week. Now apparently our three battalions are going to get together again and then operate from now as a unit of our own. At least we all hope so; it's all right to work in with the French, but when it comes to fighting we would rather fight along with our own men. That's only natural. No one knows how long before we will go up again, but why worry.

Well, yesterday afternoon I had a good bath in a nearby brook, then a shave and a little clothes washing, and then lay down for a little snooze. Last night I slept like a log and what do you think I found this morning at the foot of my bedding roll here in my little tent? Another letter from you. It was No. 13, dated the 14th and came in late last night really behind time. Say, but it was a luxury to get a letter and be able to read it in my bunk. And on top of that Smith brought me around some breakfast, which I ate in my bed.

I sure appreciate your making copies of my letters, that means I can write longer ones to you. And by the way, a fine batch of mail came just now from the folks; I'm sure happy.

Now I've got about 100 letters to censor, some that the men have written. Then more food and sleep.

Must say good-bye—my paper is exhausted.

With more love than ever,

DAN.

AMERICAN MEAT PACKERS SAY THEY ARE NOT PROFITEERS

Below is a statement from the five largest Chicago meat packers that should be read by all persons who are interested as to the charge that the "beef barons" have made millions of dollars in profit on their goods.

It is only fair to give their side of the story:

"The charge of profiteering made against the American packers by the Federal Trade Commission is not true. The fact that the Commission alleges monopoly does not bear out the charge.

"The importance that should attach to the commission's charges is best indicated by the tendency of its members to gain political preferment by attacks on big business. It is not surprising that the Commission's charges have been made with more regard for their effect upon the public than for the facts in the case.

"The Commission says that because the Packers' profit are large they are unquestionably profiteering.

"Profits are large or small only when considered in relation to the size of the business on which they are earned. In the case of the five leading packers, the profits for the past three years amounted to $140,000,000 on sales aggregating nearly five billion dollars. That means less than three cents on the dollar. It is a smaller rate of profit than is enjoyed by any other large business in the world.

"The profit on the actual invested capital is not out of accord with capital invested in other lines of business and is smaller than is usual on businesses which deal in highly perishable products subject to seasonal fluctuation.

"It is a perversion of facts when the Commission tells the public that one of the packers make as high as 263 per cent profit. The investment of the packers is not necessarily the amount at which they are capitalized and none of the five largest packers is capitalized for the amount actually invested. Instead of watering their stock, they have permitted it to remain at nominal figures, which fact has been taken advantage of by the Commission.

"The public is entitled to know all the facts regarding packers' profits and methods of doing business, but in the present instance their chief and and only concern rests in the amount of profit yhich the packers realize from the sale of each pound of their product. The profit in the aggregate spells nothing to the individual; he is affected only by the amount of that profit which comes out of his pocket.

"It is a fact which the Commission cannot deny and which government accountants can verify, that packers' profits represent approximately a quarter of a cent per pound of product. In other words, when the consumer buys a pound of meat from his retail dealer, a quarter part of one cent out of the amount which he pays is profit for the packer.

"Yet by a camouflage of figures, the Commission would have the public believe that the packers are preying upon the public. No sane man will contend that a quarter of a cent a pound is an unreasonable profit on a perishable product which has to be both manufactured and distributed by the firm which gets the quarter cent return.

"Further, it is a fact seemingly ignored by the Federal Trade Commission, that since last November, packers have been limited as to profits. They are not permitted to earn in excess of two and a half cents on each dollar's worth of business transacted and the total profit on the actual investment in meat food lines must not exceed nine per cent per annum.

"Government representatives have full access to the packers' books and are in position to know that the profits have not been greater than prescribed by the regulations.

"The charge of monopoly is as far from substantiation by the facts as is the charge of profiteering. It is true that the packers have many interests in common but that is true in every line of industry, and it does not follow that their mutual interests make the competition between them any less keen. The Commission does not follow up its charges of monopoly with facts and there are none that warrant the charge.

"The truth about the packing industry is that it prospers on the smallest margin of profit of any business of national consequence and that because of its efficiency and organization, it has served well both the producer and the consumer in peace times and now that the nation is at war, it has been able to meet the unusual demands made upon it better than has any other pre-war industry.

"These facts will be demonstrated by any impartial investigation and they are submitted to off-set the prejudice which might arise from the unjust charges and misstatements of the Federal Trade Commission."

THE ROAD

The road is that physical sign or symbol by which you will best understand any age or people. If they have no roads they are savages, for the road is a type of civilized society. If law is weak and society insecure, you will see men perched in castles, on the top of inaccessible rocks, or gathered into walled cities, spending all their strength not in opening roads but in fortifying themselves against access. The draw-bridge is up, the portcullis down and sentinels are mounted on the ranmparts, carefully studying every footman or horseman that turns the corner of a wood, or gallops across the distant plain. Roads are rather obstructed than opened. Or, if you inquire after commerce, look at the roads, for roads are ducts of trade. If you wish to know whether society is stagnant, learning scholastic, religion a dead formality, you may learn something by going into universities and libraries * * but quite as much by looking at the roads. For if there is any motion in society, the road, which is the symbol of motion, will indicate the fact. When there is activity, or enlargement, or a liberalizing spirit of any kind, then there is intercourse and travel and these require roads. So if there is any kind of advancement going on, if new ideas are abroad and new hopes rising, then you will see it by the roads that are building. Nothing makes an inroad without making a road.—Horace Bushnell.

Lizzie Robbins, residence unknown, but whose last known residence was Syracuse, N. Y., will take notice that Thomas O. Robbins filed a petition against her in the Court of Insolvency of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, praying for divorce and relief on the ground of wilful absence for more than three years last past and adultery. SOLDIER BOY MEETS FRENCH FAMILY OF CHARM IN "GARDEN OF FRANCE"

France, June 3d, 1918.

Hr. Arthur Simm, Secy.
M. S. S. Co.

Dear Sir:

As I have every reason to believe that my last letter did not reach you, I am following it up with another one.

We are having beautiful weather these days and it is the beginning of summer, everything is in bloom. Yesterday I took a trip to a small French village which was noted for its relics of historical value. The trip is made in little dinky cars that travel at the great speed of not more than ten miles an hour. However, as the country through you travel is so beautiful and picturesque this is scarcely noticed.

The spot at which we are now located is aptly termed by the French as the "Garden of France," for it surely is, in every sense of the world. As you pass along the hillsides you observe many caves or "wine cellars" with gardens leading up to them and many of the homes have arbors and trellises, harmonizing with the shrubbery in very artistic designs. In the town I noticed quite ao few people going to a quaint little church that sets far up on the hillside almost hidden by shrubbery and ivy vines. Was long about four thirty in the afternoon and being Sunday I was rather curious to find out what was going on. So I strolled up there. The walks that lead up to it were strewn with flowers leading up to the doorway. Later quite a number of little girls, all dressed in white, with a crown of white roses on their heads, and veils of white gauze, came walking down in twos. Apparently they were being confirmed; at least it was some special occasion of the sort, and they made qiute a pretty picture, for many of them were plump, rosy-cheeked youngsters.

Of late I have become acquainted with some of the private families in town and find them very polite and refined people. Incidentally one is able to observe and feel the undercurrent that exists in almost every hom and which they try hard to conceal. Have become quite chummy with a lad of about 20 who has studied English the past year and speaks both French and English fluently. His folk, it seems, were very wealthy before the war, his father having large interests in the leather industry in northern France, and at the time of the invasion, was made a civilian prisoner. Both he and his mother moved farther south and are again refugees, having come here but a month ago.

As a rule, in the evening, one does not have much time, after shaving, writing letters, etc., to go anywhere, but whenever I can get a pass, I slip my French book under my arm and visit this boy and his mother.

That men can live for any great period of time beyond the realms of the refining influence of good women, without its having a noticeable effect, is in my opinion absurd and illogical on the face of it. They erase the coarse, harsher traits and in their quiet, modest manner seem to give that quiet determination to men that make them uphold the lofty aims of humanity. When I see this sweet, old woman, in her dark purple gown, and her snowy white hair and gracious manner, it reminds me of home, the great spirit and effort our women are putting forth for the boys in ways that only a woman can do.

The younger element, though in sorrow for a time, revert back to their former spirits and habits, and to a certain extent enjoy themselves, even in the face of things, for at their stage of life it would be unnatural for them to do otherwise. But with the older women the wound is deep, and they bear their sorrow alone and in silence, and their hearts are slowly bleeding for that which they cannot express.

When with a few friends, I visited the old Cathedral late in the afternoon and observed the number of women, sitting and kneeling on the chairs and benches, silently praying, I knew this was the soul of France.

Madame served us tea in the little green arbor in the rear of their temporary home. She has suffered much and when she drew up a chair and joined us, I forgot all about my lesson. She showed us pictures of their former home in northern France, a beautiful chateau with gardens and a fountain on the front lawn. Some with the family on the front lawn, her children and grand-children. This is all in ruins now, but they are hoping some day they will be reunited and can go back and start over again.

Amid all the great conflagration energy and world turmoil, this is the quiet human side, the pivot on which it all turns. Madame looked at the evening paper for a moment while we were talking. She suddenly sighed and said, "Ah, Monsieur, when will it all end." I did not have the heart to tell her what was in my mind what is more, I could not say any way, so I simply expressed the hope that it would come soon. It is not customary to casually guess at these things, and who is it that could really say. Only time will tell.

Sincerely,
W. C. SPEITH.

Regards to every one.

JOHN BRODBECK FINDS MUCH OF INTEREST IN LIFE IN FRANCE

My Dearest Parents:

It is with great joy that I now find time to pick up my pen and write you a few lines.

As usual, I am in fine health, in fact, never better in my life, although I did have a cold for a few days, but that was sleeping on hardwood floors.

But you would really be surprised if you knew how sofe pine boards are after a hard day's work. They are more delightful than any feather bed I ever hit. But now that we are settled down a little, we are starting to live in style. We have straw mattresses so we are really well off.

Gee, folks, it's awful to be a foreigner. I'll never again laugh at a poor dago trying to talk good old U. S. A.

None of them ever had a harder time than what we are having trying to digest this French. It would be all right if you pronounced it as it is spelled, but I think the object of this language is to pronounce it as far different as it is possible from the way that it is spelled.

Another thing that is hard to get on to is the money system. Their paper money looks like United cigar coupons and just as valuable; to have a dollar you will have a roll as large as John D. himself. And their silver and copper, for a U. S. nickel you will get about 25 coppers as large as a Canadian penny, and some of that has holes in the center.

But still France has its nice points and sides. The people here think the world of an American soldier and always have a pleasant word and hand wave for us. The other day I heard a bunch of little French kids singing, in English, "Hail, hail, the gang's all here," and yesterday I heard a French soldier whistling "Over There." These people seem to get along with English much better than we do with French.

The country is certainly beautiful. Every little spot as large as a table top has its little cultivated garden on it. The crops here are well advanced so they must have an earlier spring than what we do. Now, the weather is fine, seeming about the same as we are having now at home.

Dear Mother, this is Mother's Day and a special arrangement has been made by the Y. M. C. A. to forward mothers' letters without delay so you ought to get this letter as soon as it is possible to get it over there.

"Tell Pa not to get jealous for I'm surely thinking of him, also the kids, and will continue to do so till I get back to "Home Sweet Home," where I hope and expect to be by next Christmas. I doubt if you can read this letter. My pen has run dry so I had to grab the first ink I could lay my hands on and it is not worth anything.

Well, dear parents, I will have to ring off for this time. I could write all week but for the censorship, they wont' allow me to say anything I really wanted to, but you can rest assured that I am well and happy, and expect to stay that way for many moons to come.

Before I close I wish to say a word to the kids, as I suppose this is the last letter it will get a chance to get home before graduation. Tell the kids to study up and be sure to pass their school examination or they will have one good beating come to them as soon as I reach home. Be sure you

I will now close for this time sending my best regards to all my friends around the rubber works and town.

Hoping to hear from you as soon as possible I now close with my dearest and truest wishes and best love to all. From your loving son and brother,

JOHNNIE BRODBECK.

THE NOBLEST REVENGE

By Dr. Frank Crane

The don'test of all don'ts is. Don't get even.

The greatest of all time-wasting is time wasted on revenge.

It not only is a waste of time, but also of gray matter, nerve force, vitality, and soul juice and life reserves.

The desire for retaliation is the most dangerous lust that enslaves human beings.

When you want to hurt him who has hurt you, you want something that irritates you while you want it, disappoints you when you get it, and makes you feel mean after it's all over.

You can't get through this life without meeting people who injure you. There are those that snub you, those that betray you, those that cheat you, those that envy you, besides all the swarm of spliteful, malicious, weak and venomous human mosquietoes, worms and wasps.

If you stop and chase each of these to punish them you will have no time for anything else.

If you allow yourself to think of them, they will poison you until your mind is sour as buttermilk, your sleep ruined, and your hours of leisure turned from content to wretchedness.

Forget it!

It makes not so much matter whether or not you forgive an offense; the only satisfying thing is to forget it.

Go on!

There's too much to do, to stop and fight bees. Life's too rich to pauperit by hate. eLt it pass! Go on!

Doubtless your enemy needs a thrashing. But what's that to you? The question is: What do you need? You need peace of mind, poise, and contentment; and to keep thinking about him is to upset yourself.

When a man wrongs us, let us simply drop him. He's out of our life. Good-bye. There are plenty of others. As far as we are concerned, he is an undesirable citizen, and that's all there is to it. Next!

Why redress injuries? They always redress themselves automatically better than we can redress them.

We don't realize the self-acting, automatic equalizing efficiency of the spiritual world. It's more actual than any mechanical device. When a man does dirt, he gets dirt, by and by. Let him alone. Why bother?

Into what horrors of suffering has the desire for revenge plunged the world! Look at hideous Europe now; the mountains of mangled bodies piled on the altars or revenge!

When Jesus said that about turning the other cheek he was not talking impossible idealism, but plain sense.

The people who spiritually arrive are the forgetters.

Here is a sentence you may paint on your wall where you can see it by day, on your ceiling fhere you can gaze on it when you wake up at night, on your mind where all your thoughts can read it as they pass by, on your heart where every emotion can be shaped by it:

An injury can grieve us only when remembered. The noblest revenge therefore, is to forget.—Adopted from "The Ginger Jar."

WHY SUGAR SUPPLY IS REDUCED

Many of our readers have doubtless wondered why the supply of sugar for canning, as well as for daily consumption, has been materially reduced by the Food Administration.

The following reasons for the more stringent rules, with respect to the distribution of sugar, are among the most important.

Increased shipping needed by our growing army in France which has necessitated the curtailment of sugar transportation.

Some of the accessible sugar-producing areas have given a less yield than was anticipated, such as certain West India islands.

The domestic beet and Luisiana crop have fallen below anticipation.

Destruction of beet sugar factories in the battle area of France and Italy.

Loss of sugar due to the submarine.

It is estimated that there will be available from all sources about 1,600,000 tons of sugar for United States consumption during the last half of the present year. This is based upon the maintenance of the present meager allied ration. The improvement in shipping conditions would, of course, relieve this situation as quantities of sugar are in unavilable markets.

"This supply of 1,600,000 tons of sugar necessitates a considerable reduction of our consumption," says a statement issued by Mr. Hoover. "To provide three pounds per person per month for household use, to take care of our army and our navy and to provide for the necessary preservation of fruit, milk, etc., will require about 1,500,000 tons for the six months."

Notice is hereby given that on the 12th day of August, 1918, Edwin Jacob Einstein will file his petition in the Probate Court of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, asking that his name be changed to Edwin Jack Ensten, and that said petition will be for hearing in said Court on said day at 10:00 o'clock, A. ONE MAN IN 10,000

Do you hope to retire from business some day? Most men do. With many of them, however, it is only a hope.

At 30, most men expect to be rich before they are old. Strange, isn't it, how few men at 60 have anything to show for their life work? Their saving is all done "tomorrow."

Statistics show only one man in 10,000 to be self-supporting at 70.

There is but one answer—start saving "today" and keep your Savings Account growing. See how much you can save and let us help you. The 4 per cent interest adds considerable to your account.

DRAFTED MEN ACHIEVED WAR SAVINGS DRIVE SUCCESS IN HIGHLAND AND CRAWFORD COUNTIES.

Willoughby, O., July 15, 1918.

The Willoughby Republican,
Willoughby, O.

Gentlemen:

The Merchants' National Bank of Hillsboro, Ohio, have printed a circular in which they make the following statement:

"We are proud of the deferred registrants of Highland county. To them is due the recent success of the War Savings drive. The securing of pledges and cash sales for over $450,000 is their first achievement in home war work."

I have also received a letter from James P. Martin, Bucyrus, Ohio, assistant chairman of Crawford County War Savings Committee, in which he states that the draftee meeting for Crawford county, called by the local draft board, will no doubt result in the sale of war savings stamp pledges and cash to over $500,000.

Organized home work by the deferred registrants has proven of the greatest value to the government and to the individual registrants as well.

Very truly yours,
W. J. CARMICHAEL,
Chairman Lake County War Savings Committee.

PIT GIVES UP DEAD OF 150,000 YEARS

SKELETONS OF ANIMALS AND BIRDS FOUND INTACT

Asphaltum Trap Engulfs Prey Today Just as It Did in Pre-historic Times.

Los Angeles, Cal.— Rushes grow around its fringe, an invitation to thirsty wild things to come to the pit and drink. But its murky surface is a deadly trap. Beneath a thin film of water, asphaltum, which fills the pit, seizes its victims in a grip more viselike than quicksand and down, down, down it drags them until they are enveloped and disappear.

The pit is in the oil fields near Los Angeles and today traps birds and squirrels just as it trapped the sabertoothed tiger, the mastodon and the giant ground sloth, creatures of the Pleistocene period, countless centuries ago.

Out of the depths have been dug a hundred varieties of pre-historic animals and birds, all in a perfect state of preservation. Even the skull of a human has been discovered. Thus the earth is yielding secrets of the animal and human life of 150,000 years ago.

Nature's process of preservation in the pit could not be improved even if man's ingenuity were set to the task, for the asphaltum which entangles the creatures and smothers out their lives does not injure their bones; on the contrary it is a preserving fluid which enters every crevice and prevents decay, so that complete skeletons, including the smallest bones, have been excavated and assembled after burial thru the ages.

So complete is the collection obtained there are specimens of the various extinct animals in many stages of growth, enabling the scientists to trace their development from birth to old age.

A feature of the pit is that while it was well known for many years as a source of pitch, the value of its other contents was entirely disregarded until recent years. The Indians used the sticky substance in forming their crude utensils. Bones were excavated all this time, but carelessly were thrown aside. It was supposed that some present-day creatures, stray stock for instance, had been caught this way, and nothing more was thought of the bones.

Finally some one picked up a nine-inch tusk and sent it to the State University at Berkely. Seen with the scientific eye, it was of immense importance, and was identified as the tooth of a tiger, a huge variety which had two enormous, sharp-edged tusks protruding from its upper jaw.

From that time the work of searching for more specimens was pursued steadily, and at present it is conducted by the Los Angeles Museum of History, Science and Art. This institution has the most complete collection of its kind in the world as the result of Nature's care in preserving the specimens entrapped.

Among the more recent finds is the skull of a woman, together with a few human fragments, which from their position in relation to the bones of prehistoric animals, are supposed to be many thousands of years old, tho experts have not ventured to state with any positiveness just how many thousands of years ago this human victim fell into the trap. The skull is considerably smaller than that of the average person of today, tho it is known to be that of an adult.

FINDS HER TWIN BABIES PLAYING WITH A SNAKE

The Trio Are Having a Jolly Time When Neighbor Rushes In and Dispatches the Reptile.

Altoona, Pa.—Hearing her 1-year-old twins, Harold and Howard, laughing and lisping baby talk that seemed considerably more boisterous than usual, Mrs. Robert Shaal of Wehnwood, a suburb, peeped into the kitchen to see what they were doing. She was horrified to find them playing with a 3-foot blacksnake.

The reptile crawled over and about the little ones, and the twins grabbed at its head and tail, but it would wriggle away. Snake and the babies seemed to have the time of their lives.

Mrs. Shall screamed for help, and a neighbor rushed in and dispatched the unwelcome visitor.

GROOM HANDCUFFS HIS BRIDE

Oregon Man Takes Step to Foil Kidnaping by Friends.

Portland, Ore.—A wedding ring is all right in a way, but it remained for Leo F. Jones to reinforce the bords of matrimony in a practical manner which left no doubts in the mind of his wedding party that he had taken Miss Esther Louise Bye to have and to hold. When the preacher said the final words, Jones slipped a pair of handcuffs from his pocket, snapped one of the bands to the bride's wrist, and the other to his own. Jones and his wife are honeymooning now without the handcuffs. Jones explained he had been warned that a number of his bachelor friends planned to kidnap him after the ceremony.

"THE CAREFULLEST MAN IN THE WORLD"—BY IRVING BACHELLER

The spring's work's done an' it's up to the sun—all the crops an' the garden sass—
He's banished the cold an' sowed his gold on the flats in medder grass.
Let's raise the flag—a better one was never yet unfurled—
But first I want to tell ye 'bout the Carefullest Man in the World.

Kings are kind o' careless-like with others' blood an' bone,
But no one can, I swear to man, be carefuller o' their own.
When I read about the German dead before the heated guns
I think o' the king in Germany with six uninjured sons.

Each fireside has its martyrs who have either died or bled;
The millions grieve for the sons who leave an' join the host o' the dead,
But the kaiser's brood is safe an' sound—it either shirks or runs—
He's the only man in Germany with six uninjured sons.

The halt an' blind an' crippled line its byways an' its roads;
Once swift an' strong, they creep along 'neath everlastin' loads,
An' some with crippled intellects still hear the roarin' guns,
Yet there's a king in Germany with six uninjured sons.

Such caution in a fightin' man was never seen before;
It stands the while like a lonesome isle in a mighty sea o' gore.
The death an' woe he recommends to all the other Huns
Is not for him—you bet your life—or his uninjured sons.

Each Hohenzollern battles in a steel-clad limousine.
When the big shells come he's goin' some on legs o' gasoline;
With rubber feet, hell-bent for home, the reckless hero runs,
Oh! speed's the greatest preserver o' the kaiser an' his sons.

They're like the bold jackrabbit an' other tribes accursed
Who have lightnin' in their sinews an' the motto "Safety first":
All clear the road an' stan' square-toed an' look with rested guns
When the kaiser starts for saefty with his fat uninjured sons.

While hunger starves the German host, how fat the kaiser's brood!
No gizzards yearn with cash to burn or mind the price o' food.
When the trumpet calls the Teuton dead in the line o' crippled Huns
Just think o' the Kaiser marchin' up with six uninjured sons!

—Irving Bacheller in the New York Times.

THE NEW BUSINESS WAY

Time was that business used to mean
Get all you can and little give,
Within the law be strictly clean,
But never care how others live.
Trade was a selfish battle then
And in it kindness had no place;
Who stopped to think of other men
Would soon be distanced in the race.

But men are broader now of mind
Than what they were not long ago,
They've put their selfish ways behind
They've found it better pays to know
As much about the human hand
That guides the drill, as they have known
About each cog and wheel and band
In what machinery they own.

It is good business now to be Considerate of men that toil,
To keep their spirits just as free
As iron parts that squeak for oil;
To see that they aren't being ground
By stern conditions and unjust,
For by the newer light we've found
That human souls, neglected, rust.

It is good business to be kind,
Good business to be always fair,
It has not paid men to be blind
To them that in the struggle share.
The toiler that is worth his pay
Who never turns out work that's bad
Is he who comes from day to day
A self respecting soul and glad.

ALLOTMENT COMPANY ISSUES ATTRACTIVE BOOKLET

THE SKEPTIC CONVINCED PRAISES NEAL WAY

Kentuckian Writes of Neal Treatment Which Routs Drink Habit in Three Days.

"I am feeling better than I have for years. Have gained five pounds and just can't get enough to eat. I can't say enough for the eal Treatment. My best wishes for you and your good work."

The splendid Kentuckian who sent this tribute of appreciation to the Neal Institute in the old John D. Rockefeller home arrived there weeks ago in skeptical mood. He hadn't any faith in the promise that three days of Neal Treatment would knock out all his desire for drink. He accepted the Neal Treatment as a sort of "last chance." Today there isn't a more enthusiastic convert to the Neal Way in the entire country.

The Neal Treatment is a harmless vegetable remedy, which in three days time eliminates all the alcoholic poison which is found in the system of every drinker is responsible for the craving which the world calls "liquor appetite."

A Home, Or An "Abode".
Which Will You Have a Few Years Hence?

Will you have a house and lot of your own, a home where no man can deny you, where no landlord can raise your rent or order you to move, where every improvement made benefits you and adds to the convenience and happiness of your family, a "home of your own," which gives that indescribable but satisfying sense of satisfaction, security and contentment which is the portion only of happy home owners? Will you be living in a home of your own, a monument to your industry, thrift and foresight, and a haven of security and comfort for yourself and family?

Or, will you still "exist" in an "abode," a borrowed (rented) house and have to show for your money, only a bundle of rent receipts "souvenirs of improvidence?"

These are practical, vital questions. Whether a few years hence finds us happy home owners or regretful rent payers depends only on us. One thing is sure, we never will have a home of our own till we make a start toward it. And the first requisite is a lot, a homesite.

Willoughby-Euclid Avenue Subdivision
60x200, $500 up. 80x200, $660 up.

Terms very easy, a little down, a little a month, with liberal cash discount.

Protected by conservative restrictions, of one house, for one family to the lot, with complete improvements (including sewer, water, sidewalks, shade trees, parks, tennis courts and paving) now being installed, this property offers an exceptional opportunity to secure a beautiful homesite in the choicest residence district of Willoughby.

Now is the time to act. Don't put it off. Delay will mean second choice and a higher price. Take advantage of present high wages and get started toward that "home of your own" you have dreamed of and longed for. We will be glad to show you how you can have it, with very little money. You can pay for it the same as rent while you use and enjoy your home.

Representatives on the property Saturday afternoons and Sundays.

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga, and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. 14 in P. Morganstern's Subdivision of a part of original One Hundred Acre Lot No. 345, as shown by the recorded plat in Volume 10 of Maps, Page 16 of Cuyahoga County Records, and being 30 feet front on the southerly side of Star Avenue, 139 feet 1 1-2 inches deep on the Easterly line, 137 feet 5 1-4 inches deep on the westerly line and is 45 feet 4 inches in the rear, as appears by said plat.

That all of said defendants respectively claim some interest or title in said premises adverse and hostile to the rights of said plaintiffs therein by reason of their being no lawful conveyance upon record of said premises from them respectively; that, although said persons have of record an apparent interest in said premises, they have in fact no real or beneficial interest therein and are estopped from asserting any interest therein, by reason of the fact that their predecessors in title received a lawful and valuable consideration for the conveyance by them of said interest and agreed to and attempted to convey such interest, but that by reason of the lack of a valid conveyance of record from said defendants a cloud exists upon the title of said plaintiffs in and to said premises.

Said plaintiffs pray that their said right, title and interest in said premises may be quieted and that they may be adjudged to be the absolute owners in fee simple thereof and that all of said defendants and all persons claiming through or under them may be forever enjoined from having or claiming to have any right, title or interest in said premises, and for such other and further relief as they may be entitled to in the premises. You are required to answer herein on or before the 17th day of August, 1918, or judgment and decree will be taken against you.

SAYS FARM LANDS IN OHIO GO UP AN AVERAGE OF $9 A YEAR

In these days of abnormal food prices much is said of the farmer and the farm and it is vaguely hinted that some one is making loads of money.

"The average city man is deeply interested. He sees the price of foodstuffs soar and soar. He seeks a reason why. He asks the grocer. He inquires of the farmer. He importunes Mr. Hoover. His attentuated purse shows it's true," says J. B. Hoffman, Cleveland real estate broker and farm specialist.

"He finds that American farmers produced a gross total of more than $20,000,000,000 worth of farm products last year. More than enough to meet the nation's war expenditures for one year; that not only was our army supplied at home and abroad, in addition to our domestic needs but vast quantity of food was sent to our allies in arms and to a part of the civilian population.

"Notwithstanding this record production of 1917, existing conditions kept prices of food skyward; and were it not for the timely and invaluable work of the national food administration prices of most staples would have reached a point hard to contemplate in its serious effects on our economic affairs.

"There must be increased production. Greater production will follow more producers. The farming class must be increased. Intensive and practical methods of farming taught. The introduction of the farm tractor and latest type of farming machinery encouraged. Governor Cox has opportunely urged the formation of a club in each township of the state for the purchase of a farm tractor. This is the right thing. Farmers' clubs are taking this matter up. Financial aid in this direction will doubtless be available.

"Every efficient farm man of 21 years or more of selective age should be rtained on the farm, or at least put in the deferred class. Federal authorities recognize this as necessary and are ruling accordingly. There are others not of army age who, under proper instructors, could 'fill in.'

"There are many, however, in urban localities, familiar with farm work who are looking farmward, for it is apparent to them that every year life on the farm grows easier and every year life grows harder in the city. The present level values of farm products is giving impetus to the Back-to-the-Farm movement. The prices of products afford a satisfactory profit. That prices will continue to give remunerative returns is not doubted. Intelligent, practical farming always is successful and will continue to be.

"Another feature in farm ownership somewhat invisible or lost sight of partially for a while, is the increase value, or unearned increment. This comes to land, all land, taken as a unit, but is more manifest in land near large, fast growing cities, and on improved roads and electric lines. The average price of Ohio farm land increased $9 an acre in the year ending June 30 1917. The man buying a farm now buys at lower price than his neighbor who buys next year. We advise farm buying now. Do not, however, purchase too much land. Fewer acres well farmed is better than more acres inefficiently farmed."

MANY WAYS OF USING PEANUTS. ONE OF THE CHEAPEST AND BEST FOODS

Many new ways of using the peanut, one of America's best and cheapest foods, and valuable as a meat substitute, have been found by the Office of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The following recipes have been originated and tested by that office:

Creamed Peanuts on Toast

Two cups milk, 1 cup finely ground roasted peanuts, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1-3 cup chopped stuffed olives.

Canned pimentos, chopped green peppers cooked until tender, or cooked celery are equally as good as stuffed olives.

Scald milk in the double boiler, reserving a tablespoon of cold milk to mix with the cornstarch. Add with onion juice and other seasonings to the hot milk. Let come to a boil and finish cooking over the double boiler. Add the peanuts the last thing before serving. Serve on toast.

Good for a luncheon dish.

Creamed Peanuts and Rice

One cup rice (uncooked), 2 cups chopped peanuts, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, 2 teaspoons salt, white sauce, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons fat, 3 cups milk (whole or skim).

Boil the rice and make a white sauce by mixing the flour in the melted fat and mixing with the milk. Stir over fire until it thickens. Mix rice, peanuts and seasoning with the sauce, place in greased baking dish, and bake for 20 minutes.

Peanut Fondu

One cup finely ground peanuts, 1 cup dried Liberty-bread crumbs, 1 egg, 1 2-3 cups milk, 1 1-2 teaspoons salt, dash of paprika.

Grind the peanuts fine. Mix all the ingredients except the white of egg. Beat egg white very stiff and fold in. Bake in a buttered baking dish for 30 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven.

Peanut Loaf

One cup chopped peanuts, 2 cups Liberty-bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons melted fat, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 to 3-4 cup milk.

Mix using enough milk to make a moist loaf. Put in buttered pan and bake an hour in a moderate oven, keeping covered the first half hour. Baste once or twice with melted fat. Turn into a hot platter and sprinkle with chopped peanuts.

Peanut-Potato Sausages

One cup mashed potatoes, 1 cup ground roasted peanuts, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 1-2 teaspoons salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, salt pork, bacon or other fat.

Mix the mashed potatoes and seasonings with the ground nuts. Add beaten egg. Form into little cakes or sausages, roll in flour, meal, or Liberty-bread crumbs, and place in greased pan with a small piece of fat or salt pork on each sausage. Bake in a fairly hot oven until brown.

Parched Corn-meal Biscuits (Without Wheat).

One-half cup yellow cornmeal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup peanut butter, 1 1-2 cups water.

Put the meal into shallow pan, heat in the oven until it is a delicate brown, stirring frequently. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt, and heat. While this mixture is hot, stir in the meal which also should be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cakes in an ungreased pan. This makes 16 biscuits.

Peanut Muffins

Three-fourths cup corn meal, 1 1-4 cups rye flour, 1 cup finely ground peanuts, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1-4 cups milk, 4 teaspoons baking powder.

Add liquid to dry ingredients and mix well. Bake in well-greased muffin pans.

Peanut Brownies

(These use no sugar, no white flour, and no shortening.)

One-half cup sirup, 2 tablespoons strained honey, 1 square chocolate, 3-4 cup buckwheat flour, 1-2 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup chopper peanuts, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Melt the chocolate and mix with the corn sirup and honey. To this add 1 teaspoon vanilla and the dry ingredients—flour, baking powder, salt and nuts. Mix well and drop by the spoonful on well-greased pan. Bake in a moderate oven.

Peanut Salad With Bananas

Slice bananas through the center spread out on lettuce leaves and sprinkle liberally with chopped peanuts; serve with mayonnaise or plain salad dressing.

THE KAISER'S TALK WITH HELL.

The kaiser called the devil up on the telephone one day.
The girl at central listened to all they had to say.
"Hello," she heard the kaiser's voice,
"Is old man satan home?"
"Just tell him this is Kaiser Bill that wants him on the phone."
The devil said, "Hello" to Bill, and Bill said, "How are you"?
"I'm running here, a hell on earth, so tell me what to do?"
"What can I do," the devil said, "my dear old Kaiser Bill,
If there's a thing that I can do to help you I sure will."
The kaiser said, "Now, listen, and I will try to tell
The way that I am running, on earth,
a modern hell.
I've saved for this for many years,
and I've started to kill,
That it will be a modern job, you leave to Kaiser Bill.
My army went through Belgium, shooting women and children down,
We've tore up all her country and blew up all her towns,
My zepps dropped bombs on cities, killing both old and young,
And these the zeppelins didn't get,
were taken out and hung
I started out for Paris, with the aid of poisonous gas,
The Belgians, darn 'em, stopped us,
and would not let us pass.
My submarines are devils, why, you should see them fight,
They go sneaking through the sea and sink a ship at sight.
I was running things to suit me till a year or so ago.
When a man called Woodrow Wilson
worte to me to go more slow.
He said to me, 'Dear William, we dont' want to make you sore,
So be sure to tell your U boats, to sink our ships no more.
We have told you for the last time,
so, dear Bill, it's up to you,
And if you do not stop it, you have got to fight us too.'
I did not listen to him, and he's coming after me,
With a million Yankee soldiers from their homes across the sea.
Now that is why I called you satan,
for I want advise from you,
I knew that you would tell me just what I ought to do."
"My dear old Kaiser William, there's not much for me to tell,
For the Yanks will make it hotter than I can for you in hell.
I've been a mean old devil but not half
so mean as you,
And the minute that you get here, I will give my job to you.
I'll be ready for your coming, and I'll keep the fires all bright,
And I'll have your room all ready,
when the Yanks begin to fight,
For the boys in blue will get you, I have nothing more to tell,
Hang up the phone and get your hat and meet me here in hell."

THE FOOD ADMINISTRATION HAS SOME IDEAS ABOUT WHAT OUGHT TO BE SERVED AT A THRESHING DINNER. HERE THEY ARE:

Columbus, O. July 12.—The Food Administration has frowned upon the old-fashioned threshing dinners.

"In times past, much larger quantities of food were prepared than was necessary and in many cases there was great rivalry, each farmer's wife trying to outdo their neighbor," says Miss Edna N. White, home economics director for the food administration.

While plenty of food must be provided for threshers because their work is hard, it must be well cooked, properly seasoned and palatable, that endless variety is inappropriate and unnecessary. The food administration makes these suggestions to housewives preparing dinner for threshers:

Reduce the meat servings, supplementing cottage cheese, eggs and beans.

Use cornbreads or substitute flour breads and serve no pie or cake except where substitute flours are used.

In order to save sugar, use honey, preserved fruits, maple syrup, etc., for cakes and pies that would require sugar.

Use less fat in preparing food. Eliminate fried and pastry.

Threshing Dinners

Cottage Pie String Beans
Buttered Beets
Hard Cooked Eggs Cold Slaw
Butter Victory Bread

Inexpensive Cake (substitute flour)

MEAT EXTENDERS

Here are recipes for potato crust which you can use for meat pies and such dishes. Meat used in meat pie or meat stew with dumplings will serve more people than it would if cooked without such additions.

Beef Pie with Potato Crust

Two cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 cup flour used to roll out, 1-3 cup milk, 1-2 cup shortening, 1 cup mashed potatoes.

Potato Thistle

Line a dish around the sides with mashed potatoes prepared as for the table, then fill with minced lamb, veal, or any other left-over meat, well seasoned, and cover the top with mashed potatoes and criss-cross with a knife. Put in oven and brown.

The meat and potatoes can be used from leftovers.

Creamed codfish or creamed smoked fish, or, for a change, chipped dried beef with potatoes are old and favorite combinations, as is also a mixture of fish and potatoes in the form of fish balls.

Gravy goes well with potato and such a use helps to save fat for other purposes. So do not lose any of the good meat flavor when you roast meat or cook it in a frying pan, which you could save in the form of gravy; and do not forget that salt or smoked fish can be used in a very palatable way to flavor milk gravy, and this is a fine way to use skim milk.

Eliminate Unnecessary Telephone Calls

Many concerns and offices are converting employes' idle time, into productive effort, by eliminating frivolous and unnecessary telephone calling—this saving in labor expense pays for hundreds of essential telephone calls.

Many large users find that by counting their calls themselves they are thereby assisted in conservation in telephone callings. Our Commercial Department will gladly advise subscribers in this matter.

No charge is made for calling Main 9900 or any Telephone Company office—for uncompleted, "Busy" or "Don't Answer" calls—or for calling the Fire or Police Departments.

Subscribers have generally noted a substantial betterment in service already, as a result of the message service plan.

All telephones in Main and Prospect exchanges, and all two-party and four-party residence phones in all exchanges, are being operated only on message rate service plan.

Government Takes Over The Ben Hur Plant

John D. Fackler, attorney for the Ben Hur receivership, returned from Washington, Thursday morning, where he has been closing negotiations for the use of the Ben Hur plant. The government has leased the plant for the period of the war.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Fackler went to Painesville to arrange with Judge Reynolds as to the execution of the lease through Charles Moore, the receiver. About 200 men will be employed in the plant, and immediate operation will be made.

BEN HUR CREDITORS TO BE PAID IN FULL; NO HOPE FOR STOCKHOLDERS

According to Mr. Fackler, the creditors of the Ben Hur Co. will be paid in full. For the stockholders, however, there is no hope of any payment. Small stockholders of the defunct concern will lose about $100,000. The amount due the creditors of the realty company and the motor company amounted to about $130,000.

"The Willoughby Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Fackler said further, "may consider themselves fortunate. The town has the fine plant, and they also have the $8000 which would have been paid the company, had the Ben Hur reached the 25,000 payroll to employes after manufacture. Most of their office men and other officials received $100.00 per week.

WELL, WELL, WILLOUGHBY HAS A GENERAL, TOO, BUT WE NEED SOME MORE.

Little Miss Wyman claims to be Lake County's first general in the Thrift Army. She hails from Painesville and says her sales exceed $5000. Little Miss Webster hails from Willoughby and she pleads guilt to sales of nearly $6000. According to the state's method of promotion, both of these young ladies are "Generals." Let's have a few more. We can't win with just two generals.

BABY BOY KILLED BY C. P. & E. CAR

Carl, bay son of Herbert Blakemore, aged about 1½ years, was killed by a C. P. & E. car due to reach Willoughby at ten a. m., Tuesday morning. The father is employed on the Everett farm, living in the house on Mentor avenue directly opposite the Goodhold farm, and in front of which the accident occurred. The mother was engaged in binding up the head of one of the other children who had gotten hurt, when the baby toddled out on the track. The cars run near the yard, and the little one sat down upon the roadbed. The limited, coming along the camp tracks, could not stop, striking the child but not running over it.

PLAINS HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

The second disastrous fire within a few weeks occurred last Thursday afternoon when the barn, granary and tool shed of A. G. Barnes were burned to the ground. The barn contained about 30 tons of hay and a valued driving horse which was burned so badly that it had to be killed. The insurance will only partially cover the loss.

NOTHING NEW? DID YOU EVER HAVE A FORD TRACTOR TAKE YOU TO A PICNIC?

That's the Way They Do in Mentor.

The Sunday school class at the Methodist church, Mentor, was advised that they were going to attend their picnic at Mentor Park Wednesday in a way that they had never done before And they did. They went on a hayrack. Nothing new about riding on a hayrack, some may say. But this hayrack was drawn by a Ford tractor, and it is safe to venture that it is the first picnic from Lake country at least to be attended by way of tractor transportation. The tractor belongs to T. D. Morley, and he acted as operator.

LARGE INSURANCE POLICIES PAID FRANK ROCKEFELLER, EVERETT AND OTHER ESTATES

Advance proofs from the "Insurance Press, publication issued July 24th, giving notable amounts of insurance paid by the various companies during 1917, cites the Frank Rockefeller, Wickliffe, payment as $85,000, and Henry Everett, Willoughby, at $90,000.

WILLOUGHBY AND WICKLIFFE HAVE A FRIEND AT COURT.

As members of the United States Golf Association, "Willowick" held its second Liberty Golf Tournament recently, under direction of Mr. Henry Dreher, chairman of the Golf Events committee. The golfers' fees for the day aggregated $90. The rules governing the tournament provided that 75 per cent of the proceeds, if the officers so desired, could be donated to local units of the American Red Cross, and 25 per cent sent to the New York headquarters. Learning of this, Mrs. L. W. Penfield, the president's wife, suggested that the 75 per cent be divided equally between the Wickliffe and Willoughby units—both of which are doing splendid Red Cross work. This was promptly approved and checks were mailed to Mrs. Harry Coulby, director for the Wickliffe unit, and Mrs. W. J. Carmichael, president of the Willoughby unit.

It is recorded in this connection that this is the third Willowick Fund that Mrs. Penfield has been instrumental in having given to Willoughby and Wickliffe, which would otherwise have gone elsewhere. There is nothing like having a friend at court.

AMERICAN CLAY EMPLOYEE REACHES FRANCE.

Word has just been received by Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Glynn of Youngstown, of the safe arrival of their son, Lawrence E. Glynn, in France. Mr. Glynn left Youngstown April 29 and remained a few weeks with the 132nd Infantry at Camp Meade, Maryland. He was then transferred to the 112th Division of U. S. Engineers at Camp Lee, Va. He remained there a short time and the next word received was of his arrival "over there." Before entering service he was with the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., but for the past year had been employed with the American Clay Machinery Co. at Willoughby, O. Mr. Glynn enjoyed excelent health all along and liked camp life. He, like all patriotic young men, is anxious to settle the Huns so that he can return safely home and it will be a safe world to live in.

Mr. Glynn resided with Mr. and Mrs George E. Hotham of 42 Wood street, he being a brother of Mrs. Hotham.

Distressing Accident At Andrews Picnic

A most distressing accident occurred at the picnic of the Andrews girls at Mentor Park Thursday afternoon. Three girls, Caroline Benning, Grace Arnold and Muriol Bennett were out on a raft. The raft capsized; Miss Benning, an assistant matron at the school, endeavored to rescue the others, and was drowned. Life savers from Fairport were called, and Mary Miller, of Mentor, also a pupil at the institute, went after them in her auto to save time. The accident occurred at 4:20 p. m. Dr. Tanner and L. P. Davis were called from Willoughby. Also Dr. Ingersoll from Painesville, and a woman doctor from the Holliday House at Salida.

Miss Arnold and Miss Bennett were well on the way to recovery from the effects of the accident Thursday; and it is believed that Miss Benning would also have been saved except that she had a weak heart. Her parents, who live at Thompson, O., were notified. The girls were bathing and playing upon the raft, when it capsized.

SEVENTY CENTS FARE CLEVELAND ROUND TRIP VIA. C. P. & E. IS CONTEMPLATED

Seventy cents and a war tax; no commuters' rates, and no rebate for round trip, is the contemplated raise in fare from Willoughby to Cleveland. There was a committee meeting at Painesville Wednesday, when representatives from all over the county excepting Wickliffe, were present. However, this gathering did not get so far as to discuss rates from anywhere except out of Ashtabula. Mayor Carmichael, Mayor Rasmussen and Mayor Locker were present. Mr. Ward presented data and figures for 10 years past. Mr. Hoage of Ashtabula finally suggested that the various data of the inteuruban company that had been submitted be put into form and copies made so that the various representatives could talk the matter over with their councils and constituents. A committee consisting of Messrs. Hoage, Carmichael and Blakely was appointed to arrange to secure the desired information from Mr. Ward at the Wednesday meeting. Mr. Carmichael, during the session, advanced the opinion that it might be well to cancel all the existing franchises owing to the length of time which some of them cover and enter into new ones. Mr. Hammar stated that such a precedure would be of undoubted benefit to the street car companies, but not to the municipalities. The franchises should remain intact, and according to recent federal court rulings, amendments entered into for temporary time, such as are agreed upon by local authorities and approved by the public utilities, can be legally adjusted and changed as circumstances attendant upon the war suggest. Under the 3c rate desired now, the fare to Cleveland and return would be 70c and a war tax.

WAR STAMP SALES REACH $173,745 IN LAKE CO.; SHOULD BE $256,702 AT THIS DATE

Columbus, Ohio—(Special)—That substantial progress in the War Savings Campaign in Lake county is being recorded, is evidenced by the cash sales report submitted to the state committee here by W. J. Carmichael, the Lake county chairman.

Figures compiled in the office of the state committee show that the total sale of War Savings Stamps in Lake county to July 11 was $173,245, which represented $7.26 for every person in the county. On June 27th the per capita sale was $5.10.

Based on an allotment of $20 for every person in the county, cash sale of War Savings Stamps to July 11 should have reached a total of $256,702, or $10.77 per capita. The quota for this county is $476,700 calculated on governmental population estimate.

State headquarters has issued a state-wide appeal to all local War Savings organizations to "follow up pledges." It is the opinion of the state committee that if effective solicitation is conducted following the June "pledge offensive" many of the counties in Ohio will have approximated their allotment of War Savings Stamps.

"An unredeemed or repudiated pledge is worthless" the state committee has advised Chairman Carmichael. "Pledges in themselves are of no value to the Treasury Department. Until these promises to buy have been turned into cash, the government will not be assisted in its prosecution of the war."

The state committee is gratified at report that at the end of six months of the War Savings campaign, seven Ohio counties have deposited sufficient cash in the United States Treasury to meet the 1918 quota of War Savings Stamps. Already about 50 counties have secured cash and pledges in an amount to insure passing of the allotment made to these communities.

SHOOTING ON THE OTIS FARM WASTE OF AMMUNITION, SAYS MANAGER

The Editor Willoughby Republican,
Willoughby, Ohio.

For a number of weeks now we have had a good many complaints of parties over the river not shooting where they are looking, and would be very much obliged to you if you would print a polite little notice in your paper to this effect.

We have at the present time about 100 heard of pure bred cattle on our flats and they range in value from $500 per head to $5000 per head and every day two or three of our men must go down there and look after this stock; and for the last few weeks these men have been reporting to this office that some one has been shooting from the other side of the river; we did not at first pay much attention to it but it has been getting worse.

This morning our manager, Mr. Dodingon, went down to the flats with other parties to look over our stock and while there four shots were fired from the wood on the other side of the river and all four landed within a radius of 6 feet; one shot kicking the dust up from under one of the horses.

Of course this party that is doing the shooting is just shooting to hear the gun go off. Now if they will please save this ammunition and use it where it will do some good, we all shall be very much obliged.

Yours very truly,
THE OTIS HERD.

HERE'S JOB WHERE WOMAN WAS BETTER THAN A MAN

Bucyrus, O., July 11.—Chester Knoepfle, a machinist at the American Clay Works, is, by reason of his occupation, a registrant in the third class. Also, by reason of being a third class registrant, it developed upon him to get out and sell $300 worth of war savings stamps. But he works six days a week and three nights. So time for stamp selling was too brief.

The result was that his wife took his place. No, not at the works. She washed the dishes early and, taking an afternoon off, sold $500 worth of the stamps,—$200 more than the requirement.

SERG. WEBB ADDRESSES LOCAL RED CROSS

Following his talk to the school children, Tuesday, Serg. Webb accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael and gave a brief talk to the assembled Red Cross workers. He said, among other things, that after he was wounded, and recovering consciousness in the hospital, he found himself clothed in a suit of pajamas such as the Willoughby branch has been making. It was like Heaven, he said, after the misery and unwashed conditions the soldiers endure in the trenches. He paid a high compliment to the workers, and gave a very interesting and enjoyable talk. He expects to return to active service soon.

SCHOOL SAMMIES HAVE REAL SOLDIER TO GIVE THEM A REAL TALK.

The School Sammies had a treat Tuesday. A real soldier, one who has seen over three years in actual service, and twice wounded, addressed them. The soldier boy was Sergeant J. E. Webb, of the Canadian volunteers. The little folks listened attentively while he told them of the bomb throwing, of the need of machine guns, and many interesting things in warfare. He explained to them that they, too, were soldiers, and of the great good they are doing in rounding up the Thrift Stamp buyers. Before the talk, Hulett Collister received a sergeant's pin; Faye Munson, first lieutenant; Myrtle Richmond, corporal; and Gyneth Kenning, Elinor McCulloch and Gertrude Shaw, captain's pins. Prof. E. M. Otis presented the pins, and praised the children for their good work.

The tough, thick tread gives extra miles of wear with a safe hold. Come in and examine this tire section and get further details of Firestone building.

A TRIBUTE TO ALBERT J. ALLEN
By Prof. E. M. Otis

So little has been said about Albert Allen who died recently that it seems only fitting that one who has known him for nearly twenty years should add a few words in appreciation of his work as student and teacher in the local schools, and later in other fields.

When I began my work in Willoughby in 1903, I had charge of the old eighth grade room, although my work was principally in the high school. This grade which was later designated class of 1908 enrolled some of Willoughby's most capable and ambitious boys and girls. Time prevents naming them all but a few of them will bring to mind this popular class which has been enrolled among the alumni exactly ten years. Among the boys were Merle B. Randall, Melvin Orr, Robert Edwards and Albert Allen. Among the girls we may mention Harriet Mosley, Louise Law, Alta and Melva Annis.

Albert was one of the most capable of his class. His scholarship was second to none, notwithstanding the fact that he did much to help himself and family, and took a leading part in all athletic activities. He was most courteous to his teachers, and showed keen aprpeciation forallthat was done for him. His self-reliance was so marked that it almost became a fault.

After the completion of his high school course Albert entered Adelbert of W. R. U. Under the greatest handicaps he achieved great success in his studies, and still found time to take up athletic work, becoming a leader in it. The training he received on Reserve's fields enabled him to coach successfully later. In 1912 Albert received his degree and decided to take up teaching.

In the fall of 1912 Albert took charge of the science in our high school and coached in athletics. In commenting on the work he did both in the class room and on the field I am forced to state (and it is a pleasure to do so)that it has not been surpassed by any of the young men we have had since I became connected with the school.

In 1913 the board of education introduced manual training, and the work was turned over to Mr. Allen. Altho the room was nothing better than a dark and ill-ventilated corner of the old basement more was accomplished than has been at any time since.

In 1914 the Ashland Board of Education engaged Albert to teach science and coach athletics in their high school. From the first his work was successful and continued to be so until illness and the loss of his mother changed the whole course of his life. He was compelled to seek work in a different climate but the change was probably made too late. A few months ago he returned to Willoughby to die near the scene of his earliest and probably happiest activities.

Many people did not know that Albert was married, nor that a girl of unusual character helped to lessen the sufferings of his long and painful illness. When it became necessary for him to go to Colorado last autumn, Winnie Keep of Conneaut, whom he had known for a number of years, soon joined him and they were married. Her devotion to him and the sacrifices she must have made place her in a class by herself. I do not know her, but friends of the family agree that she was a wonderful little woman and worthy of the man she cared for so tenderly.

One of the best ways of estimating the character of a young man is by noting his attitude toward his mother. It was my privilege to spend several days at Mrs. Allen's home in Ashland, and I have never seen any greater tenderness and devotion on the part of a boy for his mother. At the time of her death his grief nearly crushed him.

I have briefly and I am afraid very uninterestingly told the simple facts in the life of a boy who has been very kind and loyal to me from the first day we met as pupil and teacher. I know there are others who knew him better than I, and who could doubtless add much of itierest to what I have said. A depressing illness prevents clear thinking and good writing. On the other hand tributes too long delayed are not likely to be appreciated, and crude as this one is I shall submit it now.

E. M. OTIS.

WE NEED THE MONEY HERE, SAYS GIBSON AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY THE FREIGHT. READ ON:

Say, which do you figure is cheaper: 1 pair head lamps at $6.00, 2 front fenders at $7.50, 1 radiator $25.00, or a nice classy bumper for about $5.50 or $6.00? Think that over and then come in and talk bumper with me. I am agoing to sell them whether I make a cent or not. Tires and Tubes are agoing up every day and you know you will need one or more soon; and I have the best money can buy at the price I ask. My present stock of oils and grease are nearly exhausted and the next shipment will be a considerable higher. So get busy now, as it is a necessity for your car. Just compare my prices with the catalogue houses, freight added, and see how far you are ahead by sending your money out of town; and right here is where we need it. I may not be here long, so get what you want of what I've got and if I have not got it I can get it or it isn't made.

GERMANS ARE SCARED; YOU BET

—A Letter From Dan Flickinger in France

Sunday, June 16, 1918
Another Town.

Dearest Folks:

Thought at first I would not be able to keep my promise today, because we made a move last night to this town about 6 kilometres up. However, there is just sort of a lull now when the other officers around Batallion headquarters are writing and so here goes.

The orders came yesterday evening, but we had plenty of time to break camp, since we never can move troops anyway until after dark. And it actually is not dark here until after 10 P. M., partly due to the daylight saving and partly due to the fact that France is pretty far north.

We had a nice little hike up here and the relief went off without any more than the usual, inevitable confusion. Its always hard for the battalion wagon trains of each outfit to get in and out of a village or woods at the same time and at night. You see each company has five vehicles, as follows, (making about 20 in all for the battalion train):

1 Ammuniaion wagon—4 mules.
1 water cart—2 mules.
1 ration cart—2 mules.
1 rolling kitchen—4 mules.
1 baggage wagon—4 mules.

These are listed in order of importance and in case any have to be abandoned they would first let the baggage go, etc. It sure is an immense problem to keep up the chain of munitions to a mobile unit like a regiment or battalion of infantry in action; constantly moving either up towards the line for a turn at the Boche, or else back for a little "bunk fatigue."

So it goes. Just at present we've had our turn at the latter and are now going for the former! This town we're in is now more or less of a halting place to divide up the long hike to the front—so that the men don't reach there too much all in. Tonight we have about 7 or 8 more kilometres to do and then we'll be "thar." This is my second trip up to ye old front and I certainly hope I'll be as fortunate as I was last time. However, I know we'll get into it more, because this time we won't have any French troops up there with us. But that's what we want, namely a chance to tackle those baby-killers by ourselves. Gee, I'll bet they are scared!

Say, I received a copy of the Wisconsin Alumni Magazine, the other day, and it sure did take me back to old times. Of course it was a month late, but talked about the coming commencement. Gee, will you ever forget said event just two years ago?

There would be no use of you nor the folks trying to send me anything in the mail, however much you would like to, and I would enjoy receiving it, but I would never receive half of it, besides letters from you are the very best thing I know of over here.

When troops are as near the front as this they don't dare billet them in the villages, on account of shell-fire, but always have to keep more or less scattered in the surrounding woods. Once in a while we are lucky to have our Ba. Hq. in some old house like this is here today. It sure is funny where we bat around here in France, woods, chateaus, old houses, ruined villages, and I guess this next trip we'll see a few trenches instead of so much open warfare.

Well, just interrupted for a fair dinner. Not like the Sunday dinners we used to have.

With much love,
DAN.

GERMAN SCHEMES SEEN IN NITRATE PLANT SCARE

One of the latest evidences of enemy tactics is the false rumor that crops will be killed for miles around the new nitrate producing plants, one of which it is proposed to locate near Cincinnati.

Such plants have been in operation for years at Nigara Falls and in Norway, Germany, Italy and France, and their product has come into common use as a source of the "ammonia" of the fertilizer sack, the combination of atmospheric nitrogen into nitrate form, which is the function of these plants, being a necessary step in making nitrogen available to crops.

This combination is accomplished by the help of electricity, the hint having been taken from the fact that every thunderstorm combines a little nitrogen in this way, enough being washed down by the rain over each acre of land every year to supply the nitrogen required by two or three bushels of wheat, so that if a little of this combined nitrogen should happen to escape from the nitrate plant into the surrounding atmosphere it would be a benefit, rather than an injury to surrounding crops.

It is now reported also that Hindenburg is in an insane asylum. Planning the war required a madman and carrying it out made a lunatic.

Standard Theater

For the week of July 28th, the Standard theater presents Pauline Frederick, the charming and beautiful actress in her latest triumph, "Her Final Reckoning." This picture is one of the best produced in many a month, and enables the talented star to display her artistry to excellent effect, in dual roles that of her mother and herself. The theme of the picture deals with a gypsy girl who is stolen from her home by a Russian prince, who forces her to become his mistress. Then a child is born, and when the prince dies he leaves his wealth to his child, and when the mother dies the girl does to Paris, where she meets Prince Zilah, who falls in love with her. Just before the date set for their wedding her old lover appears, and when he seeks to force her to return to their old relationship, she sets her savage dogs on him. But he turns up again and then comes a dual in which he is killed. She becomes ill and the prince follows her to the sanitarium where both again find happiness in their mutual affection. There are many interesting scenes developed by the story which hold the interest to the final.

FOLLOW UP THE PLEDGES

Columbus, Ohio—"Follow up the Pledges."

This is the keynote sounded to the county chairmen by the Ohio War Savings Committee at conclusion of the special June effort to secure pledges to buy War Savings Stamps during the remainder of the year.

"Remember, your work is not completed until every penny pledged is paid," is the admonition given these chairmen. "See that every pledge is fulfilled."

The State War Savings Committee proceeds on the theory that an unredeemed pledge is merely a "scrap of paper" unless it materializes into cash. The Treasury Department cannot use promises to pay; these pledges will be of no value to the government until converted into cash payments for War Savings Stamps.

"Every man, woman and child who subscribed for future purchase of War Savings Stamps did so because they were earnest in their desire to really save and help not only their government but themselves," the state committee declares. "Only in extreme cases will you find that more than a gentle reminder is necessary," the county chairmen are advised.

When the Germans attempt a raid on American troops they are monkeying with a large and active buzzsaw.

DAYLIGHT LAKE TRIPS

Many vacationists are now planning lake trips and, as usual, Lake Erie, with its great ship, "Seeandbee," and other magnificent steamers, is by far the most popular.

The Saturday daylight trips between Cleveland and Buffalo are again proving very attractive to many travelers.

From Cleveland, C. & B. Line's steamer "City of Buffalo" leaves New Pier, foot of East 9th street, every Saturday during the summer season at 8:30 a. m., arriving at Buffalo 6:30 evening of same day.

From Buffalo the great ship "Seeand bee" leaves wharves at South Michigan street bridge every Saturday at 8:30 a. m. reaching Cleveland at 6:30 p. m.

The night service of the C. & B. is the same as heretofore, namely: steamers leave both cities daily at 8:00 p. m., reaching destination the following morning at 6:30. (All U. S. Central time.)

Low fare excursions from Cleveland and Buffalo are given every Saturday, good returning Sunday.

A reduced automobile rate of $7.50 round trip is made for these week-end trips for cars not exceeding 127 inches wheelbase. (Cars over 127 inches wheelbase, $12 round trip.)

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BONDS

To successfully finance the war it is necessary that owners of Liberty bonds hold their bonds if possible. Where for any good reason it is necessary for them to turn their bonds into cash they should seek the advice of their bankers.

Liberty loan bonds are very desirable investments, and crafty individuals are using various means to secure them from owners not familiar with stock values and like matters. One method is to offer to xchange for Liberty bonds stocks or bonds of doubtful organizations represented as returning a much higher income than the bonds.

There are various other methods used and likely to be used, some of the gold-brick variety and others less crude and probably within the limits of the law. All offers for Liberty bonds except for money and at market value should be scrutinized carefully. The bonds are the safest of investments and have nontaxable and other valuable fatures.

To hold your Liberty loan bonds, if possible, is patriotic. To consult your bankers before selling them is wise.

Jennie Meznar, who resides at Illo, Castlenova, Labanje, Austria, will take notice that Frank Meznar filed a petition aganist her in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, praying for divorce and relief on the ground of wilful absence for more than three years last past, extreme cruelty and adultery. SAMMIES ARE ASKED TO FOLLOW UP PLEDGES.

Columbus, Ohio.—To the school Sammy Army of Ohio has been assigned a new job.

This is the work of seeing that war savings stamp pledges given during June are redeemed.

State War Savings headquarters has agreed that the School Sammies can render the War Savings movement in Ohio a valuable service by constantly reminding individuals to buy stamps to the amount of their pledges. They are asked to secure an increase over the amount promised to buy.

That the War Savings Stamp pledge gives to the stay-at-homes an opportunity for service, is the call sounded by the Ohio War Savings Committee. In order to give adequate support to the 3,000,000 men under arms, these "promises to buy" should not be repudiated or neglected.

To the local W. S. S. committees has been delegated the task of the follow-up on pledges given during the June "offensive." Many of these county organizations have peculiarly local plans for "cashing" on these pledges. Not a few are utilizing the school Sammy organization in this work.

LEGAL NOTICE

Louis C. Shipherd, who resides at No. 9 Park Lane, Evansville, Indiana, and the unknown heirs of John J. Shipherd, deceased, all of whose names and places of residence are unknown, will take notice that E. H. Everett, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is seized in fee simple and is in possession of the following described real estate, to wit:

Situate in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being sublots Numbers 203 and 205 to 222, both inclusive, in Crosby's Allotment of part of original Euclid Township tract number 16, as shown by the recorded plat in Vol. 9 of Maps, page 25 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges that the defendants claim some interest in said premises adverse to the title of plaintiff, the nature and kind of which is entirely unknown to plaintiff; that he derived his title to an undivided one-half interest of the premises above described by deed from Henry W. Putnam, and that on January 21st, 1890, he purchased tax title to all of said lots and that he paid the taxes and assessments on said lots, and has been in possession of them adversely to the widow and heirs of John J. Shipherd, for more than twenty-eight years.

The prayer of said petition is that the plaintiff may be adjudged the owner of all of said lots, freed from all claims of any estate or interest therein of the said defendants and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164054 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

REV. H. E. BRIGHT FINDS MUCH OF INTEREST IN HIS WORK AT CAMP SHERMAN

In writing home from Camp Sherman, the Rev. H. E. Bright said, "don't give any of these letters to the paper," but there is so much of interest in them and so many are interested in Rev. Bright's work, that a portion of the letters are reproduced here. Extracts from other letters will appear in later issues:

Camp Sherman,
Chillicothe, Ohio.
Care Y. M. C. A. 71.

It is now 7:15 a. m. At the desk the secretaries are busy handling parcels post. The boys will bring a wagon load tonight. Last night I worked at the desk a matter of two hours. It was new work and I came out 79c ahead. Rather shady for a preacher. The secretaries were tickled at the way I got along. Dr. Cleeland, a Baptist preacher, did the weighing and I did the selling. (I just now looked down stairs and I venture there are 125 soldier boys writing letters at the desks to their mothers, sweethearts, etc., etc. There are perhaps 150 more men setting around chatting and resting after a hard day's work on the drill.

In about half an hour Prof. Shelton, a Mt. Union college man and friend of mine, will deliver a lecture "Over the Top." There will be better than three hundred men to hear him. It is raining and the boys welcome the Y. M. C. A.

Today I had private interviews with four men and led three of them to accept Christ. Tomorrow I want to make a record in this line. It is wonderful how responsive the men are. My heart just longs to stay in this work. Before I came here I felt it was God's will that I should come and somehow imagined myself mixing among the boys. It is turning out just as I dreamed. Dr. Garvan, secretary of religious work for the camp, heard me speak last Sunday and came to me personally and spoke very flattering words for the message and its delivery. Tomorrow I am to speak at Hut 70. Friday morning I am to teach the Sunday school lession to the religious secretaries of the whole camp, among whom are such men as Dr. Blanchard, pastor of the First Congregational church, Cleveland, O.; Dr. Sockman, pastor of Madison Avenue M. E. church, New York City, one of Methodism's leading churches; W. K. Anderson's son, pastor of our work at Ohio State University, and so on.

Today I have looked over my message and when I have soaked it in prayer I feel the Lord will help me.

I am keeping a diary and writing down every good thing I hear. Have corraled several fine illustrations. One of the questions I am asking the boys is: Has anybody ever asked you to come to Christ? Some say yes and some say no.

My board here is quite reasonable. I get my meals for 25c per and some of the men in other mess halls get theirs for 60c per day. Good eating at that and occasionally ice cream, pie, watermelon, pudding, etc. We have meat in some form twice a day. The other day they served a corn beef and gravy combination; it was very good. It is very common for us to get corn, peas, potatoes, tomatoes, apple sauce, lemonade, coffee, tea and always the best white bread.

The discipline is very strict. This evening our mess seregant blew the whistle 12 minutes before the regular mess call and the captain came in and halted the long line of men and made them wait until the official hour. This is proper and the boys made no complaint. They knew the captain was right.

I don't think I have said anything as yet about the salute. [illegible] men to salute the officers. However I am kept quite busy when I go out returning salutes from the new men.

When they see our puttees, of course they think of us as officers and hence the salute. My right arm is getting plenty of practice.

Tell Earl I met a man here whose home was in Lexington, Va. I told him that I had a son who attended V. M. I. I do not think, however, that he had ever attended the college. I am meeting men from Vermont, Massachusetts, Texas, Kentucky, Illinois, Alabama, Tennessee. In fact, I do not think there is a state that is not represented here. An amusing thing took place the other day when Bro. Heachout said: Rev. Bright, meet Mr. —— from Massachusetts; Mr. —— from Texas; Mr.—— from California, etc., etc.

Then this a great melting pot. Here are boys who speak so foreign you can scarcely undestand them, all eager to get a whack at the kaiser.

I think one of the worst things here is the habitual swearing. The men swear when they do not know it. The other day a soldier came in late and missed his tea. He damned everybody in the whole hall and kept muttering until the first sergeant had to shut him up. The boys come to mess good and hungry and you would be surprised to see what they put away. The other day we ate five barrels of buns. I eat with the sergeants.

H. E. BRIGHT.

AN AMERICAN CREED

"I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a Republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag and to defend it against all enemies.

Don't wait until you have a large sum before opening a Savings Account. Thrift means regularly doing without some supposed necessity and putting the price of it into a Savings Account. That habit will soon make a big showing.

O'Brien, deceased, and the unknown heirs of Margaret Halligan, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Charles J. Graves, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner of the following described premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. four (4) in J. H. McArthur's Allotment of part of original Brooklyn Township lot No 56, as shown by the recorded plat of said allotment in Volume 13 of Maps, page 4 of Cuyahoga County Records. Said sublot No. four (4) has a frontage of 40 feet on the southerly side of Archwood Avenue, S. W. (formerly Greenwood Street) and extends back 196 6-10 feet on the easterly line, 187 8-10 feet on the westerly line and has a rear line of 40 84-100 feet, as appears by said plat, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that on the 18th day of April, 1894, the plaintiff conveyed said land to Margaret Halligan by warranty deed, which deed is recorded in Volume 528, page 353 of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, records; that said deed was given and transfer made to said Margaret Halligan, without consideration, in trust, for the following purposes: That said Margaret Halligan should hold the legal title to said land as trustee for plaintiff, and erect a house on said lot and the said Margaret Halligan was to re-convey to this plaintiff said premises when the saidplaintiffshould have paid the said Margaret Halligan any sums advanced by her in erecting a house on said land.

The petition further alleges that the said Margaret Halligan died on February 28th, 1904, holding the legal title to said land; that no house had been built on said lot, and the purposes of said transfer and trust had wholly failed; that by reason of the above facts the above named defendants claim some interest in said land, and that the claims appear as a cloud upon his title to said premises.

The prayer of said petition is that the Court find that the said Margaret Halligan held said property in trust for the plaintiff; that the plaintiff was, and is the actual owner of said premises; that his title be quieted against any claim or right of the heirs of said Margaret Halligan, deceased, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164890 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

LEGAL NOTICE

John P. Fish, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, and —— Fish, first and real name unknown, wife or widow of said John P. Fish, all of whose places of residence are unknown, and the names of the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Henry L. Schwab, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession and occupancy of the following described premises, to wit:

Situated in the Township of Parma, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of orginal lot No. 24 in the Ely Tract in said Township of Parma, and is bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center of York Street Road, and the northwest corner of land owned by John Dennerle; thence east along said John Dennerle's north line, 52.03 chains, to the east line of said lot No. 24; thence north along said east line, 4.90 chains to the southeast corner of land owned by said Lewis Schwaub; thence west along said Schwaub's north line, 52 03-100 chains to the center of said York Street Road; thence south along the center of said Road, 4 90-100 chains to the place of beginning, containing 25.49 acres of land, and being the same premises conveyed by Christian Tauber and wife to Lewis Schwaub by deed dated April 23, 1872, and recorded in Volume 204, Page 573 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges that the defendants above named claim some interest or estate in the above described premises hostile and adverse to plaintiff's rights, for the reason that no conveyance appears of record in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, from the said John P. Fish. The petition alleges that the said John P. Fish, who in the year 1843, was the owner of said premises, was the son of James Fish, and brother of one Isiah W. Fish; that on May 1st, 1843, by deed recorded in Vol. 64, page 22 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish, then the owner of said premises, conveyed the same to the defendant, John P. Fish. The plaintiff believes, and therefore, alleges, the fact to be, that the said defendant, John P. Fish intended and actually did reconvey the above described premises to the said James Fish, but that by reason of the inadvertence and mistake, oversight and carelessness of the said grantee, the said conveyance was not, and does not appear of record in this County.

The petition further alleges that by deed dated April 4th, 1864, and recorded in Vol 126, page 629 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish and wife conveyed the above described premises to Isiah W. Fish; that since said time the title to said premises has come down in unbroken chain of title to this plaintiff.

The petition further alleges that none of said defendants [illegible] that no person or persons claiming thru or under them, has ever sought to enforce, attempted to convey, or exercise any interest or ownership in said premises since April 4th, 1864; that as against said defendants, this plaintiff and his predecessors in title, have had, held and been in actual, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of said premises for more than twenty-one years last past; that said defendants have no interest whatsoever in said premises, and that any right that they, or anyone of them may have had, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the statute of limitations.

The prayer of said petition is that the said defendants may be compelled to show their claim and interest in said premises, or any part thereof, or be forever barred; that said claim or claims may be judged null and void; that plaintiff's title may be quieted against any and all claims of said defendants, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164918 and the defendants above named are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

Is the "New Allotment" A Benefit to Willoughby?
A Few Facts and Suggestions
We sometimes wonder if the people of Willoughby really appreciate the large benefits that are coming to Willoughby because of our Willoughby-Euclid Avenue Subdivision, and the large amount of money and energy we are spending in exploiting Willoughby as a desirable place in which to live. We know a large number of you do and we greatly appreciate your loyalty and co-operation.
A few of the benefits are:
1. A substantial increase in a desirable population.
2. More people make more buyers for all kinds of merchandise, and more contributors to all church societies and philanthropies.
3. A marked increase in value of every parcel of real estate in and near Willoughby.
4. A very large increase in the Willoughby tax duplicate which will tend to decrease the tax rate of present property owners of Willoughby and make possible needed public improvements.

Laughlin and Ethel M. Laughlin, as plaintiffs, have filed their petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that they are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession of the following described premises, to-wit:

Situated in the Village of Dover, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being part of original Dover Township lot No 68, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a monument on the center line of Hall Road (60 feet wide), said center line being the westerly line of said original lot No. 68 at a point 212 feet southerly (measured along said center line) from a stone at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by Cyrus W. Laughlin and wife, to Frank B Laughlin by deed dated November 25th, 1899, and recorded in Volume 721, page 492 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence north 88 degrees 55′ east on line parallel with the northerly line of land so conveyed to Frank B. Laughlin, 256 feet to a monument; thence southerly on a line parallel with said center line of Hall Road, 171 feet to a monument; thence south 88 degrees 55′ west 256 feet to a monument on said center line of Hall Road; thence northerly along said center line of Hall Road, 171 feet to the place of beginning, and containing 1 acre of land, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that the defendants, the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Moses Hall, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, hostile and adverse to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the said Moses Hall, and a cloud is, thereby, cast on plaintiff's title. The petition alleges that Moses Hall died seized of the above described property some time prior to July 31st, 1837, and left as his only heirs at law. John Hall, Barnabas Hall, Charles Hall, Reuben C. Hall, Edwin Hall, Nancy Ingersoll, Eliza R. Parker, Anna Williams, Lucy Strong and Martha Bassett, that after the death of the said Moses Hall, and prior to said July 31st, 1837, the said Martha Bassett died leaving as her only heirs at law and next of kin, and therefore heirs at law of said Moses Hall, deceased, her husband, Nathan Bassett, and her daughters, Vesta Sanford, Lydia R. Porter, Lucy E. Hurst, Martha Bassett, Nancy Bassett and Harriett Bassett; that all the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, excepting Nancy Bassett and Harriett Bassett, who were then minors, on July 31st, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them in trust, all the right, title and interest in and to the above described land and other lands of which the said Moses Hall died seized, said trustees and the survivor of them thereby being vested with full power and authority to sell and convey said lands; that Nathan Bassett died some time prior to May 2nd, 1842, and that thereafter by virtue of said trust, the said John Hall, the survivor of said trustees, conveyed by warranty deed the above described premises and more lands, to George W. Laughlin, by deed dated July 25th, 1844, and recorded in Vol. 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges further that the defendants, John Richardson, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Richardson, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights by reason of the fact that the said John Richardson in his life time entered into a contract with Moses Hall for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, and that said John Richardson some time prior to July 25th 1844, sold, assigned and transferred said contract for the purchase of Lot No 68, to George W. Laughlin, who immediately took possession of said premises. The said George W. Laughlin, assignee of the said John Richardson, having complied with the terms of said contract, demanded and received from the said John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, a deed duly executed to the premises, above described and other lands, which said deed is duly recorded in Vol 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Ohio Deed Records. The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and by reason thereof aver it to be a fact that said contract was duly assigned and delivered to the said George W. Laughlin, and that said contract and the assignment thereof were never delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County for record as provided by law, but were lost and have been destroyed.

The petition alleges that the defendants, John Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Hall, deceased; Barnabas Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Barnabas Hall, deceased; Charles Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Charles Hall, deceased; Reuben C. Hall, and the [illegible] Reuben C. Hall, deceased; Edwin Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Edwin Hall, deceased; Nancy Ingersoll; and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Ingersoll, deceased; Eliza R. Parker, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Eliza R. Parker, deceased; Anna Williams, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Anna Williams, deceased; Lucy Strong, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy Strong, deceased; Martha Bassett, Sr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Sr., deceased; Vesta Sanford, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Vesta Sanford, deceased; Lydia R. Porter, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lydia R. Porter, deceased; Lucy E. Hurst, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy E. Hurst, deceased; Martha Bassett, Jr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Jr., deceased, claim some interest or title or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, adverse and hostile to plaintiff's rights, by reason of the fact that they were the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and as such heirs at law, on the 31st day of July, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them, a deed in trust to the premises above described, which said premises were by the defendant, John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, sold and conveyed to George W. Laughlin. Said defendants claim that the defendant, John Richardson, did not sell and assign his said land contract for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, to said George W. Laughlin, but that the said defendant, John Richardson, defaulted and failed to perform the covenants thereof, and to complete said land contract, in accordance with the terms thereof, and that said lot No. 68 thereby reverted to and vested in the aforesaid defendants, as heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and that the said John Hall, as trustee, by virtue of the aforesaid deed of July 31st, 1837, was without authority in the premises to sell and convey said premises.

The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe and by reason thereof, aver it to be a fact that the aforesaid defendants, subsequent to July 31st, 1837, and prior to July 25, 1844, and in the manner provided for and set forth in the aforesaid trust deed, agreed to, and did authorize said trustee to sell and convey said premises to George W. Laughlin, and that by virtue of such authority in the premises, the said John Hall sold and conveyed the above described premises by warranty deed duly executed and delivered to said George W. Laughlin, and accounted for the proceeds therefrom to the said defendants, who were entitled to receive the same.

The petition further alleges that by reason of said authority conferred upon said trustee, all right, title and interest of every nature and kind, which they or any one of them had, or might have had in and to said premises, were by said deed of July 25th, 1844, conveyed to the said George W. Laughlin.

The petition further alleges that the defendants, Nancy Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Bassett, deceased; Harriet Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Harriet Bassett, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the defendants, Nancy Bassett and Harriett Bassett, and a cloud is thereby cast upon plaintiffs' title, and the petition alleges further that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and therefore, aver it to be a fact that at some time subsequent to July 25th, 1844, Nancy Bassett and Harriett Bassett sold and conveyed all the interest, right and title that they and each of them had in and to said above described real estate, to George W. Laughlin, since deceased, by good and sufficient deed, duly executed therefor to the said grantee, who was then in possession of said premises, but that said deed was not delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, for record, as provided by law, and that said deed has been lost and destroyed.

The petition further alleges that the plaintiffs and their predecessors and ancestors in the chain of title, have held said premises for many years last past, by direct, clear and indefeasible title, in fee simple, without any adverse claims whatsoever having been made against said lands by anyone of said defendants; that none of said defendants, nor any one of them, has heretofore ever attempted to convey, or sought to enforce any interest, or exercise any ownership or interest in said premises whatsoever, and that any claim they, or anyone of them make, or may make, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the Ohio Statute of limitations, but that the alleged claims constitute a cloud upon plaintiffs' title, and that the plaintiffs and their ancestors, predecessors and grantors have been in actual, exclusive, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of the above described premises since the 25th day of July A. D. 1844.

The prayer of said petition is that each and all of said defendants may be notified of the pendency of said cause of action, and that unless they shall each of them come into Court and set forth their respective claims, they shall forever be barred therefrom; that each and all of the claims of said defendants may be adjudged null and void; that plaintiffs' title may be quieted against the defendants' claims, and each and every one of them may be enjoined from asserting such claims against said real estate; and for relief.

Said petition is No 164955 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 14th of Septembr, 1918.

Organized Telephone Calling
A lawyer formerly called the same concern seven times every morning, upon seven different matters—now, by a little advance planning, he combines these matters and includes the entire seven in one telephone call.
By similar organized calling, a large wholesale house has reduced its outgoing calls one-third, and still transacts the same volume of business by telephone—thus, also saving much time on the part of its employes.
Organization and advance planning in telephone calling is just plain business efficiency. Our Commercial Department will gladly advise subscribers in the matter of conservation in telephone calling.
All telephones in Main and Prospect exchanges, and all two-party and four-party residence telephones in all exchanges, are being operated only on the message rate-conservation of telephone use plan.

Fresh Beef Travels on a Rapid Schedule

Fresh beef for domestic markets goes from stockyards to retail stores within a period of about two weeks. Although chilled, this meat is not frozen; hence it cannot be stored for a rise in price.

A steer is dressed usually within twenty-four hours after purchase by the packer. The beef is held in a cooler at the packing house, at a temperature a little above freezing, for about three days.

It is then loaded into a refrigerator car where a similar temperature is maintained, and is in transit to market on an average of about six days.

Upon arrival at the branch distributing house, it is unloaded into a "cooler", and placed on sale.

Swift & Company requires all beef to be sold during the week of arrival, and the average of sales is within five days.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR—NO. 21. WILLOUGHBY, O. AUGUST 2, 1918 ONE DOLLAR AND TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

J. H. R. PRODUCTS WILL BUILD AT ONCE AFTER DISASTROUS FIRE

The plant of the J. H. R. Products Co. was burned to the ground, at about 4 a. m. Saturday last (July 27). A complete loss was sustained.

No incendiarism is suspected. The fire started at 4 a. m. There were four night men in the plant at the time and the regular night watch. It was first noted near the roof. The new building had just been finished at a cost of $12,000.00. Loss in machinery, at a low estimate, would be about $20,000.00. The loss, very reasonably stated, will run between $20,000.00 and $30,000.00; only partly covered by insurance. The firemen saved the big building to the north of the track and did fine service. The Standard Tire lent hose. Erection of new buildings is already under way, and Mr. Rentschler expects to resume active operation very shortly.

M. J. RENTSCHLER EXPRESSES THANKS FOR ASSISTANCE AT FIRE.

I wish to extend our most heartfelt thanks to all who so kindly assisted us during the fire at our plant. To the citizens, to the neighboring plants and to the ladies on Vine street, who so kindly brought coffee, I feel that our most sincere thanks are due. I would also like to make special mention and extend special praise to the fire boys. Only for their splendid work the building north of the tracks would also have gone. This sort of assistance and spirit of co-operation is more than felt and appreciated at a time of this kind.

THE J. H. R. PRODUCTS CO.

POLITICAL PUBLICITY

HUNTINGTON CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE

Edwin G. Huntington, mayor city of Painesville, Ohio, is a candidate for nomination, subject to Republican primaries, August 8th, 1918, for the office of representative to General Assembly

Edwin G. Huntington was born at Painesville, Ohio, 1875, and is a great grandson of former Governor Samuel Huntington, one of the early governors of Ohio.

Mr. Huntington was educated in Painesville high school, and at Buchtel, now university of Akron.

He has always been an old line Republican, and has served his party as a member of the Republican Executive Committee, and Republican Central Committee, and served as member of Lake County Deputy State Board of Supervisors of Election. For the past ten years he has been an active supporter in Republican ranks, and has never asked for nor held office at the hands of his party.

He has been a justice of the peace at the county seat, for many years, and is now mayor of the city of Painesville.

During the Spanish-American war he served with his company in Florida as a sergeant, and at the close of war was commissioned captain Company M. 5th Ohio Infantry, and is now a retired officer Ohio infantry.

He is especially fitted for the position of representative, having had as justice many years of practical experience in enforcement of laws.

Painesville has not had a representative in 20 years and is entitled to be represented; both Willoughby and Madison, have had representatives, and Madison now has a state senator and representative.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Under the popular vote plan of making nominations, gross injustices are often done deserving candidates. This condition is due to the large number of men who frequently seek the same office, causing wide division of the total vote. It was under such circumstances that Mr. C. A. Hine, who had made Lake county an exceptionally good commissioner was denied the customary renomination two years ago. But Lake county voters like fair play and, as Mr. Hine is again a candidate before the Republican primaries this year, an opportunity is afforded to right a wrong, a wrong that was none the less unjust because it was unintended.—Madison News.

REGULAR COUNCIL MEETING

Water Wanted On Lake Road

Regular meeting of the Council was held Monday night. A sanitary sewer, at a cost of $515 will be installed on South street. Estimates on Waldamere avenue and River street paving were read and approved. Mr. Oldrieve, of the Lake road, a recent purchaser of the Cowan property, was present and outlined the great need of water extension as far as the Willoughby line on the Lake road. He felt that it was due him as a taxpayer that the extension be made, and the great need of fire protection was also cited. He said he believed that seven other users could be secured now, and its installation would offer incentive for othth property buyers. He said a little more light on the road would also be appreciated. Matter was referred to a committee to consider if the village could stand the expense. A letter was read from Cleveland attorneys, setting forth the claims of their client for $93.10 for tires damaged by running into a defective manhole at the Lake Shore tracks Thursday night. Matter was held in abeyance pending further correspondence.

WILLOUGHBY TO HAVE CANVAS TO ENLIST NURSES.

25,000 WOMEN TO ENROLL IN THE UNITED STATES STUDENT NURSE RESERVE.

The government has called for 25,000 young women to join the U. S. Student Nurse Reserve and hold themselves in readiness to train for service as nurses.

The war is creating unprecedented demand for trained nurses. Only those who have taken the full training course are eligible for service with our forces overseas. These nurses are being drawn largely from our hospitals at home. Their places must be filled by student nurses enrolled for the full training course of from two to three years.

Every young woman who enrolls in the U. S. Student Nurse Reserve is releasing a nurse for service at the front and swelling the home army which we must rely on to act as our second line of hospital defense. The call is for women between the ages of 19 and 35. The student nurse gets her board, lodging and tuition free at practically every training school, and in most cases receives a small remuneration to cover the cost of books and uniforms.

Let us show that we know how to answer the Government's call to the women of the country. Those wishing to enroll and for further information call at the home of Mrs. J. C. Birdsall, 101 Euclid avenue. Phone 193 R.

MISS WEBSTER RECEIVES LETTER OF CONGRATULATION.

Miss Helen Webster has received the following letter from Columbus congratulating her on her "generalship":

"My Dear General: It affords me real joy to know that you have attained to the highest rank in the noble army of 'School Sammies' and have won the privilege of wearing the badge of a General. This is no slight matter and shows that you possess the qualities of perseverance, patience, address and, above all, patriotism. And when our boys come back home they will see your badge and shake your hand while they tell you of their gratitude that while they were away, working for the home folks, you were busy working for them. There are some things in this world that have no price tag on them and the badge you wear is one of them.

"I congratulate you most heartily upon this great achievement and I know your home folks and your teachers share my joy.

"With all good wishes for your future success, believe me

"Cordially yours,

"F. B. PEARSON."

In order that Willoughby may have a chance to see the most wonderful pictures ever secured, Mr. Todd and Mr. McMahon have booked "Tarzan of the Apes," for two days soon at "The Hiawatha."

Probably no story ever written has been read by so many people and it is sure that no picture ever screened has called forth such an avalanche of worthy praise. Willoughby is to be congratulated upon this chance of seeing this production. If you have not read the book, do it now, before the picture gets here.

Mrs William Randolph Hearst is doubtless very praiseworthy in wanting to retain a position on the committee of national defense as an outlet for her patriotic activites, but it looks as if there ought to be a large field for them at home.—Philadelphia North American.

LAKE COUNTY ADOPTS SUGAR CARD SYSTEM

Sugar for general purposes, canning excepted, will be purchased by card in Lake County, beginning August 1st. After that date no dealer in the county will sell sugar without the presentation of a card. This plan for protecting the dealer and consumer has the Food Administration Committee behind it, with the cooperation of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, which furnishes the cards.

The limit for each household is two pounds per month for each member. The head of a family will obtain the card at the grocer's, where he will sign in duplicate his name and address and state the number in the family. A hole in the card will be punched for each pound purchased. The numbered cards retained by the dealer will be turned over to the committee for checking up. This will insure an equitable distribution. It will be fair to everybody and will relieve the dealers from much perplexity. Sugar for canning will be sold by special government certificate, as heretofore.

Dealers are requested to call for a supply of cards at once at the following places: In Painesville at the Chamber of Commerce rooms; in Fairport, Madison, Perry, Mentor, Willoughby and Wickliffe cards will be found at the respective postoffices.

Recent advices from Washington state that the sugar supply for Ohio in August and September cannot possibly be greater than that allotted for July, and it is hinted that further curtailment may be necessary.

This is a war measure, and everybody is expected to co-operate and assist dealers in putting the plan into operation. The card system is working satisfactorily in many places, Ashtabula and Salem among them. Cuyahoga county takes up the card plan August 15th.

Liberty Loan Primer

"After all, money forms the sinews of war," declared General Foch several months ago in discussing the situation and outlook along the Flanders front when things looked darkest. His army was fighting tooth and nail then, hitting hard and stepping back, parrying a trust and darting in to deliver a counter punch, and all the while taking heavy toll of the Germans, but he was looking ahead even then.

He knew, as well as other great generals that preceded him, that after all is said and done, money, which in this sense means the supplies that money can be made to furnish, gives an army its punch. That money is absolutely imperatively necessary to win any big, long-drawn-out war. Without money the things money will buy, any army will go to pieces sooner or later. It has been exemplified over and over again.

An army may be ever so well trained; its morale at the outset may be ever so good; it may have the advantage of position and weapons of warfare, but unless it is kept supplied with all that is necessary for the waging of war the actual fighting, even to the hand-to-hand struggle, it will weaken sooner or later. It must have arms, ammunition, food and clothing sufficient to make it effective, and have them all the time.

No army fights well on an empty stomach if the fight is much prolonged. No army can withstand continued attack if it lacks ammunition. No army can stand winter trench service inadequately clothed. It may meet with reverses and yet come back and fight valiantly. The Italians did this, the French did it. The English did it. Frequently a temporary reverse spurs to greater effort, greater gallantry, greater execution.

But this doesn't apply to an army that has lost its punch—witness the Russians.

America's forces have gone abroad full of vim, vigor and fighting spirit. They have held up their end valiantly. They are making good to the consternation of Germany and the admiration of their allies. They will uphold American tradition if we at home maintain our end of the problem.

And that is to furnish the money properly to supply their needs. To maintain the army punch.

It's up to us individually and collectively. It's our duty to prepare to do our part to the last man. It's up to us to get ready for the next Liberty Loan.

LEGAL NOTICE

John P. Fish, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P Fish, deceased, and —— Fish, first and real name unknown, wife or widow of said John P. Fish, all of whose places of residence are unknown, and the names of the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Henry L. Schwab, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession and occupancy of the following described premises, to wit:

Situated in the Township of Parma, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of orginal lot No. 24 in the Ely Tract in said Township of Parma, and is bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center of York Street Road, and the northwest corner of land owned by John Dennerle; thence east along said John Dennerle's north line, 52.03 chains, to the east line of said lot No. 24; thence north along said east line, 4.90 chains to the southeast corner of land owned by said Lewis Schwaub; thence west along said Schwaub's north line, 52 03-100 chains to the center of said York Street Road; thence south along the center of said Road, 4 90-100 chains to the place of beginning, containing 25.49 acres of land, and being the same premises conveyed by Christian Tauber and wife to Lewis Schwaub by deed dated April 23, 1872, and recorded in Volume 204, Page 573 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges that the defendants above named claim some interest or estate in the above described premises hostile and adverse to plaintiff's rights, for the reason that no conveyance appears of record in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, from the said John P. Fish. The petition alleges that the said John P. Fish, who in the year 1843, was the owner of said premises, was the son of James Fish, and brother of one Isiah W. Fish; that on May 1st, 1843, by deed recorded in Vol. 54, page 22 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James [illegible] ises, conveyed the same to the defendant, John P. Fish. The plaintiff believes, and therefore, alleges, the fact to be, that the said defendant, John P. Fish intended and actually did reconvey the above described premises to the said James Fish, but that by reason of the inadvertence and mistake, oversight and carelessness of the said grantee, the said conveyance was not, and does not appear of record in this County.

The petition further alleges that by deed dated April 4th, 1861, and recorded in Vol 126, page 629 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish and wife conveyed the above described premises to Isiah W. Fish; that since said time, the title to said premises has come down in unbroken chain of title to this plaintiff.

The petition further alleges that none of said defendants have any interest whatsoever in said premises; that no person or persons claiming thru or under them, has ever sought to enforce, attempted to convey, or exercise any interest or ownership in said premises since April 4th, 1861; that as against said defendants, this plaintiff and his predecessors in title, have had, held and been in actual, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of said premises for more than twenty-one years last past; that said defendants have no interest whatsoever in said premises, and that any right that they, or anyone of them may have had, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the statute of limitations.

The prayer of said petition is that the said defendants may be compelled to show their claim and interest in said premises, or any part thereof, or be forever barred; that said claim or claims may be judged null and void; that plaintiff's title may be quieted against any and all claims of said defendants, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164918 and the defendants above named are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

Halligan, deceased; James E. Halligan, deceased; Mary Short, deceased; Annie Short, deceased; Mary J. O'Brien, deceased, and the unknown heirs of Margaret Halligan, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Charles J. Graves, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner of the following described premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. four (4) in J. H. McArthur's Allotment of part of original Brooklyn Township lot No. 56, as shown by the recorded plat of said allotment in Volume 13 of Maps, page 4 of Cuyahoga County Records. Said sublot No. four (4) has a frontage of 40 feet on the southerly side of Archwood Avenue, S. W. (formerly Greenwood Street) and extends back 196 6-10 feet on the easterly line, 187 8-10 feet on the westerly line and has a rear line of 40 84-100 feet, as appears by said plat, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that on the 18th day of April, 1894, the plaintiff conveyed said land to Margaret Halligan by warranty deed, which deed is recorded in Volume 528, page 353 of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, records; that said deed was given and transfer made to said Margaret Halligan, without consideration, in trust, for the following purposes: That said Margaret Halligan should hold the legal title to said land as trustee for plaintiff, and erect a house on said lot and the said Margaret Halligan was to re-convey to this plaintiff said premises when the said plaintiff should have paid the said Margaret Halligan any sums advanced by her in erecting a house on said land.

The petition further alleges that the said Margaret Halligan died on February 28th, 1904, holding the legal title to said land; that no house had been built on said lot, and the purposes of said transfer and trust had wholly failed; that by reason of the above facts the above named defendants claim some interest in said land, and that the claims appear as a cloud upon his title to said premises.

The prayer of said petition is that the Court find that the said Margaret Halligan held said property in trust for the plaintiff; that the plaintiff was, and is the actual owner of said premises; that his title be quieted against any claim or right of the heirs of said Margaret Halligan, deceased, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164890 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

Wade's Allotment 50.055 feet to a point in the westerly prolongation of the southerly line of said Sub lot No. 17; thence easterly along said westerly prolongation and said southerly line of said Sub lot No. 17, 135 870-1000 feet to the south easterly corner of said Sub lot No. 17; thence northerly along the westerly line of East 84th Street 50 feet to the place of beginning, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

and all of Sub lot No. 17 in said C. F. Pedrick's Allotment and that all of the above described land was intended by said Cornelia F. and W. E. Pedrick to be included in said Sub lot when they caused said allotment to be made and the maps thereof to be recorded in Volume 5, Page 19 of Cuyahoga County Records of Maps, but that by mistake in the measurements marked upon said map they failed to clearly show that all of said land is included in said Sub lot and [illegible] ants claim some interest therein adverse to him, although he and those from whom he obtained title to said Sub lot have been in actual, open, notorious and continuous adverse possession of all of said land for more than twenty-one years previous to filing said petition.

The prayer of said petition is that said defendants may be compelled to show their interest in said land, if any they claim, and that his title be quieted against the same.

Said parties are required to answer on or before the 24th day of August, 1918, or judgment will be taken against them.

Laughlin and Ethel M. Laughlin, as plaintiffs, have filed their petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that they are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession of the following described premises, to-wit:

Situated in the Village of Dover, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being part of original Dover Township lot No. 68, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a monument on the center line of Hall Road (60 feet wide), said center line being the westerly line of said original lot No. 68 at a point 212 feet southerly (measured along said center line) from a stone at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by Cyrus W. Laughlin and wife, to Frank B. Laughlin by deed dated November 25th, 1899, and recorded in Volume 724, page 492 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence north 88 degrees 55' east on line parallel with the northerly line of land so conveyed to Frank B. Laughlin, 256 feet to a monument; thence southerly on a line parallel with said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to a monument; thence south 88 degrees 55' west 256 feet to a monument on said center line of Hall Road; thence northerly along said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet, to the place of beginning, and containing 1 acre of land, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that the defendants, the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Moses Hall, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, hostile and adverse to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the said Moses Hall, and a cloud is, thereby, cast on plaintiff's title. The petition alleges that Moses Hall died seized of the above described property some time prior to July 31st, 1837, and left as his only heirs at law John Hall, Barnabas Hall, Charles Hall, Reuben C. Hall, Edwin Hall, Nancy Ingersoll, Eliza R. Parker, Anna Williams, Lucy Strong and Martha Bassett, that after the death of the said Moses Hall, and prior to said July 31st, 1837, the said Martha Bassett died leaving as her only heirs at law and next of kin, and therefore heirs at law of said Moses Hall, deceased, her husband; Nathan Bassett, and her daughters, Vesta Sanford, Lydia R. Porter, Lucy E. Hurst, Martha Bassett, Nancy Bassott and Harriet Bassett; that all the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, excepting Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, who were then minors, on July 31st, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them in trust, all the right, title and interest in and to the above described land and other lands of which the said Moses Hall died seized, said trustees and the survivor of them thereby being vested with full power and authority to sell and convey said lands; that Nathan Bassett died some time prior to May 2nd, 1842, and that thereafter, by virtue of said trust, the said John Hall, the survivor of said trustees, conveyed by warranty deed the above described premises and more lands, to George W. Laughlin, by deed dated July 25th, 1844, and recorded in Vol. 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges further that the defendants, John Richardson, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Richardson, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights by reason of the fact that the said John Richardson in his life time entered into a contract with Moses Hall for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, and that said John Richardson, some time prior to July 25th 1844, sold, assigned and transferred said contract for the purchase of Lot No 68, to George W. Laughlin, who immediately took possession of said premises. The said George W. Laughlin, assignee of the said John Richardson, having complied with the terms of said contract, demanded and received from the said John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, a deed duly executed to the premises above described and other lands, which said deed is duly recorded in Vol 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Ohio Deed Records. The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and by reason thereof aver it to be a fact that said contract was duly assigned and delivered to the said George W. Laughlin, and that said contract and the assignment thereof were never delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County for record as provided by law, but were lost and have been destroyed.

The petition alleges that the defendants, John Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Hall, deceased; Barnabas Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Barnabas Hall, deceased; Charles Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Charles Hall, deceased; Reuben C. Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Reuben C. Hall, deceased; Edwin Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Edwin Hall, deceased; Nancy Ingersoll, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Ingersoll, deceased; Eliza R. Parker, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Eliza R. Parker, deceased; Anna Williams, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Anna Williams, deceased; Lucy Strong, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy Strong, deceased; Martha Bassett, Sr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Sr., deceased; Vesta Sanford, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Vesta Sanford, deceased; Lydia R. Porter, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lydia R. Porter, deceased; Lucy E. Hurst, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy E. Hurst, deceased; Martha Bassett, Jr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Jr., deceased, claim some interest or title or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, adverse and hostile to plaintiff's rights, by reason of the fact that they were the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and as such heirs at law, on the 31st day of July, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them, a deed in trust to the premises above described, which said premises were by the defendant, John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, sold and conveyed to George W. Laughlin. Said defendants claim that the defendant, John Richardson, did not sell and assign his said land contract for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, to said George W. Laughlin, but that the said defendant, John Richardson, defaulted and failed to perform the covenants thereof, and to complete said land contract, in accordance with the terms thereof, and that said lot No. 68 thereby reverted to and vested in the aforesaid defendants, as heirs at law of Moses Hall deceased, and that the said John Hall as trustee, by virtue of the aforesaid deed of July 31st, 1837, was without authority in the premises to sell and convey said premises.

The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe and by reason thereof, aver it to be a fact that the aforesaid defendants, subsequent to July 31st, 1837, and prior to July 25, 1844, and in the manner provided for and set forth in the afore said trust deed, agreed to, and did authorize said trustee to sell and convey said premises to George W. Laughlin, and that by virtue of such authority in the premises, the said John Hall sold and conveyed the above described premises by warranty deed duly executed and delivered to said George W Laughlin, and accounted for the proceeds therefrom to the said defendants, who were entitled to receive the same.

The petition further alleges that by reason of said authority conferred upon said trustee, all right, title and interest of every nature and kind which they or any one of them had, or might have had in and to said premises, were by said deed of July 25th, 1844, conveyed to the said George W. Laughlin.

The petition further alleges that the defendants, Nancy Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Bassett, deceased; Harriet Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Harriet Bassett, deceased, claim some interest or title or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the defendants, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, and a cloud is thereby cast upon plaintiffs title, and the petition alleges further that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and therefore, aver it to be a fact that at some time subsequent to July 25th, 1844, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett sold and conveyed all the interest, right and title that they and each of them had in and to said above described real estate, to George W. Laughlin, since deceased, by good and sufficient deed, duly executed therefor to the said grantee, who was then in possession of said premises, but that said deed was not delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, for record, as provided by law and that said deed has been lost and destroyed.

The petition further alleges that the plaintiffs and their predecessors and ancestors in the chain of title have held said premises for many years last past, by direct, clear and indefeasible title, in fee simple, without any adverse claims whatsoever having been made against said lands by anyone of said defendants; that none of said defendants, nor any one of them, has heretofore ever attempted to convey, or sought to enforce any interest, or exercise any ownership or interest in said premises whatsoever and that any claim they, or anyone of them make, or may make, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the Ohio Statute of limitations but that the alleged claims constitute a cloud upon plaintiffs' title, and that the plaintiffs and their ancestors, predecessors and grantors have been in actual, exclusive, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of the above described premises since the 25th day of July A. D. 1844.

The prayer of said petition is that each and all of said defendants may be notified of the pendency of said cause of action, and that unless they shall each of them come into Court and set forth their respective claims they shall forever be barred therefrom; that each and all of the claims of said defendants may be adjudged null and void; that plaintiffs' title may be quieted against the defendants' claims, and each and every one of them may be enjoined from asserting such claims against said real estate; and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164955 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 14th of Septembr, 1918.

E, 112th Reg., United States Infantry, American Expeditionary Forces en route France via New York, will take notice that on June 24th, 1918, John F. Jacobs and Edith Jacobs filed their petition in the Court of Common Pleas, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, being case No. 164489, making them parties defendant, and alleging that they, said plaintiffs, are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession and occupancy of the following described real estate and premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga, and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. 1 in P. Morganstern's Subdivision of part of original One Hundred Acre Lot No. 345, as shown by the recorded plat in Volume 10 of Maps, Page 16 of Cuyahoga County Records, and being 30 feet front on the southerly side of Star Avenue, 139 feet 1 1-2 inches deep on the Easterly line, 137 feet 5 1-4 inches deep on the westerly line and is 45 feet 4 inches in the rear, as appears by said plat.

That all of said defendants respectively claim some interest or title in said premises adverse and hostile to the rights of said plaintiffs therein by reason of their being no lawful conveyance upon record of said premises from them respectively; that, although said persons have of record an apparent interest in said premises they have in fact no real or beneficial interest therein and are estopped from asserting any interest therein by reason of the fact that their predecessors in title received a lawful and valuable consideration for the conveyance by them of said interest and agreed to and attempted to convey such interest, but that by reason of the lack of a valid conveyance of record from said defendants a cloud exists upon the title of said plaintiffs in and to said premises.

Said plaintiffs pray that their said right, title and interest in said premises may be quieted and that they may be adjudged to be the absolute owners in fee simple thereof and that all of said defendants and all persons claiming through or under them may be forever enjoined from having or claiming to have any right, title or interest in said premises; and for such other and further relief as they may be entitled to in the premises. You are required to answer herein on or before the 17th day of August, 1918, or judgment and decree will be taken against you.

OUR AUGUST FUR SALE

Is An Event of Paramount Interest

There Are Actual Savings of From 20 to 30%

This $2,500 Mink Cape $1,800

This limited space does not permit us to recite, again and again, the many important details concerning this sale. The gist of the matter is that prices are sacrificed from 20 to 30 per cent in order to stimulate the fur business during a period that otherwise would be stagnant. We forego a liberal share of fair and legitimate profit for the sake of activity. The policy is practical, for it gives us volume; and it is advantageous to those who are thrifty and will only anticipate.

We have collected these furs with exacting care, supported by ripest judgment. Our August display strikes the keynote of the season's trade. It shows you how the pulse of the fur fashion world is beating.

Every garment in this sale has merit. Among them are specimens of rich beauty, marvels of elegance, triumphs of taste. From this vast collection we send forth the following few items to represent the cause of the many.

C. P. & E. CAR AND TRUCK COLLIDE AND DROP THROUGH BRIDGE OVER GRAND RIVER

A serious accident happened at Fairport Wednesday at 1:20, when a C., P. & E. car collided with the Highways motor truck on the overhead bridge over Grand river at Fairport. The truck shoved through the sides of the bridge, knocking off the supports. The floor of the bridge, truck and car dropped into the river, the car remaining in an upright position, permitting it to remain standing in an upright position after the fall. The water was possibly 6 or 7 feet deep at the point of the fall, and over which the 100-foot span that fell, extends. The bridge itself is nearly 1,000 feet long. Seven or eight people were in the car. None, it is reported, were seriously injured. They were taken to the Painesville Hospital. Conductor Miller and Motorman Glenn, both of Painesville, were in charge of the car. The conductor suffered an injured knee, while the motorman received minor injuries to his back. The track rails, curved down, are still in position, with the car upon them, not unlike the descent on a "roller coaster."

GUEST FROM PORTO RICO ATTENDS FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wells, of Barber and Wood streets, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary August 4th. The couple were married at the old Tryon place on Waite Hill and have resided in Kirtland for the largest part of their lives. The home on Barber avenue was just purchased last fall, following the sale of the farm. There are three living children and five grandchildren, the children including Mary and Ed. Wells, of Willoughby, and Mrs. J. T. Abel, of South Orange, N. J., who came on for the anniversary. Mrs. Phoebe Hull, of Porto Rico, a sister of Mrs. Wells, was also a guest. Many beautiful gifts were received, and thirty-three guests enjoyed the luncheon and other pleasures at the happy occasion. Four of the guests at the anniversary were also present at the ceremony when the couple were married. These included Mrs. Eliza Waite, of Union street; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Billings, of Kirtland, and Mrs. Hull, of Porto Rico.

Candidates for the Primaries

Next Tuesday, August 13th, is the day set for the Republican Primaries. On page three of this issue will be found some arguments set forth by the candidates and their friends in the space given over to their interests. This is interesting matter and should be studied by every voter. Likewise every voter should express their interest at the Primaries. There is much discussion in regard to the manner in which the municipalities are governed. If as much interest was taken in the individual candidates for office, BEFORE the primaries, and elections, subsequent criticisms would be more justifiable. The voters might then feel some responsibility in the choices made. Likewise the women should study the qualifications of the candidates for office. Frankly, if you were to vote at this election, for whom would you vote? Would you cast your vote on personality, actual ability, or would you, as Mr. Coulby said he was obliged to do at one time, just vote the "whole Repubican ticket?"

The selection at the Republican Primaries next Tuesday of the candidate who will represent this county at the next session of the General Assembly is regarded as unusually important.

Great problems, including those of war, require solution at this time. The position Ohio shall occupy in history will be determined to some extent, at least, by the record which the legislature writes at Columbus.

This is no time to play politics. Men should be nominated for the performance ofservice rather than for the fulfillment of political ambitions. Every elector should unhesitatingty perform his duty by voting for the candidate whose qualifications best fit him to serve the interests of the people of our country, our state and our nation.

Second to this, the office of prosecuting attorney, is creating no less, probably more, comment throughout the county. It is impossible to believe that anyone would regard seriously any question of loyalty on the part of Mr. von Beseler. Merit, qualifications and fitness for the position are the questions to be considered when you are voting for a man who is to represent YOU and YOUR interests. If there was any question of loyalty, it is safe to assume that a man would not even have the opportunity to approach within speaking distance of a nomination at this time. Therefore, consider the merit and ability of the candidates and VOTE.

Officials of the C., P. & E. met in Harry Hammar's office at Painesville Saturday last to confer with the committee who were to consider data to be submitted by the C., P. & E., as decided at the former meeting in Painesville. This committee consisted of Messrs. Carmichael, Nolan and Hogue. The last named gentleman, of Ashtabula, was absent from the meeting. The company presented all the desired facts and figures and information requested. Following the original request, this will be put into printed form, the present week, so that each councilman, trustee and commissioner may have a copy. About 80 sheets will be struck off.

LAKE COUNTY FAIR POSTERS ANNOUNCE ANNUAL EVENT

Coming events cast not their shadows, but their posters, before, nowadays. Thus the Lake County Fair has begun to announce its coming. It's taking all the time and thought of C. F. Sherwood, manager, these days. Mr. Sherwood hopes to have George Schneider, of the Cleveland Athletic Club, to speak War Savings Day. There will be patriotic days of all sorts, and demonstrations of baked goods and other eatables for conservation recipes. Races and other attractions are to be made especially interesting also.

BODY OF YOUNG WOMAN SUICIDE FOUND AT WILLOUGHBEACH.

The body of a young woman, apparently a suicide, was recovered on the shore half a mile from Willoughbeach Wednesday. A member of the East Shore Club discovered the body. Chas. Fischer, manager of the park, notified Lee Davis, who brought the body to Willoughby, where it is now in Davis' morgue. The young woman was 20-25, had dark hair. Her shoes and stockings, found under her skirt, were still wet when found. It is therefore assumed that she had only been in the water since yesterday. Cleveland police were notified and steps to secure identification will be made.

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS:

"The work which the Chautaqua is doing has not lost importance because of the war, but rather has gained new opportunities for service. Let me express the hope that the people will not fail in their support of a patriotic institution that may be said to be an integral part of the national defense."

AUTO ACCIDENT AT STOP 45

A serious auto accident occurred at stop 45 Thursday morning at about 2 o'clock. Seven men were in the machine, driven by Evans, owner, of Painesville. The latter has an auto repair shop there. The machine was traveling at a speed of 55-60 miles an hour, it is reported. The car made a couple of tips, in endeavoring to make the turn at stop 45. Evans suffered a broken collar bone and was taken to the Painesville Hospital by Lee Davis, who was called to the scene. Another man in the party who was injured was taken to his home. The rest escaped serious mishap.

PASSING TRIBUTE TO MRS. EMMA LUDWIG

The death of Mrs. Emma Koebler Ludwig, wife of Paul Ludwig, brought a feeling of deep regret and sorrow to the many friends whom she made during the time they were residents of the village.

For the past ten years her health had been failing, but her very love of living seemed to carry her through many critical attacks of illness and her gentle, patient cheerfulness was unfailing.

But a short time previous to her death she had gone into the country, hoping to gain in strength and health, and was apparently feeling the benefit of the move until twenty minutes before the end came.

She is survived by her husband, Paul Ludwig, and an only child, Mrs. Emma Carroll, wife of F. M. Carroll.

The funeral was held at Wade Park Memorial last Saturday afternoon and burial will be later in Lake View Cemetery.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—According to records on file in the offices of the Ohio War Savings Committee here, W. J. Carmichael, chairman for Lake County, has submitted a report showing 49 purchasers of $1,000 in War Savings Stamps in his county. To the chairman has gone a special request to report regularly the names of those buying War Savings Stamps to the limit, so that the specially designed certificates can be issued.

The United States Treasury Department has fixed a quota of one purchaser of $1,000 in War Savings Stamps to every 150 of population. On this basis Lake county should have 159 purchasers of this amount of War Savings Stamps.

By selling the "limit amount" assignment, disposition is made of practically one third of the county's total quota of $476,700 in War Savings Stamps for 1918. Four counties in Ohio have already disposed of their assigned quota of limit purchasers of War Savings Stamps. These are: Morrow, Ashland, Logan and Knox Counties.

The certificate of membership in the $1,000 War Savings Society is signed by Governor James M. Cox, H. P. Wolfe, State War Savings Director, and the local county chairman.

Modern Woodman Band to Play. Rev. H. E. Bright to Talk on 'Christ in the Trenches,' at the Morning Service

Don't fail to hear Rev. Bright Sunday, 10:45 a. m., on the theme," Christ in the Trenches." It will strengthen the hearts of mothers and fathers who have sons in the war to know that every available Christian agency is being used to lead our boys to Christ. SCHRAM LAWN FETES ARE SURE POPULAR

All roads surely led to the Schram school grounds on the night of the 27th, where a lawn fete was held for benefit of Red Cross. The large number of autos on the grounds, and the crying of hot peanuts right off the ice, etc., reminded one of the county fair. Harry Fields was the winner of the chair donated by Jas. Bailie. The tickets sold for the chair, the money received for ice cream, lemonade and peanuts amounted to nearly $80. For a small place like this we feel that all are doing their share towards making these affairs a success. We understand another lawn fete will be held in the near future.

MR. AND MRS. PALMER ENJOY TRIP TO CAMP. AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF MEALS, AMUSEMENTS AND OTHER FEATURES THERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Palmer spent Saturday and Sunday at Camp Sherman, coming home Monday. A brief account of their trip and visit follows: The route taken by them was that from Cleveland to Columbus on the train, then by motor bus which goes to the camp and Columbus at 9 a. m. 12 noon, 3 p. m., 6 p. m. and 10:30 p. m. The distance is about fifty miles, leading through lovely country. Circleville is surely a peaceful looking little spot. Their son Leon secured rooms for them in the Community House two weeks previous to their visit. The rooms contain two single beds and the charge is very reasonable. Meals may be had in Community House. Club breakfast at 9:30; also serve-self meals may be had at the Exchange. Breakfast at 8 a. m. All the food is very palatable and scrupulously clean. Chillicothe is a neat little town and much patronized by the soldiers. Busses ply between the camp and that town, charges 10c each person. Y. M. C. A. supplies splendid amusement for the boys and in every way tries its best to be "home from home." The Y. M. C. A. gave a concert in the Community House on Sunday eveniing. The motto of the Community Houses: "Everybody Sing; Everybody Happy." Three ladies from Cincinnati supplied special music. The Y. M. C. A. singing master sang two patriotic songs. Everyone sang several songs. Some of them were "Joan of Arc," "Pick Up Your Feet a Little Faster," "Over There," with different words; "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining," etc. Singing is greatly encouraged at camp and the boys enjoy thirty minutes singing each morning.

The words of "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining" are:

When the Great Red Dawn Is Shining.
Published by Chappell & Co.
Key of G.

When the great red dawn is shining,
When the wailing hour is past,
When the tears of night are ended
And I see the day at last,
I shall come down the road of sunshine
To a heart that is fond and true,
When the great red dawn is shining,
Back to home, back to love and you.

The supper given by the Aid Society of the M. E. Church Tuesday evening was well patronized, adding about $140 to their treasury.

A number from here are now hauling sweet corn to market several times weekly.

Mrs. Walter Tyler, Mrs. A. J. Tanner and Mrs. H. E. Talbot will attend the W. C. T. U. meeting at the M. E. Church in Willoughby today (Wednesday), having a part on the program.

Mrs. Bertha Conrad, after spending several weeks with her sister in Chardon, is again with her sister, Mrs. R. H. Robbins.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hine, with friends from Painesville, were attending the church supper last evening.

Recent letters from Geo. Talbot say that his "somewhere" is in a very beautiful, picturesque part of France. The buildings are all of stone or cement with red tile roofs, helping to make a pretty landscape. The weather had been very cool and comfortable. One letter, written on the 4th, says that it was so chilly that a fire in the Y. M. C. A. felt mighty good. They were near enough to the front to see the greatness of what the U. S. is doing.

WILLOUGHBY

WE NEED THE MONEY HERE, SAYS GIBSON AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY THE FREIGHT. READ ON:
Say, which do you figure is cheaper: 1 pair head lamps at $6.00, 2 front fenders at $7.50, 1 radiator $25.00, or a nice classy bumper for about $5.50 or $6.00? Think that over and then come in and talk bumper with me. I am agoing to sell them whether I make a cent or not. Tires and Tubes are agoing up every day and you know you will need one or more soon; and I have the best money can buy at the price I ask. My present stock of oils and grease are nearly exhausted and the next shipment will be a considerable higher. So get busy now, as it is a necessity for your car. Just compare my prices with the catalogue houses, freight added, and see how far you are ahead by sending your money out of town; and right here is where we need it. I may not be here long, so get what you want of what I've got and if I have not got it I can get it or it isn't made.
Respectfully,
W. J. GIBSON.

Information About Candidates to be Nominated at Republican Primaries Aug. 13

C. A. Hine of Painesville announces his candidacy for county commissioner, subject to the Republican primaries, August 13, 1918. 4t

Edwin G. Huntington of Painesville is a candidate for Representative to the General Assembly, subject to Republican primaries, August 13, 1918.

By CARL KIMBALL

I wish to call attention to the error in the political advertisement of my opponent, Mr. Huntington, which has appeared in these columns.

I do not charge my opponent with wilful misrepresentation, but the fact is that this Senatorial District is not represented by a Madison man, as stated, but by Senator Timby, of Ashtabula, and Senator Palmer, of Summit County, both of whom were elected when the district went Democratic at the election two years ago.

A Letter From George C. von Beseler

To the Voters of Willoughby and Vicinity:

Since I came to Painesville nine years ago I have been more or less in public office, serving the city of Painesville as its Solicitor and then becoming Prosecuting Attorney of Lake County. My political enemies do not say that I have not attended to the duties of my office in a suitable way. I think I have not been afraid to do my duty and in doing so have made some enemies. These enemies are the ones who now are throwing mud and pouring slime on me. They seem to fear my holding public office. At other times they have said other things, but now they are saying I am disloyal. My heart and my soul have always been full of love for and devotion to my country—America.

My father was born in this country and he fought for this country for three and one-half years of the Civil War.

They say my Memorial Day address at Thompson was not loyal. Here is what those who heard it have to say about it:

"With reference to certain rumors being circulated to the effect that Geo. C. von Beseler made disloyal or unpatriotic remarks when he delivered a Memorial Day address at Thompson on the 30th day of May, 1917, may we say that we were present at that meeting; that we were either on the platform with Mr. von Beseler or in the very front of the assemblage; that there was no utterance of any sort that could even suggest to anyone that anything disloyal or unpatriotic was being said.

"On the other hand, we are glad to say that we have seldom heard a more vigorous American speech. Every word was replete with loyalty and patriotism.

"We have made inquiry also among others who were there and we have yet to find the first man to say that there was any thought or suggestion of any disloyalty in any utterance made upon that occasion by Mr. von Beseler."

Signed:
Wm. P. Ellis Marshal of the Day, Thompson, O.

B. G. Crandall, General Merchant, Thompson, O.

I have never before mentioned the unfair incident at the Utopia Theater, for I was in no way connected with it and was in no way to be connected with it, except that I secured some girls to address the cards, printed and brought to my office by Frank G. Johnson. I did nothing concerning that meeting of which I need to be ashamed or for which anyone should vote against me. On the other hand, I believe every true American will support me and by so doing rebuke those scheming, unfair politicians who were so unprincipled as to try to defeat me in so unfair a manner. With them might is right, but I believe in the people of Lake County and I am confident that with them right is right and wrong is wrong and that I shall be vindicated and exonerated at the polls on Tuesday.

Respectfully submitted,
GEO. C. VON BESELER.

To the People of Lake County:

We, the undersigned, practicing civil engineers and surveyors of Lake county, know that Mr. Clyde C. Hadden is a graduate civil engineer, and that he has had more than 10 years' experience in this county.

In our opinion Mr. Hadden is both competent and efficient and we take pleasure in recommending him for the office of county surveyor.

To the People of Lake County

A number of Electors have asked me concerning the Republican candidates for State Senator. I have made inquiry of Hon. S. D. Shankland, who is familiar with the situation and for the benefit of those interested, I publish his letter endorsing Hon. F. E. Whittemore of Akron.

Signed: ELBERT F. BLAKELY

Mr. Shankland's letter is as follows:

1120 Amsterdam Ave., New York, N. Y.
July 22d, 1918

Mr. E. F. Blakely, Painesville, Ohio.

My Dear Mr. Blakley:

I greatly regret that my work in Columbia University makes it necessary for me to be absent from Lake County at this time. I am especially interested in the selection of a Republican candidate for the Ohio State Senate, from the district composed of Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga, Portage and Summit Counties.

Hon. F. E. Whittemore of Akron, one of those under consideration for the nomination, has rendered service of the highest order to the state, during his terms in the House of Representatives. He knows the right and has the courage to do it. Moreover he has the experience to make what he does, count effectively. If nominated, I am sure that he will do credit to our district. I hope that you may see your way clear to accord him your cordial support. You are at liberty to state my position to any who may be interested.

Yours sincerely,
S. D. SHANKLAND.

HOMER HARPER, CANDIDATE FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

Mr. Harper was born in Perry, Lake County, in the summer of 1857, and has resided in this county since his birth. He prepared for college in Willoughby, attending Willoughby College in 1877, '78 and '79. After attending Kenyon College for a couple of years he studied law and was admitted to the bar. While he does not boast of his ancestry, he is able to say that they settled in New England more than 200 years ago, and that Harpersfield, O., was founded by his father's people in 1798.

Mr. Harper has served as Solicitor of Painesville, Fairport and Richmond at different times, the period of his service covering many years. He has served also as prosecuting attorney of Lake County and has been a painstaking and economical official.

He is one of those who do not believe in exploiting the war or anything pertaining to it, for political or financial ends.

He believes in enforcing the law without fear or favor and in an economical administration of public affairs.

In 1910 he was nominated and elected to the office of Prosecuting Attorney and served with credit for a term of two years and was renominated with little opposition in 1912. That year (1912) the Progressive party split the Republican vote in the county and he was thereby defeated by the Democratic candidate, Mr. Nolan.

Mr. Harper requests us to say that he has not now, and does not intend to attack the views of any law-abiding citizen, or question the patriotism of any whose views are above suspicion.

That, if elected, he believes that he can administer the office of Prosecuting Attorney in a way that will save money to the taxpayers.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE

The well known qualifications of Carl R. Kimball, his ability, his experience as a legislator and his splendid patriotism make him the wise choice for this position, in the opinion of his friends.

Newton Mills of Painesville is a candidate for County Commissioner, subject to the Republican primaries August 13th.

STUART MILLS, MENTOR SOLDIER BOY, WRITES FROM ENGLAND

The following very interesting letter, setting forth experiences as they come to a soldier boy, is from Stuart Mills, of Mentor, who writes from England. He is the son of L. V. Mills, Mentor School Superintendent:

Somewhere in England, June 28.

My dear folks: This is a lovely day, real warm and very comfortable without a blouse; however, the nights are very cool, especially along toward morning. Some say it is spring here, others think it is fall; but anyway it seems like summer. It does not get dark until 10:30 and light at 3:30, so you see we do not get any more sleep than the law requires.

Everything is strange, customs old and quaint, just like you have read about. Small trains or rather cars are small, look more like a Ford trailer, and engines are very little.

We reached this country a few days ago and landed here. Had an all night train ride, passing through several large cities. Our trip on boat was uneventful; saw nothing but water and waves for a long time. While I was not sick and enjoyed the trip in a way, I wish to forget it all, for there are things better explained by mouth than on paper. I was on a baggage detail, so got to see quite a bit of one large city. We have lots of fun trying to buy things with English money. None of the fellows ever know how much money they have. Things are scarce and one can see what telling effect the war has made on the country. The eats are rationed; you get so much and no more.

I have no complaint to make, although some of the fellows think they are being starved, but they probably kicked when they were back home, so of course they would now. One can only buy one box of matches, cigarets, etc., at a time; only 6 pence worth of candy and everything else accordingly.

Bill Barber, of Burton, came here, too, but think his company has gone on.

Just two months since I left for camp and look how far away I am. Wonder what the next few months will bring. Bet I'll either be under the sod or holding some pretty nurse's hand. Our bunch are all fine fellows, all from Ohio and fighters. Officers are fine men. English people are nice; try to make everything pleasant for American men.

Of course you have the card that I arrived safely by this time. I am perfectly well and getting along O. K. I have lost in weight, but am getting stronger. My feet become tired and sore, but have not blistered so far. My hair is all clipped, so I do not have to look in a glass any more.

Now, there is no need of worrying about me; just take care of yourselves. We may never see any actual service and again we may. If possible, I hope to come home—sooner the better.

Now, you people take care of yourselves and keep well. Write often as you can and I will whenever I get a chance.

If I were home now my week's work would be done and I would be starting for Burton or Mentor.

Yours, lovingly,
STUART J. MILLS,
A.E.T Co. M, 329th Infantry.

A FORD CAMPING PARTY

A Ford sedan, with a camping party of four, passed through Willoughby Monday. They were en route from Boston to Seattle, on a return trip. The party stopped in Willoughby on their way east also. They carried two army cots and a gasoline stove. Five days were consumed in going from Willoughby to Boston. R. L. Gonyea, in charge of the car, says it's a fine trip.

John P. Fish, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, and —— Fish, first and real name unknown, wife or widow of said John P. Fish, all of whose places of residence are unknown, and the names of the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Henry L. Schwab, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession and occupancy of the following described premises, to wit:

Situated in the Township of Parma, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of orginal lot No. 24 in the Ely Tract in said Township of Parma, and is bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center of York Street Road, and the northwest corner of land owned by John Dennerle; thence east along said John Dennerle's north line, 52.03 chains, to the east line of said lot No. 24; thence north along said east line, 4.90 chains to the southeast corner of land owned by said Lewis Schwaub; thence west along said Schwaub's north line, 52 03-100 chains to the center of said York Street Road; thence south along the center of said Road, 4 90-100 chains to the place of beginning, containing 25.49 acres of land, and being the same premises conveyed by Christian Tauber and wife to Lewis Schwaub by deed dated April 23. 1872, and recorded in Volume 204, Page 573 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges that the defendants above named claim some interest or estate in the above described premises hostile and adverse to plaintiff's rights, for the reason that no conveyance appears of record in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, from the said John P. Fish. The petition alleges that the said John P. Fish, who in the year 1843, was the owner of said premises, was the son of James Fish, and brother of one Isiah W. Fish; that on May 1st, 1843, by deed recorded in Vol. 64, page 22 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish, then the owner of said premises, conveyed the same to the defendant, John P. Fish. The plaintiff believes, and therefore, alleges, the fact to be, that the said defendant, John P. Fish intended and actually did reconvey the above described premises to the said James Fish, but that by reason of the inadvertence and mistake, oversight and carelessness of the said grantee, the said conveyance was not, and does not appear of record in this County.

The petition further alleges that by deed dated April 4th, 1864, and recorded in Vol 126, page 629 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish and wife conveyed the above described premises to Isiah W. Fish; that since said time, the title to said premises has come down in unbroken chain of title to this plaintiff.

The petition further alleges that none of said defendants have any interest whatsoever in said premises; that no person or persons claiming thru or under them, has ever sought to enforce, attempted to convey, or exercise any interest or ownership in said premises since April 4th, 1864; that as against said defendants, this plaintiff and his predecessors in title have had, held and been in actual, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of said premises for more than twenty-one years last past; that said defendants have no interest whatsoever in said premises, and that any right that they, or anyone of them may have had, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the statute of limitations.

The prayer of said petition is that the said defendants may be compelled to show their claim and interest in said premises, or any part thereof, or be forever barred; that said claim or claims may be judged null and void; that plaintiff's title may be quieted against any and all claims of said defendants, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164918 and the defendants above named are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

O'Brien, deceased, and the unknown heirs of Margaret Halligan, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Charles J. Graves, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner of the following described premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. four (4) in J. H. McArthur's Allotment of part of original Brooklyn Township lot No. 56, as shown by the recorded plat of said allotment in Volume 13 of Maps, page 4 of Cuyahoga County Records. Said sublot No. four (4) has a frontage of 40 feet on the southerly side of Archwood Avenue, S. W. (formerly Greenwood Street) and extends back 196 6-10 feet on the easterly line, 187 8-10 feet on the westerly line and has a rear line of 40 84-100 feet, as appears by said plat, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that on the 18th day of April, 1894, the plaintiff conveyed said land to Margaret Halligan by warranty deed, which deed is recorded in Volume 528, page 355 of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, records; that said deed was given and transfer made to said Margaret Halligan, without consideration, in trust, for the following purposes: That said Margaret Halligan should hold the legal title to said land as trustee for plaintiff, and erect a house on said lot and the said Margaret Halligan was to re-convey to this plaintiff said premises when the said plaintiff should have paid the said Margaret Halligan any sums advanced by her in erecting a house on said land.

The petition further alleges that the said Margaret Halligan died on February 28th, 1901, holding the legal title to said land; that no house had been built on said lot, and the purposes of said transfer and trust had wholly failed; that by reason of the above facts the above named defendants claim some interest in said land, and that the claims appear as a cloud upon his title to said premises.

The prayer of said petition is that the Court find that the said Margaret Halligan held said property in trust for the plaintiff; that the plaintiff was, and is the actual owner of said premises; that his title be quieted against any claim or right of the heirs of said Margaret Halligan, deceased, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164890 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

THE SKEPTIC CONVINCED PRAISES THE NEAL WAY

KENTUCKIAN WRITES OF NEAL TREATMENT WHICH ROUTS DRINK HABIT IN THREE DAYS

"I am feeling better than I have for years. Have gained five pounds and just can't get enough to eat. I can't say enough for the Neal Treatment. My best wishes for you and your good work."

The splendid Kentuckian who sent this tribute of appreciation to the Neal Institute in the old John D. Rockefeller home arrived there weeks ago in skeptical mood. He hadn't any faith in the promise that three days of Neal Treatment would knock out all his desire for drink. He accepted the Neal Treatment as a sort of "last chance." Today there isn't a more enthusiastic convert to the Neal Way in the entire country.

The Neal Treatment is a harmless vegetable remedy, which in three days time eliminates all the alcoholic poison which is found in the system of every drinker is responsible for the craving which the world calls "liquor appetite."

Guarding the Lines of Communication

An army is constantly on guard over Bell telephone lines. It is the army of telepone test-men, and it operates so efficiently and quietly that it is seldom heard of by the telephone subscribers who enjoy its protection.

The test-men are constantly in touch with the wire system. Only a small part of the telephone equipment is ordinarily visible to the subscribers.

The miles of switchboards, signal apparatus, power plants and underground wires, not in view, require constant attention, and the test-men make thousands of tests daily in order to prevent trouble that might disturb the service.

D. 1918, Edward V. Leslie filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, being action No. 165132, against them and each of them, setting forth that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual and peaceable possession of the following described real estate:

Situated in the City of East Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of original Euclid Township Lot No. 44 and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning one (1) chain and eighty-four (84) links south forty and three-fourths (40¾) degrees east from the northeast corner of land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated August 27, 1846, and recorded in Volume 39, page 345, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records; thence south forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees west fifty (50) links; thence south forty and three fourths (40¾) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and three-fourths (49¾) degrees west fifty (50) links to the place of beginning, containing four (4) square rods of land and being the same land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated October 6, 1849, and recorded in Volume 61, page 528, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records.

Said petition further states that the said premises were conveyed to H. Adeline Spring, the grantor of the plaintiff, on the 21st day of January, 1880, by deed duly executed and delivered, that on said 21st day of January, 1880, H. Adeline Spring took actual and absolute possession of said real estate under said grant and held possession, actual, open, continuous, adverse, notorious and exclusive until the 11th day of April, 1913, at which time she conveyed to the plaintiff by deed duly executed and delivered, [illegible] wholly adverse to the claims and interests of the defendants. That all of the defendants claim an estate or interest in said real estate adverse to plaintiff's rights therein, the nature and extent of which plaintiff is unable to state. That by reason thereof a cloud is cast upon the title to plaintiff's real estate which greatly and unjustly depreciates the value. That none of the defendants herein have any right, title or interest in said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants herein may be compelled to set forth their interests in said real estate, if any they have, and that the claims of said defendants and each of them be adjudged to be null and void and said plaintiff's title may be quieted against said defendants' claims and that they and each of them be enjoined from asserting such claim against such real estate, that the cloud thereon may be removed, and for such other and further relief as equity and the nature of the case may require and to the court seems just, necessary and proper.

Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 21st day of September, 1918, or judgment will be taken against them.

If no packer profits had been earned, you could have bought your meat at only a fraction of a cent per pound cheaper?

Packers' profits on meats and animal products have been limited by the Food Administration, since November 1, 1917.

Hurst, deceased; the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Jr., deceased; the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Bassett, deceased, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Harriet Bassett, deceased, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Barnabas Hall, deceased; being unknown, will take notice that Lloyd R. Laughlin and Ethel M. Laughlin, as plaintiffs, have filed their petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that they are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession of the following described premises, to-wit:

Situated in the Village of Dover, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being part of original Dover Township lot No. 68, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a monument on the center line of Hall Road (60 feet wide), said center line being the westerly line of said original lot No. 68 at a point 212 feet southerly (measured along said center line) from a stone at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by Cyrus W. Laughlin and wife, to Frank B Laughlin by deed dated November 25th, 1899, and recorded in Volume 724, page 492 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence north 88 degrees 55' east on line parallel with the northerly line of land so conveyed to Frank B. Laughlin, 256 feet to a monument; thence southerly on a line parallel with said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to a monument; thence south 88 degrees 55' west 256 feet to a monument on said center line of Hall Road; thence northerly along said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to the place of beginning, and containing 1 acre of land, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways

The petition alleges that the defendants, the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Moses Hall, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, hostile and adverse to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the said Moses Hall, and a cloud is, thereby, cast on plaintiff's title. The petition alleges that Moses Hall died seized of the above described property some time prior to July 31st, 1837, and left as his only heirs at law, John Hall, Barnabas Hall, Charles Hall, Reuben C. Hall, Edwin Hall, Nancy Ingersoll, Eliza R. Parker, Anna Williams, Lucy Strong and Martha Bassett, that after the death of the said Moses Hall, and prior to said July 31st, 1837, the said Martha Bassett died leaving as her only heirs at law and next of kin, and therefore heirs at law of said Moses Hall, deceased, her husband, Nathan Bassett, and her daughters, Vesta Sanford, Lydia R. Porter, Lucy E. Hurst, Martha Bassett, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett; that all the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, excepting Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, who were then minors, on July 31st, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them in trust, all the right, title and interest in and to the above described land and other lands of which the said Moses Hall died seized, said trustees and the survivor of them thereby being vested with full power and authority to sell and convey said lands; that Nathan Bassett died some time prior to May 2nd, 1842, and that thereafter by virtue of said trust, the said John Hall, the survivor of said trustees, conveyed by warranty deed the above described premises and more lands, to George W. Laughlin, by deed dated July 25th, 1844, and recorded in Vol. 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges further that the defendants, John Richardson, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Richardson, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights by reason of the fact that the said John Richardson in his life time entered into a contract with Moses Hall for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, and that said John Richardson some time prior to July 25th 1844, sold, assigned and transferred said contract for the purchase of Lot No 68, to George W. Laughlin, who immediately took possession of said premises. The said George W. Laughlin, assignee of the said John Richardson, having complied with the terms of said contract, demanded and received from the said John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, a deed duly executed to the premises above described and other lands, which said deed is duly recorded in Vol 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Ohio Deed Records. The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and by reason thereof aver it to be a fact that said contract was duly assigned and delivered to the said George W. Laughlin, and that said contract and the assignment thereof were never delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County for record as provided by law, but were lost and have been destroyed.

The petition alleges that the defendants, John Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Hall, deceased; Barnabas Hall and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Barnabas Hall, deceased; Charles Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Charles Hall, deceased; Reuben C. Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Reuben C. Hall, deceased; Edwin Hall, [illegible] at law and devisees of Nancy Ingersoll, deceased; Eliza R. Parker, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Eliza R. Parker, deceased; Anna Williams, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Anna Williams, deceased; Lucy Strong, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy Strong, deceased; Martha Bassett, Sr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Sr., deceased; Vesta Sanford, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Vesta Sanford, deceased; Lydia R Porter, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lydia R. Porter, deceased; Lucy E. Hurst, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy E. Hurst, deceased; Martha Bassett, Jr, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Jr., deceased, claim some interest or title or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, adverse and hostile to plaintiff's rights, by reason of the fact that they were the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and as such heirs at law, on the 31st day of July, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them, a deed in trust to the premises above described, which said premises were by the defendant, John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, sold and conveyed to George W. Laughlin. Said defendants claim that the defendant, John Richardson, did not sell and assign his said land contract for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, to said George W. Laughlin, but that the said defendant, John Richardson, defaulted and failed to perform the covenants thereof, and to complete said land contract, in accordance with the terms thereof, and that said lot No. 68 thereby reverted to and vested in the aforesaid defendants, as heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and that the said John Hall, as trustee, by virtue of the aforesaid deed of July 31st, 1837, was without authority in the premises to sell and convey said premises.

The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe and by reason thereof, aver it to be a fact that the aforesaid defendants, subsequent to July 31st, 1837, and prior to July 25, 1844, and in the manner provided for and set forth in the aforesaid trust deed, agreed to, and did authorize said trustee to sell and convey said premises to George W. Laughlin, and that by virtue of such authority in the premises, the said John Hall sold and conveyed the above described premises by warranty deed duly executed and delivered to said George W Laughlin, and accounted for the proceeds therefrom to the said defendants, who were entitled to receive the same

The petition further alleges that by reason of said authority conferred upon said trustee, all right, title and interest of every nature and kind, which they or any one of them had, or might have had in and to said premises, were by said deed of July 25th, 1844, conveyed to the said George W. Laughlin

The petition further alleges that the defendants, Nancy Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Bassett, deceased; Harriet Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Harriet Bassett, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the defendants, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, and a cloud is thereby cast upon plaintiffs' title, and the petition alleges further that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and therefore, aver it to be a fact that at some time subsequent to July 25th, 1844. Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett sold and conveyed all the interest, right and title that they and each of them had in and to said above described real estate, to George W. Laughlin, since deceased, by good and sufficient deed, duly executed therefor to the said grantee, who was then in possession of said premises but that said deed was not delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, for record, as provided by law, and that said deed has been lost and destroyed.

The petition further alleges that the plaintiffs and their predecessors and ancestors in the chain of title, have held said premises for many years last past, by direct, clear and indefeasible title, in fee simple, without any adverse claims whatsoever having been made against said lands by anyone of said defendants; that none of said defendants, nor any one of them, has heretofore ever attempted to convey, or sought to enforce any interest, or exercise any ownership or interest in said premises whatsoever and that any claim they, or anyone of them make, or may make, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the Ohio Statute of limitations but that the alleged claims constitute a cloud upon plaintiffs' title, and that the plaintiffs and their ancestors, predecessors and grantors have been in actual, exclusive, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of the above described premises since the 25th day of July A. D. 1844

The prayer of said petition is that each and all of said defendants may be notified of the pendency of said cause of action, and that unless they shall each of them come into Court and set forth their respective claims, they shall forever be barred therefrom; that each and all of the claims of said defendants may be adjudged null and void; that plaintiffs' title may be quieted against the defendants' claims, and each and every one of them may be enjoined from asserting such claims against said real estate; and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164956 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 14th of Septembr, 1918.

COUNCIL TO SEND OUT NEW SPRINKLING BILLS

The principal matter discussed at the council meeting Monday night was that of the bills on sprinkling. It seems that this season's bills were sent out at a rate of 11½c. A vigorous protest was voiced by the recipients. W. C. Collister was present, representing Center street residents; while Mr. Downing represented Wilson avenue. Mr. Carmichael stated that he had not been aware of the price at which the bills had been rendered, the cost having been arrived at by Mr. Saxton and Mr. Jenkins. He deemed it best that a compromise should be effected and new bills will therefore be sent out at a rate of 5c per foot frontage. Wilson avenue residents had expected to pay 2c per foot owing to the fact that their petition presented in June had been passed at that figure. Bills received at the new rate of 11½c caused all the residents to rise up in ire. Their rate was adjusted to 3c per foot frontage. Next year residents will be advised of the cost and have an opportunity to say whether or not they desire their street sprinkled, Mr. Carmichael said. The mayor and Dr. Kenning will be absent for about two weeks, starting August 17th. John Ohm will serve as acting mayor during that period.

WILLOUGHBY GOES OVER THE TOP ON WAR SAVINGS QUOTA

It is believed that Willoughby is the first in the county to achieve its War Savings quota. $64,000.00 was the amount to be sold. It has now passed that figure by $300.00 or $400.00, as announced by Postmaster Webster Wednesday.

A pleasing feature during the program Tuesday night occurred while the Charles Edward Clark Company were presenting their excellent musical number. Mr. Clark, who is a splendid singer, requested the audience to stand while he sang in French the Marseillaise. The French flag hung from the center of the platform. This gracious act was arranged just previous to the appearance of Lieut. Picard, he appearing and standing before the French flag during the singing of his national anthem.

During the afternoon Miss Sumayeh Attiyet, of Syria, gave a most interesting talk on the Orient. At the close she invited the audience to inspect a gown that had been handed down to her from her great-grandmother. Mrs. Andrew Hansen, who has recently purchased, and now occupies, with her husband, the Frank Avis cottage at Stop 24, was invited to try the historic gown on, which she did. She looked quite as nice, however, in her own costume as in that of the old, historic Syrian gown.

The Paige car belonging to L. R. Adams was stolen at Willoughbeach Park Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Berkholz and other guests had accompanied Mr. Adams to the park, arriving about 9 o'clock. Arranging to return at possibly 9:45, it was discovered that the car was gone. Mr. Adams called Marshal Maloney, who, in turn, reported the loss to the Cleveland police a few minutes later. C. B. Shaw brought part of the party home in his car, and Reece Carrel picked up the men. They spent several hours scouring the country, arriving home about 2:45 a. m.

LATER: Word was received just before noon Wednesday that the car had been recovered at the East Shore Club. It had been driven on a "joy ride" and left at the garage opposite the club grounds. James Mackey, of the Standard Tire & Rubber Co., discovered it.

BLANKETS AND MATTRESSES FURNISHED BOYS AT BEN HUR PLANT.

The local Red Cross have been answering many calls to aid in making the soldier boys at the Ben Hur plant comfortable. Mattresses have been furnished on 20 minutes notice. Six mattresses and four pairs of blankets have been furnished so far, while orders for needed supplies of this nature, for the boys, have been placed, the quartermaster is swamped with orders, and considerable delay ensues. Anyone having clean mattresses, therefore, not in use, that they could lend, are requested to notify Mrs. Carmichael at the Red Cross rooms.

The piano has not been received as yet. Apples are provided every day, and plenty of magazines are on hand. The boys, however, would like some books.

SOLDIERS AT BEN HUR PLANT MUST HAVE FOOD

Folks in Willoughby are finding out that soldiers must have food. Local people who have been conducting restaurants and lunch rooms, the Willoughby Inn and J. C. McCarthy, have had urgent and unexpected calls made upon them. Starting at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the Willoughby Inn was converted, temporarily at least, into a government mess house. The soldier boys will have their own cook. They will serve themselves and clean up their own dishes. Mr. Pinkerton will provide the food. At present this arrangement will take care of about 75 boys, about 35 or 40 new arrivals having reached Willoughby. J. C. McCarthy has also been advised that his restaurant must be utilized, and much activity was in evidence there Tuesday, securing a cook, help and necessary equipment. Mr. McCarthy has not been serving meals for some time past. Regular patrons will be served at the Inn as usual when space provides. During the time that the soldiers are being served most of the space is necessarily taken. As it does not take a great while to serve the boys, by arranging their time, regular patrons have been served almost as usual. There is little or no complaint. Everyone is only too glad to do all in their power to help serve the boys.

A LINE FROM MRS. GRAY.

Willoughby friends will be interested in this line from Mrs. Gray, wife of Lieut. Gray:

Alexandria, La., Aug. 7, 1918.

I guess you'll think we jump around pretty fast, but such are "fortunes of war."

Lt. Gray is now at Camp Beauregard, La. Camp Pike, at Little Rock, is a replacement camp, so the men are usually not kept there very long. This is a division camp and 27,000 men have arrived to be trained. Lt. is com. officer of Co. B with 400 men in charge, so it means he will be pretty busy. Don't know how long we will be here, but will you kindly send paper to him at Camp Beauregard, Co. B, Construction Battalion.

This is an old Civil War town, but the camp will be its making. Thank you kindly. ALICE GRAY.

HAROLD GRAY WRITES LETTER FROM FRANCE

The following letter has been received by the parents of Harold Gray:

Dear Mother: Have got settled once more and am having a fine time.

Are getting the best of eats and everything we want.

Just getting ready for supper, so will not have much time to write you. The towns are very pretty here and are all built of stone.

Every town is built right together, so it looks just like one house. The fields are just great, only that it is awfully hilly here. Was just down to the creek, taking a bath, for we have no bath rooms here at all.

Tell dad if he wants to see some very nice clean fields and garden he wants to come over here, for it is just great. It is an awfully hard job to write a letter over here; have to be so quiet. How are grandpa and grandma getting along? Are they still well or not? Give Francis and Santford my best.

Will close for this time, for it is getting late. Give my love to all and tell them to write. My address:

HAROLD A. GRAY,
Co. C. 112th Engrs., American E. F.
A. P. C. 763.

Send over some of the news, for do not get any here.

Censored by John N. E. Trout, Capt. 112th Engineers.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Miss Verne, and five sons, Warren, Frank, Charles, Homer and Henry Goodrich. The funeral services were held Tuesday, the Rev. L. P. McCulloch officiating.

Mrs. Elwine Hall Goodrich was born in Willoughby November 15th, 1844. Her marriage to Henry R. Goodrich occurred March 8th, 1870. Seven sons and one daughter were born of the union, one son dying in infancy. Mrs. Goodrich was of a cheerful, loving disposition, and her home was always filled with friends. These friends at the last sad rites covered her with the beautiful flowers she loved.

The funeral was private and very simple, carrying out the wishes of the deceased. Interment was made in the Willoughby cemetery.

Sir William Goode of the British Food Ministry, says that from July, 1917, to April 1918, the United States exported to the allies 80,000,000 bushels of wheat products. Of this it is asserted that 50,000,000 bu. represented voluntary sacrifices by the American people in their consumption of wheat.

MARCHING SONG OF THE ALLIES.

By Alice E. Hanscom, Willoughby, Ohio.

The Great Adventure now is on! Its summons we have heard!
Our marching feet make answer how our spirits have been stirred!
The world shall know and God shall see that we answer at His word
Coming, coming—
To help our brother man.
Coming, coming—you shall hear us,
Coming, coming—you shall see us,
we'll be with you
To help our brother man.

On cruelty and terror and on falsehood we invoke
The thunder and the earthquake and the clouds of battle smoke,
With splendor of the lightning for a righteous vengeance-stroke.
To help our brother man.
Refrain:

The spirit of the demon that would call the earth its own,
For all its savage fierceness shall be utterly o'erthrown.
The Yankee boys from over seas will make their presence known
To help our brother man.
Refrain:

Now may the stars upon our flag speak good cheer to your glance,
Heroic sons of Italy, ye steadfast souls of France.
We're here to answer at command, "Now let the line advance!"
To help our brother man.
Refrain:

To be sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

HORACE NICHOLS HAS EXCITING EXPERIENCE

A Willoughby man was mixed up in the $27,000.00 payroll robbery of the Walker Co. in Cleveland a short time ago. It was an unexpected experience for him, but none the less exciting. Horace Nichols, contractor, was working on the Highland Road culvert job, the first stop past the Euclid Creek, when a car carrying the policeman and Mr. Walker drove up. Just previous a car had passed, and the excited condition of the occupants had caused Mr. Nichols to believe they were driving a stolen car. The policemen in the second car invited him to jump in. He did so, knowing nothing of their mission, excepting to assume they were getting small holdup men. "I never rode so fast in my life," Mr. Nichols said. "We flew. All we could see of the car we were pursuing was the dust." When the outlaws were overtaken, as was recounted in the papers, a regular fusillade of bullets ensued. One of the policemen, shot in the eyes, will lose his sight. All the men, Mr. Nichols stated, including himself, ducked behind the car. "It was a cool bunch," he said. Conversation was exchanged between the robbers and the policemen as they fired at each other. In their efforts to get away they dropped the bag. "Do you know what is in this bag?" Mr. Walker asked Mr. Nichols. "There is $27,000.00 in it!" No wonder life seemed a little tame to Mr. Nichols after this experience.

SEARS-ROEBUCK MUST STOP METHOD OF ADVERTISING CHEAP SUGAR.

Sears, Roebuck & Co. have been ordered to "cease and desist" from advertising in a manner objected to by the Federal Trade Commission.

The advertising that caused the rumpus was that offering sugar for a sale. The commission found the sugar was sold below cost, but that the firm made money by selling it in connection with some other articles. The firm advertised that it could sell at the prices offered because of its immense turnover of sugar, which did not satisfy the commission.

NEWS FROM WAITE HILL

Waite Hill, Aug. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Duncan, of the Parkhurst farm, are expecting friends from the West to visit them this week. They are now in Detroit. Mr. Duncan will meet them in Cleveland.

Mrs. Parkhurst entertained quite a large company of lady friends from Cleveland Sunday.

People in the city like to get out in the country this sweltering weather, if only for one day, where they can get under the shade of a tree.

Mrs. Champlin, of Wickliffe, was a guest of her son, Chas. Burt and family, Friday and Saturday last week.

Mrs. Constaple, from Cleveland, is a guest of Mrs. Lilly for a few days. They are old school friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johns, of Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bidlake, of Painesville, were callers at Walter Baldwin's Sunday.

Miss Bessie Duncan went to the city with Miss Parkhurst and spent the day there.

Mr. Buckner and family, our telephone operator, Mr. Will Curwell and sister, Miss Clara, and the Bealls family attended the reunion Friday of the Chester seminary, and an enjoyable time was had.

Tuesday the W. C. T. U. ladies and their families will picnic at the M. D. Beall farm.

Sunday morning an auto load of soldiers went over Waite Hill going south. We probably wouldn't have known anything about it if they hadn't stopped to get water for their engine. It looks good to see the soldiers all in uniform, and these must have all been officers, too, judging from their fine uniforms.

Mrs. Duncan received a letter from her son Saturday, who had arrived overseas safely and had only been gone three weeks. He says he is well and all right.

Mrs. Lilley, Mrs. Webster, Mrs. Rockafeller, Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. Wickes have recently received letters from their sons, who have all arrived safely overseas. Also Mrs. Culp received a letter Saturday from her brother, Russell Davidson, who has been over there since June, and says he's all right, but would like to be at home, so guess he might be a trifle homesick.

Mr. Chas. Burt and family will attend the funeral of Mrs. Henry Goodrich, of Willoughby, this Tuesday p. m. Mrs. Goodrich passed away Sunday, having been in poor health for some time. She was an aunt of Mrs. Burt and Mrs. Hadlack.

Tannenbaums are busy today threshing that 30-acres field of oats, but it's not so interesting as it was to see them reaped with their Fordson tractor, which drew quite a number of interested spectators.

Mr. Hessey, of Tannenbaum, has purchased a car.

A letter from Edwin Rockafellow by his mother Monday morning says they'd probably pass through Willoughby about the 20th, bound for New York, which means, of course, they'll soon sail for over there.

The Saints' reunion commences Wednesday and people are arriving to attend and are planning a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Martin (nee Vera Crawford) are here from Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stoner, of Cleveland, were guests of Irwin Hadlock and family several days the past week.

Sam Curry and wife, from Pittsburgh, cousin of Mrs. W. C. Metcalf, are here to attend the Saints' reunion.

The Waite Hill Sewing Circle was entertained by Mrs. Emma Rice August 1st.

At last accounts Harold Palmer was still alive after being severely wounded, and we're hoping he'll get well and return home.

The primaries are being held today, the 13th, unlucky day, but I for one don't believe in having primaries, as there isn't one in fifty that attend and only a few can have their say, but that seems to be the way of the world nowadays.

Mr. E. J. Williams is still quite ill and not able to get out yet.

A farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Becker will picnic at the lake this Tuesday eve. About 50 people will take part. Mr. and Mrs. B. will leave in the near future for their home in the West, but they're leaving many staunch friends here.

THE women of this community are sacrificing everything in their unselfish efforts to defeat Autocracy in its fiendish desire to rule the world. Many of the things they are doing in Liberty's cause will be demonstrated by the women's department of our Fair. If you hold your Country's interest at heart, and aspire to become more efficient, you must not miss the Lake County Fair, Painesville, Sept. 10-13.

HOW A MENTOR MAN FINDS LIFE IN INDIA

By L. A. Tinkham

The following extracts from recent letters received from India from Mr. L. A. Tinker of West Mentor, who was sent by the Coe Manufacturing Co. of Painesville to install a veneering plant at Bhanza, India, will be found of great interest:

Bhanza Bazar, May 8.

This is cool weather now. The hottest that I have seen it since I have been here is 90 degrees in the shade. It is the rainy season now and the warm weather is during the wet season. The month of May and September are the hottest months but they get the most rain in June, July and August. We are drinking rain water now. We boil it, then filter it before we drink it, so you see we are always on the safe side.

Mr. McLain, the oil well driller, from Bradford, Pa., was out hunting a few days ago. He got a wild pig, a deer and had four shot at a tiger, but didn't get it. He hunted on elephants. We are going to a place in the hills 60 miles from here in the morning to stay until Saturday. The saw mill company are going to build a cottage or bungalow either in the hills or at the sea coast for the benefit of its employes so we are going up to look for a site. I am getting along slowly with my work, not doing as much as I could in the states because it takes some time to get supplies. I can't talk the lingo yet, but I can make the Indians understand what I want them to do and when I once get them to do anything and do it correctly they will always do it just as I have shown them, but if one should try to have them do anything another way from the one that they are used to, they can't see the reason why they should change the old for the new. In the morning when I meet any of them they salute and say "salamm," that means "Good morning." Yesterday we took a ride in the motor launch. Got back at 12:30, cleaned up and had our breakfast. We call it lunch at home. Then I had a sleep of two hours. Got up, had tea at 4:30, then went up to Mr. Blair's bungalow (Mr. Blair is manager of plant) and played tennis. You ought to see me play. I know you would laugh. I have to laugh myself. But it is good exercise and we need a great deal of it. There are seven of us here at present, five men and two ladies.

Mr. Dennis, my cabin mate, on steamer, went to Sachi to install a steel plant that he had taken down in Alabama. Sachi is on road from Calcutta to Bombay, while I am northeast from Calcutta 400 miles. Mr. Dennis writes in one of his letters about having 1,600 native women working for him. They are helping to excavate for the foundation of the steel plant. They carry the dirt in buckets on their heads. They looked like ants as they went along, one string going in empty and the other coming loaded. They work for five cents a day in our money.

We are finishing an electric light plant. We will have lights in all of the bungalows and also fans and lights in the plant. The bungalows here have a porch that is nearly half as large as the bungalow. Some of them have it screened in while others only have a part of it screened and the part that is screened they call the mosquito room. At night we sleep in a mosquito net. It is large enough for me to stand up and walk all around the bed, so you see that I can sleep in peace so far as Mr. Mosquito is concerned. I wish that you could see how comfortable I am situated and how well I look. (No, I didn't say anything about being good looking but I haven't felt better in a long time.) Wish you could all be here for awhile, only the white people have not any school. When the children get to be six or seven they are sent back to England or Scotland to be educated.

The wives of the higher classes are called the Babu, that is a name that they go by and I'll tell you about the classes some time.

When the wives go away they are carried by four men, they have a little ox like; it is about four feet long, 3 feet wide and 3½ feet high. It is just a frame covered with thin white cloth; looks like muslin. I can see the outline of the woman but can't see her features. A white man never sees her face.

They have a high fence built all around their house or bungalow so a person can't see in, but they can see out. There are three classes around here, the Babu coolies and still lower classes. I don't now what they are called. The man I have for a servant is what they a Muselman. He is a fine looking man and I dont have to scold him. He does his work just so every time. I had to show him how I wanted things done and when he learned how it seemed to tickle him. I taught him to tie a double bow knot and you ought to have seen his face when he saw me tie it and let him untie it and tie it again.

FIVE PER CENT AND SAFETY

There are few banks in the City of Cleveland that have shown a more rapid and healthy growth than the Depositors' Savings & Loan Co., 11735 Detroit Avenue, Lakewood. Organized for the purpose of promoting home-building, economy and thrift, they have gathered together as officers and directors a body of successful and representative men, alert and watchful of the interests of the bank and its depositors and everyone doing his share in promoting its growth. With a subscribed capital of $750,000 they are making a specialty of loans on first mortgages only for the building of moderate priced homes. With a policy of security, safety, courteous treatment and a superior rate of interest—5% on time deposits—it is easy to understand the rapid growth and increasing popularity of the company. Standard Theater

Week of August 18th the Standard Theater presents Louise Glaum and a company of co-stars in her latest success entitled "Wedlock," in which play she again portrays her ability as an actress, not only in the role of a vampire, as she has heretofore displayed, but as an innocent girl and later as a loving wife. Her career in this play starts as a telephone operator in a large hotel, where she meets and marries in secret a wealthy young man, whose parents later annul the marriage. His business troubles finally land him in prison, from where he escapes and again meets his former wife. She now is also a wealthy woman, but still in love with him. They reunite and are happier and wiser, as the old story goes.

Empire Theater

With a new production and a company exceptionally well selected, "The Tempters" are brought to the Empire theater by Manager Jack McNamara the week starting Monday.

"The Tempters" long has held a reputation as a burlesque organization, and the present production should serve to augment the reputation which it enjoys. Max Field and Sam Winters are featured among the fun makers, with Fred Dale, William Davis, Lenora Butler, Marie Elmer, Dolly Winters and the Stanton Sisters. Field is known for his Hebrew impersonations, and Sid Winters is accredited with being one of the best Irish comedians. One of the features are the Stantons, who sing and dance and display an unusual wardrobe.

The production is elaborate. The scenes range from an "Uncle Tom" travesty to the Grand Central Station in New York. The score is new and catchy; the comedy is clean and fast, and a hard working chorus rouns out a mighty good entertainment.

Star Theater

"Brand new from cover to cover, like a best seller fresh from the press," is the promise made for the Al Reeves' Big Beauty Show, which comes to the Star Theater for a week's engagement commencing with the matinee performance on August 19th. Full of zippy songs, including all the latest jingly melodies of New York's latest hits, replete with new laugh provoking comedy bits, packed with innumerable vaudeville specialties and aided and abetted by a chorus of 24 girls, who sing and dance, are the claims that are made in advance for the production. The company Mr. Reeves has secured includes some of the best known favorites in burlesque today. There are also two added attractions, namely, Big Four Quartet and a series of reproductions of the master works of canvas and sculpture of living models.

AUTO TOURS

The ideal time for a motor trip is during the month of August or early in September, and many motorists are now en route.

To those traveling either east or west the ever popular "motor steamer" trip in connection with C. & B. Line steamers between Cleveland and Buffalo is very alluring. With the low round trip rate of $7.50 and special service provided for automobilists, the tourist is quick to take advantage of the opportunity of breaking the monotony of the land journey, enjoy a comfortable night's sleep on Lake Erie, make progress of 183 miles on his journey and awake refreshed and eager to resume his auto trip early the next morning.

The great ship "Seeandbee" or modern stemer "City of Buffalo" leaves Cleveland daily at 8:00 p. m., arriving in Buffalo following morning at 6:30 (U. S. central time).

Either one of the above steamers leaves Buffalo daily at 9:00 p. m., arriving Cleveland following morning at 8:00 (U. S. eastern time).

This $7.50 round trip rate is made for automobiles 127 inches wheel base or under (over 127 inches wheel base $12.00) good for return within two days.

Colonial Theater

D. W. GRIFFITH'S "HEARTS OF THE WORLD" AT THE COLONIAL.

That D. W. Griffith's latest masterpiece, "Hearts of the World," now running at the Colonial Theater, has caught Cleveland in a whirlwind of enthusiasm there can be no doubt.

Its reception on Monday night of last week brought forth a demonstration by a representative audience, which filled the house to the doors, seldom accorded a stage production in a local theater. They laughed! They wept! And they shouted! Before the end of the week the great production was doing a record-breaking business; thousands were turned away unable to gain admission. Consequently it is being held over for another week and perhaps longer.

"Hearts of the World" has established a new record for even a Griffith production. That it is a most unusual achievement is evident from the fact that David Lloyd George and other high officials of the British and French nations not only gave Mr. Griffith their most hearty co-operation in taking the principal scenes, but personally appear in the play.

Contrary to the general opinion, this latest of the Griffith works is not a war play. It is described by Mr. Griffith himself as "the sweetest love story ever told." It was written by Maston de Tolignac and translated from the French by Captain Victor Marier. The story is in two parts, the first revealing the life of an ordinary French family before the war, and the second the experiences of these people when the great conflict brings its grim realities to their doors.

The majority of the scenes in "Hearts of the World" are described as great moving paintings that might have been conceived by the world's greatest artists, their beauty and grandeur far excelling anything ever before attempted even by the master hand of the indomitable Griffith. The scenes were taken on the very battle field where the American boys are now driving the Huns so fast that they are having a hard time to keep up with them.

"Hearts of the World" is from all reports the biggest production of all times and it surely has captivated Cleveland.

Our American boys at the front wake up in the night if the cannonading stops. What shall we do when they come home to ensure them sound sleep? Naturally they cannot all live next door to boiler factories.

LEGAL NOTICE

John P. Fish, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, and —— Fish, first and real name unknown, wife or widow of said John P. Fish, all of whose places of residence are unknown, and the names of the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Henry L. Schwab, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession and occupancy of the following described premises, to wit:

Situated in the Township of Parma County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of orginal lot No. 24 in the Ely Tract in said Township of Parma, and is bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center of York Street Road, and the northwest corner of land owned by John Dennerle; thence east along said John Dennerle's north line, 52.03 chains, to the east line of said lot No. 24; thence north along said east line, 4.90 chains to the southeast corner of land owned by said Lewis Schwaub; thence west along said Schwaub's north line, 52 03-100 chains to the center of said York Street Road; thence south along the center of said Road, 4 90-100 chains to the place of beginning containing 25.49 acres of land, and being the same premises conveyed by Christian Tauber and wife to Lewis Schwaub by deed dated April 23 1872, and recorded in Volume 204 Page 573 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges that the defendants above named claim some interest or estate in the above described premises hostile and adverse to plaintiff's rights, for the reason that no conveyance appears of record in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, from the said John P. Fish. The petition alleges that the said John P. Fish, who in the year 1843, was the owner of said premises, was the son of James Fish, and brother of one Isiah W. Fish; that on May 1st, 1843, by deed recorded in Vol. 64, page 22 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish, then the owner of said premises, conveyed the same to the defendant, John P. Fish. The plaintiff believes, and therefore, alleges, the fact to be, that the said defendant, John P. Fish intended and actually did reconvey the above described premises to the said James Fish, but that by reason of the inadvertence and mistake, oversight and carelessness of the said grantee, the said conveyance was not, and does not appear of record in this County.

The petition further alleges that by deed dated April 4th, 1864, and recorded in Vol 126, page 629 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish and wife conveyed the above described premises to Isiah W. Fish that since said time, the title to said premises has come down in unbroken chain of title to this plaintiff.

The petition further alleges that none of said defendants have any interest whatsoever in said premises that no person or persons claiming thru or under them, has ever sought to enforce, attempted to convey, or exercise any interest or ownership in said premises since April 4th, 1864 that as against said defendants, this plaintiff and his predecessors in title have had, held and been in actual open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of said premises for more than twenty-one years last past that said defendants have no interest whatsoever in said premises, and that any right that they, or anyone of them may have had, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the statute of limitations.

The prayer of said petition is that the said defendants may be compelled to show their claim and interest in said premises, or any part thereof or be forever barred; that said claim or claims may be judged null and void; that plaintiff's title may be quieted against any and all claims of said defendants, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164918 and the defendants above named are required to answer the same on or before the [illegible]

O'Brien, deceased, and the unknown heirs of Margaret Halligan, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Charles J. Graves, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner of the following described premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. four (4) in J. H. McArthur's Allotment of part of original Brooklyn Township lot No. 56, as shown by the recorded plat of said allotment in Volume 13 of Maps, page 4 of Cuyahoga County Records. Said sublot No. four (4) has a frontage of 40 feet on the southerly side of Archwood Avenue, S. W. (formerly Greenwood Street) and extends back 196 6-10 feet on the easterly line, 187 3-10 feet on the westerly line and has a rear line of 40 84-100 feet, as appears by said plat, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that on the 18th day of April, 1894, the plaintiff conveyed said land to Margaret Halligan by warranty deed, which deed is recorded in Volume 528, page 353 of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, records; that said deed was given and transfer made to said Margaret Halligan, without consideration, in trust, for the following purposes: That said Margaret Halligan should hold the legal title to said land as trustee for plaintiff, and erect a house on said lot and the said Margaret Halligan was to re-convey to this plaintiff said premises when the saidplaintiffshould have paid the said Margaret Halligan any sums advanced by her in erecting a house on said land.

The petition further alleges that [illegible] the above facts the above named defendants claim some interest in said land, and that the claims appear as a cloud upon his title to said premises.

The prayer of said petition is that the Court find that the said Margaret Halligan held said property in trust for the plaintiff; that the plaintiff was, and is the actual owner of said premises; that his title be quieted against any claim or right of the heirs of said Margaret Halligan, deceased, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164890 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

Laughlin and Ethel M. Laughlin, as plaintiffs, have filed their petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that they are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession of the following described premises, to-wit:

Situated in the Village of Dover, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being part of original Dover Township lot No. 68, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a monument on the center line of Hall Road (60 feet wide), said center line being the westerly line of said original lot No. 68 at a point 212 feet southerly (measured along said center line) from a stone at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by Cyrus W. Laughlin and wife, to Frank B. Laughlin by deed dated November 25th, 1899, and recorded in Volume 724, page 492 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence north 88 degrees 55′ east on line parallel with the northerly line of land so conveyed to Frank B. Laughlin, 256 feet to a monument; thence southerly on a line parallel with said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to a monument; thence south 88 degrees 55′ west 256 feet to a monument on said center line of Hall Road; thence northerly along said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to the place of beginning, and containing 1 acre of land, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that the defendants, the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Moses Hall, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, hostile and adverse to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the said Moses Hall, and a cloud is, thereby, cast on plaintiff's title. The petition alleges that Moses Hall died seized of the above described property some time prior to July 31st, 1837, and left as his only heirs at law, John Hall, Barnabas Hall, Charles Hall, Reuben C. Hall, Edwin Hall, Nancy Ingersoll, Eliza R. Parker, Anna Williams, Lucy Strong and Martha Bassett, that after the death of the said Moses Hall, and prior to said July 31st, 1837, the said Martha Bassett died leaving as her only heirs at law and next of kin, and therefore heirs at law of said Moses Hall, deceased, her husband, Nathan Bassett, and her daughters, Vesta Sanford, Lydia R. Porter, Lucy E. Hurst, Martha Bassett, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett; that all the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, excepting Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, who were then minors, on July 31st 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them in trust, all the right, title and interest in and to the above described land and other lands of which the said Moses Hall died seized, said trustees and the survivor of them thereby being vested with full power and authority to sell and convey said lands; that Nathan Bassett died some time prior to May 2nd 1842, and that thereafter by virtue of said trust, the said John Hall, the survivor of said trustees, conveyed by warranty deed the above described premises and more lands, to George W. Laughlin, by deed dated July 25th. 1844, and recorded in Vol. 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges further that the defendants, John Richardson, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Richardson, deceased claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights by reason of the fact that the said John Richardson in his life time entered into a contract with Moses Hall for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, and that said John Richardson some time prior to July 25th 1844, sold assigned and transferred said contract for the purchase of Lot No 68 to George W. Laughlin, who immediately took possession of said premises. The said George W. Laughlin, assignee of the said John Richardson having complied with the terms of said contract, demanded and received from the said John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, a deed duly executed to the premises above described and other lands, which said deed is duly recorded in Vol 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Ohio Deed Records. The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and by reason thereof aver it to be a fact that said contract was duly assigned and delivered to the said George W. Laughlin, and that said contract and the assignment thereof were never delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County for record as provided by law, but were lost and have been destroyed.

The petition alleges that the defendants, John Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Hall, deceased; Barnabas Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Barnabas Hall, deceased; Charles Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Charles Hall deceased; Reuben C. Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Reuben C. Hall, deceased; Edwin Hall and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Edwin Hall, deceased; Nancy Ingersoll, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Ingersoll, deceased; Eliza R. Parker, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Eliza R. Parker, deceased; Anna Williams, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Anna Williams, deceased; Lucy Strong, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy Strong, deceased; Martha Bassett, Sr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Sr., deceased; Vesta Sanford [illegible] devisees of Lucy E. Hurst, deceased; Martha Bassett, Jr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Jr., deceased, claim some interest or title or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, adverse and hostile to plaintiff's rights, by reason of the fact that they were the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and as such heirs at law, on the 31st day of July, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them, a deed in trust to the premises above described, which said premises were by the defendant, John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, sold and conveyed to George W. Laughlin. Said defendants claim that the defendant, John Richardson, did not sell and assign his said land contract for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, to said George W. Laughlin, but that the said defendant, John Richardson, defaulted and failed to perform the covenants thereof, and to complete said land contract, in accordance with the terms thereof, and that said lot No. 68 thereby reverted to and vested in the aforesaid defendants, as heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and that the said John Hall, as trustee, by virtue of the aforesaid deed of July 31st, 1837, was without authority in the premises to sell and convey said premises.

The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe and by reason thereof, aver it to be a fact that the aforesaid defendants, subsequent to July 31st, 1837, and prior to July 25, 1844, and in the manner provided for and set forth in the aforesaid trust deed, agreed to, and did authorize said trustee to sell and convey said premises to George W. Laughlin, and that by virtue of such authority in the premises, the said John Hall sold and conveyed the above described premises by warranty deed duly executed and delivered to said George W. Laughlin, and accounted for the proceeds therefrom to the said defendants, who were entitled to receive the same.

The petition further alleges that by reason of said authority conferred upon said trustee, all right, title and interest of every nature and kind, which they or any one of them had, or might have had in and to said premises, were by said deed of July 25th, 1844, conveyed to the said George W. Laughlin.

The petition further alleges that the defendants, Nancy Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Bassett, deceased; Harriet Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Harriet Bassett, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the defendants, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, and a cloud is thereby cast upon plaintiffs' title, and the petition alleges further that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and therefore, aver it to be a fact that at some time subsequent to July 25th, 1844, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett sold and conveyed all the interest, right and title that they and each of them had in and to said above described real estate, to George W. Laughlin, since deceased, by good and sufficient deed, duly executed therefor to the said grantee, who was then in possession of said premises, but that said deed was not delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, for record, as provided by law, and that said deed has been lost and destroyed.

The petition further alleges that the plaintiffs and their predecessors and ancestors in the chain of title, have held said premises for many years last past, by direct, clear and indefeasible title, in fee simple, without any adverse claims whatsoever having been made against said lands by anyone of said defendants; that none of said defendants, nor any one of them, has heretofore ever attempted to convey, or sought to enforce any interest, or exercise any ownership or interest in said premises whatsoever, and that any claim they, or anyone of them make, or may make, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the Ohio Statute of limitations, but that the alleged claims constitute a cloud upon plaintiffs' title, and that the plaintiffs and their ancestors, predecessors and grantors have been in actual, exclusive, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of the above described premises since the 25th day of July A. D. 1844.

The prayer of said petition is that each and all of said defendants may be notified of the pendency of said cause of action, and that unless they shall each of them come into Court and set forth their respective claims, they shall forever be barred therefrom; that each and all of the claims of said defendants may be adjudged null and void; that plaintiffs' title may be quieted against the defendants' claims, and each and every one of them may be enjoined from asserting such claims against said real estate; and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164955 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 14th of Septembr, 1918.

D. 1918, Edward V. Leslie filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, being action No. 165132, against them and each of them, setting forth that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual and peaceable possession of the following described real estate:

Situated in the City of East Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of original Euclid Township Lot No. 44 and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning one (1) chain and eighty-four (84) links south forty and three-fourths (40¾) degrees east from the northeast corner of land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated August 27, 1846, and recorded in Volume 39, page 345, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records; thence south forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees west fifty (50) links; thence south forty and three fourths (40¾) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and three-fourths (49¾) degrees west fifty (50) links to the place of beginning, containing four (4) square rods of land and being the same land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated October 6, 1849, and recorded in Volume 61, page 528, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records.

Said petition further states that the said premises were conveyed to H. Adeline Spring, the grantor of the plaintiff, on the 21st day of January, 1880, by deed duly executed and delivered, that on said 21st day of January, 1880, H. Adeline Spring took actual and absolute possession of said real estate under said grant and held possession, actual, open, continuous, adverse, notorious and exclusive until the 11th day of April, 1913, at which time she conveyed to the plaintiff by deed duly executed and delivered and that the plaintiff ever since said conveyance to him has held actual, open, adverse, continuous, notorious and exclusive possession of said premises. That such possession ever since the 21st day of January, 1880, has been wholly adverse to the claims and interests of the defendants. That all of the defendants claim an estate or interest in said real estate adverse to plaintiff's rights therein, the nature and extent of which plaintiff is unable to state. That by reason thereof a cloud is cast upon the title to plaintiff's real estate which greatly and unjustly depreciates the value. That none of the defendants herein have any right, title or interest in said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants herein may be compelled to set forth their interests in said real estate, if any they have, and that the claims of said defendants and each of them be adjudged to be null and void and said plaintiff's title may be quieted against said defendants' claims and that they and each of them be enjoined from asserting such claim against such real estate, that the cloud thereon may be removed and for such other and further relief as equity and the nature of the case [illegible]

WIDE, BEAUTIFULLY CURVING STREETS

Their Value to Your Home:—

The character of the street on which your home is built is an important and permanent factor in its attractiveness, desirability and value.

The streets in the Willoughby-Euclid Ave. Sub-Division have been laid out on beautiful, gracefully curving lines, with corrent grades, 60 feet wide.

Five-Foot stone walks are placed at the property line. Between the walk and curb will be a 12-foot lawn strip with a staggered row of shade trees. Paved roadways, from curb to curb, will be 26 feet wide. Houses are set back 40 feet from the walks, thus giving 140 feet across the street between houses in front.

Wide, beautiful streets are a permanent asset to every home built on them. And we believe there are no other streets, either in Cleveland or Willoughby, where so many advantages obtain, on which lots can be bought at such reasonable prices.

The Willoughby-Euclid Ave. Sub-Division is "the place for your home." Big lots, 80x200, $640 up. Very easy terms. Representatives on the property Saturday afternoons and Sundays.

TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR—NO. 24. WILLOUGHBY, O., AUGUST 23, 1918 ONE DOLLAR AND TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

S. S. WILSON RE-ELECTED MANAGER ANDREWS' SCHOOL

After many weeks of negotiations with representatives of the Independent Order of Foresters and a committee appointed by the board of trustees of the Andrews Institute for Girls several plans had been worked out to sell the latter's holdings in the New York Steam Company to the fraternal organization. One plan had been practically agreed upon, when counsel employed by the school in Toronto advised against it. Failing to consummate a sale on other grounds, the committee of the Institute felt that the school's interest must be protected, and the board authorized the foreclosure of the underlying mortgages upon the Steam property held by the school. These proceedings were commenced last Saturday in New York, with the further understanding that further proceedings be commenced to ask for a receiver, provided a final meeting on Saturday with representatives of the Foresters failed to effect a sale.

Messrs. Stevenson and Cottrelle, of the Foresters, met the board and committee and officers of the Cleveland Trust Company last Saturday. All members of the Andrews board were present except the governor. It was the earnest effort of all to arrive at some conclusion which would protect the interests of both parties during the troublesome times which the New York Steam Company, a public service corporation, is now experiencing.

A resolution was presented, again delegating full authority and confidence in the committee, consisting of Messrs. Van Gorder, Hammar and Wilson, to negotiate further with the Foresters or apply for receiver on Monday. This resolution received four affirmative votes and one negative, there being but five of the board members present, as Mr. Emerson had left. Mr. Van Gorder refused to serve unless it was unanimous. After further conference another resolution was presented to have the officers apply for receiver of the Steam Company, with Mr. St. John acting as a joint receiver with the representatives of the Foresters. This resolution was passed on the following votes:

Mr. St. John—Aye.
Mr. Carmichael—Aye.
Mr. Whitcomb—Aye.
Mr. Van Gorder—Nay.
Mr. Kennedy—Nay.

It was thought at this time that a joint receivership could be had, but there might be objection on the part of the Union Trust Company as trustee under the mortgage.

Mr. Wilson was re-elected as general manager on the basis of $5,000 for as much of his time as necessary for the interest of the school, without any fixed date or term.

G. C. ST. JOHN APPOINTED RECEIVER FOR NEW YORK STEAM COMPANY

Later.

Judge Knox, of the Federal Court, New York district, appointed the following joint receivers for the New York Steam Co.: Mr. G. C. St. John, representing the school; Mr. G. R. Hurd, a New York attorney, representing the Foresters of Toronto, and Mr. Wm. F. Fitts, a New York attorney, representing the court. These gentlemen qualified Tuesday afternoon by furnishing bond to the amount of $100,000.00.

Mr. Frieberger, vice president of the Cleveland Trust Co., stated Thursday, that the receivership sought by the school, was inevitable, and in his judgment, would work out to the best interests of the Institute. Mr. Frieberger expressed considerable interest in the re-appointment of Mr. Wilson as general manager of the school. Mr. Wilson, he said, had shown heart-whole interest in every detail of the affairs of the Institute and had given unstintedly of his time and efforts. In his judgment, with Mr. Wilson's knowledge and ability, the school could not afford to follow any other course, he said.

Messrs. Wilson and Hammar have been in New York the greater part of the week.

ELEVEN AIRPLANES ATTRACT MUCH ATTENTION AT WILLOWICK.

Eleven British and American airplanes were at the Willowick Club Saturday and Sunday, makiing flights Sunday only. The flight at 3 p. m. was witnessed by thousands of people. It was a magnificent spectacle. The Rush Road was filled with autos. Traffic was stopped on the Lake Shore boulevard, some machines being stationed a mile away from the grounds. About 80 people were in the airplane party engaging meals at the Willowick. The guards were provided with cots on the ground, and some of the men returned to Cleveland and stayed in their sleeping cars for the night.

MARK TWAIN WRITES TO THE OLD SUBSCRIBER

When Mark Twain was editor of a Missouri paper a superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The humorist wrote him this answer:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

It's just as much fun to put $50.00 into War Savings Stamps as it is to buy $50,000.00 worth of railroad bonds.

KIRTLAND SOLDIER BOY WRITES ABOUT FARMING AND MANY OTHER INTERESTING SIGHTS IN FRANCE.

This very interesting letter from France was written to Mrs. O. S. McFarland, of Kirtland, by her nephew, Private Orville E. Allen, Battery "A," 56th artillery, P. O. 723, American E. F., France. We are very glad to have the privilege of presenting it to our readers:

Dear Aunt and All: Just a few lines to let you know I am well and like it fine. This has been a rainy week and awfully chilly. We need all of our blankets for covering every night. I am going to an auto school. I have only been here a week, but I may be here for a month. I was out with a truck Friday and got along fine. Well, I have been in France three months, and only three more and we will get our "service stripe." I went down town last night and had a feed, and it cost me ten francs; that is two dollars in American money. I was made first-class private a few days ago. I will draw three dollars a month more. I am writing on my mess pan, and it doesn't make a very good writing table.

June 28th—Well, I have only one week more of school, and then we are going back to our battery. That is what we hope. We are going on a long convoy tomorrow, with all the trucks and cars. Last week we were out at night. Have to drive in the dark with only tail lights on.

We have Packards and Whites, also a number of trucks of French make. The soldiers are coming in fast. There is a bunch of drafted men, who just came in this p. m. They said they have only been in France a week. There is a lot of wounded French soldiers that just came in last week. There must have been 300, for there was a train load, and they were wounded in every way you could think of, but they were anxious to get back to the front. Most all of them are in the infantry, but some are in all branches of service. So you don't like to think about the place we have to sleep in. You don't want to let a small thing like that worry you, Leola, for this is a fine place, though no feather beds or electric lights. Sleep? I can sleep in a corner and rest. I sleep better here than I did at home. Go to bed every night at nine or half-past, and never hear anything until the first call in the morning, at a quarter of six; then we have ten minutes to get dressed and get out for reveille.

July 7th—Hope you had a good time the 4th of July. We had a big parade the 4th, in which three regiments took part. They say that it was two miles long. I did not see the end of it, as our battery was in the lead. Was pretty tired that night, for we were with heavy machinery order. The people certainly cheered us as we passed through the streets and showered us with roses. In the afternoon there were races and games just like field day at home.

We are having some warm weather now. Makes a fellow hunt for the shade (that is, when he has a chance). Am sending you a picture, not very good, though, but maybe you can tell who it is.

July 16, Le Cendre, France—Just got the Plain Dealers you sent me. I like to have them to read in the evenings, as we don't know anything about the war over here. Well, believe me, they well named this place when they named it "Sunny France," for the sun certainly does come down some. The farmers are busy cutting their wheat, but they don't have machines as we do in the States; they have little sickles and cut it like we do corn at home, and that is one thing that I haven't seen yet, is corn. They must not be able to raise it here. There is a man in town this week making everybody a pair of wooden shoes for winter. He takes a long log about eight inches through and cuts it into blocks about a foot long, then he has an ax and three chisels and he has a pair of shoes in about an hour. Believe me, he makes every move count. He has to, for he only charges four francs, or eighty cents, but if I were to go in there he would charge me ten francs for a pair. These people have got it in for the American boys, for if they see anything they want they get it if they have the money. They know we always pay. Yes, I got your picture and it was good. I have cut them out and carry them in my pocketbook. We are going out on target practice tomorrow. Will be there a week or so, then back to this burg again. Well, I will close for this time. This leaves me well and in good health. Love to all.

FIVE HUNDRED GIRLS WANTED TO REGISTER FOR LAKE COUNTY FAIR PAGEANT.

Management of the Lake County Fair has completed arrangements to put on a great war feature on September 11th, to be called the Liberty Pageant, in which several hundred of the young people of the county will participate. The pageant is furnished by the Ohio War Savings Committee and is intended to show in a graphic way the reasons for the participation of the United States in the world war and to point out what must be done to win the victory.

Those who have examined the story of the pageant are much impressed by the beautiful pictures presented and the harmonious action that tells the story of Uncle Sam's growth, the ideals of the great republic and how they are threatened by the advocates of autocracy. The scenes are staged by children largely, and the folk dances of the various nations of Europe that have sent their people over to the "melting pot" are given a prominent place. The people of this community will have an unusual opportunity to witness the most modern form of patriotic presentation, in which the interest is thoroughly sustained.

Local arrangements will be in charge of Lake County Chamber of Commerce, assisted by Miss Mabel Post, it is announced by C. F. Sherwood, secretary of the fair. The production will be supervised by J. Clarence Sullivan, director of the Children's Playhouse, Columbus, who is the author, and whose pageants in the Capital City have created attention all over the country.

It will be necessary to secure the help of 500 girls between the ages of 8 and 14 years, and it is requested of the parents of the children to assist the management by interesting the little ones. Miss Mabel Post, assisted by the different teachers of our public schools, will take charge of the girls.

Following places will be open for girls to register:

Painesville and vicinity—Chamber of Commerce.

Mentor—At the postoffice.

Willoughby—At the postoffice.

Madison—Postoffice.

Perry—Postoffice.

Girls! Don't fail to register!

MAILING YOURSELF MONEY

Every time you stick a thrift or war savings stamp on your card you are mailing money to yourself to be received later with interest. Cashing in these stamps is going to be better than "getting money from home," for with the money comes the reminder that you contributed to the great victory which then will have been completely won.

In line with similar action in practically every other county in Ohio, there has been organized in Lake County a joint Defense Council-Red Cross Committee, with Judge A. G. Reynolds as chairman and H. T. Nolan secretary. This committee consists of the legal advisory board, including the associate members and representatives of the civilian relief department of the Red Cross, and is organized to render these services:

1. To explain the Selective Service Law to drafted men.
2. To give legal advice as to the benefits of War Risk Insurance, allotment of soldiers' and sailors' pay, the soldiers' and sailors' Civil Rights Act and other war emergency laws relating to men entering the service or already in.
3. To draft wills and attend to caring for the property and settling business affairs of men entering the service.
4. To represent soldiers and sailors in court where necessary, and obtain for them the benefits of the Civil Rights Act.
5. To arrange to attend to such business matters as required and are capable of attention, in the absence of men in the service.

This committee includes all the attorneys residing and practicing in Lake County and they are to perform the service above mentioned without charge for the men who are in military or naval service of our country. Booklets issued by the Ohio branch, Council of National Defense, setting forth briefly the legal rights of soldiers and sailors, have been ordered and will be distributed to drafted men in the near future. Families of the men already in the service will be assisted by any member of this joint committee in securing the rights to which they are entitled.

MR. HOOVER BELIEVES THAT VOLUNTARY CONSERVATION OF SUGAR CAN BE DEPENDED UPON.

Columbus, O., August 8, 1918.

To Editor Republican: In a number of Ohio counties local food administration committees have, in the utmost good faith, inaugurated a system of rationing sugar to households by cards. This has been done with the knowledge and consent of the office of the Federal Food Administrator for Ohio, but Washington has now ruled that any system of governmental rationing of households cannot be conducted by the food administration. It does not, however, prevent retailers from keeping check on their sugar sales by means of a card system or other record.

Mr. Hoover believes that a reduction in sugar consumption can be met by voluntary conservation so far as the households are concerned, and relies largely upon the newspaper of the country to educate the households to the necessity for sugar saving. He is proud of America's record for wheat saving, which enabled us to feed our allies this year. By the same self-sacrifice in American homes he believes that the present sugar crisis will be met.

Faithfully yours,
FRED C. CROXTON,
Federal Food Administrator for Ohio.

JUNGLE SCENES IN NOVEL FILM FOR HIAWATHA

Natives and Animals of Brazil in "Tarzan of the Apes"

To what lengths motion picture producers will go to get proper atmospheric detail and local color will be demonstrated at the Hiawatha Theater in the new film sensation, "Tarzan of the Apes," which will be at the Hiawatha Aug. 30th and 31st.

The National Film Corporation, which made the production, took a company composed of twenty principals, directors, camera men and a crew of stage builders to the Amazon River district of Brazil and thence to the interior of the Brazilian jungles, where two months were spent making the scenes of the story.

Over 2,000 natives were engaged, assembled at Manaos and transported inland and rehearsed for three weeks before the scenes typifying cannibal action were staged.

Nine cars, six Pullmans and three baggage, were required to transport the company from Los Angeles to New Orleans, where a number of scenes were staged. Two hundred thousand feet of film were exposed at a cost of $300,000.00.

Saturday an aeroplane went over from southeast and seemed to be going due north. It's reported the maneuvers at Willowick were very interesting Sunday. There were 15 of them; it was so windy, didn't suppose they'd fly, but it didn't seem to make any difference.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

We understand the farmer market in Willoughby started up Saturday last, but we didn't hear of it until it was all over with. It should have been advertised. We note by the papers the Painesville farmers' market is doing a thriving business.

W. S. Hobart was on the sick list several days the past week.

Passing Tribute to Mrs. Selena K Waite

We were grieved to learn of the death, although not unexpected, of Mrs. Selena K. Waite on Tuesday last at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ira Swarts, in Cleveland. Interment was in the Mentor cemetery, beside her husband, the late C. C. Waite, who preceded her to the better land several years ago. Mrs. Waite had been ill nearly three years and at times had been a great sufferer. As soon as she was taken ill her daughter and husband moved right up here from Pittsburgh, to care for the mother, and all that loving hands could do has been done for her. Mrs. Waite was a lifelong resident of Kirtland, only moving to Cleveland last fall, where she could be made more comfortable. For one week before she passed away she was unable to speak. Of near relatives she leaves to mourn her loss are her daughter, Mrs. Swarts, and a sister, Miss Elizabeth Kitts. Both have our heartfelt sympathy. We're hoping some abler pen than ours will write a fitting tribute to the memory of this worthy woman. Mrs. Waite had been nearly a lifelong acquaintance of ours and we shall miss her greatly.

Can't Get Along Without It.

I believe you'd all have a little sympathy for your scribe if you knew how that injured shoulder and arm was troubling her. It was four weeks ago last Sunday when she took that fall, and it's still very painful, although slightly better, but cannot raise the arm to the head without the aid of the other one, and besides, it won't let her sleep until the "wee sma' hours" of morning. If it doesn't let up pretty soon, am afraid we'll get discouraged and have to give up scribbling this "gibberage" for the papers every week.

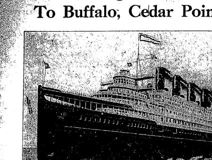
Fill Your Lungs With Fresh Air—Go To Buffalo, Cedar Point, Put-In-Bay



The great ship Seeandbee will go from Cleveland to Buffalo on the night of August 31, to carry the merriest crowd of Clevelanders who ever visited the Bison City, and the great ship will come back home with all of its passengers 100 per cent more physically fit for business after spending Labor Day at the Falls. Excursionists are allowed two days at Buffalo or the Falls with their tickets.

Then the Seeandbee will leave Cleveland on September 2nd (Labor Day) for a daylight ride to Buffalo.

Just think of going to Buffalo, skirting the beautiful shores of Lake Erie, in broad daylight, on the See-and bee! How's that for romance?

And there are just as many rides provided by the Cleveland & Buffalo Line to Put-in Bay and Cedar Point on the big steamer City of Erie.

If one would get into the "pink of condition" for work this fall, just take any one of these trips and then say "Oh, joy," after stepping onto the dock and saying:

"Farewell, Seeandbee, until Labor Day, 1919."

Standard Theater

Week of August 25th the Standard Theater presents Miss Pauline Frederick in Sardou's masterpiece, "Fedora." This is an unusually strong photo-play, and the story affords Miss Frederick one of the finest portrayals of her career in the silent drama. It is a story of Russian love and political intrigue, and the theme is intensely tragic. The story concerns a Russian princess whose fiance is slain, and she pursues the supposed murderer to Paris, where she obtains a confession from him, or rather a justification. She finds herself in love with the man whom she has sworn to bring to justice, and marries him. He in later years finds out that she is the woman that caused all the trouble, the death of his brother in prison, whom she has put there, also the death of his mother, and he tries to strangle her, but she eludes him by swallowing poison and dies at his feet.

Star Theater

"The Beauty Trust" open an engagement in "Nedra" at the Star theater on Monday, August 26th. This is an extravaganza and burlesque which has been making thousands of friends along the Columbia Circuit. The cast is of the first order, from top to bottom, and the offering sets a pace from the beginning which never flags. A bunch of handsomer, shapelier chorus girls than those of the "Beauty Trust" might be found, but we don't know where you would start to look. In short, the "Beauty Trust" carries every qualification for a successful burlesque show—elaborate scenery, costumes that stun the eye, pretty girls and pretty music. As a special feature, the Temple Four will appear at every performance.

Miles Theater

Ralph Thomas Kettering's farce, "Don't Lie to Mamma," will be the stellar attraction next week at the Miles. Kettering is the author of "Lincoln of the U. S. A." and other popular playlets, and calls his latest offering a flock of laughs done up in a small package. Three Bullowa Girls are the added attraction in a unique sensational aerial novelty. E. J. Moore, the talkative trickster; Edmunds and Lee, comedy travesty artists; Glenn and Jenkins, the street manicurists, and Deldos and Imo, in an electrical surprise, will furnish a meritorious vaudeville show, which will be diversified with modern photoplays. Starting Monday, there will be two vaudeville shows every afternoon, starting at 2:15 and 4:15. The evening vaudeville goes on at 7 and 9:15, with photo-plays before and after each performance.

Empire Theater

"The Speedway Girls," Charles M. Baker's newest offering in the burlesque line, is announced at the Empire theater for the week by Manager Jack McNamara.

Charles M. Baker is responsible for the offering, and the current edition of this organization is said to rank with the best shows of the season. Among the principals are George H. Ward, Frank Anderson, George Betts, Charles Levine, Stella Morrissey, Edythe Lyons and Dorothy Dean.

"The Speedway Girls" has been furnished with a logical book, following the general lines of the popular French farces which were employed as a basis of musical comedies a few seasons since. It is in two scenes and has been furnished with bright lines and interesting situations. "The Isle of Mystery," one of the big features, is elaborately staged.

There is a chorus of twenty singing and dancing girls. This portion of the organization is exceptionally well trained and is said to represent one of the best organizations of the circuit.

THE PRINCIPLES OF 1776 AS APPLIED TO PRESENT WAR

The United States is the only country whose government was constructed upon the principles of human rights and human liberty. The governments of European countries grew up by degrees as extensions and consolidations of the feudal system. They were autocratic, opposed to individual freedom, and any advance in liberty for the body of the people had to be wrung from them by bitter conflict. The United States government, on the contrary, came into being as a guarantee of the liberty of the people.

The first statement in the Declaration of Independence acknowledges man's right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," and the formation of a new country is based upon the offenses of the king against this right.

The men who signed the Declaration did so as a protest against arbitrary power. They had little to gain and much to lose by the separation from the mother country. American troops were few and undisciplined. American resources undeveloped. The outcome of the struggle for independence seemed at the time more than doubtful. Yet these men, with hundreds of their followers, chose to hazard their property, their homes and families and their very lives in defense of the principle of human liberty.

America was victorious in the war, and came to a position where she could develop her power and resources. The United States became one of the great and prosperous nations of the world. But the circumstances of her inception have laid a peculiar obligation upon her. She must stand as the champion of freedom or be recreant to her own traditions.

Our entrance into the war with Germany is the logical outcome of this position. We were predestined to it. The United States could not watch unmoved the spectacle of a great arbitrary power, utterly unscrupulous as to means, using its mighty resources and its strong military system toward the enslavement of Europe.

We are giving our money power and our man power toward the prosecution of a great war, in order to ensure to the free of this country and the oppressed of Europe the right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" for generations to come.

CANADIAN HOSPITALITY ATTACKED.

The old adage of taking about all you hear with the proverbial "grain of salt" is true in the case of the story that has been gaining ground that Canada is not hospitable to American visitors. Perhaps this is some more of the German propaganda, floated about to stir up feeling between the two big countries of North America. Anyway, it's entirely without foundation. There has never been a time when Americans were not graciously received in every part of the Dominion and given every courtesy possible. All that Canada is asking is "Are you a genuine American?" Satisfied on that point, her gates are wide open and the country is yours. If she stops to question those who knock at her doors she is doing no more than we are. These are times when everyone must prove his loyalty to the land, and fraudulent Americans or Canadians must be detained. If you're all right don't worry—Canada welcomes you more than ever.

THE OLD GIRL'S REVENGE. (And How She Took It)

You are old, Father William,
The young man cried.
—Robert Southey.

"You are old, Mother Williams," the young girl cried,
"And you ought to be feeble and gray.
But you're looking as young as I'm looking myself!
Now, how do you do it, I pray?"

"I fail to see why," Mother Williams replied
As she kicked up her heels in the air,
"I fail to see why I should dress like a frump
When the styles are so easy to wear!"

"You are old, Mother Williams," the
young girl cried,
"And 'pleasures with you pass away'
(As Southey remarked in the days that are gone);
So why are you pleasant, I pray?"

"Well, Southey was wrong," Mother
Williams replied;
"I motor and movie and skate,
And dance and play cards—which is pleasure enough
To last for a while, I would state."

"You are old, Mother Williams," the
young girl cried,
"But with all of the youngsters you play;
You dance with my brothers and flirt with my beau,
And I wish that you'd stop right
away!"

"Now, see here, my good girl," Mother
Williams replied,
"That's thrice you have said that I'm old;
And I'll marry your beau to repay you for that!"
(And she did, I am credibly told).

Globe-Democrat.

THE GREAT EVENT OF DEATH.

Men seldom think of the great event of death until the shadow falls across their own pathway, hiding from their eyes the faces of loved ones whose living smile was the sunlight of their existence. Death is the antagonist of life, and the cold thought of the tomb is the skeleton of all feasts. We do not want to go through the valley of the shadow, although its dark passage may lead to Paradise; we do not want to lie down in the damp grave, even with princes for bedfellows.

In the beautiful drama of Ion, the hope of immortality, so eloquently uttered by the death-devoted Greek, finds deep response in every thoughtful soul. When about to yield his young existence as a sacrifice to fate, his Clemantha asks if they should meet again, to which he replies: "I have asked that dreadful question of the hills that look eternal—of the clear streams that flow forever—of the stars among whose fields of azure my raised spirit has walked in glory. All were dumb; but as I gaze upon thy living face I feel that there is something in the love that mantles through its beauty which cannot wholly perish. We shall meet again, Clemantha."—Prentice.

IS THAT SO?

A number of working girls were asked recently what they expected to do after they left the store for good, and they all replied, "Get married."

In response to a second question, "What do you expect to do after you get married?" there was a chorus of answers in one word—"Nothing."

Is that so?

COUNTY AUDITOR ZANGERLE TELLS ABOUT SYSTEM OF BANK VALUATION

BY JOHN A. ZANGERLE, County Auditor.

The public have undoubtedly noted from time to time in public print that a difference has arisen between the county auditor and the banks as to their assessment. The auditor feels that the public should be more fully informed in this matter.

Prior to the Civil War, banking was controlled by State banks and individuals. Banking corporations were assessed on their capital, on their shares, sometimes on both. They were assessed at the location of the place of business and also at the place of residence of the owners of the shares. The different states, of course, had different rates and banking capital, generally speaking, and particularly in the west, was frequently discriminated against. General confusion reigned in this field of assessment until the national government, for the sake of uniformity and as a further protection to the United States banking act, provided in 1865 by law that, first, banking capital in national banks should be assessed on no higher rate than any banking capital in the state, and second, that the shares of any national banking association owned by non-residents of the state should be assessed in the city or town where the bank is located and not elsewhere.

In view of this national limitation, and in view of our constitutional provision for uniformity, the state found it necessary to provide some uniform method of assessing state banks and national banks, and to that end has provided by law that the "shares" of these corporations should be assessed to the individual stockholders at the place of business of the corporation.

Acting under the direction of the state tax commission, the auditor in 1916 considered the market value of the shares of all incorporated banks of this county and assessed them at $55,298,680, which the state tax commission, on complaint of several of the banks, reduced to $47,487,200. For the year 1917 the auditor assessed the forty-five banks of this county at $51,914,690. The nine largest banks filed a complaint with the board of revision, which, however, upheld the auditor's decision. Thereupon appeal was had to the state tax commission which is now considering the evidence. From their decision soon to be rendered appeal will undoubtedly be had to Common Pleas Court for correction of the 1917 assessment similarly as an appeal from the 1916 assessment was effected by County Prosecutor Samuel Doerfler on the 1916 assessment.

Both the auditor and the banks rest their case on the constitutional provision requiring "uniformity" of assessment. The main contention of the banks is that uniformity is best attained by considering the book value only, while the auditor contends that true uniformity may only be attained by assessing all property at its true value in money irrespective of the method adopted for arriving at a proper conclusion. The assessment of the leading banks on the basis proposed would cause an actual under-assessment of their shares which would be conceded even by them.

The main point of difference between the auditor and the banks is that the auditor has taken the constitution literally and has assessed the shares according to their true value in money. The true value in money he found by giving some consideration to the market value as well as the bid value and the banks' own book value. What a great difference is involved in the banks' own figures of book values and their market values is indicated from the following table:

	Market.	Book.
Commerce	$3,700,000	$3,290,800
Cleveland Natl.	1,962,260	1,729,160
First National	6,934,280	4,395,860
Union National	3,878,500	2,777,010
Citizens	9,191,330	5,614,540
Cleveland Trust	5,354,120	3,006,940
Guardian	2,711,450	1,871,096
Lake Shore	1,133,250	438,810
Peoples	1,259,610	877,540
	$36,124,800	$24,001,750

If a market value was available in some instances and not in others, it merely provided additional evidence enabling the auditor to more intelligently arrive at the real value thereof. Two standards are better than one, especially when both standards and all standards or methods must be invoked for the sole purpose of arriving at the real value of the "shares" and not merely a uniform value which in the nature of things cannot be uniform, irrespective of method or rule of assessment that may be adopted.

No assessor can use one and only one fixed standard of assessment. The auditor used both the book value, market value and bid value in arriving at his conclusions. In other words, he used the banks' self-assessment (book value) where it was the sole evidence. He used that and also the opinion of others (market value) where available. In some cases he used the "bid" quotation as evidence where there was no market value. It should be remembered that even if no sales take place during the entire year bids to buy at a fixed price generally are posted and printed in the newspapers during a large part of the year. A bid of $820 for a certain share of stock is certainly evidence of its value even in the absence of takers of such bids. Such bids would be as strong evidence as any market value. To tell an assessor to close his eyes and ears to [illegible] duplicate and to create disrespect for law generally.

It is claimed that other auditors of the state do not consider market value. The auditor of this county is not sufficiently informed as to what business acumen the other auditors of the state bring to bear in assessing banks of local jurisdiction. In very few cities of Ohio is there a stock exchange. Very few of the banks even in such cities are of sufficient size as to number of stockholders to cause frequent exchange of its shares. In the early history of banks it was a function of individuals and partnerships. Of late years banking has been more and more concentrated into a few large merged corporations in our large cities. These should not enjoy special immunities. If the four or five auditors of the state having assessing jurisdiction of such cases see fit to assess a minority of banks within their county on a method which results in an assessment at 60, 70 and 80 per cent, while assessing the other hundreds of smaller banks at 100 per cent, it is a violation of their oath and not that of the Cuyahoga county auditor.

Equally may it be said that because real estate or cows or autos or private corporations or stocks of foreign corporations are under-assessed and with little uniformity in some communities, that therefore Cuyahoga county should do the like. Shall the ideal be 100 per cent, or shall the base of assessment be that of the least? If Cuyahoga county real estate is assessed at 80 per cent, 90 per cent or 100 per cent and many other counties at 30 per cent, 40 per cent or 50 per cent, quo vadis? Is it not after all, with the large local rate and insignificant state rate, a local question very largely?

It is claimed that Cuyahoga county is assessing bank shares on a gold basis and other counties on a paper basis. What difference does it make if these bases are interchangeable or if the assessments are made on a relative basis of value to the end that "shares" shall be assessed according to their real value in money. The appraisement, the result counts, not the valuator.

It must not be forgotten that two-thirds of the assessable property in Cuyahoga county is real estate, which is assessed at 90 per cent, 100 per cent and 110 per cent, plus a mortgage assessment in many cases. Any plea of uniformity in bank assessments is indefensible which does not relate itself to this larger basis, rather than to some other bank assessments representing possibly 2 per cent to 3 per cent of the total valuation of the state.

LEGAL NOTICE

John P. Fish, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, and —— Fish, first and real name unknown, wife or widow of said John P. Fish, all of whose places of residence are unknown, and the names of the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John P. Fish, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Henry L. Schwab, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession and occupancy of the following described premises, to wit:

Situated in the Township of Parma, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of orginal lot No. 24 in the Ely Tract in said Township of Parma, and is bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center of York Street Road, and the northwest corner of land owned by John Dennerle; thence east along said John Dennerle's north line, 52.03 chains, to the east line of said lot No. 24; thence north along said east line, 4.90 chains to the southeast corner of land owned by said Lewis Schwaub; thence west along said Schwaub's north line, 52 03-100 chains to the center of said York Street Road; thence south along the center of said Road, 4 90-100 chains to the place of beginning, containing 25.49 acres of land, and being the same premises conveyed by Christian Tauber and wife to Lewis Schwaub by deed dated April 23, 1872, and recorded in Volume 204, Page 573 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges that the defendants above named claim some interest or estate in the above described premises hostile and adverse to plaintiff's rights, for the reason that no conveyance appears of record in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, from the said John P. Fish. The petition alleges that the said John P. Fish, who in the year 1843, was the owner of said premises, was the son of James Fish, and brother of one Isiah W. Fish; that on May 1st, 1843, by deed recorded in Vol. 64, page 22 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish, then the owner of said premises, conveyed the same to the defendant, John P. Fish. The plaintiff believes, and therefore, alleges, the fact to be, that the said defendant, John P. Fish intended and actually did reconvey the above described premises to the said James Fish, but that by reason of the inadvertence and mistake, oversight and carelessness of the said grantee, the said conveyance was not, and does not appear of record in this County.

The petition further alleges that by deed dated April 4th, 1864, and recorded in Vol 126, page 629 of Cuyahoga County Records, the said James Fish and wife conveyed the above described premises to Isiah W. Fish; that since said time, the title to said premises has come down in unbroken chain of title to this plaintiff.

The petition further alleges that none of said defendants have any interest whatsoever in said premises; that no person or persons claiming thru or under them, has ever sought to enforce, attempted to convey, or exercise any interest or ownership in said premises since April 4th, 1864; that as against said defendants, this plaintiff and his predecessors in title, have had, held and been in actual, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of said premises for more than twenty-one years last past; that said defendants have no interest whatsoever in said premises, and that any right that they, or anyone of them may have had, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the statute of limitations.

The prayer of said petition is that the said defendants may be compelled to show their claim and interest in said premises, or any part thereof, or be forever barred; that said claim or claims may be judged null and void; that plaintiff's title may be quieted against any and all claims of said defendants, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164918 and the defendants above named are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

SURPLUS FOR THE FUTURE

Thrift doesn't mean hoarding money. It means saving intelligently and investing wisely. It provides a surplus for the future.

A power house, while constantly furnishing power, is always storing in batteries, a surplus of current which is sufficient to keep the wires alive all the time, even when the generators are incapacitated.

A Savings Account is a storage battery in which, day by day, power can be stored up for the non-producing years.

O'Brien, deceased, and the unknown heirs of Margaret Halligan, deceased, being unknown, will take notice that Charles J. Graves, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them as defendants in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is the owner of the following described premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being sublot No. four (4) in J. H. McArthur's Allotment of part of original Brooklyn Township lot No. 56, as shown by the recorded plat of said allotment in Volume 13 of Maps, page 4 of Cuyahoga County Records. Said sublot No. four (4) has a frontage of 40 feet on the southerly side of Archwood Avenue, S. W. (formerly Greenwood Street) and extends back 196 6-10 feet on the easterly line, 187 8-10 feet on the westerly line and has a rear line of 40 84-100 feet, as appears by said plat, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that on the 18th day of April, 1894, the plaintiff conveyed said land to Margaret Halligan by warranty deed, which deed is recorded in Volume 528, page 353 of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, records; that said deed was given and transfer made to said Margaret Halligan, without consideration, in trust, for the following purposes: That said Margaret Halligan should hold the legal title to said land as trustee for plaintiff, and erect a house on said lot and the said Margaret Halligan was to re-convey to this plaintiff said premises when the said plaintiff should have paid the said Margaret Halligan any sums advanced by her in erecting a house on said land.

The petition further alleges that the said Margaret Halligan died on February 28th, 1904, holding the legal title to said land, that no house had been built on said lot, and the purposes of said transfer and trust had wholly failed; that by reason of the above facts the above named defendants claim some interest in said land, and that the claims appear as a cloud upon his title to said premises.

The prayer of said petition is that the Court find that the said Margaret Halligan held said property in trust for the plaintiff; that the plaintiff was, and is the actual owner of said premises; that his title be quieted against any claim or right of the heirs of said Margaret Halligan, deceased, and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164890 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

THE VOICE OF THE RISING SUN

The chorus of praise drawn from our allies by the gallantry of American troops in France sounds almost like the concerted finale at an opera. Among the paens of appreciation we hear a full throated tribute from a vocalist whose tones are a little different from the rest. It is the voice of our old friend, the Mikado.

He has a style of his own, has Yoshi. Many of the most eminent in European strategy and statescraft have handed it to us on a plate. We get it in a ladle from the Euphuist of the Isles.

The tributes of statesmen and generals—French, English and Italian—have often been triumphs of literary grace. But for polished verbiage give us the Mikado, or some other cultivated Nipponese. At throwing verbal confetti they are the fair-haired boys.

Even more engaging is the note of sincerity that we observe in the royal message. The foreign policy of Japan has often seemed something of a problem, and the attitude of the Island Empire toward its allies has not always been easy to define, but in his latest utterances the Mikado has unreservedly committed himself.

It is well that the military weight of America is being rightly estimated in Tokyo. The praise of Japanese war-lords is the praise of experts. It is better to have them with us than against us, and their exact striking power is always an unknown quantity. How Japan stands on submarines, on airplanes, on tanks, on machine guns, is a baffling riddle and we can depend on her to keep the riddle unread.

It is not long since Nippon was regarded as America's greatest danger, and the time that we have taken in raising and equipping an army proves that we were anything but secure. Japan now realizes the value of our friendship when she sees that our fighting strength is more than a mere potentiality.

Louis C. Shipherd, who resides at No. 9 Park Lane, Evansville, Indiana, and the unknown heirs of John J. Shipherd, deceased, all of whose names and places of residence are unknown, will take notice that E. H. Everett, as plaintiff, has filed a petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that he is seized in fee simple and is in possession of the following described real estate, to wit:

Situate in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being sublots Numbers 203 and 205 to 222, both inclusive, in Crosby's Allotment of part of original Euclid Township tract number 16, as shown by the recorded plat in Vol. 9 of Maps, page 25 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges that the defendants claim some interest in said premises adverse to the title of plaintiff, the nature and kind of which is entirely unknown to plaintiff; that he derived his title to an undivided one-half interest of the premises above described by deed from Henry W. Putnam, and that on January 21st, 1890, he purchased tax title to all of said lots and that he paid the taxes and assessments on said lots, and has been in possession of them adversely to the widow and heirs of John J. Shipherd, for more than twenty-eight years.

The prayer of said petition is that the plaintiff may be adjudged the owner of all of said lots, freed from all claims of any estate or interest therein of the said defendants and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164054 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 7th day of September, 1918.

OLD CLOTHES, MAGAZINES, CATSUP WHATNOT(?) NEEDED AT THE CANTEEN CLUB

"The time has come," the wolves said, "to talk of many things." That seems to be the case at the Canteen Club, where they seem to need most everything but "cabbages and kings." Even a few "cabbages" might be acceptable.

Mrs. J. W. Pickard, one of the club's most enthusiastic workers, announces that there is need for potatoes, eggs, chili sauce and catsup.

"And old cloths!' emphasizes Mrs. Pickard. It takes a mountain of cloths to keep the big house clean and in ship-shape. We will be glad to get clean old cloths in any quantity.

"Another need is for papers and magazines. We need morning papers badly and plenty of current magazines. Anyone who will donate the latter and cannot bring them to the Canteen, 2738 Prospect avenue, should notify us and we will call for them."

Morrow County, O., has felt the sting of the draft as much as any county in the state. It is a rural district of nearly 4,500 voters, and has now nearly 300 men in the service, of whom a large per cent had been engaged in farming. This left us with our corn to cultivate, hay to make and wheat to harvest (wheat and hay ripening earlier than usual), bringing a tremendous amount of work for the months of June and July and insufficient help to do it.

The farmers of Morrow County are not slackers. They are going to raise the food to feed the boys—trying to raise more with less help, and to harvest it in some way. Our business men, proving themselves the "Good Samaritans," are offering their assistance.

The Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Gilead met and offered its services to the farmers of the county. They have 125 men who have pledged themselves to go to the country and help the farmers harvest their hay and wheat, fill silos, dig potatoes, etc. They selected captains; each captain has an automobile, and each has a certain number of "privates." It is the duty of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to take orders for help on the farms, and he in turn notifies the captains of the different teams who see to conveying the men to the farms wanting help and returning them to their homes in the evening.

The Chamber of Commerce wanted to do this gratis, but the farmers did not want it that way. So arrangements were made to pay to the Red Cross just what they thought the help was worth to them. The men are not the store-box loafers but the business men of a town of 2,000 inhabitants. They are not out for pastime, but to work.

Two of the men helped us a few days. They mowed and raked hay and helped to haul it away, which is not easy work. We farmers who are used to the hot sun can do the heavier work in the fields and let these men do the mowing, raking, tedding, etc. The business men desired to furnish this help free of charge, but the farmers insisted on paying a fair wage. A compromise was effected by the farmers turning over to the Red Cross what the service was worth to them.

Farmers can raise a great deal more than they can harvest, and the business men of Mt. Gilead say if the farmers will raise the food to win the war they will see that we get it harvested. Let us have more of the same spirit all over our land until we get the kaiser. And may God reward the men who are filled with such patriotism.—A Farmer, Morrow County, O.

RUSSIA HAS CORNER ON WORLD PLATINUM SUPPLY

The needs of platinum in war industries and in the sciences are explained by Dr. Charles L. Parsons, chief chemist, Bureau of Mines, Department of the interior, in an argument for discontinuance of the use of platinum in jewelry.

"The war can not be won without platinum," says Dr. Parsons, "and it is equally essential in times of peace if our country is to excel Germany in the development of chemical science and industry. With the aid of platinum from one ordinary wedding ring about 100 pounds of nitric acid can be made every 24 hours. This 100 pounds of nitric acid converted into high explosives will send a number of 3-inch shells against the Germans and help to bring the boys back home.

"Platinum rings, pins, cigarette cases and mesh bags are not factors in winning this war—explosives are. I wonder if the purchasers and wearers of platinum jewelry know that explosives can not be manufactured without the use of sulphuric and nitric acids; that the manufacture of these acids requires the use of supplies of platinum; that airplanes must have platinum for important instruments they need; that platinum is absolutely necessary in the manufacture of special pyrometers; that pyrometers are necessary in all steel treatments, and that no guns can be made without the use of pyrometers.

"There is a shortage in the supply of platinum. Russia has a corner on the world's supply, and Germany is in Russia. Our domestic production of platinum is negligible, while our military requirements are increasing at a rapid rate."

REAL YANKEE LANGUAGE

A French soldier who came proudly up to an American in a certain headquarters town the other day asked:

"You spik French?"

"Nope," answered the American, "not yet."

The Frenchman smiled complacently.

"Aye spik Eengleesh," he said. The American grinned and the Frenchman looked about for some means to show his prowess in the foreign tongue. At that moment a Fnrech girl, very neat and trim in her peaked hat, long coat, and high laced boots came along. The Frenchman jerked his head toward her, looked knowingly at the American and said triumphantly, "Chicken."

The American roared.

"Shake," he said, extending his hand. "You don't speak English; you speak American."—London Opinion.

Laughlin and Ethel M. Laughlin, as plaintiffs, have filed their petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that they are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession of the following described premises, to-wit:

Situated in the Village of Dover, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being part of original Dover Township lot No. 68, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a monument on the center line of Hall Road (60 feet wide), said center line being the westerly line of said original lot No. 68 at a point 212 feet southerly (measured along said center line) from a stone at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by Cyrus W. Laughlin and wife, to Frank B. Laughlin by deed dated November 25th, 1899, and recorded in Volume 724, page 492 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence north 88 degrees 55' east on line parallel with the northerly line of land so conveyed to Frank B. Laughlin, 256 feet to a monument; thence southerly on a line parallel with said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to a monument; thence south 88 degrees 55' west 256 feet to a monument on said center line of Hall Road; thence northerly along said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to the place of beginning, and containing 1 acre of land, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that the defendants, the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Moses Hall, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, hostile and adverse to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the said Moses Hall, and a cloud is, thereby, cast on plaintiff's title. The petition alleges that Moses Hall died seized of the above described property some time prior to July 31st, 1837, and left as his only heirs at law, John Hall, Barnabas Hall, Charles Hall, Reuben C. Hall, Edwin Hall, Nancy Ingersoll, Eliza R. Parker, Anna Williams, Lucy Strong and Martha Bassett, that after the death of the said Moses Hall, and prior to said July 31st, 1837, the said Martha Bassett died leaving as her only heirs at law and next of kin, and therefore heirs at law of said Moses Hall, deceased, her husband, Nathan Bassett, and her daughters, Vesta Sanford, Lydia R. Porter, Lucy E. Hurst, Martha Bassett, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett; that all the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, excepting Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, who were then minors, on July 31st, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them in trust, all the right, title and interest in and to the above described land and other lands of which the said Moses Hall died seized, said trustees and the survivor of them thereby being vested with full power and authority to sell and convey said lands; that Nathan Bassett died some time prior to May 2nd, 1842, and that thereafter by virtue of said trust, the said John Hall, the survivor of said trustees, conveyed by warranty deed the above described premises and more lands, to George W. Laughlin, by deed dated July 25th, 1844, and recorded in Vol. 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges further that the defendants, John Richardson, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Richardson, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights by reason of the fact that the said John Richardson in his life time entered into a contract with Moses Hall for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, and that said John Richardson some time prior to July 25th 1844, sold, assigned and transferred said contract for the purchase of Lot No 68, to George W. Laughlin, who immediately took possession of said premises. The said George W. Laughlin, assignee of the said John Richardson, having complied with the terms of said contract, demanded and received from the said John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, a deed duly executed to the premises above described and other lands, which said deed is duly recorded in Vol 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Ohio Deed Records. The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and by reason thereof aver it to be a fact that said contract was duly assigned and delivered to the said George W. Laughlin, and that said contract and the assignment thereof were never delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County for record as provided by law, but were lost and have been destroyed.

The petition alleges that the defendants, John Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Hall, deceased; Barnabas Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Barnabas Hall, deceased; Charles Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Charles Hall, deceased; Reuben C. Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Reuben C. Hall, deceased; Edwin Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Edwin Hall, deceased; Nancy Ingersoll, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Ingersoll, deceased; Eliza R. Parker, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Eliza R. Parker, deceased; Anna Williams, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Anna Williams, deceased; Lucy Strong, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy Strong, deceased; Martha Bassett, Sr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Sr., deceased; Vesta Sanford, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Vesta Sanford, deceased; Lydia R. Porter, and the unknown heirs at law and [illegible] devisees of Lucy E. Hurst, deceased; Martha Bassett, Jr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Jr., deceased, claim some interest or title or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, adverse and hostile to plaintiff's rights, by reason of the fact that they were the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and as such heirs at law, on the 31st day of July, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them, a deed in trust to the premises above described, which said premises were by the defendant, John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, sold and conveyed to George W. Laughlin. Said defendants claim that the defendant, John Richardson, did not sell and assign his said land contract for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, to said George W. Laughlin, but that the said defendant, John Richardson, defaulted and failed to perform the covenants thereof, and to complete said land contract, in accordance with the terms thereof, and that said lot No. 68 thereby reverted to and vested in the aforesaid defendants, as heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and that the said John Hall, as trustee, by virtue of the aforesaid deed of July 31st, 1837, was without authority in the premises to sell and convey said premises.

The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe and by reason thereof, aver it to be a fact that the aforesaid defendants, subsequent to July 31st, 1837, and prior to July 25, 1844, and in the manner provided for and set forth in the aforesaid trust deed, agreed to, and did authorize said trustee to sell and convey said premises to George W. Laughlin, and that by virtue of such authority in the premises, the said John Hall sold and conveyed the above described premises by warranty deed duly executed and delivered to said George W. Laughlin, and accounted for the proceeds therefrom to the said defendants, who were entitled to receive the same.

The petition further alleges that by reason of said authority conferred upon said trustee, all right, title and interest of every nature and kind, which they or any one of them had, or might have had in and to said premises, were by said deed of July 25th, 1844, conveyed to the said George W. Laughlin.

The petition further alleges that the defendants, Nancy Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Bassett, deceased; Harriet Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Harriet Bassett, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the defendants, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, and a cloud is thereby cast upon plaintiffs' title, and the petition alleges further that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and therefore, aver it to be a fact that at some time subsequent to July, 25th, 1844, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett sold and conveyed all the interest, right and title that they and each of them had in and to said above described real estate, to George W. Laughlin, since deceased, by good and sufficient deed, duly executed therefor to the said grantee, who was then in possession of said premises, but that said deed was not delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, for record, as provided by law, and that said deed has been lost and destroyed.

The petition further alleges that the plaintiffs and their predecessors and ancestors in the chain of title, have held said premises for many years last past, by direct, clear and indefeasible title, in fee simple, without any adverse claims whatsoever having been made against said lands by anyone of said defendants; that none of said defendants, nor any one of them, has heretofore ever attempted to convey, or sought to enforce any interest, or exercise any ownership or interest in said premises whatsoever, and that any claim they, or anyone of them make, or may make, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the Ohio Statute of limitations, but that the alleged claims constitute a cloud upon plaintiffs' title, and that the plaintiffs and their ancestors, predecessors and grantors have been in actual, exclusive, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of the above described premises since the 25th day of July A. D. 1844.

The prayer of said petition is that each and all of said defendants may be notified of the pendency of said cause of action, and that unless they shall each of them come into Court and set forth their respective claims, they shall forever be barred therefrom; that each and all of the claims of said defendants may be adjudged null and void; that plaintiffs' title may be quieted against the defendants' claims, and each and every one of them may be enjoined from asserting such claims against said real estate; and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164955 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 14th of Septembr, 1918.

D. 1918, Edward V. Leslie filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, being action No. 165132, against them and each of them, setting forth that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual and peaceable possession of the following described real estate:

Situated in the City of East Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of original Euclid Township Lot No. 44 and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning one (1) chain and eighty-four (84) links south forty and three-fourths (40¾) degrees east from the northeast corner of land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated August 27, 1846, and recorded in Volume 39, page 345, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records; thence south forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees west fifty (50) links; thence south forty and three fourths (40¾) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and three-fourths (49¾) degrees west fifty (50) links to the place of beginning, containing four (4) square rods of land and being the same land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated October 6, 1849, and recorded in Volume 61, page 528, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records.

Said petition further states that the said premises were conveyed to H. Adeline Spring, the grantor of the plaintiff, on the 21st day of January, 1880, by deed duly executed and delivered, that on said 21st day of January, 1880, H. Adeline Spring took actual and absolute possession of said real estate under said grant and held possession, actual, open, continuous, adverse, notorious and exclusive until the 11th day of April, 1913, at which time she conveyed to the plaintiff by deed duly executed and delivered and that the plaintiff ever since said conveyance to him has held actual, open, adverse, continuous, notorious and exclusive possession of said premises. That such possession ever since the 21st day of January, 1880, has been wholly adverse to the claims and interests of the defendants. That all of the defendants claim an estate or interest in said real estate adverse to plaintiff's rights therein, the nature and extent of which plaintiff is unable to state. That by reason thereof a cloud is cast upon the title to plaintiff's real estate which greatly and unjustly depreciates the value. That none of the defendants herein have any right, title or interest in said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants herein may be compelled to set forth their interests in said real estate, if any they have, and that the claims of said defendants and each of them be adjudged to be null and void and said plaintiff's title may be quieted against said defendants claims and that they and each of them be enjoined from asserting such claim against such real estate, that the cloud thereon may be removed, and for such other and further relief as equity and the nature of the case may require and to the court seems just, necessary and proper.

THE SIMPLEST WAY TO SERVE CORN MEAL

Plenty of Good Milk to Take Away the Dryness of This Wheat Substitute is the Secret of Making the Dish Palatable—Corn-Meal Puddings Save Wheat and Sugar

Mush and milk for breakfast or lunch makes a simple dish fit for a king—but like all other simple dishes it must be made just right or the king won't like it. The secret of serving corn meal this way lies in plenty of milk and not too much mush. In the first place see that mush is not too thick—try out your recipes until you find the knack of cooking it just long enough. No one enjoys dry, thick mush. Then serve moderate portions with a generous amount of milk or cream on top—and have plenty more in the pitcher to add later on. Raisins, dates, figs and other dried fruits give variety to the dish and please the children. They sweeten the mush and save sugar.

The most common way of preparing mush is to allow the water to come to the boiling point and to add the meal slowly, stirring constantly. The objection to this method is that there is considerable danger that the mush will become lumpy and oftentimes it is inconvenient and unpleasant to stand over a hot stove and stir the mixtures sufficiently to make it smooth. A better method, therefore, is the following:

Put the corn meal, cold water and salt together in the top of a double boiler. No stirring is necessary. Put the top of the double boiler into the lower part and allow the mush to heat slowly, cooling half an hour, or longer if convenient. Many people cook it as long as four hours. Just before serving remove the top of the double boiler from the lower part and boil the mush for two or three minutes. In boiling it at this time there is no danger that it will lump.

Mush and Milk

What has become of the oldtime bowl of corn-meal mush and milk? It is an American dish, cheap, nourishing and palatable. The older generation loved it; and for economical, sentimental, and patriotic reasons, we should now go back to it and take all America with us. Mush and milk furnishes a balanced ration, yet contains no wheat, no meat, no sugar. It is a whole meal in itself, and while the war lasts it should be used more largely in this country. Its larger use here will release other and more concentrated foods for our armies and the armies of the allies. We are producing an abundance of food; we will save it for our boys across the water and food will help to win the war. The Austrians, Bulgarians, Turks and Germans are beginning to see this, and the kaiser also believes and trembles.

Corn Meal Mush

Method No. 1—1 cup corn meal, 3½ cups water, 1 teaspoon salt.

Bring the salted water to the boiling point in the top of a double boiler. Pour the corn meal slowly into the water, stirring constantly. Cook 3 minutes. Put the upper part of the boiler into the lower part and cook the mush half an hour and as much longer as convenient. Long cooking improves the taste and probably adds to the thoroughness with which the mush is digested.

The housewife who has no double boiler can make one by using two saucepans of such size that one can be set inside of the other.

Method No. 2—1 cup meal, 1 teaspoon salt, 3½ cup waters, or 4 cups milk, whole or skim, or 4 cups milk and water.

Put the ingredients into the top of the double boiler cold and cook 1 hour or longer. If convenient, just before serving bring the mush to the boiling point. This improves its texture and also its flavor.

Mush in the Fireless Cooker

1 cup corn meal, 1 teaspoon salt, 3½ cups water, milk, or milk and water.

Bring the salted water to the boiling point; add the meal slowly, stirring all the time. Put into the fireless cooker and leave for 5 to 10 hours. If the pail holding the mush is set into another pail containing water before being placed into the cooker, the heat will be retained longer. Whether this is necessary or not depends upon the efficiency of the cooker.

Here are three good conservation puddings which take no wheat and no sugar. They are made chiefly out of milk, corn meal and molasses.

Indian Pudding

Five cups milk, 1-3 cup corn meal, ½ cup molasses, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful ginger.

RALPH KING MAKES GIFT OF STRINGED INSTRUMENTS TO CLEVELAND ART GALLERY

Among the recent important gifts to the Cleveland Museum of Art was one from Mr. Ralph King, a remarkable collection of stringed instruments, including lutes, harps, guitars and banjos, some of them several hundred years old. For the most part these instruments are of French, Italian and Oriental make, and were the property of Mr. King's brother, the late Mr. Charles King.

Thirteen square feet of Roman pavement, dating back to the first century after Christ, is another gift to the museum, announced last week by Director Whiting. Mrs. John Huntington is the donor. This will be used to form a base for the garden marbles in the rotunda.

THIS IS A DESCRIPTION OF AN IDEAL NEWSPAPER

Professor F. N. Scott, of the University of Michigan passes out the following description of the ideal newspaper. The wording is now one of the inscriptions on the new building of the Detroit News:

Mirror of the public mind; interpreter of the public intent; troubler of the public conscience; reflector of every human interest; friend of every righteous cause; encourager of every generous act; bearer of intelligence; dispeller of ignorance and prejudice; a light shining into all dark places; promoter of civic welfare and civic pride; bond of civic unity; protector of civic rights; scourge of evil doers; exposer of secret iniquities; unrelenting foe of privilege and corruption; voice of the lowly and oppressed; advocate of the friendless; righter of public and private wrongs; chronicler of facts; sifter of rumors and opinions; minister of the truth that makes men free; reporter of the new; remembrancer of the old and tried; herald of what is to come; defender of civil liberty; strengthener of loyalty; pillar and stay of democratic government; upbuilder of the home; nourisher of the community spirit; art, letters and science of the common people.

LINCOLN NEVER PHONED

Quite a Lesson in What Great Men Did Not Have.

Girard, in the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, says that Shakespeare never drank a cup of tea, never tasted coffee, never sipped cocoa, never ate a potato and never smoked a cigar.

Napoleon never saw a steamboat nor a railroad train.

Lincoln never saw an electric light nor talked through a telephone.

St. Peter's Cathedral was the product of Michael Angelo's brain, but he never read a book that came from a printing press.

Raphael painted his immortal Madonna, but he never ate a corn muffin.

Cleopatra never owned a velvet gown, and Helen of Troy never owned a pair of leather shoes. George Eliot never saw a "movie."

Fine.

But what has given to the common people more palatable food and drink than Shakespeare? What enables the people to travel in greater ease on land and sea than did Napoleon? What gives the people the personal touch with their fellows that Lincoln never had? Why are the books denied to Michael Angelo the common property of a hundred millions of Americans? What has brought the velvet gown to grace our womankind, the shoe of kid to make her feet look pretty and feel comfortable? Why can all the world go to the "movies"? What has brought all this about? AMERICAN AND GERMAN FINANCES

Pessimistic Americans who view with alarm our increasing national obligations may derive a great deal of comfort from a comparison of the financial condition of the United States contrasted with that of Germany.

The total resources of the United States are estimated at about $250,000,000,000; our annual earnings are estimated at about $50,000,000,000. Our national debt, including the third liberty loan may be put around $12,000,000,000.

Before the war our government was spending about $1,000,000,000 a year. When the war is ended, interest charges, less the interest collected from our loans to our allies, government insurance expenses, and other necessary expenditures growing out of the war may conservatively be estimated at something lie $1,000,000,000. We are confronted, therefore, when peace comes, with raising only a couple of billions a year revenue, a slight task for a nation of such tremendous wealth, capacity and resources.

The resources of Germany before the war were estimated to be $80,000,000. The annual expenditures then of the imperial government were about $800,000,000. Her debt now is $30,000,000,000 and her resources and man power have been severely impaired. After the war she is confronted with additional expenditures growing out of the war totaling some $4,000,000,000.

The interest of her war debt, even if the debt grows no larger, will be about $1,500,000,000. Although she is niggardly in her pensions to private soldiers and their families, $1,000,000,000 a year would hardly suffice to pay even small pensions to her injured and the families of her soldiers who have been killed. Her war debt must be paid some time and a sinking fund of 5 per cent would add $1,500,000,000 to her annual taxation. Here is a total increase of $4,000,000,000 all due to the war.

Of course both the United States and Germany may greatly increase their debts, but the increases will not change the relative situations.

The German government has drained the German people of their gold, even their jewels and heirlooms, and yet the imperial bank of Germany now has but little over $500,000,000 of gold in its vaults. The United States has made no special effort to obtain gold, has made no call upon the people for the precious metal, and yet today has in its treasury vaults practically $2,500,000,000 of gold coin and bullion.

Dan O'Sullivan, residence unknown, will take notice that Ida O'Sullivan filed a petition against him in the Court of Insolvency of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, praying for divorce, restoration of name and relief on the ground of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. Said petition is No. 7285 and will be for hearing on and after August 30th, 1918. Jy18A22

A WILLOUGHBY BUSINESS MAN

One of Willoughby's well-known business men is shown here. The I. M. Crowther & Sons Company have made rapid progress, and their garages at Willoughby and Painesville have proved most successful in sales of cars and general output. The company has recently been honored by being appointed Ford tractor agents for Lake and Geauga counties; and they may also sell in the state of Pennsylvania. Only one other dealer in the state signed up for as large an assignment as I. M. Crowther. Willoughby has occasion to be very proud of its business men who are making such forward strides.

SCHOOL BOARD RAISES TUITION RATES

At the recent meeting of the School Board it was decided to raise the rates of tuition as follows:

Grades one to four primary, now $3.00; previously $2.00.

Grammar grades, now $3.50; previously $2.50.

High school, now $6.50; previously $5.00.

Those pupils known as Boxwell graduates have their tuition paid by the boards of the schools from which they come. Pupils coming from districts where they have high schools of their own have to pay their own tuition.

"BOOK OF JOB" RECEIVES ILLUMINATING PRESENTATION BY CHESTER WALLACE.

"The Book of Job," it might ordinarily seem, would hardly be selected as a theme for dramatic presentation. After hearing it given by Chester Wallace at the Methodist church Sunday morning, it occurs to one that the method is possibly the most illuminating and enlightening form in which it could be presented. Mr. Wallace's introductory remarks were of extreme interest. There was but one foult. They were too brief. The entire reading was one of delightful interest, and absorbed the attention of everyone. S. D. Shankland presided in the absence of Mr Bright. He referred to the service as a Layman's service, but it was one of great helpfulness. Mention should be made of the excellent prayer rendered by Mr. Shankland. Practical and simple, it was one of heartening and wholesome benefit.

Ford, whose home is at the Euclid avenue junction. Mr. Bunnell, who formerly spent much time there, has been on the farm for several months past.

Mrs. Barth is survived by a husband and seven children, four of whom were present at her funeral. Mr. J. H. Smith, of Mentor, Mrs. Ferguson, of Mayfield, Mr. Benjamin Barth, of Louisville, Mr. Earnest Barth, of Akron. Funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. J. H. Smith at 1 p. m. on Saturday and were conducted by Rev. F. I. Dunbar. Burial was in Mentor cemetery.

MANY ATTEND FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR REV. L. P. McCULLOCH.

About 75 people attended the farewell reception for the Rev. L. P. McCulloch, of the Presbyterian church, at Mrs. Reichard's cottage last Thursday evening. Prof. E. M. Otis presided and outlined much of interest in regard to the work that had been done by Mr. McCulloch since he has been in Willoughby. PLENTY OF MAUD MULLERS, BUT NO JUDGES TO BE SEEN, SAYS THIS SOLDIER IN ENGLAND

The following letter of extreme interest, insight and feeling, was written by Herman Wolf, husband of Florence Flickinger Wolf, who is spending the summer here at the Flickinger cottage on the lake. The young man has just recently been promoted to the office of captain:

Somewhere in England

Dear Mother:

Little do I wonder that the tears fairly come to your eyes when you talk of England. As far as the country is concerned, I capitulate, strike my flag and unconditionally surrender. What I have seen in the brief space of 36 hours beggars description. I'll tell you a little of it.

We landed at a port not at all unusual in any respect, but there anything ordinary ceased. A toy train, drawn by a sweet little engine, with an apologetic little toot, was all ready for us, and of course the officers had the rather ornate first class compartment to themselves. Then began the trip through the smiling country, and passed the well-ordered towns. You have seen it all, of course; you can imagine my impressions. I saw hedges just like the ones David Copperfield hid behind! I saw a canal bank with a path Bradley Headstone might have trod when bent on his murderous errand; I saw thatched cottages and Maud Mullers in the meadows "sweet with hay" (no judge, though; I think they are all engaged in war work), and so it went, as we put mile after mile behind us.

PLENTY OF MAUD MULLERS

Fortunately, we were well fortified with a bountiful lunch supplied by the steward. It comprised the inevitable leg of mutton, cheese, bread and butter and some very good Australian canned pears and apricots.

The people were glad to see us. I wish our citizens in general could see this little country. Every foot, you might say every inch of ground is under cultivation, and the young men in citizens' clothes just aren't. We need more of this spirit and we must get it. The war is no joke here, no affray 3,000 miles away. It is real and you feel it in the very atmosphere. Such spirit wins wars. I submit.

Denoting lapse of time. This is another day called Sunday, and I have been to a wonderful service in a most marvelous cathedral. It is an inspiration, almost you might say a quiet benediction, to be in it. You can't imagine the sense of majesty and nearness to things divine you get in it. Of course the service was Church of England, but anything less formal would have been out of place. A number of English troops attended in a body and their band furnished the music. The text was "Help ye to bear one another's burdens," and our entrance into the war was the British chaplain's great example. He gave a stirring talk, a real war talk. At the conclusion the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and "God Save the King." It was a thrilling thing—a marvelous thing—to hear the strains of our national anthem echoing down those vast aisles and to the lofty ceiling overhead. There are moments in our lives when we rise out of ourselves, and that was one in mine.

The town we are near is, I imagine, typical. It has a High street, two or three castles, ruined and whole, an ancient town hall, a statue or two and innumerable crooked streets. Yesterday P. M. I did a lot of shopping; in the vernacular, I went on a buying drunk. I have now added to my equipment a Sam Browne belt, a new pair of English pigskin puts, a new pair of wraps and shoe polish, cloths, strings and various. Tell dad that tobacco is both high and unsatisfactory. The English are apparently confirmed pipe smokers, and when we come back I am going to get him a beautiful Peterson briar. Heavens, heavens! if I get any more junk I am going to have a wagon to carry it. I'll guarantee you that.

Our quarters at camp are very comfortable and the food fair. I am in quite a large room with Lieut. Reif, who, I believe, you met at Mills. The weather has been beautiful today—particularly so, and that does a lot to make us happy and contented.

I will write again very soon, and until then much and much love to all my folks. As ever, HERMAN.

P. S.—Put via New York on my letters and always write out American E. F.

..IN MEMORY OF IDA BELLE WATTS

Ida Belle Watts was born at Willoughby, O., in the old homestead on Euclid avenue, April 23rd, 1864, and died August 22nd, 1918, in her fifty-fifth year.

She attended the district school near her home and later the high school at Willoughby. Early in her girlhood she became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and until the last few years, when ill health made it impossible, she was identified with all the activities of the church. For many years she taught a class of girls in the Sunday school. Not only was her kindly influence exerted for their good, but she became their friend, and the friendships thus formed became very dear and close to her in after life. She was active in the Epworth League, and for several years was secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Her devotion to her home and loved ones made her character all the more praiseworthy. She was never spectacular, but the duty that lay nearest her claimed her best effort. It is needless to say that the church and community will miss this beautiful soul. She is survived by her mother and one brother, I. Roy Watts. Her body was laid to rest under the big tree in Willoughby's beautiful cemetery, awaiting the resurrection.

Note: This poem was found among the effects of Miss Watts, after her death, and seems a most fitting expression to be included with the words in memory of her.

A LITTLE WAY.

A little way! I know it is not far
To that dear home where my beloved are;
And still my heart sits, like a bird, upon
The empty nest, and mourns its treasures gone,
Plumed for their flight,
And vanished quite.
Ah, me! Where is the comfort?
Though I say
They have but journeyed on a little way.

A little way! At times they seem so near,
Their voices even murmur in my ear;
To all my duties loving presence lend,
And with sweet ministry my steps attend.
'Twas here we met and parted company;
Why should their gain be such a grief to me?
This sense of loss!
This heavy cross!
Dear Savior, take the burden off, I pray,
And show me heaven is but—a little way.

A little way? The sentence I repeat,
Hoping and longing to extract some sweet
To mingle with the bitter; from Thy hand
I take the cup I cannot understand,
And in my weakness give myself to Thee.
Although it seems so very, very far
To that dear home where my beloved are,
I know, I know,
It is NOT so;
Oh, give me faith to believe it when I say
That they are gone—gone but A LITTLE WAY.

A LETTER FRM DAN FLICKINGER IN FRANCE

June 20, 1918.

Dear Family:

We did not go straight up to the front line from our place in reserve, but came here to this position of support. The day of the week means nothing to me now, but the date means a lot and we never lose out on that on account of all our operation orders, reports, etc. We left back there where I was enjoying life on the night of 15th; hiked about 8 kilos up to a village half way and spent the 16th there, then the next night hiked on up here to our present position in these woods. Same old life in shelter tents! Only this time we are getting rain.

Our First Battalion is holding the real front line of this sub-sector and we are next to relieve them—probably about tomorrow. Gee, it sure will be a busy and hard sub-sector even if not very active. From prisoners captured by ours and other regiments of the division, we find that the Germans have only a Landwehr regiment opposite us—merely holding troops of inferior quality and never used for attacks or assaults. So unless they slip in a mean, scrappy Prussian division on us some night, we ought to continue having the upper hand on them, when our battalion goes up. We'll at least try to make life miserable for them (until real orders for an advance are received) with air raids and sniping.

When I tell you that our sub-sector (which our battalion will hold) is 4 kilometres wide, you can realize that it must indeed be a rather "quiet sector." But of course we won't kick at that and take it as part of the game, just as much as if we went into an active defense or a strong attack. In this sub-sector, as I say, we sure will be busy, covering all that ground. Just think we will have in it the following little items of interest:

1 river (wish I could tell you which!)
2 islands.
1 ruined bridge.
1 dam.
2 villages.

Don't you think that will keep one battalion busy—both guarding and planning for an advance? Oh, it will be interesting all right, all right!

Well, I suppose something is wrong with the mail service, because I have not received a letter from you for ten days. It's hard for the delivery within the regiment even after they have received the mail; because they move around so much. Here's hoping one comes soon.

I'm sitting out here now near my tent in the woods, after a little interruption about some stuff for my four snipers. Now the shower has stopped and everything is all right until the wind rustles the wet leaves above me. Our orderlies here at battalion headquarters have built us some sort of a little table which we eat on and also use for studying maps, writing, etc. About 15 yards away is a little rustic bower made of leaves and branches and covered with a couple of shelter halves; this is the official battalion "P. C." (post of command), and contains our field telephone back to regimental headquarters, to my observation post, and to the "P. C.'s" of the four companies. All around the tents of the battalion headquarters officers are those of the 75 odd men attached to headquarters, some signalmen, intelligence, detail, runners, mounted orderlies, bason agents, first aid men and stretcher bearers. So you see that gives you an idea of what a staff job like mine is like. You already have heard me talk enough about how things go in the live companies.

Up until yesterday we sure have been lucky on weather, but now! Good night. I was out with my C. N. C. O.'s this morning on a little reconnoitering and we got caught in a regular downpour. Of course we had our raincoats (I always carry my good little trench coat with me). It's funny weather here in France, apparently never real warm, but cold as the dickens at night and generally cool all day. Sure hope we get out of here before next winter for more reasons than one!

Right over in the woods a little ways, our supply officer has his train parked. One of the mules on the picket line has the most terrible he-haw. I never heard anything like it. Sounds like a laughing hyena. We'll have to get rid of it when we take over this new sector.

Yesterday was a banner one in the midst of all this uncomfortable inaction; the Y. M. C. A. truck came and [illegible] money means nothing to any of us now. I'd give 25 francs for a good steak with all the trimmings or four poached eggs on toast! But there's no use of working myself up that way. It's all part of the game, though; and as Colonel Butts told Captain Maxwell the other day (when the latter had some complaint to make): "You ought to be glad you're alive!" Correct. Go to the head of the class—that's all that counts here.

Will try to write some evening when we are down there on the front sector; we will be there long enough to get organized and have a little spare time. My work will be scouting mostly all night, overseeing my observation post and snipers all day, making out a daily report and sleeping and eating when I get a chance. That's why I'm sleeping every night now about 8 hours and taking a nap now and then during the day.

Yours with much love,
DAN.

PAGEANT AT LAKE CO. FAIR WILL AID WAR SAVINGS MOVEMENT

Preparations for the great patriotic Liberty Pageant, which is to be given at the Lake County Fair Grounds on Wednesday of fair week, are going forward rapidly. Arrangements have been completed by Lake County Chamber of Commerce for a large number of costumes and the necessary properties with the Ohio War Savings Committee. More than 500 fancy dresses and costumes will be shipped here for use of those participating.

Platforms will be erected on the grounds and the action of the pageant will be in front of an "Altar of Liberty" between the two platforms, one of which will represent Europe and the other America. Some of the dances are being taught now. The drills and marches that constitute a large part of the series of pictures are said to be very beautiful.

Scores of the special music numbers are expected soon, so that the Citizens Military Band may rehearse them, for the success of the presentation will be largely contributed to by the musical features.

Those who have seen the famous pageants staged by J. Clarence Sullivan, author, and director of the Children's Playhouse at Columbus, need not be told that he is a master of this form of entertainment. Those who have read the scenario of the Liberty Pageant believe he has excelled his previous efforts in this patriotic offering on his part.

All the work done by Mr. Sullivan and others who have brought forward this idea is donated to the War Savings Stamp movement, and only the necessary per diem and expenses will be paid for the work of the director and his associates here.

MILK-VEGETABLE SOUP.

Don't throw away left-over skim milk, says the United States Department of Agriculture. It is a nutritious food, and every drop of it should be used. One way to utilize it is to make milk-vegetable soups.

To each 2 cupfuls of milk use 1 tablespoonful of flour, 1 tablespoonful of butter, two-thirds of a cupful of a thoroughly cooked vegetable, finely chopped, mashed, or put through a sieve, and salt to taste. Thicken the milk with the flour as for milk gravy and add the other ingredients.

Practically any vegetable except tomatoes may be used with the other ingredients as stated. If tomatoes are used, a little soda should be added to them to prevent the milk from curdling.

ADVERTISING IS AMERICANISM

By Wilbur D. Nesbit.

Advertising is Americanism, because a good American is a good business man, and a good business man knows that his interests are tied up with those of his country.

Anybody who argues that a merchant or manufacturer should advertise to show his patriotism is on the wrong track.

You might as well argue that a man should advertise to prove that he is religious, or in love, or in politics one way or the other.

If patriotism is the only reason for advertising, then you make a charity of advertising, because we give to the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the K. of C., and all the other war activities because we are so patriotic we want to see them carried on.

Advertising is just as much a part of a business as the front door of the store or the big engine of the plant.

Close the door and close the store. Shut down the engine and shut down the plant.

Advertising is a peculiarly American business. The American people believe in advertising, and respond to it quicker and more naturally than any other people.

The people themselves have made advertising grow into a business proposition instead of lingering in the "trick" or "stunt" or "smart aleck" stage.

The people depend on advertising because they know it saves money for them and incidentally makes money for them.

The people depend on advertising because they are busy, and it saves their time by pointing out just what they want, where they can get it and how they can get it most economically.

The people depend on advertising because it is an educational influence as well as a business betterment.

The people depend on advertising because in the past year they have seen it at work for their government—for themselves, in short. They have seen it selling Liberty Bonds, strengthening the Red Cross, upbuilding the Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Jewish Relief, and so on.

They know that advertising is an army in print—defending them and their nation.

They know that advertising makes newspaper and magazines possible; that it keeps alive for them the written thought of the hour and of the time.

Advertising is neither superficial nor a manifestation of an emotion.

It is a fact. It is an Americanism. It is a part and parcel of American life. It is bone and sinew of business and of industry, on which rest national progress and national pride.

When the history of this war is written, advertising will have one of the fairest pages in the whole book.

Say, which do you figure is cheaper: 1 pair head lamps at $6.00, 2 front fenders at $7.50, 1 radiator $25.00, or a nice classy bumper for about $5.50 or $6.00? Think that over and then come in and talk bumper with me. I am agoing to sell them whether I make a cent or not. Tires and Tubes are agoing up every day and you know you will need one or more soon; and I have the best money can buy at the price I ask. My present stock of oils and grease are nearly exhausted and the next shipment will be a considerable higher. So get busy now, as it is a necessity for your car. Just compare my prices with the catalogue houses, freight added, and see how far you are ahead by sending your money out of town; and right here is where we need it. Miles Theater

Frank and Joe Wilson, known as the Wilson Brothers, America's foremost comedians, and well known in Cleveland, will be the stellar attraction at The Miles for the coming week. They have a new patriotic laughing hit entitled "The Lieutenant and the Traffic Cop," which gives them great leeway to use their comic travesty and famously funny dialect. Barney Williams Co. offer a humorous one-act playlet entitled "Hunting," with a cast consisting of seven characters, depicting a plot full of situations comique. Zara Carmen Trio, known as "marvels of manipulation," offer a series of sensational juggling novelties. Arthur Stone and Jack Boyle, the two musical Celts, in a pianolog and famous Irish ballads; John Lavier, eccentric aerial funster, and Largay & Snee in a laughing travesty "A Letter Box Flirtation," will complete a well-balanced vaudeville show, which will be presented four times daily, at 2:15, 4:15, 7:00 and 9:15. Popularly demanded motion pictures will be shown both before and after the vaudeville. Prices of admission for the combined vaudeville and picture show 15c, 25c and 35c. Children under twelve years of age admitted to any matinee any day for 10c.

Star Theater

At the Star theater, commencing Monday, September 2nd, Jack Singer's Behman Show will be presented with an entirely new book and a cast that embraces some of the former members of the organization and several artists not heretofore identified with this company, but whose work elsewhere has placed them in the front rank both in burlesques and vaudeville. Mr. Singer has provided an entirely new book, written by Junie Mc Cree, and said to embrace every requirement of a highly enjoyable and altogether diversified entertainment. The special feature of the vaudeville part of the entertainment is Marie Sparrow in her unique specialty of Irish songs and stories. Another delightful feature of the performance is a large chorus of male and female voices, which is said to be altogether exceptional in respect of vocal and dancing abilities.

Antoni Kolaski, residence unknown will take notice that Agatha Kolask filed a petition against him in the Court of Insolvency of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, praying for divorce and relief on the ground of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. Said petition is No. 7667 and will be for hearing on and after October 11th, 1918. A29-O3

English and Canadians in the United States who have always enjoyed our climate may begin this fall to feet the effects of the drafts.

Standard Theater

Week of September 1st the Standard Theater offers "The Finger of Justice," a beautiful picturization of Rev. Paul Smith's reformation of New York's underworld. This picture has startling phases of a subject about which the world keeps dumb and the law silent, and it is not fiction, but stark reality, and it shows the methods Mr. Smith used in breaking up some of the worst organized gangs of white slavers, crooks, gamblers and notorious gangsters the world has ever known. But at the same time it is put into a wonderful story so it will not offend anyone, either young or old, but will hold one spell-bound until the very end, still a one object lesson that will always be remembered. Crane Wilbur, the well-known star, plays the part of the fighting minister and is supported by a cast of good artists.

Empire Theater

It's "The Lid Lifters" who come to the Empire next week, and in the current edition of this popular organization Lew Talbot is said to have provided one of the best balanced companies on the wheel.

First of all, there is Harry Lang, who is the featured comedian. For many seasons Lang was a favorite on the Columbia circuit and is proving a big hit upon his introduction to American burlesque patrons. His famous "Shenandoah" scene is a classic in burlesque.

Then there is Dolly Meden, who was with the company last season, and who is seen again as prima donna. She has personality and has been titled "the miniature Venus of burlesque" for many seasons. Bonnie Lloyd is the soubrette, and Harry Boorum, Harry Keeler, Jimmie Gallagher, Penny and Wilkins, and a typical Talbot chorus, make up the cast.

Jack Singer furnished the vehicle in which "The Lid Lifters" appear. 'Delivering the Goods" is its title, and it is in two acts and ten scenes. There is opportunity for the introduction of elaborate scenery and costuming, and the producers have taken advantage of this to the full. The chorus numbers twenty, and the singing and dancing girls are a real feature of the performance.

"The Lid Lifters," Manager Jack McNamara promises, will prove one of the best attractions of the early burlesque season in Cleveland. They're worth seeing.

Joseph Widuch, residence unknown, will take notice that Apolonia Widuch filed a petition against him in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, praying for divorce, custody of child and relief on the ground of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. Said petition is No. 165645 and will be for hearing on and after October 11th, 1918. A29-O3

UNCLE SAM WANTS THOUSANDS OF STENOGRAPHERS

Washington, D. C., August 28, 1918. —Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of stenographers and typewriters have been appointed in the Government service in Washington, D.C., since our country entered the war, the United States Civil Service Commission announces that there is pressing need for several thousand more workers of this class. Women especially are urged to offer their services for this office work and thus help in a practical way in the nation's great undertaking.

Examinations are held every Tuesday in 550 cities, and the commission states that an examination will be held in any city, day or night, when there is prospect of assembling a class of as many as three competitors.

THE CHICKEN PEST.

The person who permits chickens to become a neighborhood pest, if he has ever read the Golden Rule, certainly never has taken the same to heart. Of all the petty, irritating annoyances of neighborhood life, doubtless the predatory chicken is the greatest. Nothing eatable or destroyable is safe from its industrious beak and claws.

The urgent request is laid upon people of all classes that they cause American soil to produce to its extreme capacity. Under this call thousands of people have planted war gardens in the two-fold hope of piecing out household expenses and of relieving the world shortage of food. It is with these war gardens that the roaming fowls play havoc. The general run of farmers who raise chickens on anything like a large scale are prepared for taking care of them, and the distance between farms usually reduces their depredations to a minimum, at least so far as one's neighbors are concerned.

But the town or suburban dweller who wishes to produce his family fruits and vegetables is not so fortunate. With chickens all about him, and they permitted to ramble at will, he must have his premises properly fenced or there is "nothing doing." And, as thousands of these war gardeners are living in rented property, the owners of which refuse to maintain the necessary fences, their war gardens often have very rough sledding.

Of course the owner of the fowls will claim his rights—that his chickens must have range. But by all the rules of justice that range should not include his neighbor's fruit and vegetable garden.

The whole trouble lies with the inadequacy of our laws. Very few of our commonwealths have ever recognized the chicken when enumerating the kinds of stock that should not be permitted free range. In the present emergency this oversight should be remedied, and at once. Gardens all over the land are approaching a condition where the ravages of fowls are especially destructive. Stringent regulations should be established preventing fowls of all kinds from roaming at large, and making owners responsible for all damages inflicted by their depredations.

The owner of chickens who permits his fowls to become a nuisance to his neighbors is greatly lacking in the spirit of patriotism that should govern all our people in these strenuous times through which we are passing. In adding to his own efficiency he is taking from that of his neighbor, and that, in all fairness, he should not do.

Pen the chickens, at least till the gardens are out of the way. Pen them under penalty of law.

Notice is hereby given that on the 30th day of September, 1918, Charles H. McCarby, also known as Charles Henry McCarby, will file his petition in the Probate Court of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, asking that his name be changed to Charles Henry Carby, and that the said petition will be for hearing in said Court on said day at 10:00 oclock A. M. or as soon thereafter as the Court will hear the same.

MUCH WOOL WILL BE DEMANDED FOR USE BY ARMY

Coming requirements of the army for wool look large. Besides clothing for the soldiers in France and at home a reserve must be accumulated sufficient to take care of any emergency.

There are large stocks of manufactured clothing and cloth on hand adequate for essential civilian needs, but woolen suits will not be cheap or plentiful during the coming winter season.

Wool stocks from abroad to supplement the domestic supply is restricted by shipping conditions. The Shipping Board states the movement of Argentine wool will be heavier the coming year than in any preceding year. But a large portion of the raw wool stock in this country and stock to be produced or imported to January, 1920, will be needed for military uses.

The war service committee of the National Association of Woolen Manufacturers and the American Association of Woolen and Worsted Manufacturers conferred with the War Industries Board and representatives from the Shipping Board, War Trade Board, and Army and Navy over difficulties in the wool supply situation. The policy of the War Industries Board is to regulate prices and distribution when a scarcity arises due to Government demands.

THE LETTER CARRIER AND THE DOG.

From The Citizen, Vancouver, B.C., comes this anecdote of a letter carrier and a dog on his route:

Mr. James Barnes, the letter carrier on Granville street and the district lying immediately east of that thoroughfare, must be a lover of dogs. All the dogs on his route have a friendly wag of the tail for him, but there is one which deserves special mention. This particular member of the canine tribe is owned by a family living on Seventh avenue near Granville, and every morning about 7:30 o'clock, "Cap," as his name is, trots up to the corner of Granville and Broadway and there waits until his letter carrier friend gets off a street car to begin the morning delivery. He takes no notice of the carrier on the other side of the street, but waits for Jimmy Barnes, and on the latter's arrival gives him a friendly greeting and accompanies him on his rounds. When the round is finished "Cap" trots off home with the air of a dog who feels he has done his duty for the day and is proud of it.

This has been the almost daily routine for the past three years or so to our knowledge. The only exception has been when something happens to prevent "Cap" getting out on time. One day last week "Cap" arrived late at the corner. He seemed to know it, for he waited not, but hurried along to the Citizen office, which is usually the postman's first call. He came in, looked all around, and trotted over to the telephone booth to see if his friend was in there (he found him there one day). Then he whined at the staff, expressing very plainly his grief at what had happened, and immediately was on his way and succeeded a little later in overtaking tse man of letters and was happy again.

DEAR NATIVE LAND.

Dear native land, where in the years now gone
Our fathers fought for liberty and won;
Land where all men alike are glad and free,
Where are no castes of high or low degree;
Where every man can have his bit of earth,
Nor be ashamed because of humble birth.
Where aristocracy's a thing unknown,
Nor king nor emperor sits on a throne.
Oh, how we love thee in our inmost heart!
How glad each one of us to do his part!
So, in the days and years that lie before,
May our dear country prosper more and more,
Till all the world confess America to be
The land of plenty, peace and liberty;
Columbia, the fairest of the fair,
The object of our love beyond compare;
"Where the Star-Spangled Banner forever shall wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

CLEARING LAND TO GROW FOOD

We have in this country over four hundred million acres of unimproved land. In these days, when more food is needed for the world, why not put some of the land to work? If food is to win the war, that is, if the ultimate victory is to rest with the side that can feed its population and its troops the longest, then the problem of land improvement is of the highest importance.

A land-clearing demonstration recently held under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin is described in The Du Pont Magazine. According to this paper, the most effective method of eradicating stumps was shown on this occasion to be a combination of pulling and blasting. Wisconsin has recently adopted legislation to facilitate land-clearing, and this is doubtless a most favorable opportunity, the writer thinks, to put land into tillable condition. Even the stumps can be sold, the present fuel shortage giving them considerable value for this purpose. We read:

"The war in Europe is playing havoc with farming over there. Millions of acres of Europe's farm lands are idle, and probably will remain idle for years after the conclusion of the conflict. This condition puts it up to America to produce food enough for all, and she can do it because she has the land, provided every acre of it is cultivated and forced to maximum production. The millions of acres of cut-over land and swamp-land that now occupy parts of our country should be included in the cultivated areas.

"Think of what it would mean if the 400,346,575 acres of unimproved land in this country were put to work producing crops. Beneath the stumps and rocks is concealed a gold mine, and there is more profit to be derived from the mining of farms than from the mining of mountains. The ground occupied by one average stump will produce from 25 to 50 cents worth of food per year.

The cost of clearing land must be paid but once, whereas the profit derived from it will go steadily on through generations. Cleared land is virgin soil which for years after the clearing and 'taming' will yield bumper crops, with minimum expense for fertilization. Expenditures for land-clearing are permanent investments that will be returned many times over in profitable crops. . . . . .

"In Wisconsin there are still thousands of acres of very fertile cut-over land. With its usual commendable enterprise, the University set about to see what could be done to get more of this land cleared and under cultivation, and in the spring of 1916, before the United States had entered the war, sent out an agricultural engineer to locate points for large public land-clearing demonstrations. The University itself organized a demonstration crew and obtained the cooperation of three railroads operating in the State to run trains over their roads with a view to showing the settlers how to clear their land.

"Several manufacturers of stump-pullers had their demonstrators show their methods of clearing. Up to that time the powder manufacturers and the stump-puller men had regarded themselves as bitter competitors. The University's demonstrations, however, proved that they were really cooperators, for the fact was developed that the best method of land-clearing was a combination method in which dynamite was used to loosen and break up stumps after or before the pullers pulled them.

"The State Legislature of Wisconsin, its interest aroused by the University's demonstrations, recently passed a law making it easier for settlers and owners of stump-land in Wisconsin to buy dynamite or stump-pulling equipment with which to clear. Under certain conditions the State will place orders for dynamite usually purchased in car-load lots in order to get the lowest price, and permit the settlers to pay the State Treasurer in easy installments and under conditions which they can easily meet for the dynamite they use.

"Actuated partially by the same motives, the Congress of the United States enacted laws under which the new Land Banks were organized in many localities, and these banks also make it easy for farmers to obtain funds with which to clear and otherwise improve their farms and operate them more extensively.

"Probably no more favorable opportunity to clear stump-land will ever present itself to the owner of such land. The unprecedented demand for abnormal quantities of food products at abnormally high and profitable prices offers the chance to get the money for land-clearing that will probably never come again

"Even the fuel shortage helps land-clearing, for in some cases it is now possible to sell stump-wood for as much as the clearing costs."

TWO ROADS ARE CHEAPER THAN ONE

Two narrow roads, instead of one broad one, are now sometimes used in mountainous country, especially in the far West. Where two roads are built each is strictly confined to one-way traffic, and the head-on collision is eliminated. The roads are not generally parallel, but follow each other by bridges or tunnels.

The advantages and disadvantages of this plan are set forth in Engineering and Contracting, whose writer concludes that its economy depends on circumstances. He says:

"During a recent California trip the editor met a practical and ingenious man who has developed several suburban properties in hilly country, involving the building of many miles of roads. On certain of these properties he has built narrow, one-way, hillside roads that are designed to carry the traffic always in one direction—one road for ascending and another for descending vehicles. It is this man's contention—and it is certainly worthy of the careful consideration of highway engineers—that it is cheaper in first cost to build two single-track roads than one double-track road on a hillside, and that the maintenance expenses are also reduced by this method of construction.

"It is evident that whether two single-track roads will involve less grading cost than one double-track road is dependent on three factors: (1) The slope of the hillside, (2), the slopes of the cuts and fills, and (3) the depth of the earth over the rock.

"This last-named factor is one that is seldom given its full economic weight. It frequently happens that a single-track side-hill road can be built without excavating more than a small fraction of the rock that must be moved to build a double-track road. Frequently it pays to build most of a narrow side-hill road on a fill, borrowing the material from above. When care is used in preparing the earth beneath such a fill, in draining and rolling the fill in layers, expensive slides can be avoided.

"Wide cuts in side-hills usually give more trouble from earth-slides than narrow cuts; hence the reduced maintenance cost of narrow roads.

"Finally, there is very little chance of collision of vehicles on narrow, one-way mountain roads. To offset this, clear that there is often real economic widened turnouts at intervals for faster vehicles to pass slower ones. This is an inconvenience and not a cause of accidents. But if the traffic were considerable it might well become such an inconvenience as to overshadow all the saving effected by building narrow roadways. However, in developing suburban home-site properties on hilly lands, it seems merit in the one-way, narrow road."

REAL ESTATE THE BEST INVESTMENT
SOME REASONS WHY:

It is absolutely safe. Practically all trust funds, endowments of colleges and universities, cemeteries, charitable institutions and private estates are invested in real estate. In fact, this is true of practically every sort of fund where safety and stability are paramount.

There is always a demand for real estate. Every person, whether he be an owner or renter, from the cradle to the grave, must have the use of a piece of land on which to live and conduct his business.

Real estate values do not depend on the judgment and action of some one person, or a small group of persons. On the contrary, the whole growth of the country in general and the city in particular, is adding to and making stable the value of every foot of land.

Land values in Willoughby are solid. They will continue to advance. They are bulwarked by the great, ever-expanding City of Cleveland, one of the world's greatest industrial centers, destined to become the "Third City" of America. The continued growth of Cleveland, and its trend to the eastward is certain. Equally sure is the continued advance in Willoughby land values.

THE WILLOUGHBY - EUCLID AVE.- SUB - DIVISION, ideally located, carefully restricted and provided with complete improvements, offers an exceptional opportunity to "cash in" on the increase in values certain to take place. It is "the place for your home" and a safe, profitable investment. Our easy payment plan makes it easy for you to own one of these fine, big lots, 80x200, at $640 up.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to Helen Spence and John Spence of Leeds, England, James W. Weston and Minerva S. Weston of Lyons, Illinois, Joseph Weston and Mabel A. Weston of Maricopa, California, that they have been sued with others by Charles W. Boneham, administrator of the estate of Mary S. Weston, deceased, in the Probate Court of Cuyahoga County, Ohio.

The petition in said action states that said Mary S. Weston died seized in fee simple of an undivided one-half interest in the following described premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as Sub-lot No. twenty-eight (28) in The Benjamin Gray's Subdivision of a part of original Euclid Township Lots Nos. one and two according to the recorded plat of said Subdivision in Volume 18 of Maps, Page 9 of Cuyahoga County Records.

That the personal property of said decedent is wholly insufficient to pay the debts of said estate.

The prayer of the petition is that authority be granted said administrator to sell the interest of said decedent in the above described premises to pay the debts of said estate as provided by law.

Said case will be for hearing by said court on and after the 28th day of September, 1918, and unless said defendants answer by said date the petition will be taken as true and the prayer granted.

Laughlin and Ethel M. Laughlin, as plaintiffs, have filed their petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that they are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession of the following described premises, to-wit:

Situated in the Village of Dover, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being part of original Dover Township lot No. 68 and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a monument on the center line of Hall Road (60 feet wide), said center line being the westerly line of said original lot No. 68 at a point 212 feet southerly (measured along said center line) from a stone at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by Cyrus W. Laughlin and wife, to Frank B. Laughlin by deed dated November 25th, 1899, and recorded in Volume 724, page 492 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence north 88 degrees 55' east on line parallel with the northerly line of land so conveyed to Frank B. Laughlin, 256 feet to a monument; thence southerly on a line parallel with said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to a monument; thence south 88 degrees 55' west 256 feet to a monument on said center line of Hall Road; thence northerly along said center line of Hall Road, 171 feet to the place of beginning, and containing 1 acre of land, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that the defendants, the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Moses Hall, deceased claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, hostile and adverse to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the said Moses Hall, and a cloud is, thereby, cast on plaintiff's title. The petition alleges that Moses Hall died seized of the above described property some time prior to July 31st 1837, and left as his only heirs at law John Hall, Barnabas Hall, Charles Hall, Reuben C. Hall, Edwin Hall, Nancy Ingersoll, Eliza R. Parker, Anna Williams, Lucy Strong and Martha Bassett, that after the death of the said Moses Hall, and prior to said July 31st, 1837, the said Martha Bassett died leaving as her only heirs at law and next of kin, and therefore heirs at law of said Moses Hall, deceased, her husband, Nathan Bassett and her daughters, Vesta Sanford, Lydia R. Porter, Lucy E. Hurst, Martha Bassett, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett; that all the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, excepting Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett who were then minors, on July 31st 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them in trust, all the right, title and interest in and to the above described land and other lands of which the said Moses Hall died seized, said trustees and the survivor of them thereby being vested with full power and authority to sell and convey said lands; that Nathan Bassett died some time prior to May 2nd 1842, and that thereafter by virtue of said trust, the said John Hall, the survivor of said trustees, conveyed by warranty deed the above described premises and more lands, to George W. Laughlin, by deed dated July 25th 1844, and recorded in Vol. 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges further that the defendants, John Richardson, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Richardson, deceased claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights by reason of the fact that the said John Richardson in his life time entered into a contract with Moses Hall for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, and that said John Richardson some time prior to July 25th 1844, sold assigned and transferred said contract for the purchase of Lot No 68 to George W. Laughlin, who immediately took possession of said premises. The said George W. Laughlin, assignee of the said John Richardson having complied with the terms of said contract, demanded and received from the said John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, a deed duly executed to the premises above described and other lands, which said deed is duly recorded in Vol 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Ohio Deed Records. The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and by reason thereof aver it to be a fact that said contract was duly assigned and delivered to the said George W. Laughlin, and that said contract and the assignment thereof were never delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County for record as provided by law, but were lost and have been destroyed.

The petition alleges that the defendants, John Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Hall, deceased; Barnabas Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Barnabas Hall, deceased; Charles Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Charles Hall, deceased; Reuben C. Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Reuben C. Hall, deceased; Edwin Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Edwin Hall, deceased; Nancy Ingersoll, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Ingersoll, deceased; Eliza R. Parker, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Eliza R. Parker, deceased; Anna Williams, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Anna Williams, deceased; Lucy Strong, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy Strong, deceased; Martha Bassett, Sr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Sr., deceased; Vesta Sanford, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Vesta Sanford, deceased; Lydia R. Porter, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lydia R. Porter, deceased; Lucy E. Hurst, and the unknown heirs at law, and devisees of Lucy E. Hurst, deceased; Martha Bassett, Jr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Jr., deceased, claim some interest or title or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, adverse and hostile to plaintiff's rights, by reason of the fact that they were the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and as such heirs at law, on the 31st day of July, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them, a deed in trust to the premises above described, which said premises were by the defendant, John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, sold and conveyed to George W. Laughlin. Said defendants claim that the defendant, John Richardson, did not sell and assign his said land contract for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, to said George W. Laughlin, but that the said defendant, John Richardson, defaulted and failed to perform the covenants thereof, and to complete said land contract, in accordance with the terms thereof, and that said lot No. 68 thereby reverted to and vested in the aforesaid defendants, as heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and that the said John Hall, as trustee, by virtue of the aforesaid deed of July 31st, 1837, was without authority in the premises to sell and convey said premises.

The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe and by reason thereof, aver it to be a fact that the aforesaid defendants, subsequent to July 31st, 1837, and prior to July 25, 1844, and in the manner provided and set forth in the aforesaid trust deed, agreed to, and did authorize said trustee to sell and convey said premises to George W. Laughlin, and that by virtue of such authority in the premises, the said John Hall sold and conveyed the above described premises by warranty deed duly executed and delivered to said George W. Laughlin, and accounted for the proceeds therefrom to the said defendants, who were entitled to receive the same.

The petition further alleges that by reason of said authority conferred upon said trustee, all right, title and interest of every nature and kind which they or any one of them had, or might have had in and to said premises, were by said deed of July 25th, 1844, conveyed to the said George W. Laughlin.

The petition further alleges that the defendants, Nancy Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Bassett, deceased; Harriet Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Harriet Bassett, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the defendants, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, and a cloud is thereby cast upon plaintiffs title, and the petition alleges further that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and therefore, aver it to be a fact that at some time subsequent to July 25th, 1844, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett sold and conveyed all the interest, right and title that they and each of them had in and to said above described real estate, to George W. Laughlin, since deceased, by good and sufficient deed, duly executed hereafter to the said grantee, who was then in possession of said premises but that said deed was not delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, for record, as provided by law, and that said deed has been lost and destroyed.

The petition further alleges that the plaintiffs and their predecessors and ancestors in the chain of title, have held said premises for many years last past, by direct, clear and indefeasible title, in fee simple, without any adverse claims whatsoever having been made against said lands by anyone of said defendants; that none of said defendants, nor any one of them, has heretofore ever attempted to convey, or sought to enforce any interest, or exercise any ownership or interest in said premises whatsoever, and that any claim they, or anyone of them make, or may make, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the Ohio Statute of limitations, and that the alleged claims constitute a cloud upon plaintiffs' title, and that the plaintiffs and their ancestors, predecessors and grantors have been in actual, exclusive, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of the above described premises since the 25th day of July A. D. 1844.

The prayer of said petition is that each and all of said defendants may be notified of the pendency of said cause of action, and that unless they shall each of them come into Court and set forth their respective claims, they shall forever be barred therefrom; that each and all of the claims of said defendants may be adjudged null and void; that plaintiffs' title may be quieted against the defendants' claims, and each and every one of them may be enjoined from asserting such claims against said real estate; and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164955 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 14th of September, 1918.

D. 1918, Edward V. Leslie filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, being action No. 165132, against them and each of them, setting forth that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual and peaceable possession of the following described real estate:

Situated in the City of East Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of original Euclid Township Lot No. 44 and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning one (1) chain and eighty-four (84) links south forty and three-fourths (40¾) degrees east from the northeast corner of land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated August 27, 1846, and recorded in Volume 39, page 345, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records; thence south forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees west fifty (50) links; thence south forty and three fourths (40¾) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and three-fourths (49¾) degrees west fifty (50) links to the place of beginning, containing four (4) square rods of land and being the same land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated October 6, 1849, and recorded in Volume 61, page 528, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records.

Said petition further states that the said premises were conveyed to H. Adeline Spring, the grantor of the plaintiff, on the 21st day of January, 1880, by deed duly executed and delivered, that on said 21st day of January, 1880, H. Adeline Spring took actual and absolute possession of said real estate under said grant and held possession, actual, open, continuous, adverse, notorious and exclusive until the 11th day of April, 1913, at which time she conveyed to the plaintiff by deed duly executed and delivered and that the plaintiff ever since said conveyance to him has held actual, open, adverse, continuous, notorious and exclusive possession of said premises. That such possession ever since the 21st day of January, 1880, has been wholly adverse to the claims and interests of the defendants. That all of the defendants claim an estate or interest in said real estate adverse to plaintiff's rights therein, the nature and extent of which plaintiff is unable to state. That by reason thereof a cloud is cast upon the title to plaintiff's real estate which greatly and unjustly depreciates the value. That none of the defendants herein have any right, title or interest in said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants herein may be compelled to set forth their interests in said real estate, if any they have, and that the claims of said defendants and each of them be adjudged to be null and void and said plaintiff's title may be quieted against said defendants' claims and that they and each of them be enjoined from asserting such claim against such real estate, that the cloud thereon may be removed, and for such other and further relief as equity and the nature of the case may require and to the court seems just, necessary and proper.

Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 21st day of September, 1918, or judgment will be taken against them.

FORESIGHT.

When the war came upon us it found us totally unprepared. It will be to our discredit if we are equally unprepared to meet the conditions of a peace which is certain to come. These conditions will make readjustment necessary. There will be an immediate cessation of the war industries which are now employing so many people, and there will be the needful re-absorption of a great army into the working ranks of the country.

The young men of the army, accustomed to a hardy out-of-door life, will, many of them desire outside work. Secretary Lane's plan for a survey of all the vacant and waste lands of the nation with a view to determining which of them can be reclaimed for cultivation, is an admirable project.

Many of the plants producing war materials can be utilized for commercial products. The government and the capitalists will do all they can toward meeting conditions.

But there is much that can be done locally toward a solution of the problem. The government does not wish any public works, except those which are absolutely necessary, undertaken for the period of the war. But there is no reason why we should not have our plans laid for inaugurating them after the close of the war. The putting up of school buildings that are required or other necessary public buildings can be planned. In many sections of the country good public highways are badly needed. Such enterprises will give work to many.

It would also be an excellent idea to establish small factories in districts where the material required would either be largely local or within easy transportation. Conditions would be healthful for workers and employment would be secured for many men.

Foresight and careful planning will greatly aid in meeting after-war conditions and should engage our thoughtful consideration.

The fact that the German government spent "from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000" in propoganda in the United States and "got nothing for it" is established by the expert testimony of George Sylvester Viereck.—Springfield Republican.

Truly there is no garment that more pleasingly becomes most men than a white flannel suit—Our reputation for this class of cleansing work is the highest.

We call up on request.

Packers' Profits Are Regulated

The public should understand that the profits of the packers have been limited by the Food Administration since November 1, 1917. For this purpose, the business of Swift & Company is now divided into three classes:

Class 1 includes such products as beef, pork, mutton, oleomargarine and others that are essentially animal products. Profits are limited to 9 per cent of the capital employed in these departments, (including surplus and borrowed money), or not to exceed two and a half cents on each dollar of sales.

Class 2 includes the soap, glue, fertilizer, and other departments more or less associated with the meat business. Many of these departments are in competition with outside businesses whose profits are not limited. Profits in this class are restricted to 15 per cent of the capital employed.

Class 3 includes outside investments, such as those in stock yards, and the operation of packing plants in foreign countries. Profits in this class are not limited.

Total profits for all departments together in 1918 will probably be between three and four per cent on an increased volume of sales.

The restrictions absolutely guarantee a reasonable relation between live stock prices and wholesale meat prices, because the packer's profit cannot possibly average more than a fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Since the profits on meat (Class 1) are running only about 2 cents on each dollar of sales, we have to depend on the profits from soap, glue, fertilizer (Class 2, also limited) and other departments (Class 3) to obtain reasonable earnings on capital.

Swift & Company is conducting its business so as to come within these limitations.

SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY SENDS CAR OF FLOUR TO FRANCE

Herndon, Fairfax county, Virginia, has discovered a way of extending its hospitality, which seems to be of the true Southern sort, across the sea and right into the midst of the French families that need it most. In three days the people subscribed the wheat for a car of flour, the local milling company ground it free for its part, and one of the local baking companies contributed sacks to put it in. It is now on its way, a gift to France.

The wheat harvest is just beginning all over the country. Perhaps Herndon, suggests one of the citizens who promoted the movement to give a car of flour to France, may have started a campaign that other wheat-raising communities will follow. It was easier than he imagined would be possible. Farmers, millers and bakers were glad to co-operate in filling the car. Then they all got together for a little community celebration; and, after listening to stirring stories from France, brought by two invalided French officers, says the Herndon Observer:

The band played the "Star-Spangled Banner," and the Sunday school escort led the way to the car at the station and the trucks of flour which had been contributed by the citizens of Herndon and vicinity to the glorious sufferers of France who had sacrificed so much. The service of dedication was performed by Rev. Pearse Pinch. The first sack was loaded by ex-Governor Montague, who kindly officiated in the place of Governor Davis. The Pathe Weekly made films for a moving picture which it is hoped will be the means of getting the suggestion to not only all through Virginia, but all parts of the country.

THE GERMAN OFFENSIVE OF 1918.

The 1918 offensive of the German army, carefully planned at Berlin, was intended to overcome the Allies before America could bring over any effective number of her troops. The successive German drives, which began March 21, have now become history. We cannot think of them without seeing the German divisions sent forward, close-packed, wave succeeding wave, upon the allied positions. In these drives, we know, the Germans were utterly regardless of life, and as their men fell others were advanced to take their places.

To meet these various drives the Allies, under General Foch, adopted the tactics of a slow and cautious retreat, giving up one position after another to the German assaults, with as much conservation of men and supplies as possible. The period has been one of intense anxiety for all the allied countries. From day to day there was no certainty that the allied line would hold.

General Foch was playing a waiting game, realizing that every day that passed without absolute defeat tended to strengthen the allied cause. America was enlarging her transportation facilities and increasing the troops she poured across the Atlantic. 244,000 men crossed in May, 250,000 in June, each unit bolstering up the Allied reserves.

At last, in the July drive General Foch felt himself strong enough to inaugurate a policy of counter-attack. The German crown prince threw his forces forward in a salient across the Marne. Successive French-American attacks imperiled the position of the German army and brought about its retreat.

We now have the picture of the tables turned—the Germans in full retreat with tremendous losses of men and artillery, the French and Americans in pursuit. The French, though war-worn, have not lost an iota of their spirit, and their courage is buoyed up by our fine American troops pouring in.

The balance is again swinging toward the Allies. On the one side is a great army advancing, full of hope, with the certainty of a constant addition of fresh, enthusiastic troops. The harvests of America guarantee an abundant food supply. On the other side is retreat, discouragement in the field, a hungry and dissatisfied population at home. Our hopes are rightfully high. We look upon the present situation as the beginning of the end and trust that this forward movement of the Allies will be halted only when it has swept through the last line of German defenses.

LADDER LOGIC.

Life is a ladder, and few of us care to go down. Life calls for steady and sure climbing—hand-over-hand human effort to get up.

You need not worry about the man ahead of you so long as he keeps climbing. The man ahead of you will not be in your way if you stop. The fellow above you cannot remain there unless he climbs faster than you. If he does climb faster than you he should be a human inspiration and not a hindrance—your pacemaker.

So, you see, this ladder logic teaches a lot. It teaches us to shut up and keep climbing.

The man who has been considering his car as an institution for pleasure now looks upon it with awe as an institution for the production of unexpected taxes.

Said parts of said sublots Nos. 29 and 30 together form a parcel of land having a frontage of 41 1-3 feet on the easterly side of E. 67th St., and extending back between parallel lines one hundred feet deep.

WHY ENVY SUCCESS?

The shirkers, slackers, drones and dubs are always complaining about what the boss has and what they have to do.

The honest employee knows that tired muscles and relaxed bodies give a man sound sleep and a good appetite.

The very nature of ownership calls for a mental strain that proves an enemy to sleep and appetite.

Why listen to the kicker, the complainer? It is not to your interest to envy success.

THE EMPTY BOARD.

It was the excited kid at the ball park who yelled: "Hey, Larry, hit it out to the fence where the empty board is!"

What a pity it is that we older ones can't get excited and hit it out where the "empty board" is! But no; most of us just bunt and then run. We almost hope to get hit with the pill rather than take the kid's advice and get a new suit of clothes.

If it's team play to bunt, why bunt; but if it's your turn to make the bases, for the love of Larry, swing!

Think About House Heating Right NOW—Not Next Winter When It May Be Too Late

If you had trouble with your heating plant last winter, you will be caught unprepared next winter unless you solve your heating problem NOW. It is logical to prepare for winter in Summer or Fall. NOW is the time to decide what you are going to do about fuel and whether or not any changes should be made in your heating method.

Fuel is going to be hard to get next winter, as it was last season. If you intend to lay in coal, which is highly advisable for emergency reasons, order now. Gas will also be in great demand next winter, and on the very cold days will probably not meet maximum requirements.

Let us solve your heating problem.

SOME REASONS WHY:

It is absolutely safe. Practically all trust funds, endowments of colleges and universities, cemeteries, charitable institutions and private estates are invested in real estate. In fact, this is true of practically every sort of fund where safety and stability are paramount.

There is always a demand for real estate. Every person, whether he be an owner or renter, from the cradle to the grave, must have the use of a piece of land on which to live and conduct his business.

Real estate values do not depend on the judgment and action of some one person, or a small group of persons. On the contrary, the whole growth of the country in general and the city in particular, is adding to and making stable the value of every foot of land.

Land values in Willoughby are solid. They will continue to advance. They are bulwarked by the great, ever-expanding City of Cleveland, one of the world's greatest industrial centers, destined to become the "Third City" of America. The continued growth of Cleveland, and its trend to the eastward is certain. Equally sure is the continued advance in Willoughby land values.

THE WILLOUGHBY - EUCLID AVE. SUB-DIVISION, ideally located, carefully restricted and provided with complete improvements, offers an exceptional opportunity to "cash in" on the increase in values certain to take place. It is "the place for your home" and a safe, profitable investment. Our easy payment plan makes it easy for you to own one of these fine, big lots, 80x200, at $640 up.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to Helen Spence and John Spence of Leeds, England, James W. Weston and Minerva S. Weston of Lyons, Illinois, Joseph Weston and Mabel A. Weston of Maricopa, California, that they have been sued with others by Charles W. Boneham, administrator of the estate of Mary S. Weston, deceased, in the Probate Court of Cuyahoga County, Ohio.

The petition in said action states that said Mary S. Weston died seized in fee simple of an undivided one-half interest in the following described premises:

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as Sub-lot No. twenty-eight (28) in The Benjamin Gray's Subdivision of a part of original Euclid Township Lots Nos. one and two according to the recorded plat of said Subdivision in Volume 18 of Maps, Page 9 of Cuyahoga County Records.

That the personal property of said decedent is wholly insufficient to pay the debts of said estate.

The prayer of the petition is that authority be granted said administrator to sell the interest of said decedent in the above described premises to pay the debts of said estate as provided by law.

Said case will be for hearing by said court on and after the 28th day of September, 1918, and unless said defendants answer by said date the petition will be taken as true and the prayer granted.

Laughlin and Ethel M. Laughlin, as plaintiffs, have filed their petition against them, as defendants, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, alleging that they are the owners in fee simple and in actual possession of the following described premises, to-wit:

Situated in the Village of Dover, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being part of original Dover Township lot No. 68, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a monument on the center line of Hall Road (60 feet wide), said center line being the westerly line of said original lot No. 68 at a point 212 feet southerly (measured along said center line) from a stone at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by Cyrus W. Laughlin and wife, to Frank B. Laughlin by deed dated November 25th, 1899, and recorded in Volume 724, page 492 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence north 88 degrees 55' east on line parallel with the northerly line of land so conveyed to Frank B. Laughlin, 256 feet to a monument; thence southerly on a line parallel with said center line of Hall Road, 174 feet to a monument; thence south 88 degrees 55' west 256 feet to a monument on said center line of Hall Road; thence northerly along said center line of Hall Road, 171 feet to the place of beginning, and containing 1 acre of land, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

The petition alleges that the defendants, the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Moses Hall, deceased claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, hostile and adverse to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the said Moses Hall, and a cloud is, thereby, cast on plaintiff's title. The petition alleges that Moses Hall died seized of the above described property some time prior to July 31st 1837, and left as his only heirs at law John Hall, Barnabas Hall, Charles Hall, Reuben C. Hall, Edwin Hall Nancy Ingersoll, Eliza R. Parker Anna Williams, Lucy Strong and Martha Bassett, that after the death of the said Moses Hall, and prior to said July 31st, 1837, the said Martha Bassett died leaving as her only heirs at law and next of kin, and therefore heirs at law of said Moses Hall, deceased, her husband, Nathan Bassett and her daughters, Vesta Sanford, Lydia R. Porter, Lucy E. Hurst, Martha Bassett, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett; that all the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, excepting Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett who were then minors, on July 31st 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them in trust, all the right, title and interest in and to the above described land and other lands of which the said Moses Hall died seized, said trustees and the survivor of them thereby being vested with full power and authority to sell and convey said lands; that Nathan Bassett died some time prior to May 2nd 1842, and that thereafter by virtue of said trust, the said John Hall, the survivor of said trustees, conveyed by warranty deed the above described premises and more lands, to George W. Laughlin, by deed dated July 25th. 1844, and recorded in Vol. 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Records.

The petition alleges further that the defendants, John Richardson, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Richardson, deceased claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights by reason of the fact that the said John Richardson in his life time entered into a contract with Moses Hall for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, and that said John Richardson some time prior to July 25th 1844, sold assigned and transferred said contract for the purchase of Lot No 68 to George W. Laughlin, who immediately took possession of said premises. The said George W. Laughlin, assignee of the said John Richardson having complied with the terms of said contract, demanded and received from the said John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, a deed duly executed to the premises above described and other lands, which said deed is duly recorded in Vol 37, page 107 of Cuyahoga County Ohio Deed Records. The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and by reason thereof aver it to be a fact that said contract was duly assigned and delivered to the said George W. Laughlin, and that said contract and the assignment thereof were never delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County for record as provided by law, but were lost and have been destroyed.

The petition alleges that the defendants, John Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of John Hall, deceased; Barnabas Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Barnabas Hall, deceased; Charles Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Charles Hall, deceased; Reuben C. Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Reuben C. Hall, deceased; Edwin Hall, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Edwin Hall, deceased; Nancy Ingersoll, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Ingersoll, deceased; Eliza R. Parker, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Eliza R. Parker, deceased; Anna Williams, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Anna Williams, deceased; Lucy Strong, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lucy Strong, deceased; Martha Bassett, Sr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Sr., deceased; Vesta Sanford and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Vesta Sanford, deceased; Lydia R. Porter and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Lydia R. Porter, deceased; Lucy E. Hurst [illegible] devisees of Lucy E. Hurst, deceased; Martha Bassett, Jr., and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Martha Bassett, Jr., deceased, claim some interest or title or pretended interest or title in and to said premises, adverse and hostile to plaintiff's rights, by reason of the fact that they were the heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and as such heirs at law, on the 31st day of July, 1837, executed and delivered to John Hall and Nathan Bassett, and the survivor of them, a deed in trust to the premises above described, which said premises were by the defendant, John Hall, trustee, as aforesaid, sold and conveyed to George W. Laughlin. Said defendants claim that the defendant. John Richardson, did not sell and assign his said land contract for the purchase of original lot No. 68 of Dover Township, to said George W. Laughlin, but that the said defendant, John Richardson, defaulted and failed to perform the covenants thereof, and to complete said land contract, in accordance with the terms thereof, and that said lot No. 68 thereby reverted to and vested in the aforesaid defendants, as heirs at law of Moses Hall, deceased, and that the said John Hall, as trustee, by virtue of the aforesaid deed of July 31st, 1837, was without authority in the premises to sell and convey said premises.

The petition alleges that the plaintiffs are informed and believe and by reason thereof, aver it to be a fact that the aforesaid defendants, subsequent to July 31st, 1837, and prior to July 25, 1844, and in the manner provided for and set forth in the aforesaid trust deed, agreed to, and did authorize said trustee to sell and convey said premises to George W. Laughlin, and that by virtue of such authority in the premises, the said John Hall sold and conveyed the above described premises by warranty deed duly executed and delivered to said George W. Laughlin, and accounted for the proceeds therefrom to the said defendants, who were entitled to receive the same.

The petition further alleges that by reason of said authority conferred upon said trustee, all right, title and interest of every nature and kind which they or any one of them had, or might have had in and to said premises, were by said deed of July 25th, 1844, conveyed to the said George W. Laughlin.

The petition further alleges that the defendants, Nancy Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Nancy Bassett, deceased; Harriet Bassett, and the unknown heirs at law and devisees of Harriet Bassett, deceased, claim some interest or title, or pretended interest or title in and to said premises adverse and hostile to plaintiffs' rights, by reason of the fact that the records of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, do not disclose any conveyance from the defendants, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett, and a cloud is thereby cast upon plaintiffs' title, and the petition alleges further that the plaintiffs are informed and believe, and therefore, aver it to be a fact that at some time subsequent to July 25th, 1844, Nancy Bassett and Harriet Bassett sold and conveyed all the interest, right and title that they and each of them had in and to said above described real estate, to George W. Laughlin, since deceased, by good and sufficient deed, duly executed herefor to the said grantee, who was then in possession of said premises but that said deed was not delivered to the Recorder of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, for record, as provided by law, and that said deed has been lost and destroyed.

The petition further alleges that the plaintiffs and their predecessors and ancestors in the chain of title, have held said premises for many years last past, by direct, clear and indefeasible title, in fee simple, without any adverse claims whatsoever having been made against said lands by anyone of said defendants; that none of said defendants, nor any one of them, has heretofore ever attempted to convey, or sought to enforce any interest, or exercise any ownership or interest in said premises whatsoever, and that any claim they, or anyone of them make, or may make, has long since been barred by lapse of time and the Ohio Statute of limitations, but that the alleged claims constitute a cloud upon plaintiffs' title, and that the plaintiffs and their ancestors, predecessors and grantors have been in actual, exclusive, open, notorious, continuous and adverse possession of the above described premises since the 25th day of July A. D. 1844.

The prayer of said petition is that each and all of said defendants may be notified of the pendency of said cause of action, and that unless they shall each of them come into Court and set forth their respective claims, they shall forever be barred therefrom; that each and all of the claims of said defendants may be adjudged null and void; that plaintiffs' title may be quieted against the defendants' claims, and each and every one of them may be enjoined from asserting such claims against said real estate; and for relief.

Said petition is No. 164955 and the above named defendants are required to answer the same on or before the 14th of Septembr, 1918.

D. 1918, Edward V. Leslie filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, being action No. 165132, against them and each of them, setting forth that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual and peaceable possession of the following described real estate:

Situated in the City of East Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of original Euclid Township Lot No. 44 and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning one (1) chain and eighty-four (84) links south forty and three-fourths (40¾) degrees east from the northeast corner of land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated August 27, 1846, and recorded in Volume 39, page 345, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records; thence south forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees west fifty (50) links; thence south forty and three fourths (40¾) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and three-fourths (49¾) degrees west fifty (50) links to the place of beginning, containing four (4) square rods of land and being the same land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated October 6, 1849, and recorded in Volume 61, page 528, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records.

Said petition further states that the said premises were conveyed to H. Adeline Spring, the grantor of the plaintiff, on the 21st day of January, 1880, by deed duly executed and delivered, that on said 21st day of January, 1880, H. Adeline Spring took actual and absolute possession of said real estate under said grant and held possession, actual, open, continuous, adverse, notorious and exclusive until the 11th day of April, 1913, at which time she conveyed to the plaintiff by deed duly executed and delivered and that the plaintiff ever since said conveyance to him has held actual, open, adverse, continuous, notorious and exclusive possession of said premises. That such possession ever since the 21st day of January, 1880, has been wholly adverse to the claims and interests of the defendants. That all of the defendants claim an estate or interest in said real estate adverse to plaintiff's rights therein, the nature and extent of which plaintiff is unable to state. That by reason thereof a cloud is cast upon the title to plaintiff's real estate which greatly and unjustly depreciates the value. That none of the defendants herein have any right, title or interest in said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants herein may be compelled to set forth their interests in said real estate, if any they have, and that the claims of said defendants and each of them be adjudged to be null and void and said plaintiff's title may be quieted against said defendants' claims and that they and each of them be enjoined from asserting such claim against such real estate, that the cloud thereon may be removed, and for such other and further relief as equity and the nature of the case may require and to the court seems just, necessary and proper.

FORESIGHT.

When the war came upon us it found us totally unprepared. It will be to our discredit if we are equally unprepared to meet the conditions of a peace which is certain to come. These conditions will make readjustment necessary. There will be an immediate cessation of the war industries which are now employing so many people, and there will be the needful re-absorption of a great army into the working ranks of the country.

The young men of the army, accustomed to a hardy out-of-door life, will, many of them desire outside work. Secretary Lane's plan for a survey of all the vacant and waste lands of the nation with a view to determining which of them can be reclaimed for cultivation, is an admirable project.

Many of the plants producing war materials can be utilized for commercial products. The government and the capitalists will do all they can toward meeting conditions.

But there is much that can be done locally toward a solution of the problem. The government does not wish any public works, except those which are absolutely necessary, undertaken for the period of the war. But there is no reason why we should not have our plans laid for inaugurating them after the close of the war. The putting up of school buildings that are required or other necessary public buildings can be planned. In many sections of the country good public highways are badly needed. Such enterprises will give work to many.

It would also be an excellent idea to establish small factories in districts where the material required would either be largely local or within easy transportation. Conditions would be healthful for workers and employment would be secured for many men.

Foresight and careful planning will greatly aid in meeting after-war conditions and should engage our thoughtful consideration.

The fact that the German government spent "from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000" in propoganda in the United States and "got nothing for it" is established by the expert testimony of George Sylvester Viereck.—Springfield Republican.

Truly there is no garment that more pleasingly becomes most men than a white flannel suit—Our reputation for this class of cleansing work is the highest.

We call up on request.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

Packers' Profits Are Regulated

The public should understand that the profits of the packers have been limited by the Food Administration since November 1, 1917. For this purpose, the business of Swift & Company is now divided into three classes:

Class 1 includes such products as beef, pork, mutton, oleomargarine and others that are essentially animal products. Profits are limited to 9 per cent of the capital employed in these departments, (including surplus and borrowed money), or not to exceed two and a half cents on each dollar of sales.

Class 2 includes the soap, glue, fertilizer, and other departments more or less associated with the meat business. Many of these departments are in competition with outside businesses whose profits are not limited. Profits in this class are restricted to 15 per cent of the capital employed.

Class 3 includes outside investments, such as those in stock yards, and the operation of packing plants in foreign countries. Profits in this class are not limited.

Total profits for all departments together in 1918 will probably be between three and four per cent on an increased volume of sales.

The restrictions absolutely guarantee a reasonable relation between live stock prices and wholesale meat prices, because the packer's profit cannot possibly average more than a fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Since the profits on meat (Class 1) are running only about 2 cents on each dollar of sales, we have to depend on the profits from soap, glue, fertilizer (Class 2, also limited) and other departments, (Class 3) to obtain reasonable earnings on capital.

Swift & Company is conducting its business so as to come within these limitations.

SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY SENDS CAR OF FLOUR TO FRANCE

Herndon, Fairfax county, Virginia, has discovered a way of extending its hospitality, which seems to be of the true Southern sort, across the sea and right into the midst of the French families that need it most. In three days the people subscribed the wheat for a car of flour, the local milling company ground it free for its part, and one of the local baking companies contributed sacks to put it in. It is now on its way, a gift to France.

The wheat harvest is just beginning all over the country. Perhaps Herndon, suggests one of the citizens who promoted the movement to give a car of flour to France, may have started a campaign that other wheat-raising communities will follow. It was easier than he imagined would be possible. Farmers, millers and bakers were glad to co-operate in filling the car. Then they all got together for a little community celebration; and, after listening to stirring stories from France, brought by two invalided French officers, says the Herndon Observer:

The band played the "Star-Spangled Banner," and the Sunday school escort led the way to the car at the station and the trucks of flour which had been contributed by the citizens of Herndon and vicinity to the glorious sufferers of France who had sacrificed so much. The service of dedication was performed by Rev. Pearse Pinch. The first sack was loaded by ex-Governor Montague, who kindly officiated in the place of Governor Davis. The Pathe Weekly made films for a moving picture which it is hoped will be the means of getting the suggestion to not only all through Virginia, but all parts of the country.

THE GERMAN OFFENSIVE OF 1918.

The 1918 offensive of the German army, carefully planned at Berlin, was intended to overcome the Allies before America could bring over any effective number of her troops. The successive German drives, which began March 21, have now become history. We cannot think of them without seeing the German divisions sent forward, close-packed, wave succeeding wave, upon the allied positions. In these drives, we know, the Germans were utterly regardless of life, and as their men fell others were advanced to take their places.

To meet these various drives the Allies, under General Foch, adopted the tactics of a slow and cautious retreat, giving up one position after another to the German assaults, with as much conservation of men and supplies as possible. The period has been one of intense anxiety for all the allied countries. From day to day there was no certainty that the allied line would hold.

General Foch was playing a waiting game, realizing that every day that passed without absolute defeat tended to strengthen the allied cause. America was enlarging her transportation facilities and increasing the troops she poured across the Atlantic. 244,000 men crossed in May, 250,000 in June, each unit bolstering up the Allied reserves.

At last, in the July drive General Foch felt himself strong enough to inaugurate a policy of counter-attack. The German crown prince threw his forces forward in a salient across the Marne. Successive French-American attacks imperiled the position of the German army and brought about its retreat.

We now have the picture of the tables turned—the Germans in full retreat with tremendous losses of men and artillery, the French and Americans in pursuit. The French, though war-worn, have not lost an iota of their spirit, and their courage is buoyed up by our fine American troops pouring in.

The balance is again swinging toward the Allies. On the one side is a great army advancing, full of hope, with the certainty of a constant addition of fresh, enthusiastic troops. The harvests of America guarantee an abundant food supply. On the other side is retreat, discouragement in the field, a hungry and dissatisfied population at home. Our hopes are rightfully high. We look upon the present situation as the beginning of the end and trust that this forward movement of the Allies will be halted only when it has swept through the last line of German defenses.

LADDER LOGIC.

Life is a ladder, and few of us care to go down. Life calls for steady and sure climbing—hand-over-hand human effort to get up.

You need not worry about the man ahead of you so long as he keeps climbing. The man ahead of you will not be in your way if you stop. The fellow above you cannot remain there unless he climbs faster than you. If he does climb faster than you he should be a human inspiration and not a hindrance—your pacemaker.

So, you see, this ladder logic teaches a lot. It teaches us to shut up and keep climbing.

The man who has been considering his car as an institution for pleasure now looks upon it with awe as an institution for the production of unexpected taxes.

ORDINANCE NO. 1175.

By Mr. F. J. Wenneman.

An ordinance granting to the New York Central Railroad Company the right to construct, maintain and operate switch tracks upon and across Berea road in the Village of West Park, Ohio, about two hundred and fifty feet westerly of the intersection of Fischer road and Berea road.

Be it ordained by the Council of the Village of West Park, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That the New York Central Railroad Company be and is hereby granted the right to construct, maintain and operate two parallel spur or switch tracks over and across Berea road at a point approximately 250 feet westerly of said road and Fischer road in said village, on the terms hereinafter mentioned. Said switch tracks shall be constructed on the grade of the said highway where it crosses the same, and shall be located as shown by a blue-print hereto attached, marked "A".

Section 2. That right hereby granted to said Railroad Company is upon the conditions following, to which said Company, its successors and assigns, shall at all times strictly conform. Said switch tracks shall have no frogs or switch points within the limit of said Berea Road. Said switch tracks shall be planked between the rails and two feet outside of each rail at the expense of said Railroad Company, or its assigns, and to the satisfaction of said Village; and such planking shall be kept in good repair by said Company, its successors or assigns, which shall also construct and keep in order the necessary drainage beneath said tracks on both sides of said road; and in case the grade of said highway is changed, such tracks shall be relaid to conform to such altered grade.

Section 3. And said grant is upon the further condition that upon the construction of such tracks, said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, will restore said Berea Road to as good a condition as it was in before being disturbed; and if it be necessary in the course of any future improvements in said highway to excavate therein for the construction of sewers, pipes, etc., said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns will at its own expense support said tracks for the purpose of permitting such construction to proceed.

Section 4. Said Railroad Company shall not unnecessarily obstruct said crossing by permitting cars or locomotives to remain upon or across it for a period longer than five minutes, nor will it permit timber, lumber or other obstructions to remain upon said crossing to the inconvenience of travelers upon said highway, nor shall it be permitted to make up trains or shift or shunt cars back and forth while the train is blocking or obstructing said Berea Road. Said Railroad Company shall protect traffic passing along Berea Road by the presence of a flagman while train or car movements are being made over said track.

Section 5. Said Railroad Company for itself, its successors or assigns further agrees to indemnify and hold said Village harmless against any from any damages to persons or property or expense of any kind that may arise by reason of said switch track, or the grant herein contained; and to at all times fully obey any lawful general or special regulations that may be enacted governing or applicable to the said tracks, waiving any rights to the contrary.

Section 6. On failure of said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, to observe and keep any or all of the obligations, agreements and conditions of this grant on its part to be observed and kept, then its rights and powers hereunder and this grant shall cease and terminate, and said Railroad Company agrees that within thirty days after any such breach of said conditions and written notice thereof from said Village of West Park, it will take up and remove said tracks and restore said highway crossing to its former state and condition.

Section 7. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law and the filing with the Clerk of Council of a written acceptance of the terms and conditions thereof by The New York Central Railroad Company, and the payment to the Village of the expense of printing and advertising the same.

WHY ENVY SUCCESS?

The shirkers, slackers, drones and dubs are always complaining about what the boss has and what they have to do.

The honest employee knows that tired muscles and relaxed bodies give a man sound sleep and a good appetite.

The very nature of ownership calls for a mental strain that proves an enemy to sleep and appetite.

Why listen to the kicker, the complainer? It is not to your interest to envy success.

THE EMPTY BOARD.

It was the excited kid at the ball park who yelled: "Hey, Larry, hit it out to the fence where the empty board is!"

What a pity it is that we older ones can't get excited and hit it out where the "empty board" is! But no; most of us just bunt and then run. We almost hope to get hit with the pill rather than take the kid's advice and get a new suit of clothes.

If it's team play to bunt, why bunt; but if it's your turn to make the bases, for the love of Larry, swing!

Think About House Heating Right NOW—Not Next Winter When It May Be Too Late

If you had trouble with your heating plant last winter, you will be caught unprepared next winter unless you solve your heating problem NOW. It is logical to prepare for winter in Summer or Fall. NOW is the time to decide what you are going to do about fuel and whether or not any changes should be made in your heating method.

Fuel is going to be hard to get next winter, as it was last season. If you intend to lay in coal, which is highly advisable for emergency reasons, order now. Gas will also be in great demand next winter, and on the very cold days will probably not meet maximum requirements.

Let us solve your heating problem.

Our expert will gladly advise without charge.

CATHOLIC CHURCH OBSERVES FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

September 8th next the Rt. Rev. John P. Farrelly will celebrate mass in the Immaculate Conception church, Vine street, the occasion being the 50th anniversary of the building of the church. The church was built by Rev. Anthony Martin, who was stationed at Euclid and attended Willoughby, Mentor and Collinwood as missions. The benediction will be given in the evening at 7:30 by the pastor. It was hoped that Msgr. J. T. O'Connell, of Toledo, who was pastor here at one time, would be able to deliver the jubilee sermon, but he had another engagement. The present pastor, Rev. Wm. H. Moseley, has had charge of the church for the past nine years. During that period the debt on the church property has been paid off, and the church remodeled and decorated. The celebration will terminate Monday evening with a lawn fete.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our most heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors, and all who helped us through the time of our great loss. Also for the beautiful flowers.

MRS. J. W. SCHUPP AND FAMILY.

Over 700 canteen stations have been established by the American Red Cross on the railway lines of this country.

NEW WAYS OF USING GREEN TOMATOES

When the first hard frost leaves you with a large supply of green tomatoes on hand you will make some of them into pickle—but do you know how good they are to use as a vegetable?

They are very good sliced and fried. Slice in one-half inch slices, sprinkle with salt and fry until tender in a little fat. If you wish them browned, dip the slices in flour or bread crumbs or first dip in egg and then in crumbs before frying.

If you are fond of fried apple and onions, you will also like the following: Slice onions and green tomatoes and fry together. Serve at dinner or as a relish for supper.

They are very good, too, stewed much as you stew the ripe ones.

Stewed Green Tomatoes.

Four large green tomatoes, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons bread crumbs, ¼ teaspoon onion juice.

Scald tomatoes and remove skins, cut into quarters, boil until tender; season and thicken with crumbs.

They give a distinctive flavor to cream soup and are worth trying.

Cream of Green Tomato Soup.

Six green tomatoes, ½ teaspoon soda, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

Boil the tomatoes until tender and put through a strainer. Make cream sauce of butter and flour, to which is added milk, salt and pepper. Add pulp to which soda has been added. Allow to cook ten minutes in double boiler.

THE FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN.

The campaign for the fourth Liberty Loan begins September 28th and closes October 19th. While the amount has not yet been announced, it is generally conceded it will be for a larger amount than any of the preceding loans. The American people, therefore, are called upon to raise a larger sum of money in a shorter length of time than ever before. There is need, therefore, for prompt action—prompt and efficient work and prompt and liberal subscriptions.

We have a great inspiration for a great effort. The news from the battle front inspires every American heart, not only with pride and patriotism, but with a great incentive to do his or her part. There is no shirking, no shifting of the individual burden, no selfishness by American soldiers in France; there should be none here. We are both supporting the same country and the same cause—our army in one way, ourselves in another. Theirs is the harder part, but at least we can do our part as promptly and loyally and efficiently as they do theirs.

WILLOUGHBY

ONE of Uncle Sam's big problems is to provide plenty of healthy amusement for our fighting men. It makes them more efficient. Our President has said that the winning of the war depends as much on the efficiency of the ones at home as the efficiency of the men in the trenches. Every one will be able to work the harder after a day of play at the big Lake County Fair, Painesville, Sept. 10–13.

NEWS FROM WAITE HILL

Well, Sunday was autoless day and it surely was a quiet day. Only a few autos, not more than nine or ten, passed here all day. Of course, there are always a few who'll evade the law and run the risk of being arrested, and I say if it's the duty of one to save gasoline for war purposes it should be the duty of all. However, we noted some pretty steeds on the roads, which wouldn't have been if the autos had been allowed to run. We've not noticed so many pretty horses in many a day. We just enjoyed viewing them.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Parkhurst were summoned to Boston by telegram Saturday evening on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Parkhurst's father.

Miss Lavinia Yaxley has returned from a ten days' visit recently to her uncle's, Francis Yaxley, and family. He brought her home in his car.

Mrs. F. A. Parkhurst has a government position at Camp Sherman, and has been there two weeks. She certainly is doing her "bit" to help win the war.

Miss Florence Yaxley attended Teachers' Institute at Painesville last week. She will teach here in her home district, No. 3.

A family by the name of Moody are moving from Chester to the John Sherwin farm.

Mr. Chas. Burt and family are moving to Chester on the White farm, where they'd previously been employed.

A family from Akron are moving into the Yaxley house.

The last letter from Edwin Rockafellow stated he was on the water. He is probably "over there" now.

Miss Daisy McMahon, of Cleveland, is at home with her parents for several weeks.

John Call had the misfortune to get a finger cut off in a lime spreader about two weeks ago and has not been able to work since. It was on the right hand, of course, and it affected his whole arm. However, it seems to be coming out all right.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder and children, from Cleveland, were guests at Capt. James McMahon's Sunday week ago.

Andrew Hill and family entertained a company of friends from Cleveland over Sunday and Labor Day.

Mrs. McNeal is entertaining friends from Buffalo this week.

Road men are graveling Waite Hill. Occasionally an auto gets stuck in the fresh gravel, but as yet haven't heard of any going 'way under out of sight.

The Wright family has moved back to Cleveland.

We think the autos made up Labor Day for what they lost Sunday, from the number we noticed on the streets and country roads everywhere.

Kirtland News

Mrs. Kyle, of Chardon, came out Thursday to visit her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edna Cox, and returned Saturday.

The Red Cross for the month of August furnished nine sweaters, 23 pairs socks, 22 petticoats for the Belgians. This made 8 sweaters and 15 pairs of socks over the quota for Kirtland. There were two new members this month. There are a few old members whose year has expired, but they have not yet renewed their subscription. These are urged to send in their fees as soon as possible.

KIRTLAND TOWNSHIP PICNIC.

The township picnic last Wednesday brought a beautiful rain, which ended the drouth and made everyone happy, even though it did interfere rather seriously with the picnic. However, a goodly number assembled on the grounds for a while in the afternoon, long enough to buy up all the ice cream and other refreshments, so that the Red Cross came out $6.05 to the good.

Miss Helen Booth was at home over Sunday and Labor Day.

The Clay and Jarvis families, who have been spending the summer on the Isaac Wright place, have returned to the city.

The fine cornet playing by Professor Parsons, of Painesville, at the South Church last Sunday was very much appreciated. May he come again before long! Next Sunday Rev. Pierce, Sr., is expected to preach.

Tickets were sold on a ham donated by the Red Cross, the ham being won by Miss Ruth Bottsman, of Cleveland. The amount realized was $49. We all surely are pleased to see the familiar faces of those who once lived among us come back to help make these affairs a success.

ARE YOU AN AMERICAN?

The cardinal question now is not—where were you born? but rather—are you a real American? Are you prepared to sacrifice personal glory and convenience on the altar of patriotism? Do you grumble and harshly criticize the powers that be every time our government requests our co-operation in the sacred battle of democracy? Do you hold yourself capable of conserving more food for ourselves and our allies than is now being saved? What mighty school of statesmanship graduated you into a superior administrator of public affairs? At a time like this you must be either one hundred per cent American or a slacker and a coward. By your conduct you either appreciate and sanctify the sacrifice of our boys on the blood-soaked soil of France, or insult that sacrifice. If you growl every time the government asks you to do a mite in the holiest cause that ever called the sons of men to battle, you are not an American. You should depart at once and rest your slimy carcass on the hell-born bosom of kaiserism, for there, not here, is where you properly belong. And it is a safe proposition that you are not getting ready for the next Liberty Loan.

Last Sunday it was observed in Willoughby's vicinity that certain parties not exempted by government ruling failed to obey the request to make the day autoless, preferring their own pleasure and profit to the pressing needs of their country. These slackers should be given a lesson in the grim school of France, should be made to face the naked hellishness of the Huns.

Unless we obey all our country's requests cheerfully, gladly — even though it may seem unjust for the moment—we are not patriots; we are worse than traitors, for the hallowed liberty bequeathed to us by our fathers is on trial. With the boys over there, let us set our faces steadfastly toward Berlin, accepting our government's mandates with a smile. Let us be men! Let us be women! Let us be Americans!

Signed:
LOWELL HOWARD MORROW.

We may not be fighting the German people, but they have a curious way of getting between us and the Hohenzollerns.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The French are harvesting 1,800,000 bushels of wheat in the conquered and reconquered portions of France. This wheat was planted by the French, grown under German domination, and will make bread for the Allies.

Do you want to save fuel, iron, money and labor? The fuel administration says you can do all this by having your old stove or furnace repaired instead of buying a new one.

The vacation season is almost at an end. It is leaving behind it fine coats of tan, delightful memories and increased efficiency for the coming year.

It is said that German officers taken prisoners on the battle field, express the opinion that "Germany cannot win the war, but at the same time she cannot be beaten." Uncle Sam is fully prepared to see about that.

WE NEED THE MONEY HERE, SAYS GIBSON AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY THE FREIGHT. READ ON:
Say, which do you figure is cheaper: 1 pair head lamps at $6.00, 2 front fenders at $7.50, 1 radiator $25.00, or a nice classy bumper for about $5.50 or $6.00? Think that over and then come in and talk bumper with me. I am agoing to sell them whether I make a cent or not. Tires and Tubes are agoing up every day and you know you will need one or more soon; and I have the best money can buy at the price I ask. My present stock of oils and grease are nearly exhausted and the next shipment will be a considerable higher. So get busy now, as it is a necessity for your car. Just compare my prices with the catalogue houses, freight added, and see how far you are ahead by sending your money out of town; and right here is where we need it. I may not be here long, so get what you want of what I've got and if I have not got it I can get it or it isn't made.

Opera House

"Pollyanna" comes to the Opera House next week with a cast assembled by Klaw & Erlanger and George C. Tyler. The comedy is in every sense one of fascinating interest, and its urgent appeal is to those who have been through the mill of experience. It does not deal with sex problems, nor morbid themes, and is for the many who seek the theater for real diversion, for harmless merriment and appealing sentiment. And it is full of surprises. The play goes with the spirit of glad philosophy. Pollyanna, a young girl, the orphaned daughter of a western missionary, has gone to live with a crusty maiden aunt in the city. The aunt did not desire her, but through her persistence in playing what she calls "the glad game," Pollyanna not only won the heart of her aunt, but transformed all the grouches of the town. "The glad game" is simple. The player simply tries to be glad over everything; it matters not what happens.

Madge Bellamy leads the cast, and those prominent in her support are Gordon Johnstone, George Lindsey, John Webster, Fanchon Campbell, Katherine Rober, Helen Weathersby, Master Thomas Deely and others.

Standard Theater

Week of September 8th the Standard Theater starts its fall season with one of the biggest hits of the year. The most talented of the screen, as well as the operatic stage, Geraldine Farrar, in her first Goldwyn production, "The Turn of the Wheel," which is a play of today and a highly dramatic one, beginning at Monte Carlo, where she meets an American who is losing heavily. She interferes when he is about to commit suicide, gives him money, and he wins back all he lost besides more. He is later arrested for the murder of his divorced wife in New York. She is arrested with him, but soon proves her innocence. She then sets out to free him, and after many hard adventures finally succeeds, which brings a thrilling and interesting conclusion. Miss Farrar chose her own way of playing this role and she will be seen to great advantage.

It is right for the nation to back up General Pershing when he is at the front.

Marvel Theater

The Marvel Theater ranks as one of the very best in Cleveland, and its attractions are always of the highest class. It produces the best pictures, and on September 16th the regular vaudeville season will be started.

This popular amusement house has become a real "community theater," where all the people are wont to congregate and enjoy the best that the stage folks offer.

It is one of the most perfectly ventilated houses in Cleveland; its hundreds of seats are large and comfortable, and withal there is nothing lacking that contributes to the pleasure of its patrons.

Empire Theater

If you like ragtime music, or if your taste runs to the more classical kind, if you have a hankering after vaudeville or prefer something really beautiful in women, you are bound to be satisfied with what the Empire theater will offer next week. There is something for every variety of taste and several things for the timely cultivated one with this "smashingly popular show."

Indian Giver

Queen Mary sent a beautiful bouquet that had been presented to her to a soldiers' hospital. To show their appreciation, the inmates commissioned one of their number to stand at the hospital gate the following morning, holding the gift, when the queen passed. He did so—wtih rather unexpected results. Queen Mary, seated in her car, saw the soldier standing there, bouquet in hand, and assuming that he wished to present it to her, she reached out and took it. After she had thanked him her car passed on.

The soldier stood quite dumfounded—then, recovering his speech, he said: "Well, she's pinched 'em."—Boston Transcript.

Alla Axiom, at the Miles Theatre, Cleveland, Week of September 9.

Miles Theater

Alla Axiom, the great Hindu seer, mind reader and crystal gazer, who is creating such a profound sensation at the Miles Theater this week with his demonstrations in psychology and crystal gazing, has been re-engaged to head the vaudeville bill the coming week, starting with the matinees Monday, and this remarkable Hindu promises some new and interesting demonstrations in the occult sciences. He has Cleveland mystified as he had Detroit for seven weeks, Indianapolis for eight weeks, etc., and he is acknowledged as the greatest student of psychology now before the public. To him there are no secrets—one moment of concentration and the thoughts of those in the audience are like an open book to him. He answers correctly questions pertaining to business, love and personal affairs, and he has been the talk of the town the past week. Another special performance for ladies only will be given next Friday morning. The remainder of the vaudeville bill will comprise comedy, music, singing and novelty and should prove to be the best yet offered this season at that theater. O'Neil & Walmsley, known as the "Two Lightning Bugs," presenting the comicalities of life; Henry & Adelaide, modern dancers; Eldridge, Barlow & Eldridge in a comedy called "The Rural Delivery"; Wilmot, eccentric juggler, and the Kilo Brothers in an aerial novelty complete the vaudeville. Photoplays will be presented before and after the vaudeville, which starts at 2:15, 4:15, 7:00 and 9:15 daily.

Star Theater

Admirers of burlesque will certainly find all the requirements that go to make up a really first-class attraction in "The Million Dollar Dolls" who are booked to appear at the Star Theater next week.

"The Million Dollar Dolls" is a big laughing burlesque and musical comedy organization, spiced with the essence of frivolity and full of droll and funny scenes, entangling the principals in many comical situations and ludicrous character portrayals.

Heading the cast are Cliff Bragdon, Tom Gillen, Ed Dunbar, James Peck and Harold Carr, a quintette of unrivaled gloom dispellers, and the beautiful "Million Dollar Doll" lady principals—Ede Mae, the charming California prima donna; Josephine Turner, the pretty dancing doll soubrette, and that dainty darling and clever ingenue—Norma Barry.

Facts About Window Shades

The average opaque window shade is filled with a clay compound and painted. The result is a shade of smooth surface, but little endurance.

When the ordinary shade is drawn out of window by the breeze its beauty is marred for all time. The material cracks, the filling drops out and streaks appear.

The Sterling Cambric Shade Cloth was evolved to do away with shade troubles in the household. This material is very fine in texture. It is not filled. The color is applied to the cambric itself.

Sterling Cambric Shade Cloth is semi-opaque, which lends a pleasing color tone to a room.

A telephone call will bring a representative to show samples, measure and quote prices in accordance with your shade requirements.

Hippodrome

When the overture starts at B. F. Keith's Hippodrome on Monday afternoon it will open the regular vaudeville season. It is customary to predict that the new season will be greater than all others, but judging from the bookings, this prediction looks like a certainty for the coming season. The opening program will have an extraordinary headliner in the famous Boston Mastersingers. This group of singers were formerly the Shriners Choir of New England and for the past five years have accepted a few weeks at B. F. Keith's Boston theater. They are all prominent business men in tse Hub, but their talent as vocalists has made them well known in the east. This year they produced an act called "Building a Bridge to Berlin." It was to arouse interest in the necessity of shipbuilding to win the war that the Mastersingers offered such an act. It was such a tremendous success that they were asked to make a short tour of the big cities east of the Mississippi river for propaganda work, and they accepted. The stage represents a monster ship yard, with the Mastersingers as the workmen. They will introduce the latest war song entitled "We Are Building a Bridge to Berlin." This song is now as popular as "Over There" in all the cities where the Mastersingers have appeared. The surrounding program will look like a leaf from the book of headliners. Carter De Haven, the favorite of stage and screen, and Flora Parker will offer new songs. Of course, Mr. De Haven will show what is proper for the boys to wear, and Miss Parker will be a fashion plate for the ladies. Then there will be Princess Radjah, the dancer from the far east, who will offer her own original Cleopatra dance and the Arabian chair dance. Radjah has just returned from a two-year triumphant tour of Europe. Several years ago she was a sensational hit at this theater. Headliner No. 4 will be Pat Rooney and Marion Bent. They need no introduction to Cleveland audiences. This couple have graduated from the news stand and have gone "Up Town," which is the title of their new act. The fifth headliner will be Alexander McFadyen, the eminent American pianist and composer and recent soloist of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. Mr. McFadyen should prove a rare treat to Cleveland music lovers. This will be his first appearance in American vaudeville. There will be nine acts, as usual, this season. Among the other acts booked for the opening week will be Harry Green & Co.; George Washington Cohen; Burley & Burley, English knockabout comedians; Norton & Melnotte, in "Styles and Steps"; Les Kelliors with their comic novelty; the U. S. government War Review and the Pathe Weekly.

'MIGHTY, BIG, GLORIOUS, HORRIBLE, THRILLING'

A Description of the Way the American Boys Help to "Bust" the Fifth German Offensive.—By Dan Flickinger.—He Was In It.—He Knows

July 14, 1918.

Dear Family:

This is a big day in France, as you probably know. Sort of a Fourth of July—ten days late, you might say. The French helped us celebrate our own Fourth recently, and now the whole A. E. F. is to do the same thing. Of course, all the troops at the front cannot exactly participate in this, as I'm afraid our friend Fritz across the way would object. But we are content to bide our time, all right, and hope to be celebrating the anniversary of the war when the 28th division comes in here to relieve us. It will be pretty soon, too, because we have been up at the front for a month and a half now, and that is a great plenty for a sector such as this has been.

Today is the first Sunday when the day has seemed that way at all. I guess because I thought about it yesterday and consequently tried to kid myself along into thinking it was a day of rest. As a matter of fact, every day is one of both rest and restlessness. We do loaf and "lay around" an awful lot, it is true, but we have to be constantly on the alert for anything that may occur.

For instance, last night we were ordered out of our comfortable little dugouts and holes here in the woods to occupy our night positions in the trenches. Our artillery, the American, too, by the way, sure put the hummer on any intended action of the boche, because nothing happened across the river. Our barrage was one of the most intense I have ever heard—sounded more as if it were preparing for an attack by us. So after that subsided we just had a plain, cold, damp night until daylight came and we could come on in. That's the first night we've had to go out now for five days.

Gee, Emma, I know mighty well we are going to be relieved and sent back to rest soon, because of the many officers leaving the division for various causes. Some are very unlucky and some are very lucky in connection herewith. By the former I mean those twenty or more officers throughout the regiment who've been called up before a board for their inefficiency and are being reduced, sent back to the non-combatant service or, in extreme cases, tried. But without bothering about them, just think of those lucky sons-of-guns who actually, really, are detailed to go back to to the States to instruct. Think of it. Gosh, it makes a fellow want to go out and fly away! Three lucky ones leave tomorrow. Think of it—back to God's own country, where our wives and families and "everything" live, where they all speak English, take baths, have a good time, spend real money, etc. (I could rave for a week, but I don't want to get you and myself worked all up for nothing. Not so much chance for us regular officers on this deal, I'm afraid, as all the ones returning go to the National Army. Our good fortune comes in our promotions over here, and I'm thankful for that. Just so I can came back at the end of the war I'll be happy and grateful.

Well, the only reason I'm not writing to you on the back of your letter is because the first one for a long time came yesterday, and I can't afford to let it go away again so quick. That's one nice thing when I get back in rest: I can write more and your mail is delivered much more promptly. Again I find myself talking about going back to rest.

Am afraid you'll think we've all got "shell-shock." No—it's not that; it's just that we want to give these new outfits coming over a chance to get a little real experience, and besides, six weeks is a long time.

Love to all,
DAN.

LETTER NO. 2.

July 19, 1918

My Dear Family:

Today is one I'll never forget, because it sort of typifies everything that a birthday could. Really, it's sort of a new lease of life for me—as you will agree when I try to tell you what I've been through.

Emma—I don't want to worry you or make you feel sorry for me when I tell you the events of the last few days. It's all over now for a little while, thank God, and we are now back where things are safer. But, Emma, your husband was in the first line of resistance when the mighty German offensive began on July 5th. By this time you have read all about it, no doubt, how this fifth big offensive of their's was checked and busted up the very first day and how the Americans helped do it. Well, I hardly know how to tell about the whole thing; it was so terrible and so big and mighty; our part seemed mighty to us when we were going trough it; but it was only one of the many regiments, and only one of the still more battalions that went through the same thing.

Well, I'll try to tell you a little about what happened. I want to forget it in a way, and yet I can hardly think of anything else. As I told you, we had been warned of an attack for the last week or so, and everyone knew it was coming sometime. But of course, so many "alerts" that had previously been for naught made us feel a little less keen about it. But that night of the 14th our "alert" was mercifully ordered to be simply in our dugouts back in the woods, and with one man per squad awake, instead of out in the trenches along the edge of the woods. I remember, my other three officers and I had planned to divide the night, and all was fairly quiet except for some good counter-battery work of our own artillery. Then at midnight Lieut. Cummings hardly had to wake us up when the first few shells of the big bombardment began to arrive. Right away we knew it was no ordinary shelling, no registering for range, or "strafing" or casual fire or anything else except the real thing; that is, a bombardment preparing for an assault. It was awful. Big shells and little shells of all caliber and description and coming, it seemed, from all directions, because the river takes quite a turn north there and make our brigade sector on a little salient. And dark, trees crashing around, shells striking first near us and then to the right and left and then back behind us again. Luckily, we didn't get so much gas which some other poor devils on other portions of the line did. But, of course, we had our masks on most of the first few hours; it was that "blue-cross" gas which they always mix in with high explosives—not fatal generally, but very bad on the eyes and noes, and makes you feel tired.

Now, of course, you understand we were fairly safe in our little dugouts as long as we could stay there. The company P. C. where we officers lived was a fine big dugout, as I've told you in other letters, and was quite safe. The men did not have as good protection, unfortunately, but nothing is proof against a direct hit, anyway (except several feet of concrete), and so any little hole protects a person against those terrible shells that burst like whole barrels of powder and send their fragments in all directions.

Well, after the bombardment still continued for the next three hours, we were more convinced than ever that the boche intended to follow up and attack. And we also knew, every man of us, that we would have to leave those little holes as soon as anything began to happen down in front. Ye Gods! that was the test. And it came, too, just about daylight, as we expected. Of course, the barrage had knocked out all phone wires and we had no liaison with Bn. Hg. other than by runner. One stumbled down in our P. C. at 4:30 a. m. and gave me this message from the major: "Enemy reported crossing the ——— Occupy your positions at once."

You can imagine what that meant, going out in all that barrage, getting the men out and taking them down through it to our trenches. Well, we were sure lucky then, as well as during the whole battle. Two men were killed there in their dugouts and a few more wounded, but just think that in the whole company only three were hit going down to our positions. I had only three officers, but the fourth platoon was commnaded by a sergeant just as capable. They did their part all right, in fact it was more up to them than to me. All I did was to start them down with my little company headquarters and beat it for our battle company P. C., trusting to God that each platoon would get to its position and report same to me, so that I could notify the major. Well, they did all right, every man in the company showing wonderful spirit. And so we got to our trenches and were at least ready for Fritz in case he came through our first battalion.

The bombardment then kept on without a stop all morning. It was much worse on us there because the trenches naturally had no cover; but at least daylight helped some and cut down the confusion—also there was less gas out away from the thick woods. So there we lay for hours. It was a strain, believe me, and sure got your nerve, never knowing when the next shell would land in your own particular little trench. However, we stuck it out. (We had to; there was no other place to go.) About 9 o'clock that morning he lifted his barrage and we could hear rifles and machine guns down along the edge of the river where our First Bn. was putting up a wonderful scrap—not to mention the other regiments of our division on our right and left. The First Bn., of course, deserves the greatest credit because, just think, only a few boches got through to our support Bn. and in past our men after they had lined through the h—— of that bombardment were all crazy for a little good Irish fighitng.

We got a little, but not much, because, as I say, that first Bn. of the old 30th busted up their attack, took about 300 prisoners and, of course, incidentally, was completely shot to pieces itself. Two companies of our Bn. wree sent down to help them out, while "I" Co. and my Co. "M" remained holding the line. More luck for me and more luck for "M" Co. Really, Emma, that just brings me to the next thing I want to tell you.

That is, I'm the luckiest man to get out of these two days alive and without a scratch. And nobody knows it any better than I do. Believe me, I've thanked the good Lord above for it all, too.

Well, I must get on with my story. It's so big that I could talk forever on what I saw and lived through that 15th and 16th of July. But I can't tell it all, so will try to pick out only the main things.

The big fight lasted all that day of the 15th, as I was saying. Meanwhile the poor First Bn. stragglers and broken down liaison agents brought in all sorts of reports. Ye gods, the confusion! Men lying around wounded by the hundreds, it seemed; prisoners being taken back; the poor dead covered up or piled up until we had time to bury them, and so on.

It's really hard to describe, because there would be a little lull in things suddenly when everything seemed almost normal again. I lost only three killed (that I know of now) and about 28 wounded. That was not so bad, was it, considering the fact that the bombardment lasted nine hours on us and was said by the French to be worse than at Verdun.

Gee! those poor devils that were hit by the shells. I won't try to describe it and make you feel bad for nothing, but it was maddening. My blood just boiled at times and the men were crazy to fight back. That's what made it so hard on us, after all. We just had to stay there and take our medicine and couldn't get back at them much. But our First Bn. did all right, and God bless them for doing so. The poor Second Bn. suffered again terribly, almost as bad as they did last month over on hill ———. They were in reserve and caught all the heavy shelling on their way up to re-enforce us.

Lieut. Luce was wounded, poor fellow, and his platoon sergeant was one of the three killed. That left me with only two officers besides myself. And now, by George, yesterday Lieut. McDevitt, who has the second platoon, was sent back still further by the doctor on account of a little gas he got and shell-shock and a few bad bruises. So that leaves only Jack Cummings and me with the company.

But I haven't told you yet how we were relieved. Col. Butts put in for a relief immediately, as we were shot to pieces as a regiment. So the 111th of the 28th division took us over beginning the 16th when there was a little let-up in our vicinity. Oh, but we were thankful. I'll never forget that relief, though, because we were shelled again terribly even going out and lost six men as far back as three kilometers behind the front line. But we were a thankful, tired, nerve-racked bunch when we managed to climb into some empty ammunition trucks tearing back south.

Really, I never can tell the whole story in one letter and am going to tell about the relief in another. It was d—— near as bad as the battle itself. Except when we did get back out of the range of those terrible guns we thanked our Maker and tried to collect our scattered wits.

We assembled (that is, just our Bn.) at a little town where the wounded received more care and the rest of us were able to get a bath. Then we were piled into more trucks, hauled six kil. west and now are happily lying back here in reserve. Good Lord, it's heavenly. Two days ago I was all in and exhausted and hungry and nerve-racked, that I—well, I won't tell you how bad I felt. But now—say, my morale is all up again.

Wish I could tell more. Thank you a thousand times for that ——— letter with the flag. It just did get here in time for my birthday, too. And three letters from Mom. Oh, Emma, as I say, today seems like an actual new lease on life for me. Thank God I'm alive, is all I can say to myself. And we are eating good again and everything. This war is either heaven or h——, believe me. Will tell you more later.

P. S.—Slept like a dead man last night; no gas alarms and no shells.

July 20—In Reserve.

The above is as far as I got with this letter one sunny afternoon two days ago, when I heard an interruption which has lasted until now. We were ordered to move way over here to another patch of woods that night. Although it was by trucks and hence not more than the usual hiking, there was a big blockade between our motor lorry and a French truck train, which kept us standing in the darn trucks all that night. However, we don't kick any more at anything but shell fire. We're thoroughly broken. We pulled in at 4 a. m. yesterday. When the wagons and rolling kitchen got in about noon we had a combination breakfast and dinner. By George, at the front we have lots to eat and lots of time to sleep, but instead of coming at regular intervals it comes in bunches. Surely it is a hard game and hot, although you cuss it out and get disgusted at times, there is something about this knocking around that makes a man like it after all. We never expect more than two or three consecutive nights to sleep uninterrupted; it's been that way ever since our division came up front on May 30th. There's always something that's got to be done or else just naturally happens at night—an alert, trench digging, moving, reconnoitering, troop movements, gas alarms, reliefs, chow-carrying parties, hiking and so on. As I've said before the war consists of about three things, all apparently held at night—

1. Liaison.
2. Camouflage.
3. Morage.

Note—I haven't mentioned shell fire, as it comes in a class by itself. Shell fire is the plain out and out h—— of the whole thing.

Long paragraph ending "no one will be happier than me when the war is over." If I can just keep on having the great luck I've had so far I'll have something to be thankful for all my life. Gee, you sure said something when you thought I would not want to stay in France after the war (even if you came over). No, sir. You stay there and wait for me. It may be a long time yet, but as soon as we pound a little sense into these "squareheads" over here and they call it quits I'm going "A. W. O. L." (absent without leave) and come right home if I have to swim all the way.

'Spect you are following the war and know how glorious it is to feel that the big old German offensive not only failed miserably, but that our troops here turned it into one for us by the big flanking attack between ——— and ——— (see papers for towns). Gee, it makes us laugh when we think that we busted up something, and although we are not at all over-confident nor losing any healthy respect for the kaiser's army, we sure feel fine to think the tables have turned in our favor a little. Just think, for two months (of course much longer for others) we've been on the defensive, never knowing just exactly when or where it was coming—although we knew it was coming soon. Now, by George, we've got Fritz guessing and I hope we keep it up. Once more certain river has proved an impossible barrier for the d—— Huns. Now we all want to get back in the scrap again.

Paragraph ending "The whole regiment is now here in or near these woods—first time we've been that near together for almost two months. I'm going to get a hot bath this afternoon down at a "de lousing" place, only I'm not lousy.

P. S.—Our regiment is going to be decorated. Heroes, and don't know it.

LETTER NO. 4.

Sunday P. M., July 28, 1918.

Dear Family.

After what I've been through the last few days, you don't know what a privilege it is to be alive so I can tell you that. Don't be worried, because it's all over again this time, and glory be to God. I pulled through once more with a whole skin. How I wish I had the time right now while it's all fresh in my mind, to tell the whole story with the first live impressions stil very vivid in my mind. Ye gods, I sometimes wonder if I'll ever forget a couple of days up there.

Well, here's what happened. You know where I wrote you at that last place back in the woods. From there we got the usual sudden orders to move and were sent up to take part in that great counter-offensive which followed the failure of the boche's long talked of "peace offensive." And say, we sure did take part in it, too. It's hard to describe. It's mighty, big, glorious, horrible, thrilling and about everything else which would describe a great battle—one that would accomplish much and, sad to say, cost a lot.

We hiked all the way from our recuperating place (where we got filled up with new men and equipment) to the point from which our Bn. was to attack. 'Twas on the 23rd day of July (I'll never forget that date) that yours truly proudly set foot on the hastily constructed pontoon bridge across the ——— river, at the head of my company. I'm taking for granted, of course, that you've followed the events in the papers and must know just what locality I'm referring to. Anyway, we had no rest that night in spite of a 20-kil. hike, but had to push on and relieve a Bn. of the 38th which had attacked the day previous. And we knew that it would be our turn on the morrow. And it was, too. I'm not even telling you what a disappointment it was to us that we did not get to stay back in "rest" for a while longer; but that's the way it goes in war; no rest when the battle's on. We were pretty tired out and shot up still from the effects of our stopping the brunt of the boche attack in this vicinity, but they allowed us a lot of new men and just a few days' rest and then expected us to be as good as ever.

Well, by George, we were. Don't think I'm bragging, but we simply cleaned h—— out of those squareheads on the north bank of the ——— You only read of such things as the "Victorious Advance" of American troops attacking on the salient from ——— to ———. But, believe me, it meant more than that. It meant we drove them back, chased them, surrounded their last few machine guns and snipers and killed or captured them. It's true that in our particular Bn. (as often happens when following up close behind a retiring army) we got too far ahead of our lines of communication and could get no food or water for two days. It was fierce. Then, too, the Dutch in our front let us come forward easily and we made our 2-kil. advance without many losses, but then they let fall an artillery fire on us that was terrific, worse in a way than a preparatory barrage, because we had no dugouts. It lasted about an hour intensely, and then they kept up an intermittent fire while we dug in hasty cover all that night of the 24th and all day the 25th. Our losses were very heavy. It was an awful ordeal, men dying all around you, those horrible shells whistling and exploding everywhere and the utmost confusion, fear and general mix-up. It was a battle, all right, all right. We stuck to what we gained though, by Gearge, and hung on till they got tired shooting all their artillery at us, dressing the poor wounded men and getting them back as best we could with no moment to spare, and shell fire on every trail back through the woods or across the fields. We were lucky in coming across a few German dugouts, which, you bet, we utilized for P. C.'s and to shelter as many men as possible, but chiefly for dressing stations. You see, in an attack the Red Cross men cannot possibly keep up with the infantry, and it puts the difficult proposition up to all commanders of front line troops of choosing between violating strict rules of using fighting men to give first aid or else letting some of your best men die right around you. Luckily in our case, there was little infantry action and I could lend men for humane work while they were held up anyway by the enemy artillery. But it was all horrible and nerve-racking. I saw any number of good men go all to pieces from the thing. You've no doubt heard a lot about over here—"shell-shock." Believe me, it's a terrible strain; rifle fire is nothing to face compared with any sort of artillery barrage.

Well, I was just plain lucky again and pulled through by dint of quick ducking (where possible) and about as many prayers as a Christian can utter inside one hour's time.

Sometime later—I'll try to give you a whole account of the battle, but now while I have time I want to take the liberty of telling you in plain, simple English that we licked the boche to a frazzle. Yes, sir, while it was horrible to see these men suffer I guess it had to be. Anyway, we fought them back and got our third citation in orders. Going some, eh, what? Think of me a hero (?, with one of those bloomin' cords around my arm. The pity of it all is, though, that the officers and men we have buried out there or bound up and sent back cannot be here to celebrate and get a little of the glory. Oh, Emma, I can't tell you the number of officers killed and wounded in our regiment. It's terrible—friends of mine and several you know. Just think, I lost in Co. M in both engagements about 85 men, distributed about as follows: Killed, 9; wounded, 40; gassed, 11; shocked, 7; missing, 8; accidental, 10. In officers I lost two wonded and one just plain all in from shock and exhaustion. Was I lucky? Yes, and you bet I know it. Oh, when I think of the good officers and sergeants that I knew so well and now are gone. Our poor old regiment was certainly shot to pieces twice and finally when we were pulled out a major was in command of the regiment, a captain in command of one Bn., half of the companies in command of lieutenants and most of the platoons under sergeants.

Well, as I say, we finally got pulled out and now are thankfully resting back here in a little village. Just think, first time I haven't lived in a shelter tent or trench or dugout for over two months. In a real live house with tables and chairs.

I'm so busy reorganizing, equipping and everything. I'll tell you volumes in time. The main thing is I'm safe from those hellish shells and can sleep all night long and eat three meals each day. I'm the luckiest man on earth. I must check up my equipment, men and do loads of nice peaceful administration work.

P. S.—I feel O. K. now, so don't worry. It's over for a while.

LETTER NO. 5.

July 23. At Rest.

Dear Family.

Talk about the end of a perfect day. This day has been one for me, although it may sound queer when I tell you just the few simple little things that have occurred. That's the point, though; after what we've been through it's a privilege just to live, eat, sleep and work.

Well, first I slept uninterruptedly for nine hours at a stretch, with no gas alarms to harrow my nerves, nor a "stand-to" about an hour at dawn. My orderly brought breakfast to me in my good old bedding roll, which, unlike most rolls, managed to get through both battles without being lost or destroyed. Then I had a nice morning, continuing the work of reorganizing and getting the company settled down here at our present home.

This place, which, without doubt, was the biggest piece of luck for me to get, is not right down in the village where the rest of the Bn. is billeted, but is half way up the big hill in a little group of buildings known in France as a farm, abbreviated "Fme" in the many military maps with which we have to deal. Well, it's too good for words to think of having a place for your whole company together; all well sheltered, and the four platoons more or less together. For my Co. Hqs. I have the lower floor of the main house, and, just think, I'm living in a real house once more, the first time for two months. We are here all by ourselves; no feudal lord was ever better set up with his subjects than your humble servant here with his M Co. You don't know what these plain, elemental comforts of life mean to us who have lived so hard and without a darn thing to make life even bearable. Here we have a spring right in the barn-yard (no long water hauls); we have dry wood; we can line up at the rolling kitchen for chow instead of carrying it out a half mile to some poor, starving devils.

And so on and so forth—water to bathe in, thre squares a day (and believe me we are making up for lost time on food, as good old Uncle Sam has increased our rations on some things from 50 to 100 per cent.

Emma, you remember how I used to fret at the pile of administration work that was once thrust on me when I had the machine gun company? Not now; say, lady, it's just a privilege to sit down to a real table with papers that aren't blown away or rained on, and do a little company administrating; promotions, assignment of new men, casualty reports, list of equipment, etc.

As yet I've not called your attention to this paper. Far be it from me to show off, but those holes in it are from shell fragments which hit our field desk and knocked it all to hell during the big barrage July 15th. It's the only paper here, and all I want to say is I'm darn thankful the holes are through the paper and not through my hide. Without doubt shell wounds are the most ragged, jagged and dangerous wounds a fellow can get.

Say, I crtainly hope those two letters giving a few first impressions of the two big battles we were in reached you all right, because I never could describe it all over again.

I can't help but feel a little pardonable pride in wanting you to know I was very much in the biggest offensive and probably the greatest counter-offensive of the war. Gee, they sure are praising up our old division to the skies, and especially the 30th inf. because we happened to be at one of the points along the river where old Heinie attempted a crossing, and hence bore the brunt of his attack in our divisional sector. But here's what I think—let them give the decorations and D. D. C.'s to the poor fellows we buried or sent back. I've got all the honor I want by simply getting out of the damn thing alive. Believe me, yes. I don't know how I'll ever repay the almighty for letting me come through without even a scratch. Now, do you blame me for not waiting to get into any more action for a while? A soldier is always anxious to get into a scrap the first time, but I'll tell you this bunch has had all they want for a while. Guess I'll join the quartermaster's corps (?).

We are, of course, hoping and praying that the whole division will be withdrawn and sent so far back from the lines that we can throw away our gas masks, chuck our tin hats some place, burn lights at night and have nothing to do with the war other than sit back and read the European edition of the New York Herald in some safe Y. M. C. A. hut—all about the "Victorious Advance of the American Troops," etc (God help them!)

You know how our hopes for a divisional relief were very high after the big battle on July 15th and 16th. But, as you know, some of this now famous "wildcat" Third division were on the contrary, sent in again. Now, however, things really are looking up. Our outfit and the 38th are back here in sort of reserve, resting up and the Fourth and 77th still up on the line. And if they just bring the latter two regiments out one of these days it means our highest hopes realized. You know two months is a long while on the front, and it was on May 30th when we left our first billets for the front. I wouldn't live those two months over again for anything on earth. I wonder how many more months like that lie ahead of me yet until I'm either knocked off or else climbing up some big trans-Atlantic transport going toward the setting sun. I don't dare kid myself along about going home, though, because it really seems too wonderful to be true. I'll stay here and kill squareheads for five years—if they just let me come home at the end. It's sure tough to be away so long. Sometimes I'd almost be ready to sign the peace treaty if I could go home. But no chance. We've got to lick the kaiser first.

Will write a lot now while I have time. Your, with love. DAN.

KEEP DRIED FRUITS IN TIGHT PAPER BAGS

Dried fruits will escape insect pests while in storage if the fruits are heated in an oven and then stored in tightly-tied paper bags, according to entomologists at the Ohio Experiment Station. A temperature of 130 degrees maintained for 30 minutes will kill all insect life present in the fruits after drying and the paper bags will keep other insects out of the fruit when stored away.

Dried fruits keep best in a cool, dry place, an attic being more adaptable than a living room where the heat varies or a cellar where dampness is present.

Beans being kept for seed may be freed from the attacks of the bean "weevil" by adding two tablespoons of hydrated or air-slaked lime to each quart of beans when stored away. The weevils enter the beans while in the pod, emerge after hulling and continue to multiply, feeding on the stored beans until their germs are destroyed.

When You Get a Bunch of Mail You Sing When the Shades of Night Are Falling; Bedford Boy Writes In Rhyme To His Parents

It is with unbounded pleasure that this newspaper gives prominence to the following unique letter written by Corporal Earl C. McConnell, "from over the seas," to his parents in Bedford, Ohio, Rev. and Mrs. T. L. McConnell, the pastor being in charge of the Methodist church at Bedford.

Here the story is told:

A LETTER IN RHYME

Corp. Earl C. McConnell, to his parents, Rev. and Mrs. T. L. McConnell.

Somewhere in France.

My Dear ones at home:

As I lay here on my bunk in a lonesome mood, thinking of you folks, and of the love and happiness I left behind, there comes to me some lines which I will send to you.

When you're tired, footsore and weary
From marching on the hard stone pike,
And trying to rest in your "pup tent"
After a long, long hike;
When your knees are all a'tremble,
And your bones feel like decay,
'Tis then you think of loved ones
Back there, in the U. S. A.

When the bugle sounds the mess call,
And you grab your cup and kit,
"Line up," "Fall in," "Right face,"
"Forward march," for your little bit.
And they hand your rations over
With not a word of yea or nay
'Tis then you wish for mother's cooking
Back home, in the U. S. A.

When the call of "mail" is sounded
Through the waiting khaki crowd,
And you hold your breath in silence
As the names are read aloud,
When the long, long list is ended
With disappointment and dismay
Then your thoughts go swift, to loved ones
Back there, in the U. S. A.

When you get a bunch of letters,
And you turn from gloom to cheer,
While you eagerly peruse those Written by your friends most dear,
Again and again you read them,
While you long for the coming day
When you may grasp the hand that wrote them,
Back there, in the U. S. A.

When the shades of evening gather
And the clouds flit 'neath the moon
And homesick soldiers lift the strains
Of some old familiar love tune,
The past will rise in memory,
And you seem to hear her say
'I'll be waiting, my brave soldier
For your return to U. S. A.

Then you think of that glad meeting
When the victors shall have won,
Why! Even now, the Yanks and Allies
Have the Huns upon the run,
When "world peace" takes the place of warfare
And the "golden rule" holds sway
With lightsome hearts we'll then be sailing
Back home, to the U. S. A.

Ah, the joy of that home-coming
When our loved ones we shall meet,
As the bands discourse sweet music
In procession up the street.
Then we'll wave the Flag, "Old Glory,"
That has led us through the fray
Which has squelched Autocracy
And preserves the U. S. A.

RED CROSS WORK IN FRANCE

A phase of Red Cross work in France of which little is known here—because there is so much to tell of the horrors of the war—is the repatriation of the women and children and old men who are returning to their homes from back of the German lines.

In a letter from "Somewhere in France" which is printed in the Detroit Free Press, Irving Clark, of Grand Rapids, Mich., writes to a friend in Ann Arbor:

"You know I was sent down here to assist in receiving the French repatriates from French territory back of the German lines, who are being sent back now by the Germans, so they won't be eating German food. They are mostly old people and women and children. We helped to receive one convoy of 400 in an adjoining department, the Nantes-Pyrenees, for which also I am the Red Cross delegate.

"We shipped 100 tons of coal there for these people, and it arrived the day before they did. If you could see the women and children who live there, carrying heavy loads of wood on their backs from a forest two miles away, you would appreciate how welcome this American fuel was. We had a half ton for each family and distributed it by means of cards, on which was printed, 'Gift of the American Red Cross.' We had a big supply of clothing on hand, too, and when they arrived in the station we had hot drinks served. Have also organized vegetable gardens in which they can work, the Red Cross providing the tools and seed.

"Our great effort, however, is to get them established in decent lodgings, where they can lead a normal family life. Just now I am preparing to receive a convoy here. The French committee with which I co-operate is hunting up lodgings. The local government will pay the first month's rent, and my job is to get the furniture. Am having the necessary things made here, and we will sell them on small monthly payments at 75 per cent of their cost.

"We give to those who cannot pay, and through the French authorities at Evian, who examine these people when they come through, we know who can pay and who can not. Am having beds made with folding legs and headpiece, so as to be easily transported to their homes after the war. We provide beds and bedding, kitchen tables, buffets, chairs and stoves. This plan of selling furniture has been tried over a period of two years by the English Society of Friends, at Troyes, and has been found thoroughly practical and satisfactory. I spent a week there studying their methods before coming down here.

"The prefect of this department has appointed me to the official departmental commission for relief of refugees, and I am also a member of the semi-official voluntary committee engaged in the same work, and composed largely of wealthy refugees from Rheims, Soissons, etc. Thus I am working in close co-operation with all French relief agencies, and incidentally it shows the confidence of French officers and individuals in the Red Cross. It was in response to a direct request from the French minister of the interior that we decided to concentrate our efforts on aiding these repatriates, who are now arriving daily from Germany at the rate of 7,000 a week. Yesterday I received from our office in Paris a letter saying we had in stock a large quantity of figs, which should be eaten up before summer, so I immediately sent in an order for my two departments and will distribute them among the repatriates here. With sugar as scarce as it is, the figs will 'hit the spot.'"

Those in America who have given freely to Red Cross funds will be interested in knowing how much good their money is accomplishing "over there." I am glad I can honestly say that I think money was never put to a better purpose," writes Clark, who says:

"The simple fact of the presence of a Red Cross delegate in a community stimulates official and private effort, and perhaps that is the greatest service we render. My relations with the French are very pleasant, and it is most interesting to come into intimate contact with their daily life, and an unusual privilege for a foreigner. Among other souvenirs I have collected in my work I have a personal note from the Archbishop of Rheims, Cardinal Lucon, thanking me for what we have done for the refugees from his diocese who are now at Lourdes, near here.

"The French committee, with which I am working here, is excellent. It is careful not to impose on the generosity of the Red Cross. Before asking our assistance for the sub-committees in the various towns, it insists that they first make an effort to help themselves. Of course, this makes them more appreciative of our help, and it makes that help more effective. And I hope you realize that all this has an important bearing on the main business in hand—winning the war. When a soldier comes back from the front and finds that someone is taking a kindly, personal interest in his wife and children, when he finds they are being cared for, he is heartened and goes back to the trenches full of fight.

"In coming through Germany many of the repatriates who arrived in Lourdes a few weeks ago had spent two nights and a day in stock cars—no heat, no blankets, not even straw, and no lights. Many had been sentenced to prison or been deprived of food for refusing to work for the Germans."

ORDINANCE NO. 1175.

By Mr. P. J. Wenneman.

An ordinance granting to the New York Central Railroad Company the right to construct, maintain and operate switch tracks upon and across Berea road in the Village of West Park, Ohio, about two hundred and fifty feet westerly of the intersection of Fischer road and Berea road.

Be it ordained by the Council of the Village of West Park, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That the New York Central Railroad Company be and is hereby granted the right to construct, maintain and operate two parallel spur or switch tracks over and across Berea road, at a point approximately 250 feet westerly of said road and Fischer road in said village, on the terms hereinafter mentioned. Said switch tracks shall be constructed on the grade of the said highway where it crosses the same, and shall be located as shown by a blue-print hereto attached, marked "A".

Section 2. That right hereby granted to said Railroad Company is upon the conditions following, to which said Company, its successors and assigns, shall at all times strictly conform. Said switch tracks shall have no frogs or switch points within the limit of said Berea Road. Said switch tracks shall be planked between the rails and two feet outside of each rail at the expense of said Railroad Company or its assigns, and to the satisfaction of said Village; and such planking shall be kept in good repair by said Company, its successors or assigns, which shall also construct and keep in order the necessary drainage beneath said tracks on both sides of said road; and in case the grade of said highway is changed, such tracks shall be relaid to conform to such altered grade.

Section 3. And said grant is upon the further condition that upon the construction of such tracks, said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, will restore said Berea Road to as good a condition as it was in before being disturbed; and if it be necessary in the course of any future improvements in said highway to excavate therein for the construction of sewers, pipes, etc., said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, will at its own expense support said tracks for the purpose of permitting such construction to proceed.

Section 4. Said Railroad Company shall not unnecessarily obstruct said crossing by permitting cars or locomotives to remain upon or across it for a period longer than five minutes, nor will it permit timber, lumber or other obstructions to remain upon said crossing to the inconvenience of travelers upon said highway, nor shall it be permitted to make up trains or shift or shunt cars back and forth while the train is blocking or obstructing said Berea Road. Said Railroad Company shall protect traffic passing along Berea Road by the presence of a flagman while train or car movements are being made over said track.

Section 5. Said Railroad Company, for itself, its successors or assigns hereby agrees to indemnify and hold said Village harmless against any and from any damages to person, or property or expense of any kind that may arise by reason of said switch tracks or the grant herein contained; and to at all times fully obey any lawful general or special regulations that may be enacted governing or applicable to the said tracks, waiving any rights to the contrary.

Section 6. On failure of said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, to observe and keep any or all of the obligations, agreements and conditions of this grant on its part to be observed and kept, then its rights and powers hereunder and this grant shall cease and terminate, and said Railroad Company agrees that within thirty days after any such breach of said conditions and written notice thereof from said Village of West Park, it will take up and remove said tracks and restore said highway crossing to its former state and condition.

Section 7. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law and the filing with the Clerk of Council of a written acceptance of the terms and conditions thereof by The New York Central Railroad Company, and the payment to the Village of the expense of printing and advertising the same.

D. 1918, Edward V. Leslie filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, being action No. 165132, against them and each of them, setting forth that he is the owner in fee simple and in actual and peaceable possession of the following described real estate:

Situated in the City of East Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio, and known as being a part of original Euclid Township Lot No. 44 and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning one (1) chain and eighty-four (84) links south forty and three-fourths (40¾) degrees east from the northeast corner of land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated August 27, 1846, and recorded in Volume 39, page 345, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records; thence south forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees west fifty (50) links; thence south forty and three fourths (40¾) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and one-fourth (49¼) degrees east fifty (50) links; thence north forty-nine and three-fourths (49¾) degrees west fifty (50) links to the place of beginning, containing four (4) square rods of land and being the same land conveyed to Curtiss Burton by deed dated October 6, 1849, and recorded in Volume 61, page 528, of Cuyahoga County Deed Records.

Said petition further states that the said premises were conveyed to H. Adeline Spring, the grantor of the plaintiff, on the 21st day of January, 1880, by deed duly executed and delivered, that on said 21st day of January, 1880, H. Adeline Spring took actual and absolute possession of said real estate under said grant and held possession, actual, open, continuous, adverse, notorious and exclusive until the 11th day of April, 1913, at which time she conveyed to the plaintiff by deed duly executed and delivered and that the plaintiff ever since said conveyance to him has held actual, open, adverse, continuous, notorious and exclusive possession of said premises. That such possession ever since the 21st day of January, 1880, has been wholly adverse to the claims and interests of the defendants. That all of the defendants claim an estate or interest in said real estate adverse to plaintiff's rights therein, the nature and extent of which plaintiff is unable to state. That by reason thereof a cloud is cast upon the title to plaintiff's real estate which greatly and unjustly depreciates the value. That none of the defendants herein have any right, title or interest in said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants herein may be compelled to set forth their interests in said real estate, if any they have, and that the claims of said defendants and each of them be adjudged to be null and void and said plaintiff's title may be quieted against said defendants' claims and that they and each of them be enjoined from asserting such claim against such real estate, that the cloud thereon may be removed, and for such other and further relief as equity and the nature of the case may require and to the court seems just, necessary and proper.

Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 21st day of September, 1918, or judgment will be taken against them.

Think About House Heating Right NOW—Not Next Winter When It May Be Too Late

If you had trouble with your heating plant last winter, you will be caught unprepared next winter unless you solve your heating problem NOW. It is logical to prepare for winter in Summer or Fall. NOW is the time to decide what you are going to do about fuel and whether or not any changes should be made in your heating method.

Fuel is going to be hard to get next winter, as it was last season. If you intend to lay in coal, which is highly advisable for emergency reasons, order now. Gas will also be in great demand next winter, and on the very cold days will probably not meet maximum requirements.

Let us solve your heating problem.

Our expert will gladly advise without charge.

REAL ESTATE AFTER THE WAR.
Will Prices Be Lower or Higher?

This is a question in the mind of almost every person. The best answer is that history repeats itself. The records show that after our civil war land values advanced from 100 to 500 per cent, and that following the Spanish-American war a like increase was recorded. Also, that after the Russo-Japanese war the same thing occurred in both of those countries. In fact, the records reveal that in every civilized country the conclusion of every war has witnessed a sharp advance in land values.

This is a logical and perfectly natural result. The majority of people hesitate to act in the face of any uncertainty or disturbed conditions. They drift with the crowd, and put off buying "until after the war." But the minority, the people who think and analyze and take advantage of opportunities, are buying. They are absorbing a large part of the property which has been supplied with improvements, and which will be ready when they wish to build their homes.

Realty operators can develop and improve no more property until after the war. Money and materials cannot be obtained for the purpose. The result will be that when the majority are ready to buy they will find the supply of improved property exhausted; that their more foresighted neighbor owns the lot where they would like to build their home and that in order to obtain a homesite that is improved and ready for the building of a home they must pay him a stiff profit.

The higher prices which improved lots will command will tend to further raise the price of acreage. This, combined with the higher cost of labor and materials, will add to the cost of developing property and force the operator to charge higher prices for improved homesites. An immensely increased demand, a depleted supply and the higher cost of developing new property is certain to result in a sharp advance in land values.

The time to buy your lot is now. THE WILLOUGHBY-EUCLID AVE. SUB-DIVISION is the place for your home. Big lots, 80x200, $640.00 up. Very easy terms.

HOW DRUNKARDS ARE SAVED

Men and women who have become mastered by the craving for drink can be saved only by proper medical treatment. Censure, fines and imprisonment will not reform them, because they have drunk until the craving and necessity for drink has become stronger than the will-power to resist. If you drink, or if you have relatives, friends or employes who drink, it is your duty to investigate the Neal Drink Habit Treatment, which is a safe, sure, vegetable remedy, that removes the appetite, craving and necessity for drink in three days, without the use of dangerous hypodermic injections. The Neal Home Treatment is the same as the Institute treatment and can be arranged for those who desire it. Call at the Neal Institute, 3920 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, Ohio, and get our proofs and references, or write or phone for book of information. Phone Rosedale 3490.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same, and must be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank in the county in the sum of five per cent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the treasurer of said village; said check being a guaranty that if the bid is accepted the bidder will enter into a proper contract with the required bond for the execution of the work.

Should any bid be rejected the accompanying check will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted, the check accompanying such bid will be returned to the bidder upon presentation of a properly executed contract and bond for the execution of the work herein described.

OODLES OF IT!!

The last Liberty Bond Issue was followed immediately by the second Red Cross drive, and with hardly any interval came the War Savings campaign. After their three stupendous exercises in collective giving came a breathing space—a period of financial recuperation—an opportunity for economic convalescence. Everyone you met was decorated on various areas of his anatomy with buttons and badges, in token of certain heroic munificences. And all your friends told you that they were irretrievably bankrupt and would subsist on doughnuts for the duration of the war. And then an object lesson came.

A number of industrial and utility corporations floated loans at 6 and 7 per cent., secured by bonds in denominations of $100 and up. And they named the dates on which subscriptions would be received. And you, gentle reader, wondered what kind of a response would be given by the penniless public out of their doughnut-fed penury.

Within a few hours after the issues had been opened many of the maturities had been over-subscribed. At one metropolitan bank nearly everything went between 9 and 10 o'clock on the first morning—a large part of it in hundred-dollar denominations. Like ticket buyers at the World's Series, people of all classes stood in line, waiting for a chance to disgorge, and most of them seemed to belong to that rather diversified social grade that is comprehensively labeled "the working class."

Is this a miracle of fiscal elasticity, or merely a sidelight on economic conditions? The latter is less romantic, but more plausible. Most of us—we may as well confess it—had still a few nickels hidden in a mattress, and the chance of 7 per cent is a magnet strong enough to attract any grade of circulated metal.

It is no subject for sarcasm; rather for congratulation and thankfulness. After truly gigantic tests of national solvency many were able to contribute, in their own interest, to enterprises that make for national prosperity. Everyone has a job these days. Nearly everyone working at the essential trades makes good wages. Nearly everyone is more than solvent.

And when the next Liberty Bonds are offered there will be many whose pleas of poverty will demand more than passing scrutiny. And the owners of these 7 per cent bonds will need singularly original alibis to evade contributions to the Red Cross.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Clerk of the Village of Bedford, State of Ohio, at the Town hall of said Village until 8 o'clock P. M., September 19th, 1918, for the purchase of bonds of said Village in the aggregate sum of Seven Thousand and 00-100 Dollars ($7,000.00), dated 1st day of September, 1918, of denominations numbered and made payable as follows:

Bond No. 1, $1,000.00, Sept. 1, 1919.
Bond No. 2, $1,000.00, Sept. 1, 1920.
Bond No. 3, $1,000.00, Sept. 1, 1921.

Bond No. 6, $1,000.00, Sept. 1, 1924.

and bearing interest at the rate of 5 1-2 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the 1st days of April and September of each year until fully paid; said bonds are issued for the purpose of purchasing real estate with a building thereon to be used for public purposes and under authority of the laws of Ohio, and of Section 3939 of the General Code of Ohio, as amended, and under and in accordance with a certain Ordinance of said Village entitled "An Ordinance to issue bonds for the purpose of purchasing real estate with a building thereon, to be used for public purposes," passed on the 2nd day of July, 1918. Said bonds will be sold to the highest and best bidder for not less than par and accrued interest.

All bids must state the number of bonds bid for, and the entire gross amount of the bid and accrued interest to date of delivery, and must be accompanied with a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the Village for 10 per cent of the amount of bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth within 10 days from the time of award, said check to be retained by the Village if said condition is not fulfilled.

The Village of Bedford reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Bids should be sealed and endorsed "Bids for Public Building Bonds."

WILLOUGHBY METHODIST CHURCH IS NOW ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD

Takes Part In Cleveland Centennial Celebration. Special Car To Leave Willoughby.

When the Methodist centennial in Cleveland has its monster parade Sunday next, Willoughby can take its part as a most happy participant, as it is now approaching its 100th anniversary. It was organized in 1818. The Brooklyn Memorial church was organized the same year, the latter being somewhat older in number of weeks or months. These two churches will be in the first division of the parade. The marchers will walk eight abreast. It is anticipated there will be ten thousand people in the parade. It will form at E. 17th and Euclid. All Willoughby participants should be at 17th street. The Ladies' Aid, Epworth League, Home and Foreign Missionary Society, the Church Society and each department of the Sunday school will take part. A special car will be used, as mentioned in advertisement, this issue. The American flag, the church flag, the service flag and the church banner will be carried. Seats for the marchers will be reserved at the Hippodrome gathering, and no one will be seated until they have been seated. Bishop W. F. Anderson will deliver the principal address at the Hippodrome.

ANDREWS SCHOOL OPENS FOR THE FALL TERM

The Andrews School opened Monday with 110 boarding students enrolled. Regular day students will probably bring the entire number of pupils up to about 200. Two or three new teachers will serve. Miss Evans resigned, advising that she is soon to go over seas. Miss Blaine has taken her place, as the Normal School will not be in session this year. Miss Eleanor Hotz, of the Cleveland School of Art, takes the place of Miss Mary McDonald as drawing teacher. Miss Redman has not been able to return to school as yet, but it is hoped that she will be able to come shortly. The school was to close Thursday on account of the Fair.

DEATH OF MRS. JULIA D. RANDALL

Mrs. Julia D. Randall, wife of Spencer Randall, died at her home in Mentor at 2:15 Thursday. Mrs. Randall was a member of the W. R. C. and took part in the memorial day services in Willoughby.

The family have lived in Mentor about fifteen years. The husband, Spencer Randall, and three sons and one daughter survive. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock from the family home in Mentor.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE COUNCIL

Council met Monday night. Estimates for paving on River street and Waldamere avenue were read and approved for payment.

A letter from Lieut. Wilcox, at the Ben Hur plant, was read by Mayor Carmichael, calling attention to the importance of having Ben Hur avenue placed in condition for heavy trucking during the winter. There is a considerable amount of crushed stone on hand at the plant. It was decided that this stone could be used. The street commissioner was therefore to be instructed to put the road in shape with gravel and this crushed stone. Four hundred feet on Vine street to the entrance of the Ben Hur plant will be thus treated!

A letter from Mr. Woods, of the firm of Fackler & Woods, Cleveland, was read, setting forth the claims of their client, William Outten, of the National Cash Register Co., for injuries to his car and tires when a broken manhole was encountered at the Lake Shore boulevard. After discussion it was moved by Dr. Kenning, seconded by Mr. Rockafellow, that the bill rendered of $93.10 be passed for payment. The charge will therefore be allowed.

A communication was read from F. W. Brodbeck, setting forth the need of sidewalks on Euclid, at Eldo. This was referred to the paving committee, which consists of Messrs. Ohm, Smith and Neumann. Mr. Rockafellow stated that the cars pass within two and a half feet of the curb at this point, making it a dangerous spot.

DEATH OF FORMER MOORELAND FARM RESIDENT

Mrs. Roma Love Theobald, wife of William H. Theobald, died at the home, 1648 Hillcrest road, Cleveland, September 7th. The family made their home about a year ago in a cottage at the Mooreland farm and were known among some Willoughby friends. They had formerly lived in California. The funeral was held Monday from the home of W. C. Fayle, Kenilworth road.

LAKE COUNTY FAIR

The Lake County Fair opened Tuesday, but the day was given over mainly to the getting ready of booths and exhibits. Old and new were in evidence.

Fine Muskmelons Shown

The farm products sections showed a wonderful assortment of vegetables. One learns from a visit there that some of the finest muskmelons obtained are grown on the Mentor Plains. One almost hesitates to inquire if they ARE muskmelons. From their size, they might almost be a species of squash.

Squash Grow Names

Mr. Spink, of the county house, sent in some splendid squash for exhibition. Two of the squash shown at the exhibit had been

FAIR RACES POSTPONED UNTIL SATURDAY

Account of the heavy rain Thursday the races at the Fair have been postponed until Saturday. The pageant will be held at 11 a. m. Friday.

PRIZE SHEEP BURNED AT FAIR GROUNDS

A disastrous fire occurred at the Fair grounds Monday afternoon at 1:20, when 80 head of prize sheep were burned to death. The sheep barn, 120x30, became ignited in some way, it is reported, from a gasoline torch. The building became almost immediately ablaze. Before the sheep could be gotten out, 80 head were burned. The balance wandered about "baa-ing" pathetically. As high as $200 each, it is stated, had been refused for some of the sheep. They have appeared at many fairs this summer and were from Dover and Rochester. Mr. Sherwood understands that the sheep were fully insured. The fire made a hot and very spectacular blaze. The entire structure fell to the ground in ashes in a very few minutes after the fire was under way. Pails of water thrown on the roofs of adjacent buildings saved those.

RAISING OF BROOM CORN ADVOCATED IN LAKE COUNTY. BLIND COULD BE EMPLOYED HERE.

The raising of broom corn in Lake county is being strongly advocated by A. L. Perry, of the Mentor Plains, at the Fair this week. An attractive exhibit is displayed at the booth of Lake County Agent Long, showing the corn from stalk to finished broom. Mr. Perry states that if the broom corn could be raised here in sufficient quantities, a shop could be established in Lake county, and the blind people of Cleveland be given permanent employment here. Good financial returns are assured. Leroy, Kirtland and the Plains Granges are said to be interested.

ANOTHER LAKE COUNTY MAN LEAVES FOR SERVICE WITH SAILING OF B. C. SHEPHERD

Another name was added to the list of representatives Lake county has in over seas service when B. C. Shepherd left Sunday afternoon to join in the Y. M. C. A. work. Mr. Shepherd made application some weeks ago, and had expected word any day. The notice he received, however, gave him much less time to prepare than he had anticipated. The wire from the War Personnel Board at New York was received at 9 a. m. Saturday. He was to report Monday. Sunday afternoon at 3 Mr. Shepherd left for New York. Mr. Shepherd has promised to write a letter for publication in the Republican after he becomes familiar with his duties over seas. Mrs. Shepherd and son expect to make their home in Cleveland during his absence.

CAPT. DAN FLICKINGER COMING HOME ON A FURLOUGH

CAPT. WINANS, HOME ON FURLOUGH, ENTERTAINS WILLOUGHBY GUESTS.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Shankland were entertained at dinner at the Madison home of Capt. and Mrs. Winans Tuesday night. The captain was at home from Ft. Adams, Newport, R. I., on a four-day furlough.

WILSON HOME IS RENTED TO OFFICERS AT BEN HUR PLANT

The S. S. Wilson home on Euclid avenue has been rented for the winter to two officers now stationed at the Ben Hur plant, Capt. Folger and Capt. St. John and families. Mr. Wilson said Tuesday that he felt it was really a patriotic duty to rent the home, which was available, with so many of the officers desiring to locate in homes with their families, while the soldiers are stationed here. He expressed the hope that other residents who have homes which could be so used will be led to do likewise.

CORRIGAN OFFERS SUMMER HOME TO THE GOVERNMENT

James W. Corrigan, Cleveland steel man, has offered his summer home and an island of twenty-six acres in the St. Lawrence river to the Canadian government for convalescent hospital purposes. His home will accommodate 100 persons.

Mr. Corrigan tendered the place to the federal government, but was told it is too far from a base hospital.

LESTER TAYLOR DIES.

Lester Taylor, aged 27, died at his home in South Willoughby, east of the center, Tuesday, the 10th.

Services were held Thursday at the Willoughby Ridge Church, Rev. Dr. Stocking officiating. Burial was at the Waite Hill cemetery, where he was laid beside his mother. A wife and two children, and the father, Royal Taylor, survive at the home. The young man was a brother of Mrs. Mary Taylor Beebower, wife of E. G. Beebower, of Willoughby. The old family home was at Waite Hill.

TICKET NO. 15 WINS QUILT AT MENTOR BOOTH

Ticket No 15 was announced at the Mentor Red Cross booth, presided over by Mrs. Lamb and Miss Markell, Wednesday, as the winner of the quilt made by Mrs. Brown, of Cleveland. A ticket was given away with each Thrift Stamp sold.

James McMahon and Warren Whitney were included in the special choir arranged for the Jewish New Year services at the Temple the past week.

THURSDAY'S REGISTRATION IN LAKE COUNTY EXPECTED TO APPROACH THREE THOUSAND.

The approximate number of registrants in Lake county Thursday was estimated by the State Adjutant at 2,976. How close this estimate comes to the actual number of men in Lake county from 18 to 45 registering Thursday will be determined after the names are tallied. The presiding judges in Willoughby were E. M. Otis, at precinct "B"; Ralph Granger, at "A", and H. E. Talbot, at "D". Registration was made at the town hall.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED FOR THE SATURDAY "BAKE FEST" DAY?

Saturday is "Bake Fest" Day. Not alone this Saturday, but all others, when cakes or pies, doughnuts or cookies, ginger bread, or any other dainty that government restrictions may permit one to bake, may be made. When made, it is hoped by Mrs. Stebbins and Mrs. Wilson, of the local canteen service, that they may be phoned, so that a portion may be taken to the boys at the Ben Hur plant. For the soldier boys, like all others, are very fond of little treats of this kind. So if you are not already a volunteer, you can register with anything you think a boy would deem eatable, Saturday next.

BOY KNOWN IN WILLOUGHBY WEDS AT FAR DISTANT POINT.

A wedding occurred in the Philippines July 11th, which is of considerable interest to some Willoughby folks. Max Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Myers, who has been in the Philippines for some time past, is the young man wed. He married Miss Effie Malvena Olsen, a girl from the United States, whom he met there. The wedding occurred at Manila. Most of the boyhood days of the groom were spent here, and his mother, Mrs. H. H. Myers, who is a sister of Dr. E. E. Flickinger, was born in Willoughby. Mr. Myers is now serving in the United States army.

M. J. RENTSCHLER ATTENDS CHEMICAL SOCIETY GATHERING

The annual meeting of the American Chemical Society is being held at the Statler this week. This is the largest society of its kind in the world. One of the special pleasures afforded Mr. Rentschler by the gathering was the meeting, and the visit with, two of his old professors, Dr. Clark, professor of chemistry at the University of West Virginia, and Dr. Tuttle, professor of chemistry at the University of Kentucky, at Lexington. Special entertainment was arranged for the ladies of the party, including a trip to the Willowick Club.

DEATH OF JONATHAN WARD

Jonathan Ward died at his home at Dugway Hill Sunday, September 8th. He was 95 and had lived all his life in this section.

An old time settler and pioneer, he was well known throughout the county. He was born March 15th, 1823, and was married to Ruth Maria Carpenter April 21st, 1850. Three children were born of the union; Mrs. J. P. Curtis being the surviving daughter. With her husband and two children she made her home with her father. Mr. Ward was active up to the time of his death. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, the Rev. H. E. Bright officiating. Interment in Willoughby cemetery.

DON VAN DEUZEN WED

The Rev. A. B. Meldrum, of the Old Stone Church, officiated at a simple wedding ceremony at the church Monday, when Donald Van Deuzen, of Willoughby, and Miss Blanche Putnam, of Lakewood, were married. The wedding was a very quiet affair, a few of the near relatives being present. The groom is 22, has passed his examination, waived his exemption, and expects to leave for service shortly. He was formerly manager of the Willoughby Telephone Co. previous to its sale. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Putnam, of Belle avenue, Lakewood. A rather happy coincidence in connection with the wedding is noted by the fact that the Rev. Meldrum officiated at the wedding of Raymond Van Deuzen, eight years ago; and when the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Van Deuzen, were married, a pastor of the Old Stone Church also united them.

LOCAL BOY IN CUBA WRITES LETTER TO FRIENDS IN WILLOUGHBY

Guantanamo Bay, Cuba,
Aug. 30, 1918.

Editor of Willoughby Republican:

I thought perhaps you would like to hear from one of the Willoughby boys in Cuba. I have been receiving the Republican regularly from a thoughtful mother, and will say that I never appreciated it like I have since leaving Willoughby. I enjoy reading the letters that you print in your paper from the boys in France. I am anxious to be there, too. The marines are surely holding their record over there.

There are only two Lake county boys here, and the home papers are thoroughly read by both of us. We look forward to the day that they come. This is a very beautiful and historical country, near where the thickest of the Spanish-American war was fought, and many souvenirs can be easily found. The weather is very hot here in the daytime, but we have very cool and pleasant evenings.

With best regards to Willoughby, from J. E. BARNES,
36 Co. Marine Bat. Naval Station,
Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

destined evidently for the Fair from the time of their planting by their grower. One was conspicuously labeled "Mr. Hubbard," and the other "Lake County." These names, to all appearances, "grew" on the squash. Explanation states that before they had ripened the words were scratched on the outside, and the effect of the words having "grown" attained as the product ripened.

* * *

Many service flags were in evidence at the various booths. Twenty-seven stars are in that of the Storrs-Harrison Co., who had their usual section and attractive display in the Merchants' building.

* * *

The new Lake County Chamber of Commerce had the corner booth of the same section. The balance was taken by the Willoughby Republican in the same place as last year.

Old Resident at the Fair.

Mark Judd, old Willoughby resident, was a visitor at the Lake County Fair Wednesday and Thursday. He is visiting his sister, Mrs. George Smith, of Center street, who is ill. After coming from Michigan last year, where he has made his home for some years, Mr. Judd built a home in Lakewood on Kyle avenue, adjacent to that of his son.

Mentor Sells Some Thrift Stamps.

The Mentor booth was disposed to be jubilant Wednesday over the amount of Thrift Stamps they sold. The sales averaged $50, and that, according to the workers, just about doubled that of Willoughby, which amounted to $26.

Twin Guinea Pigs Born at the Fair.

Two little guinea pigs came into existence at the Fair grounds Wednesday. Tommy Barclay, of Painesville, is the owner.

Many Clevelanders at Fair.

The Fair grounds were well filled Wednesday. Numbers of Cleveland folks were seen, and they appeared to be enjoying the Fair greatly, despite the heavy rain which fell during the afternoon.

E. D. Rich Offers Water Color

The E. D. Rich & Son Co. of Painesville, who are in the same location as last year, offer a most attractive water color picture to the ladies, on a free number coupon plan. The picture is a scene at the mouth of the Chagrin river, done by their designer, W. Craig.

A. D. McClain, of Painesville, had a most attractive "Pathe" exhibit, entertaining the crowds during the afternoon in the merchants' building.

The Naval Auxiliary Band and George A. Schneider, of the Cleveland Athletic Club, were attractions booked for Thursday, Willoughby Day. The pageant, which features 25 Willoughby girls, is the big Friday event.

A "GASLESS SUNDAY" STORY.

John Sherwin, president of First National bank, drove 22 miles from his farm near Willoughby to the East 105th street station of the New York Central Sunday afternoon, although stubborn mules and spirited horses did their best to make him violate autoless Sunday.

Mr. Sherwin was notified to go in haste to New York for an important conference. In making his arrangements for the trip he failed to reckon the Sunday demeanor of the horses and mules stabled on his farm.

The particular horses Mr. Sherwin relied on to haul him to town in the old fashioned surrey had never cut capers before, but their pride would not permit them to appear in public drawing an old fashioned surrey.

When the stable man had them hitched they proceeded to demolish the dashboard with their hoofs.

Dashboard or no dashboard, Mr. Sherwin had to get to Cleveland in that surrey, so he ordered a team of Missouri mules hitched to the conveyance. It was the mules' turn to kick, and they completed the job the horses started when they ruined the dashboard.

Kitty O., a fine little lady from the stables of C. A. Otis, whose farm adjoins the Sherwin country place, had no conscientious scruples about working on Sunday, and she hauled Mr. Sherwin to town.—From the Plain Dealer.

Corporal Rockafellow Finds Boys From Home in France.

Miss Laura Rockafellow received a card Saturday and a letter Monday from her brother, Corporal Howell Rockafellow, in France. He was well and likes the country very much. He has been transferred to another company that has a lot of boys that he knew back home. So, of course, he's delighted with the change.

Mrs. George Cross has been on a visit to her old home in Vermont.

J. J. Lilley and family were Sunday guests of their cousin, Mrs. A. Harrison, in Wickliffe.

Mrs. Lilley has received another letter from her son Floyd, who is "over there" and says he is well. It takes nearly a month for a letter to get here, so they're all overjoyed when they get a letter from the boys.

Mrs. Buchner, our telephone operator, had for guests Saturday her mother, Mrs. Cook, and brother and cousin from Chester.

HISTORIC OLD KIRTLAND HOLDS THE AFFECTION OF ITS PEOPLE.

Kirtland, please note. Thanks for the expressions of sympathy, also for appreciation of our feeble efforts to try to write up the happening of the neighborhood. We, too, miss the Kirtland letter if it happens not to appear, as it occasionally does, as that is the first correspondence letter we read. Why, did you ask? Kirtland is our native town. Yes, we love historic old Kirtland and always will. It's natural for one to love the town where they spent their childhood days, and the dear old district school houses, either "red, white or blue." Ours was red, and in those times we had a new teacher every term. It might not have been so well for the school as it is now, when they keep the same teacher for years, but it was interesting to us scholars, as we'd be so anxious to know who our new teacher was going to be. I'm speaking of childhood's happy days. I think people in all stations of life, it matters not how much affluence or wealth they may have attained, you'll often hear them say their childhood days up to the time they left the district school were the happiest years of their lives. And, of course, we'd naturally think Kirtland the prettiest little town in all the country around, with its grand old hills and beautiful valleys and winding streams rushing on to help swell the great waters.

This retrospection calls to mind some verses I composed a few years since, after some friends of ours had been touring the country both east and west were telling of the wonderful things they's seen and such lovely climates in different states. But then they said, "Ohio is good enough for us." The poem ran thus:

We've traveled in the east and we've traveled in the west,
But our native state, Ohio, is the grandest and the best.
And when it comes to counties, you'll make no mistake
By investing your money in a home in little Lake
Of towns there are so many of grandeur and renown,
But to us there's none prettier than Romantic Kirtland Town.

CONVERSION OF LIBERTY BONDS

The privilege of conversion which arose in consequence of the issue of 4 per cent bonds of the Third Liberty Loan will expire on November 9 next and under existing law can not be extended or renewed. Delay in exercising the privilege will result in overburdening the banking institutions of the country and the Treasury Department by making it necessary to handle all conversions at the last moment and may result in many cases in the loss of the privilege of conversion altogether.

Holders of coupon bonds are strongly advised to exchange them for registered bonds in order to protect themselves against the risk of loss, theft and destruction of their bonds.

The banks throughout the country, as a matter of patriotic service, will doubtless all assist bondholders in converting and registering their bonds.

LOANS TO OUR ALLIES.

WE WONDER IF GERMAN GUNNERS ARE REALLY CHAINED TO THEIR GUNS: THIS SOLDIER SEES THEM

German Prisoners, Some Very Young, Some Very Old, Beg To Be Captured.

The following round robin letter was written by a young officer to a coterie of friends and lent us by Mr. S. S. Wilson:

Somewhere in France, July 28, 1918.

Dear Fellows:

It has been a very long time since my last letter, I know, and I have thought of you many times since writing it, but it has been out of the question to write to you, for a number of reasons.

July 4th, at 1:30 a. m., I was resting very comfortably in a fine feather bed in the town of — ——. To my great dismay I was rudely awakened and told that I would have to leave very soon. All day I walked, walked, walked, and at night was pretty tired, but managed to find a pretty good place to sleep, and in a bed at that. The next night found us making our homes in a small forest. I put up a small tent effect and was, indeed, very comfortable. The boche did not shell us and we had a regular "home" for—as long as it lasted. One evening I was out with a small party doing some reconnoissance and our path took us over the crest of a hill. The boche must have seen us because he began to put over some shrapnel. We ducked into a hollow or small river bed and were waiting for the air to clear. We heard a P-z-z-z-z- bang, and a 77 broke over our heads and about ten feet above. One of our party had a cane in his hand and it cut the cane off as clean as a knife about four inches from the handle. We were all sprayed with rocks and splinters, but no one was seriously hurt.

Among other things I have been up to I have made a few personal observations, of which the following are a few: The average person eats too much and too often, sleeps too much and too often, and last but not least, washes too much and too often. You may think I am out of my head. I may be and may have been, but am fast coming to myself—namely, because I had some sleep, a wash and a shave this A. M.

A house on Riverside drive may be very comfortable, but cannot compare in security to a hole in the ground 4'x4', and as far as comfort is concerned. I made myself very comfortable in a hole of the above dimensions for over a week in spite of heavy rain storms day and night.

Everything has a starting point and a time of departure. We were all formed lying on the ground, waiting. "Zero hour" came. The heavens behind us turned a bright red, flashes could be seen behind us as far as the eye could reach all along the horizon; a terrific thunder rolled forward as if a thousand volcanoes had broken loose; then, like the rush of some great monster overhead, we could hear our shells going over to "bocheland." Far, far up we could hear the big "boilers" going over; they go slow, but sure, and sound like a trolley car. Below them we could hear the smaller shells from our large field pieces, and still lower, as if just above our heads, we could hear the "zip" of a .75 shell as it flew to its objective. The 75 is the "fox terrier" of our army—his "bark" is just as snappy, but its bite is worse, and it is even faster. (Speaking of the .75, one boche prisoner asked to see our automatic cannon.) As if two great planets had met in mid-air, our shell struck the earth, the hills, the valley, towns, trees, everything in front of us.

We moved forward—up a bank, ahead of us was a gentle slope upward—a town—some wire—a road—a conglomerate mass of landscape, all flying into the air under the deadly shower of shells from our artillery. We walked forward slowly—rat-t-ta-t-t, a boche machine gun—we could hear the bullets whistling and zipping over and about us. I glanced forward and to our right could make out a large building, an ideal place for an M. G. As I strained my eyes to discover in which window the gun was placed, one of our shells struck the building fairly in the center. The roof and upper stories flew into the air, the lower part crumbled to dust, a great cloud of dust and smoke covered the spot for a moment. It cleared away—there was no building, no more machine gun, no boche. My attention was attracted by something ahead of [illegible] were they scare-crows? They all had their hands above their heads. As we approached I could make out "boche," and scared to death. They were all bunched up together and came over to me. One dropped on his knees. It all seemed so ridiculous that I laughed at them and pointed to the rear, as they had red crosses on their arms. As I pointed I said, "Hakt snell," and they all scurried away like rabbits.

My attention was attracted by a rifle bullet whistling remarkably near my head. My orderly called my attention to a sniper in a window to the right of us. He was too late, however. Someone else had picked up Mr. Sniper, and as we looked at him he pitched head first out of the window, a bullet through his brain.

Oh, I beg your pardon! I forgot to mention the enemy artillery barrage. It was so feeble and light that I had forgotten it. I have a pretty clear conception of what happened from start to finish, and can only recall two shells landing near me during our advance.

Before I was really aware of the fact we had reached our objective and I was obliged to halt my men and prepare defenses.

At digging—no one knows how to dig better and faster than a soldier under fire. And while my men were all straining every muscle to get under the ground, the dust and smoke were clearing away enough to allow the sun to peep at us. Just about that critical moment I looked up to find a "fool movie man" grinding me into a film, probably to be shown in some city in the U. S. So if sometime you are taking in the "real thing" and see a chap waving his arms like a wild man, and a line of men all digging for dear life—"that's us."

I am going to ask that you forgive poor penmanship, but I am writing on the ground and cannot do much better, considering everything.

Speaking of "boche," they are glad to be taken prisoners and tell us that whole battalions would give themselves up if they could get over. At many places during our advance we have found boche soldiers chained to their guns. Without exception they are overjoyed to be taken. In many cases we have taken one prisoner—the one has asked if we would take more without killing them. When we say yes they go and bring back eight, ten, twenty or more. All tickled to death to be taken. There are a great many young lads among them and quite a number of old men. It would be a shame to kill them, they are so helpless themselves. By the above I do not mean that the whole German army is made up of old men and boys—not at all—but there are a great many. Their system is to put a good man on a gun and use the others as helpers.

I am required to cut this short. Will write soon again and continue my story.

A sergeant left my company for the States. I gave him your address and told him to call.

Will close with love to all.

GEORGE.

SERVE SUGARLESS DESSERTS

SWEETEN THEM WITH SYRUPS.

Learn to Use Substitutes and You Will Soon Get Along With No Sugar in Your Cooking—Make Cake, Ices, Pies and Puddings With Syrups

One cup of sugar a week for everyone! For our coffee, tea and cocoa, for our lemonade and iced tea, and for sweetening all our cereals, fruits and desserts. If we are to make this 8 ounces now allowed per person per week last for the allotted time, we must either cut out many desserts or learn to use the sugar substitutes. Honey, corn syrup, sorghum, molasses, and refiners' syrup are among the best and most easily procured substitutes. Various fruit syrups and the home-made beet sugar syrup can also serve in some parts of the country.

The cup or more of sugar that is usually required for a cake assumes large proportion when we are on a sugar ration. This fruit cake which depends upon syrup and raisins for sweetening will be found just as good as one using sugar.

Fruit Cake.

1-4 cup shortening, 1 cup corn syrup, sorghum, or refiners' syrup, 2 eggs, 2-3 cup milk, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 7-8 cup rice flour, 3-4 cup barley flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1 cup chopped raisins, 1-4 cup chopped nuts, 1-4 cup chopped citron.

Mix fat and syrup; add egg yolks and milk. Put chopped fruit and nuts in batter and add dry materials sifted together. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in loaf or muffin tin. The raisins and nuts may be omitted and the mixture baked as a plain spice cake.

Corn syrup can also be used in place of sugar as sweetening for cold drinks or for ices. This pineapple ice is excellent:

Pineapple Ice.

1 cup grated pineapple, 1 3-5 cups corn syrup, 1 lemon, 2 cups water.

Freeze as any water ice.

Lemon pie is also good made with corn syrup as sweetening for both the lemon filling and the meringue.

Lemon Pie Filling.

1 cup corn syrup or refiners' syrup, 1 cup water, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 egg yolks, 3 teaspoons lemon juice, grated rind 1-2 lemon, 1 teaspoon butter, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Mix cornstarch and salt with the cold water and cook over the flame until the starch is clear. Beat in the syrup slowly to prevent lumping. Add beaten egg yolk, lemon juice and rind. Put in double boiler and cook.

Put the filling in a crust that has been previously baked, spread with meringue and brown in oven.

Meringue.

1-2 cup corn syrup cooked until it forms a hard ball when dropped in cold water, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 egg whites (stiffly beaten).

Beat whites very stiff and beat in syrup. Pile lightly on top lemon filling and brown in oven.

For a chocolate pudding that calls for no sugar try this recipe.

Chocolate Pudding.

2 cups milk, 1 cup corn syrup, 2 eggs, 6 tablespoons cornstarch, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 square chocolate, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Mix cornstarch with cold milk, add melted chocolate and syrup and cook until thickened. Pour into molds to cool. For chocolate pie or baked chocolate pudding use slightly more liquid. Spread meringue on top and brown in oven.

For baked apples or peaches the corn syrup or refiners' syrup may be used very satisfactorily in place of sugar.

A fruit whip, served very cold, makes an appetizing summer dessert.

Prune Whip.

1 cup sifted prune pulp, 3 egg whites (stiffly beaten), 6 tablespoons syrup, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, [illegible] teaspoon salt.

Wash the prunes and allow them to soak in water until they regain their plumpness. Simmer until tender in the water in which they soaked. Press the pulp through a sieve. Add salt to egg whites and beat until very stiff. Fold in the sifted fruit pulp and the lemon juice. Add the syrup last, beating it in carefully. Chill and serve with cream.

Apricot or peach pulp or apple sauce may be used in exactly the same way.

These are but a few suggestions for the use of syrups to save sugar. Try these and others. They can help make your sugar supply hold out.

SOME RECIPES.

Old Friends, New Ways.

Remember that vegetables have their own particular part to play in the diet, which neither meats nor cereals nor fruits nor sweets can play.

Green Corn Pudding.

This is a delicious way to serve either sweet corn or the tender field corn. A little sugar may be added to the field corn, if desired.

Husk and silk 12 good-sized ears of corn. Slice off half the kernel with a sharp knife, and with the blunt edge of the knife scrape out the milky part that remains on the cob. Add a tablespoon of butter, salt and pepper, and ¾ cup of milk. Bake for 45 minutes, allowing it to brown on top. This makes a creamy dish, which is [illegible] which it bakes.

Buttered Carrots.

Wash and scrape small carrots and cut in narrow strips. Cook three cups of the carrots in just enough water to cover. When carrots are tender and only a small amount of water remains, add a tablespoon of butter. Cook slowly until almost all of the remaining water has evaporated. The carrots will have a delicious flavor cooked this way and none of the minerals will be wasted. String beans cut in halves lengthwise or parsnips cut in strips are also good served this way.

The flower of the German army is plainly not a perennial.—[illegible]

Miles Theater

Frank Tinney Players will headline the vaudeville bill at the Miles the coming week, offering a novelty satire called "Back at the Front." The act has an all-star cast and is replete with good, wholesome comedy.

The Oxford Trio, originators of basket ball on wheels, are the added attraction, offering their novelty called "Timely Sport."

Belle Oliver in a brilliant repertoire of new melodies. Friend and Downing, known as the international comedians. Wood, Young and Phillips, in a snappy musical travesty, and Gordon and Gordon, in a combination novelty act, make up the six acts of vaudeville which will be augmented with an excellent picture program before and after each performance.

Standard Theater

Mabel Normand, one of the best known female comediennes on the screen, will be seen at the Standard Theater for one week commencing Sunday, September 15th, in her latest screen success, "Peck's Bad Girl," and the title alone assures us that it is a fun and laugh producer from start to finish and fits Miss Normand's own peculiar character. She plays the part of the scamp at Yaptank, who has both amused and shocked the villagers for a long time, and very few of them that haven't at some time or other been the victims of her little jokes. But with the arrival of a certain young man she decides to change her mode of living and obtains a job in a millinery shop, where she discovers a trap door and the tunnel of a gang of thieves that had intended robbing the bank of the town. She succeeds in rounding them up and ridding the town of them. And after getting the reward she becomes the belle of the burg and the wife of the young man.

Opera House

Richard Carle, himself, with a well balanced organization, comes to the Opera House the next week in "Furs and Frills," a musical comedy, which has proven a popular vehicle where it has appeared. Harriet Burt is one of the leading members of the cast. The story concerns a certain fur coat, which undergoes a deal of adventures, with attendant complications. The production is said to be up-to-the-minute.

Colonial Theater

To the Shubert-Colonial comes "The Kiss Burglar." This is the musical offering in which Fay Bainter appeared for some time, and, with her return to the speaking stage, her role is enacted by Edith Taliaferro. Walter Catlett also is one of the leading members of the cast. "Look Who's Here," with Nora Bayes, is proving a popular offering, as it should. The production should win on Broadway.

Empire Theater

James E. Cooper's latest organization, "The Blue Birds," is the attraction heralded this week at the Empire theater by Manager Jack McNamara.

The combination who collaborated in producing this offering should guarantee the excellence of its merits. Billy K. Wells, past master of this form of entertainment, wrote the book. Hal Dyson furnished the score, while the musical numbers and ensembles were staged by Raymond B. Perez.

The company is headed by Edgar Bixley, well known as a tramp comedian. His support includes Fred C. Hackett, Irish delineator; Ed Welch, Sedal Bennett, Helen Andrews, and Grace Harvard, prima donna.

"Over Here" is the title of the book. It is in two acts and is said to have a deal of original comedy and clever lines. One of the hits is a scene showing training quarters, where Miss Bennett, champion lady wrestler, gives an exhibition.

The chorus is well balanced, snappy and can sing and dance. The Biff, Bing, Bang trio offers a deal of harmony. Other specialties and features are offered.

"The Blue Birds" is elaborately staged and costumed. It should please burlesque followers.

"Putting It Over" and "A Girl of the Golden West" are the two burlettas. Solly Fields is the featured comedian. Scenery, costumes and chorus are a big feature. The show is said to be one of the best of the circuit.

Hippodrome

After a record breaking opening week the B. F. Keith Hippodrome management announces a program for the second week which, on paper, gives every indication of being even better. To many this will not seem possible, but the booking agents have announced that such will be the case. There will be plenty of variety and a lot of what everybody enjoys—comedy. Elizabeth Murray, the dynamo of good cheer, who will be remembered in "Watch Your Step," "High Jinks" and "Madame Sherry" will be one of the headliners. Miss Murray has just closed a successful engagement with Cohan's Revue. Her new songs for vaudeville have made her a tremendous hit everywhere. James and Bonnie Thornton, who have not been seen in this city for a number of years and who are now hailed as the youngest of the old-timers, will no doubt be given a warm welcome. The Thorntons have not forgotten how to make audiences laugh. There will be another big surprise headliner to greet the Hippodrome patrons. It will be in the nature of a big flash production. Another gala attraction will be "Petticoats," a comedy written by John B. Hymer, and featuring Miss Grace Dunbar Niles. This is a cleverly written playlet about a girl's experience in college. As a special added attraction and one sure to prove a distinct success because of its extreme novelty. This will be Chief Caupolican, the Indian orator and singer, in song and speech. Caupolican is unquestionably one of the most remarkable men in America today. After you see and hear this aboriginal American you will be of the same opinion. He is a member of the tribe of Araucanos from Chili. A sure fire laughing hit will be offered by Roy Rice and Mary Werner called "On the Scaffold." To tell what this act was about would spoil it—it must be seen. It can be said, however, that it has been hailed as one of the funniest acts of the new season. A music lesson will be offered free to the audience by Sam Adams and J. P. Griffith, only not the way the audience will expect it. Ben Byer and Augusta, who have just returned from France, where they have been entertaining the wounded soldiers, will offer a clever program of mirth, agility and music. Sensation will follow sensation when the Four Boises are on the stage. The U. S. Government War Review will have some wonderful news pictures of the recent drive.

LEGAL NOTICE.

To Arthur T. R. Cunningham, Arthur Franklin Cunningham, aged 11 years, and Helen Chandler Cunningham, aged 12 years, said minors being children of said Arthur T. R. Cunningham, and all of said persons residing in the City of Spokane, in the State of Washington:

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 5th day of September, 1918, William M. Cunningham filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, against you and others, being cause therein numbered 165815, the substance of said petition being as follows: It alleges that the plaintiff purchased for himself certain three parcels of real estate in said Cuyahoga County described as follows:

First Parcel

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga, and State of Ohio, and known as being Sub-lot No. Sixty-seven (67) in Thomas Beckwith's Re-subdivision of his Sub-division of part of Original One Hundred (100) Acre Lots numbers 423 and 431, as shown by the recorded plat of said Re-subdivision in Volume 13 of Maps, Page 7 of said Cuyahoga County Records, and being 50 feet front on the Westerly side of Beckwith Ave., now known as East 81st St.

Second Parcel

Situated in the City of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio and known as Sub-lot No. Three Hundred and Eighty-nine (389) in the Glenhaven Sub-division of part of Original 100 Acre Lot No. 359 in said City. Said Sub-lot No. 389 has a frontage of 40 feet on the Northeasterly side of Ashburton Rd. N. E. and extends back of equal width 120 feet deep.

Third Parcel

Situated in the Village of Rocky River, County of Cuyahoga and State of Ohio and known as being part of Original Rockport Township, Section No. 7, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning on the center line of Coe Ridge Road at the Northeasterly corner of land conveyed by Louise Walther and husband to George and Mary Oettle by deed dated July 1, 1908, and recorded in Volume 1095, Page 279 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence South 9° 48' East along the Easterly line of land so conveyed 878.44 feet to a point on the Northerly line of land conveyed to Henry G. and Elizabeth Kaufman by deed dated June 19, 1906, and recorded in Volume 997, Page 511 of Cuyahoga County Records; thence south 89° 32' East along said Northerly line of land so conveyed to Kaufman and along said line extended Easterly about 146.09 feet to a stone at the corner of land owned by W. J. White; thence North 2° 28' East along the line of said White's land 280.50 feet to a stone; thence North 20° 27' West 654.40 feet to a stone set in the center line of Coe Ridge Rd.; thence Southwesterly along the center line of said Coe Ridge Rd. 83 feet to the place of beginning, containing about 3.12 Acres of land, and that he paid for the same out of his own money and means, but, for convenience, caused the title to each of said parcels to be placed in the name of his mother, Margaret A. Cunningham, sometimes called M. A. Cunningham, in trust for him, his heirs and assigns, she not paying or agreeing to pay any part of purchase price for said land and never being in possession of either thereof, and that she re-conveyed said first parcel to him, his heirs and assigns, but not yet recorded, but died holding the legal title to said second and third parcels, and leaving her last will and testament, which has been duly probated and recorded, wherein she bequeathed legacies of $1200.00 each to the defendants Arthur Franklin Cunningham and Helen Chandler Cunningham, minor children of her son Arthur T. R. Cunningham of Spokane, Washington, and who with the plaintiff constitute her only children and sole heirs at law, also a legacy of $1200 to Wm. Arthur Cunningham, and of which will said William M. Cunningham is Executor, and that the estate of said Testatrix has been disposed of and its proceeds found insufficient to pay said legacies except to the extent of $739.25 each, which has been paid, and that her estate has been duly settled and her debts and funeral expenses paid, as well as a certain other legacy of $50 provided in said will. That said will is fully set forth in said petition and that the apparent claims which said defendants or any of them might have in either of said parcels or the proceeds thereof by reason of said will or otherwise are invalid but constitute a cloud upon the plaintiff's rights and titles to said parcels of land.

The object and prayer of said petition are that the plaintiff's title to each of said parcels of land be quieted as against said defendants and each of them and that said Arthur T. R. Cunningham be required to quit-claim to the plaintiff, his heirs and assigns all title and interest in each of said parcels, and that in default thereof the decree of the court in said action operate as such conveyance and for such further relief as the premises may warrant. Reference being here made to the said petition for a more full and detailed statement of the facts alleged therein.

Said defendants are required to answer said petition by the 2nd day of November, 1918, or a judgment may be rendered as prayed for.

"OWN YOUR HOME"

A home to live in—not a house to stay in. That is the difference between owning and renting. A home of your own strengthens the family ties.

There probably will never be a better time to buy a home. There is no advantage in waiting for lower prices. Those best informed think there is but little chance that prices will ever come down.

In these war times, money put into a home is safely and wisely invested. The war cannot take your investment from you nor alter its value.

Ask our Real Estate Department to help you buy your home. Our listings are varied as to location, size, price and terms.

WHY NOT STOP DRINKING?

Men and women who drink regularly and excessively cannot answer the question. When they realize they are slaves to the appetite for alcoholic liquors they wish to stop, but find they cannot. They do not understand they are being daily poisoned with alcohol, until the craving for it has become stronger than the will power to resist. The only hope for these unfortunate men and women is proper medical treatment—The Neal Treatment, which is a safe, sure, vegetable remedy that removes the craving and necessity for drink in three days, without the use of hypodermic injections. The Neal Drink Habit Treatment will quickly make you sober men and women. Come to the Neal Institute, 3920 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, Ohio. Telephone Rosedale 3490.

What is a Branch House?

The Branch House is the place in the packing organization where what the packing plant does for you is put where you can use it.

Both are the natural result of growth and development in the living thing they belong to.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are located in distributing centers all over the country. They are fitted out with refrigerating equipment to keep meat cool, sweet and fresh.

Each one is in personal charge of a man who believes in what Swift & Company is doing for people and wants to help do it.

They are directed by men who have spent years learning how to get better meat cheaper to the places where it is needed.

Meat is shipped to the branch houses direct from the packing plants in Swift & Company's refrigerator cars, in such quantities that it can be disposed of while fresh and sweet.

Your meat dealer comes here to buy your meat for you—unless someone else can treat him better then we can.

So you need the branch house in order to live well, and the branch house and the packing plant need each other, in order to be useful to you.

Universal Portable Double Electric Range

The best time to prepare for a fuel shortage is before necessity reduces the supply. With the Portable Double Electric Range, illustrated, the housewife need not worry about the shortage of coal or low gas pressure.

You can Broil, Fry, Boil, Roast or Bake—there are two burners and the heat is reflected so that you can cook over and under the coils. Coffee may be made, meat roasted, potatoes browned and bread toasted at the same time.

The heat may be adjusted to high, low or medium, and the cost of operating both burners at high is less than 8c per hour and less than 3c per hour at low.

We cannot tell how long we will be able to offer this splendid electrical convenience at the price quoted now—how soon the factory may notify us that they are unable to obtain materials for their manufacture.

The oven and three cooking pans, is included in this price $27

A small charge is made for installing.

ORDINANCE NO. 1175.

By Mr. P. J. Wenneman.

An ordinance granting to the New York Central Railroad Company the right to construct, maintain and operate switch tracks upon and across Berea road in the Village of West Park, Ohio, about two hundred and fifty feet westerly of the intersection of Fischer road and Berea road.

Be it ordained by the Council of the Village of West Park, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That the New York Central Railroad Company be and is hereby granted the right to construct, maintain and operate two parallel spur or switch tracks over and across Berea road, at a point approximately 250 feet westerly of said road and Fischer road in said village, on the terms hereinafter mentioned. Said switch tracks shall be constructed on the grade of the said highway where it crosses the same, and shall be located as shown by a blue-print hereto attached, marked "A."

Section 2. That right hereby granted to said Railroad Company is upon the conditions following, to which said Company, its successors and assigns, shall at all times strictly conform. Said switch tracks shall have no frogs or switch points within the limit of said Berea Road. Said switch tracks shall be planked between the rails and two feet outside of each rail at the expense of said Railroad Company or its assigns, and to the satisfaction of said Village; and such planking shall be kept in good repair by said Company, its successors or assigns, which shall also construct and keep in order the necessary drainage beneath said tracks on both sides of said road; and in case the grade of said highway is changed, such tracks shall be relaid to conform to such altered grade.

Section 3. And said grant is upon the further condition that upon the construction of such tracks, said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, will restore said Berea Road to as good a condition as it was in before being disturbed; and if it be necessary in the course of any future improvements in said highway to excavate therein for the construction of sewers, pipes, etc., said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns will at its own expense support said tracks for the purpose of permitting such construction to proceed.

Section 4. Said Railroad Company shall not unnecessarily obstruct said crossing by permitting cars or locomotives to remain upon or across it for a period longer than five minutes nor will it permit ties, lumber or other obstructions to remain upon said crossing to the inconvenience of travelers upon said highway, nor shall it be permitted to make up trains or shift or shunt cars back and forth while the train is blocking or obstructing said Berea Road. Said Railroad Company shall protect traffic passing along Berea Road by the presence of a flagman while train or car movements are being made over said track.

Section 5. Said Railroad Company for itself, its successors or assigns [illegible] to indemnify and hold said Village harmless against any [illegible] from any damages to persons or property or expense of any kind that may arise by reason of said switch tracks [illegible]; and to at all times fully obey any lawful [illegible] regulations that may be enacted governing or applicable to the said tracks, waiving any right to the contrary.

Section 6. [illegible] of said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, to observe and keep any or all of the obligations, agreements and conditions of this grant on its part to be observed and kept, then its rights and power hereunder and this grant shall cease and terminate, and said Railroad Company agrees that within thirty days after any such breach of said conditions and written notice thereof from said Village of West Park, it will take up and remove said tracks and restore said highway crossing to its former state and condition.

Section 7. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law and the filing with the Clerk of Council of a written acceptance of the terms and conditions thereof by The New York Central Railroad Company, and the payment to the Village of the expense of printing and advertising the same.

REAL ESTATE AFTER THE WAR.

Will Prices Be Lower or Higher?

This is a question in the mind of almost every person. The best answer is that history repeats itself. The records show that after our civil war land values advanced from 100 to 500 per cent, and that following the Spanish-American war a like increase was recorded. Also, that after the Russo-Japanese war the same thing occurred in both of those countries. In fact, the records reveal that in every civilized country the conclusion of every war has witnessed a sharp advance in land values.
